OUR NEXT VICE-PRESIDENT AND HIS WIFE

The overwhelming victory of the Republican Party at the polls in November is of peculiar interest to every member of Pi Beta Phi because the election of Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts to the office of Vice-president of the United States has brought new distinction to his wife, Grace Goodhue Coolidge, Vermont B, '02.

The details of Governor Coolidge's career are familiar to every one through the publicity of the campaign but the story of his college days and especially of his fraternity experiences is not so well known and so the following article from the October issue of The Phi Gamma Delta is reprinted here for the benefit of ARROW readers.

WHEN "CAL" BECAME A FIJI

REMINISCENCES OF THE DAYS AT ALPHA CHI

BY BROTHER JAMES B. CAUTHERS ('96)

In the fall of 1891 there came to Amherst College to enter the freshman class a slender, red-haired, keen-eyed student named John Calvin Coolidge. His home was in Plymouth, Vermont.

Apparently he attracted no particular attention at first for he did not join a fraternity. This was not at all surprising when the conditions existing at that time are considered. In those days the freshmen, with few exceptions, had to take entrance examinations and this kept them busy and much to themselves before college opened. During this time the "rushing" by the fraternities was going on. If a freshman had no friends in any of the various chapters he had to pass a hasty inspection and Coolidge was not one who would appear at his best under those conditions. I can picture him going to the fraternity houses quiet, unassuming, reserved and perhaps not speaking unless in answer to a question and yet at the same time observing and appraising those who were looking him over. The "rushing" was all over in a week and if one were not asked to join at that time he rarely got a chance later. Under this system, it is needless to say many good men were overlooked.

Coolidge went his own way quietly through his college course. Judge John P. Deering of Beddeford, Maine, a classmate of Coolidge and a Fiji, said of him recently, "I roomed with Calvin Coolidge three years, two years in the same house and one year in the same room. We were very friendly and have kept up our friendship since that time. He was the quietest man I have ever met without any exception. He would study history and political economy in preference to any other subjects. He enjoyed all forms of athletics but never took part in any. He was friendly, cordial and good natured with those whom he knew well but his quiet, non-communicative habits apparently made some people think that he did not care for their society."

He did not take part in the various forms of student activity, yet he was in touch with everything that went on in college. He took up the classics, but, as stated before, his inclination ran to history, especially that of the United States, and political economy. He did not excel in any branch of study but was above the average in all.

Coolidge was one of the most self possessed young men I have ever known. He always gave one the impression of knowing much although he said little. His classmates soon learned that there was a great deal behind that mask of silence. In appearance he was the typical "Yankee." Although spare in frame he appeared strong and sturdy; his eyes were shrewd and penetrating; his features sharp yet regular; his speech had the tang of the New England hills. While apparently holding himself aloof he knew everything that was going on in college and if his opinion were asked he gave it in a few terse words.

Coolidge had few intimate friends, but he had no enemies. He was kind and courteous toward all and had the respect of all who knew him. He early displayed one trait which he has kept all through his political life, i. e., he would not take one step out of the straight line for his own personal advantage.

He had a highly developed sense of humor and a most original way of expressing himself and those who knew him well enjoyed his company, for although he spoke little what he did say was to the point and often had a humorous twist.

He had an uncanny faculty of sizing up people and events in college and in his political life since he has shown that he rarely made a mistake.

In his senior year Coolidge was chosen by his class to be "Grove Orator," one of the most-sought-after honors of the commencement exercises. The oration was a masterpiece of keen and satirical wit and humor and was the best I ever listened to and I have attended many commencements since that time.

In this year also Coolidge entered the contest for the prize given by the Sons of the American Revolution for the best Essay on the "Principles of the American Revolution." The contest was open to the seniors of all colleges and Coolidge won the first prize.

Alpha Chi chapter of Phi Gamma Delta was founded at Amherst in December, 1893, although it did not appear publicly until early in 1894. "Dusty" Rhodes, a Fiji from Sigma chapter, entered the class of 1895 as a junior and immediately got busy in forming a chapter. At that time there were chapters of nine fraternities, all firmly established and having good houses and years of prestige behind them. It seemed a very adventurous undertaking for a small group of men, without much money and with a small, rented and poorly furnished house to attempt to get a foothold in conservative Amherst. But we had the enthusiasm and perhaps the foolhardiness of youth so we ventured gaily on our way and have been going ever since. Owing to the peculiar "rushing" system good men were often passed over by the other fraternities so we were able to start with ten splendid men.

While we had little money and a modest house we were in earnest and I have always thought that Coolidge had watched and studied us and believed in what we stood for, because when the committee, of which I was a member, called on him to try to persuade him to join he quickly said "yes" and he was not given to making hasty judgments.

He took a deep interest in the chapter and although he did not live in the chapter-house he spent considerable time there. We soon began to rely on his counsel and judgment. In debate he could say more in fewer words than any man I have ever met. Sometimes when the argument got heated and involved Coolidge would quietly rise and in a few words state the matter concisely, give his opinion and everything would be straightened out. When given any fraternity work to do the chapter could always rely upon it being done promptly and efficiently. His help and counsel were just what we needed in those trying days.

After graduation he located in Northampton, Massachusetts, only a few miles from Amherst, so that he always remained in close touch with the chapter. While he did not visit the house often, he was always ready to give his help and advice and frequently financial aid. I early formed the habit of consulting him on my numerous trips to Amherst and I always stopped off at Northampton to consult him and have kept it up all these years.

In 1903 conditions became such that we no longer could live in a rented house and it became necessary to buy a place. Although we had no money we looked the situation over and found only one suitable site, got a price on it and began to form plans to raise the money. In the meantime the owner got tired of waiting and sold a portion of the plot and I learned that the purchaser was planning to make a re-sale. Quick action was necessary as we had to have all the property. I went to Northampton and took the matter up with Coolidge and I made a note for $2,000 which he endorsed and negotiated in his bank and bought the land. We then raised some money and bought the house and again through Coolidge's influence got a much larger mortgage on the property than we were really entitled to. As usual, "Cal" was on the job.

Alpha Chi chapter owes a great deal to Calvin Coolidge, not in reflected glory but in the constructive work he has done. He has always been so modest and so careful to avoid seeming to seek any reward or praise that perhaps many of the alumni of the chapter do not realize just what his aid and help have meant, but those who have kept in close touch with affairs and have kept up an active interest realize very fully what he has done for Phi Gamma Delta.

Alpha Chi is very proud of him and we like to feel that perhaps the chapter had something to do with moulding the character of the man who is one of the foremost citizens of Massachusetts and when the rest of the country knows him better he will go down in history as one of the great men of his time.

During the campaign a great deal was published about the Governor's wife—but the following editorial from the Springfield Re- publican, known throughout the country as one of the most conservative and high class newspapers in the United States is especially worthy of note:

MRS. COOLIDGE, A NEW ENGLAND HOUSEKEEPER

A figure deserving all the attention she received in yesterday's* ceremonies at Northampton was Mrs. Coolidge. It is part of political life that the public eye should be turned on the homes of officials and of candidates; the Coolidge home is one which the American people may at this time observe with interest, profit and satisfaction. From the home of no other candidate on the two tickets could the halt to extravagance and the call to simple, unostentatious living which was part of Governor Coolidge's address, have come with such force of sincerity and example.

Hardly had the applause at Governor Coolidge's nomination subsided in the Chicago convention when it was predicted with friendly humor among the Massachusetts delegation that the governor's home, measured by the $32 monthly rental, would become one of the effective items of the campaign. But the suggestion was made that unless Congress should increase the vice-presidential salary the governor would find it difficult to get along in Washington in view of the different scale of living and the social obligations of his presumptive office. To this the answer came from an intimate of the governor's: "Well, perhaps that's true. But, there's Mrs. Coolidge! And she is a 'wonderful housekeeper.'" So whether or not the governor himself is overrated as a mower of lawns or a maker of doughnuts, the members of the notification committee had yesterday a chance at luncheon in the Coolidge home to enjoy the hospitality of a housewife of whom New England is proud.

The week preceding election Mrs. Coolidge was guest of honor at a notable banquet in Boston tendered her by the Women's Division of the Republican State Committee of Massachusetts. The following extracts from an account of the affair given by the Boston Transcript give a little idea of the esteem in which Mrs. Coolidge is held by the women of her own state.

Many kind words were spoken of Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the governor, at a banquet given in her honor at the American House by the Women's Division of the Republican State Committee last night. There were more than five hundred women present, all sections of the state being represented. Mrs. Coolidge was assured of the loyal support of the Republican women voters.

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, chairman of the Women's Division of the Republican State Committee, presided at the dinner, proposing the first toast to Mrs. Coolidge. Addresses were made by Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, sister of the late Theodore Roosevelt; by Lieutenant Governor Channing Cox, the Republican nominee for governor; by Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, the first woman presidential elector-at-large in Massachusetts; by Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Mrs. James D. Tillinghast, Mrs. Frederick P. Bagley, Mrs. Frank B. Hall of Worcester, Mrs. Edward Blodgett of Brookline and Mrs. George Knowlton of Upton.

At the conclusion of the speaking, Mrs. Coolidge held a reception, shaking hands with all in attendance and expressing her appreciation of the honor.

Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, in beginning her address, spoke of having been an anti-suffragist, but as the country had decided that women must add new duties to those that have been theirs from the beginning, they must obey as loyal children.

"We have met tonight to do honor to our great governor, and particularly to offer our tribute to the woman who has been his helpmate," she said. "It is impossible to see Mrs. Coolidge without appreciating the help she must have been to him and without realizing that his choice was an example of the wisdom which he has shown through life.

Lieutenant Governor Cox, who came into the banquet for a few minutes on his evening round of fourteen meetings, aroused enthusiasm by declaring that the governor owed his steadfastness of purpose in large measure to Mrs. Coolidge. He expressed his appreciation of the effort of the women of the state in so nobly taking over their new duties of citizenship and in discharging their new responsibilities.

Mrs. Thayer suggested as a slogan for the Women's Division, "Have Faith in Massachusetts Women."

"We are here tonight," she said, "to assert that we have faith in one Massachusetts woman, and to pledge our whole loyalty, devotion and support to Mrs. Calvin Coolidge."

"Mrs. Tillinghast characterized the Republican women's organization of this state as one of the best in the entire country, saying that it now remains only for it to function and to get every registered Republican woman to the polls on Tuesday.

"We women have now become the joint housekeepers of the nation," she said, "and our fall housecleaning has been set for November 2. Unless all signs fail, we are going to do a thorough job on that day.

"We rejoice, Mrs. Coolidge," she said in conclusion, "that Massachusetts has the opportunity of giving you to the nation and we want you to feel that the Republican women of this state are back of you in every just and righteous cause."

Grace Goodhue became a charter member of Vermont B November 24, 1898. She held various chapter offices while an undergraduate, serving as corresponding secretary and as delegate to the Syracuse Convention in 1901. When the Western Massachusetts Alumnae Club was formed in 1910, she became its first president and held the office for a number of years. From 1912-15 she was Province Vice-president of Alpha Province and was elected President of Alpha Province at the Berkeley Convention which she attended in 1915. She was obliged to resign the latter office in a few months, however, on account of the increasing social duties of public life. She has a wide acquaintance throughout the fraternity and every Pi Beta Phi wishes her good fortune as she enters upon her new responsibilities in official Washington.

THE INSTALLATION OF MAINE ALPHA

It was indeed a happy moment in the lives of a group of girls in the University of Maine when four enthusiastic Pi Beta Phis actually arrived at the station in Bangor, on Monday, May 24, and were conducted to the college where they were to install Maine A. In order that the seniors who had worked unceasingly towards $\Pi B \Phi$ might be initiated before commencement the date of initiation was hastened a week.

Such excitement and real Pi Beta Phi enthusiasm as greeted the Boston party when it arrived at Ballantine Hall, one of the large women's dormitories! And immediately after dinner formal pledging was held in one of the recitation rooms. Dean and Mrs. Stevens had very kindly offered the use of their spacious home for the initiation ceremonies, which took place the following day.

Because many of the final recitations of the year fell on Tuesday, it was necessary for the girls to attend all their classes. Therefore the girls were initiated in two groups, the first starting at eight-thirty. The girls had the honor of having their Grand Vice-president, Anna Robinson-Nickerson, initiate them. She was assisted by Laura J. Wright, Massachusetts A, '09, of Cambridge and Ethel Piper-Avery Massachusetts A, '06 of Malden, representing the alumnae and Charlotte Gifford, '20, the active chapter.

No girl could have become a Pi Beta Phi that day and not have felt she was expected to live up to its ideals and mean the most possible to her college, her fraternity and the world. The first active chapter meeting of Maine A immediately followed initiation in order that the girls might prepare for the evening.

After dinner twenty-five of the proudest and happiest wearers of the wine and blue ever assembled, together with Mrs. Nickerson and visiting Pi Phis received at a reception to the faculty and students. The sun parlor and reception hall of Ballantine lent themselves so well to the wine and blue decorations and the University of Maine showed so plainly its pride in the new chapter that the occasion was a gala one indeed.

Following the reception came the first annual banquet of Maine A of Pi Beta Phi. It was served in the dining-hall of Ballantine, was prepared by the chef who was more than anxious to please the girls, and was served by girls from the other fraternities who volunteered their services. The air of mystery and expectation had gone, and in its place was the real joy of realization that each one was an actual wearer of the golden arrow of Pi Beta Phi for which she had striven so long to make herself worthy.

There were Beta Phi and University of Maine songs and cheers and the Pi Phi songs which the new members had learned for the occasion. The toastmistress was Ruth Small and the following responded to toasts:

- The Founding of Beta Phi.....Elva Gilman
- History of Beta Phi.....Doris Eastman
- Beta Phi IdealsMinerva French
- Why Beta Phi "Appealed to Me".....Clara Whalen
- To Pi Beta Phi.....Bernice Nicoll

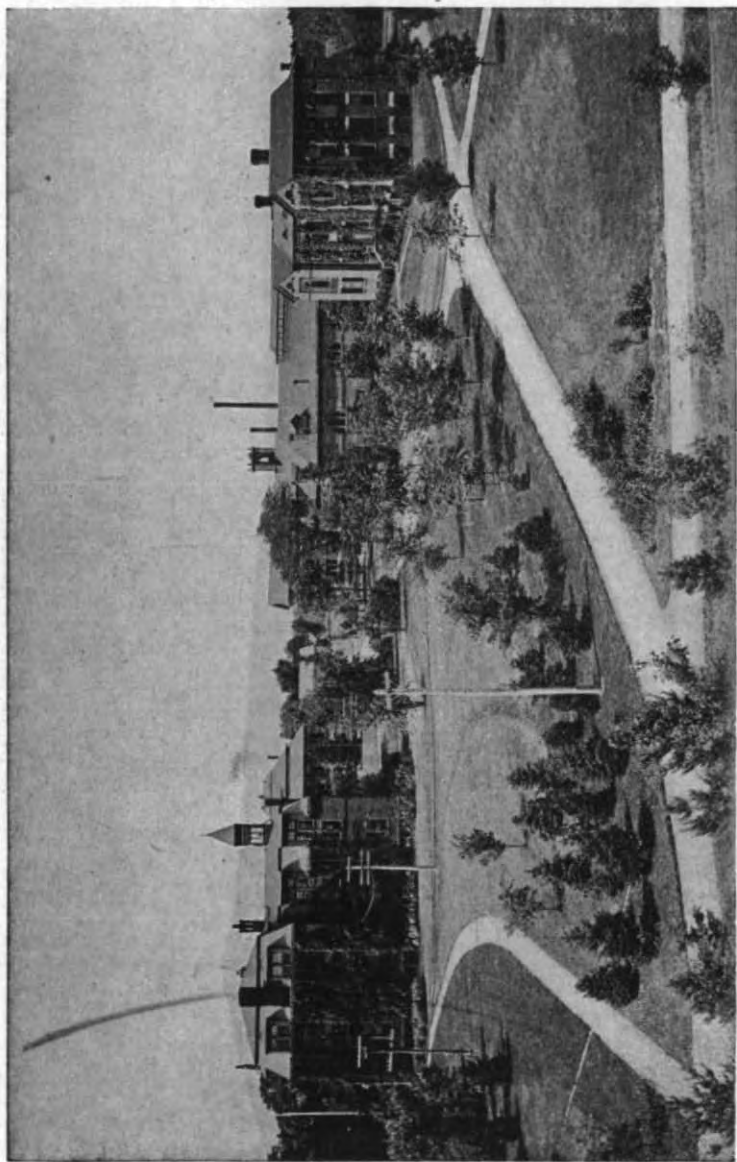

Mrs. Nickerson then spoke to the girls and each visiting Pi Beta Phi responded to an impromptu toast. It then remained for the new girls to learn the intricacies of the Marching Song. After the cheering had subsided, twenty-five Maine Alpha girls declared that there was no doubt left but that they were the "happiest Pi Beta Phis on earth."

HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

The University of Maine is a part of the educational system of the state and was established as a result of the Morrill Act in 1863. It was called originally the State College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, but this name was changed to the University of Maine in 1897. The institution opened with a class of twelve members and two teachers. During 1919-20 there were 1,213 students registered with a faculty of 160. The university is located in Orono on the main line of the Maine Central Railroad, eight miles from Bangor.

It is coeducational, women having been admitted since 1872. Last year 235 women were registered in the university.

BIRDS' EYE VIEW OF CAMPUS—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

There are four general curricula today: the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Agriculture, College of Law and College of Technology.

HISTORY OF BETA PHI, NOW MAINE ALPHA OF PI BETA PHI

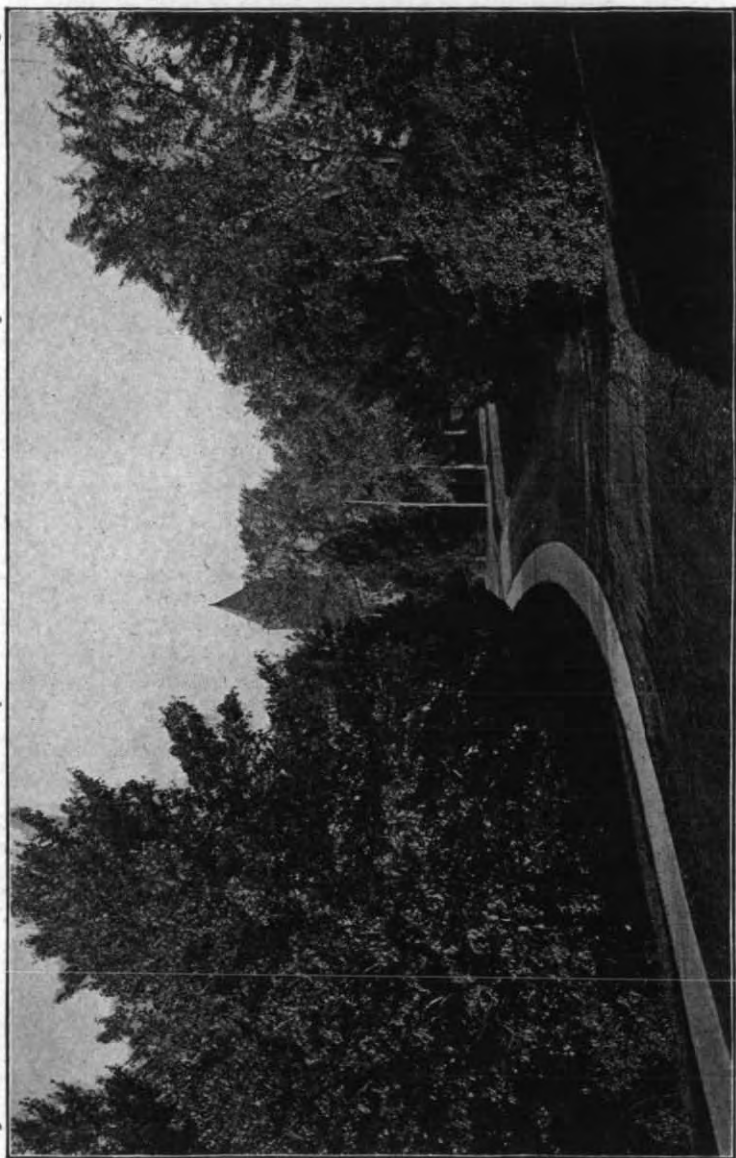

In the fall of 1916 there were chapters of two national fraternities represented among the girls of the institution, A O II and $\Phi \text{ M}$, but a local, $\text{A } \Theta$, was installed by Delta Delta Delta in the late fall of that year. In January, 1917, Beta Phi was organized as a local organization and with the advice of President Aley decided to petition $\text{II B } \Phi$.

We were rather handicapped because there were no Pi Phis near by, but we were determined to aim for the biggest and best fraternity of all. The girls of the other fraternities were very kind and gave us many helpful suggestions. In the fall of 1917 we did not join Panhellenic but bid the new girls without being organized in Panhellenic. We were very fortunate in pledging ten splendid girls who have worked faithfully with us.

The following spring, we were fortunate enough to have three Pi Phis visit us. They were, Mrs. Nina Allen, then Grand Vice-president, Margaret Chatfield from Middlebury College and Clara Sargent from Boston University. They filled us with a determination to become Pi Beta Phis which we have always held.

The next year was somewhat chaotic as the Student Army Training Corps was on the campus until the Christmas holidays. The college year was divided into three terms and was generally upset by influenza. This year we joined Panhellenic and pledged five freshman girls. In the spring we enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Puff, who was then President of Alpha Province.

Until Mrs. Nickerson's visit last spring we had heard nothing very hopeful from Pi Phi. When Mrs. Nickerson gave us permission to send out our formal petition we were almost overwhelmed with joy. By working hard we were able to send it out just about a week after the permission was given. Soon came the telegram saying that our petition had been granted and that we could be installed before commencement. That was the biggest day in our history and one which we will never forget.

Then came the pledging and installation. Mrs. Nickerson, Mrs. Avery, Miss Wright and Miss Gifford from Massachusetts A came down to initiate us into the joys of Pi Beta Phi. The time of preparation for such an important event was very short, but in spite of that we were very much impressed with the services; its memories will never leave us.

The history of Beta Phi has drawn to a close, but the history of Maine Alpha of Pi Beta Phi has just begun.

TO WILLIAM JAMES

Prophet and Seer and Superman,
Who strove to make men free!
With grateful hearts and eager hands
We bring the wreath to thee.

We know not where thy spirit went
When death had set it free;
But find in countless human lives
Thine immortality.

And if, perchance, thou livest on
In some uncharted sphere,
Then, may thy guardian angel be
The love thou gavest here.

HONOR GRADUATES 1919-20

Last year there appeared under this heading, a brief history of each of the national honorary fraternities which admit women to membership. Since that time one more organization has been added to the list.

The Alpha Chapter of the Alpha Rho Tau Fraternity was established at the University of Nebraska in the spring of 1920. Its purpose is to give recognition to students who achieve distinction in the Schools of Fine Arts, and who for that reason are not eligible to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. In general, the aims, purposes and conditions of eligibility follow those of Phi Beta Kappa. Membership is open to both men and women students of painting, music or dramatic art, who are registered for a B.F.A. degree. Alpha Rho Tau would probably be classed as an honorary non-professional fraternity.

THE PI BETA PHI FELLOWSHIP FOR GRADUATE STUDY

For the year 1921-22, one graduate fellowship with a value of five hundred dollars will be offered. This fellowship is open to any $\Pi B \Phi$ who has received her Bachelor's degree. It may be used at any university, either in this country or in Europe which offers the best advantages in graduate work along the particular line desired by the holder.

Two points will be considered by the Grand Council in awarding the fellowship: first, the scholastic standing of the student and second, all-around development of character, and the ability to represent the fraternity in whatever place the recipient may be. The Council requests, moreover, that the applicant give very definite information as to the place where she wishes to study, the course of study she desires to pursue, and the ultimate purpose for pursuing such courses.

Applications, together with photographs of the applicants, credentials from professors, and other testimonials should be in the hands of the Grand Council not later than March 1, 1921, so that the award may be made before the close of the college year. Blank forms for application for fellowship may be obtained from the Grand President. Any applicant of former years who has not received the fellowship may make a new application, if she so desires.

All applications for the undergraduate loan fund should be made to the committee in charge of these funds. Information as to conditions, credentials, and terms of loans to undergraduates may be secured from the chairman of the committee on loan fund administration, Mrs. Thomas Bradlee, 292 Pearl St., Burlington, Vt.,

ANNA LYTLE TANNAHILL, Grand President.

After graduation, she taught Biology and Mathematics for two years in the high school at Lewiston, Illinois. This fall, aided by the Pi Beta Phi Fellowship, she is continuing her work in the University of Chicago, working for her Master's degree in Zoölogy.

CONVENTION

The twenty-fifth Biennial Convention of Pi Beta Phi will be held at "The Inn," Charlevoix, Michigan, July 1-6, 1921.

Now that the war is over, and we may once more consider our pleasures rather than our duties—may we not hope that this Convention of Pi Beta Phi will be the largest and best ever? Won't you come and do your bit to make it the largest and best?

On all sides we hear the question, "Why go to Charlevoix again?" And always we find the questioner did not attend the last Convention at Charlevoix, or there would be no question!

Those fortunate enough to have attended the 1918 Convention know that "The Inn," and Charlevoix are ideal for Convention headquarters, and if possible will be with us again in 1921. A beautiful location with complete isolation (which is very necessary for a successful Convention) has the advantage of the best of hotel accommodations at a reasonable rate.

Charlevoix is a city of about 3,000 inhabitants, located on the east shore of Lake Michigan, in the heart of the beautiful northern Michigan resort country.

"The Inn," surrounded by very attractive grounds is located on Pine Lake, within a mile of Lake Michigan. The large verandas and attractive lobby, with its easy chairs and writing desks, will make you feel at home at once. This spacious lobby and its cheerful open fireplace needs no introduction to the Pi Phis who shared its cheer in 1918.

The attractions for those interested in out-door sports are many. Three tennis courts, and two croquet courts are located on "The Inn" grounds. An 18 hole golf course, close at hand is at the disposal of the Inn guests. Horses may be obtained from the Charlevoix riding school for any who care to ride. Our athletic director will be glad to arrange tennis or golf tournaments, to show us which chapters excell in sports as well as in scholarship.

CONVENTION PROGRAM

Details of Convention program are not sufficiently definite for publication at the present time, but the March ARROW will bring to you the tentative program. The important business taken care of at the regular sessions will be of great interest to the visitors as well as delegates. The evening programs will be varied. An evening with our Settlement School will surely be a joy to all. A scholarship symposium followed by the model initiation is something not to be forgotten, and will inspire the delegates to return to their chapters determined to lead in scholarship.

HOTEL ANNOUNCEMENT

During Convention Pi Phi will have exclusive use of "The Inn," which accommodates 400 guests. The Belvidere, and Charlevoix Beach (two other Charlevoix hotels) will be glad to take care of any overflow of Pi Phis, relatives or friends, who wish to share our pleasures at Charlevoix. Our rates at "The Inn"—$5.00 per day per person, two in a room also include the banquet, which will be the only formal occasion of Convention.

TRANSPORTATION

The Pere Marquette Railroad, over which you will arrive at Charlevoix is providing us with our own special cars, which will leave Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, and Grand Rapids on the evening of June 30, and arrive at Charlevoix in one train on the morning of July 1. The March ARROW will contain railroad and pullman rates, also instructions regarding hotel reservations and baggage.

CONVENTION VIA MOTOR

No doubt there are many who will wish to travel to Charlevoix by motor, and we may safely promise them a pleasant trip, for many of the Michigan roads will be greatly improved, in fact, re-built, before next July. There is a large appropriation for road improvement in the state of Michigan, most of which will be used next spring, and very fortunately will include quite a few miles of roadway leading to Charlevoix. So with splendid roads, and the beautiful scenery of Michigan, of which you have all heard, it is very probable that many will desert the Pi Beta Phi special cars for the open road. Then, of course, there is the advantage of having a car with you after reaching Charlevoix, as there are splendid roads through beautiful Lake country leading to all the nearby resorts. Watch for the MARCH ARROW, as we hope to publish details of motor trips from Chicago and Detroit.

SUMMER GATHERINGS OF PI PHIS

Every summer, Pi Phis meet each other at Y. W. C. A. Conferences at summer schools, recreation camps and the many different resorts where people assemble from all parts of the country. This year there was one organized attempt to bring Pi Phis together, the Alpha Province House-party an account of which follows but there were many other informal gatherings which various people attending have kindly reported for the ARROW. The Editor is always glad to give space to reports of this kind.

ALPHA PROVINCE HOUSE PARTY

On Thursday, June twenty-fourth, guests began to arrive at the Pi Beta Phi house in Syracuse for Alpha Province house-party. We were all heartily welcomed by our new president, Mrs. Bowen.

Friday evening, activities began with a "get-acquainted" party at which a great many Syracuse alumnae and active girls were present to meet the visiting delegates.

Saturday morning, real business started with a helpful discussion of local problems. The chief topics under consideration were rushing and scholarship. After lunch, we enjoyed a pleasant theatre party with the alumnae. In the evening the fraternity house was opened for an informal dance.

One of the most enjoyable trips of the house-party was planned for Sunday afternoon when we motored to Lake Skaneateles, twenty-two miles away. The weather could not have been more favorable or the company more congenial. After a delightful dinner we returned home and talked together, exchanging ideas until the small hours of the morning.

Monday morning we continued the discussion, considering the responsibilities of Pi Beta Phi and Panhellenic conditions. Many helpful suggestions were advanced and problems were solved. For Monday afternoon a section was reserved at Keith's new theatre, for the alumnae and delegates after which we were entertained at a buffet supper at the lovely home of Mrs. Teller (Katheryn Burr, Colorado A, '04.)

The last session was held Tuesday morning when Mrs. Bowen in her usual charming manner gave us parting advice and inspiration for our respective chapters. The party broke up Tuesday afternoon, each delegate feeling a keen appreciation of the opportunity which Mrs. Bowen had made possible for her to gain increased knowledge of the aims and workings of the Pi Beta Phi.

PI BETA PHIS AT CHAUTAUQUA

To a score of Pi Beta Phis, Chautauqua this summer had an added charm in that it brought together fraternity sisters from all parts of the country. Members of fourteen chapters from New York to Colorado and from Michigan to Louisiana spent three very enjoyable afternoons forming Pi Phi friendships and bringing news of their chapters and clubs. Soon after Chautauqua opened, we were the guests of Mrs. A. E. Bestor, Indiana A, '03, the wife of the president of the Institution, the following week Marion Dale, Colorado A invited us to her summer home; and the third week, Mrs. R. J. McCollum, Michigan B, entertained us at the Chautauqua Women's Clubhouse. In the last week of summer school a Panhellenic picnic for both men and women Greeks was held, at which Pi Phi had the largest representation.

The following Pi Phis attended one or more of our meetings: Ethelyn Toler, Illinois Δ; Ethel Coolidge, Iowa B; Mrs. J. A. Lockwood, Mrs. W. H. Nichol and E. Voegthe, Maryland A; Mrs. L. L. Half, Illinois E; Mrs. R. J. McCollum, Michigan B; Mrs. Paul G. Weidner, Missouri B; Ethel Fithian, Illinois Z; Mildred Rees, Michigan B; Marion Dale, Colorado A; Mrs. A. E. Bestor, Indiana A; Mary Siggers, Michigan B; Emily Guild, New York A; Dorothy K. Cleaveland, New York Γ; Margaret McGrew, New York A; Mrs. C. M. Spencer, Louisiana A; Edith Lane, Pennsylvania B; and Margaret McDonald, Illinois H.

There may have been other Pi Phis on the grounds of whom we did not know, though we kept close watch of the Panhellenic register and were always on the lookout for arrows. We hope next year to do still more in bringing Pi Phis together. If all would go promptly and register when they come, they would be sure of not being left out of any good times.

THE SUMMER AT CAMP PANHELLENIC

All Pi Phis are interested in Camp Panhellenic since the founders and directors of the project are members of our own fraternity. This past season, the group of campers included members of $\mathbf{K A \Theta}$, $\mathbf{A \Phi}$, $\mathbf{\Gamma \Phi}$ and $\mathbf{\Pi B \Phi}$. The latter represented the following chapters: Missouri B, Alice Koken (Mrs. Walter) and Alice Weidmer; Kansas B,

IN THE HEART OF THE WOODS

Ruth Siefkin and May Siefkin; Illinois B, Margaret Newman; Maryland A, May L. Keller; Wisconsin A, Gladys Dixon; New York Δ , Edith H. Matzke; Michigan B, Martha Gray and Ontario A, Edith H. Gordon.

What is the outstanding characteristic of Camp Panhellenic? What one word will convey the subtle atmosphere of that delightful spot, and make clear the spell it casts on all who sojourn there. "Satisfying" seems most appropriate. From the time when the red glow of the uprising sun spreads across Lake Michigan, tipping the tree tops of Rock Island, and bidding the eyes of the sleeping tent-dwellers open and see a new and more beautiful day, till the soft moon silhouettes the tapering evergreens in the quiet waters of Jackson Harbor, and ever and anon the vivid Northern Lights shine in eerie splendour, there is a sense of completeness, of satisfaction in all the surroundings and experiences, that makes each day perfect and apart.

It is a wonderful and stimulating experience to see the birth of a new idea. It is a thrilling experience to watch that idea grow, and take form and become larger and more beautiful than was first dreamed for it. Given the most suitable sites for a camp; given the pluck and enthusiasm to enter the wilderness single-handed and shape a place that rejoices the eye, and typifies the ideals of beauty and health; and given the faith that college women desire just what such a camp can give; and one sees the foundations that underlie Camp Panhellenic.

Those who have been privileged to spend part or all of this first summer at the camp, living in the big out-of-doors, watching the wealth of colour of Michigan and Green Bay, whether of blue in the days of the Northwester, or of green in the days of the Northeast, or of slate grey flecked with foam, in the day of the big storm from the southeast, feel that something has come into their lives that many days of hard and monotonous work through the winter cannot drive out.

What of the joyful days spent together tramping the woodsey trails! What of the beach fire each night and the songs that accompanied it! What of the nights in the open under the stars, when we watched the Great Bear make a half circle around the North star, and saw the moon set and the sun rise! What of the morning dip in the crystal clear waters of the little channel, with the sun and air to dry one and make one feel altogether new made! What of the still moonlight on Lake Michigan when the canoe seemed to float suspended between air and water, and the stones on the bottom were perfectly seen at twenty feet deep! What of the gay, blue days on the fishing smack when nets were lifted and the silvery harvest was gathered in! In retrospect one sees and remembers so much that is indelibly impressed on mind and heart.

The great usefulness of Camp Panhellenic, however, lies in the opportunities it affords for meeting women from other colleges and other fraternities. All the joy and beauty of the camp would be small if it were not shared with others of similar tastes and ideals. New lasting friendships are made quickly because the conventional bars are down. Lasting friendships are made because what is true and good in each is immediately recognized. One cannot camouflage in the heart of nature.

Can you see the group of tanned, healthy faces, and the straight well-poised bodies standing around the table in the high ceilinged, airy dining-room and singing:

Here's to Kappa Alpha Theta,
 Here's to Alpha Phi,
 Here's to Kappa Kappa Gamma,
 And the arrow of Pi-Beta Phi,
 Ring, ching, ching,
 Here's to Gamma Phi and Tri Delt,
 And all the girls' fraternities,
 But here's to Panhellenic,
 United are we.

They typify the spirit of Camp Panhellenic.

PI BETA PHIS AT COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

SUMMER SESSION

Arrows seemed so numerous on the campus at Columbia University this summer that a group of Pi Phis decided to call a meeting. Twelve responded and planned for a dinner at a French Tearoom for the following week.

The following were present at the dinner but we estimated that there were about twice as many Pi Phis as those named who were registered at the university summer session.

Viola Beebe, Minnesota A; C. Louise Andrews and Lillian M. Neff, New York A; Margaret E. Bloor, Indiana Γ ; Olive Hawkins, Missouri A; Anna Traubert, West Virginia A; Verda Eylar, Ohio B; Geneva Satterthwaite, Michigan A; Helen H. Bartol, Eliza T. Martin and Ethel Watkins, Pennsylvania B; Clara M. Gardner, Ruth F. Catlin and Bertha A. Coventry, Vermont B; Mildred Conklin, Pennsylvania Γ ; Maria M. Roberts and Edith Hess, Iowa Γ ; Bertha Collins, Vermont A; Marion McKinney, Wisconsin A; Ethel Carey, New York B; and Anne Rodey, Maryland A.

We had a special table reserved and were all seated around it while we exchanged Pi Phi news from the various colleges represented, and also discussed the work in which we were engaged at Columbia. It was a splendid opportunity for us to get acquainted, and is a pleasant memory now we are scattered and engaged in our various lines of work. It made the bond of Pi Phi just a little closer between us and I am sure that all who attended enjoyed the occasion.

TEACHING IN THE PHILIPPINES

BY MARGARET TORRENCE, Iowa A, '10

How would you girls at home like the unique experience of being the only unmarried white woman in a town of forty thousand? Well, here I am, and such is the case.

CARABAO CART

The wall is part of Ft. Pilar, built to keep off the Moros.

Mother and I sailed from San Francisco, on the Army Transport Thomas, May fifth, and reached Manila, June first. We saw little of the capital, as I received my assignment the day following and left June third, for Zamboanga. We are a three days steamer trip from Manila down toward Borneo. The Japanese and English boats for Singapore and Australia stop here. Doesn't that sound Oriental?

Zamboanga is considered the best town in the Islands, next to Manila. It is well built up and has many modern improvements; —hard roads, electric lights, city water, an American hotel, ice plant, three department stores, three-story office building, and a strictly modern Provincial High School. A $150,000 Normal School is nearing completion, and a large new dock is being constructed.

An Army Post, Pettit Barracks, is located here, and many of the officers are Americans. They, with their families constitute a large part of the social life. Every Thursday afternoon at the Post, the wives of the officers, serve tea. All the American women are invited and, as the barracks are on the beach, we have a swim before tea is served. There are over one hundred Americans and Europeans here. The men have a club called the "Overseas Club," and they offer various social entertainments during the year.

In the market we can get tomatoes (size of marbles and up), green corn, peas, beans, etc., so do very nicely. There is much sea food, many chickens, some pork and beef and meat of the carabao. The last named is the draft animal here, looks something like a cow, but has very long horns, and a glistening black skin covered with a grayish brown hair. For transportation there are auto busses, autos, rickshaws, and calesas. The calesa is a two wheeled rig drawn by a pony. The driver sits perched on a single seat in the middle of the front. The seat for passengers is directly behind him—fare forty cents per hour.

There are few flies here but plenty of mosquitoes, and cockroaches as large as your thumb, swarms of ants everywhere and lizards all over the ceiling. I have seen no snakes here, although I have been in the woods frequently. We are only a few minutes' auto ride from a beautiful park in the foothills of the mountains.

Most of the business is conducted by Chinese (Chinos-cheenohs). They have several good stores here where we can buy any canned articles we can purchase in the states. They have intermarried with the natives, and their children, Chinese mestizos are among our brightest pupils. There are large numbers of coconut groves and copra (dried coconut) is a chief export. Much rice also is grown. Across the strait from us are large rubber plantations, one of which we visited. On a recent launch trip we sailed up a tropical river with dense mangrove swamps on either side, alive with crocodiles, chattering wild monkeys and parrots of varied hues. The beautiful coral beds, over which we sailed, could be plainly seen in the clear, quiet water.

This is a Moro province so is doubly interesting. These people are Mohammedans and many of the men wear the fez. There are several Moro barrios (villages) near here, one of which we recently visited. Very rarely do the people there see a white woman so we were objects of great curiosity. Practically the entire population followed us through their one street. I counted seventeen children from the ages of two to fourteen and hardly a child had on even one article of clothing. The Moro man wears very tight trousers, and often a sort of Eton jacket; with a gay colored scarf around the head; the brighter the colors, the better; orange, purple, red, plaid, etc. The women frequently wear trousers, and a loose waist. Draped around the shoulders and extending to the hips is worn a length of goods with ends sewed together. This is thrown over the head in the hot sun.

The Christian Filipinos, especially the men, dress in American style. The girls all wear American dress, and many of the women do so, especially the teachers. The streets present a veritable kaleidoscopic moving picture—seen in half an hour from my window;—a woman in native costume with a large bundle of washing on her head; a Hudson, seven passenger, with ten Moros in garments of bright blue, orange and red; a boy of ten with a red fez and baggy suit of blue; a boy with tight fitting blue trousers, salmon colored scarf, white shirt with a pink and blue tight jacket, the whole surmounted by a black fez; a calesa with two American women; a Japanese woman in approved Japanese style; three Chinamen in baggy blue suits; three tiny girls in the States' latest styles; two scout soldiers holding hands; an American with his Chinese mestizo wife; five young men in white duck suits, one man carrying a cane; and so on ad infinitum. One of the most interesting scenes to me is the natives coming home from market; dangling on a string from one hand is a piece of meat or liver, unwrapped, an eel or some fish; in the other hand a basket of vegetables, and on the head a straw tray of greens, fruits, etc.

I am teaching English in the Provincial High School. We have an American man as superintendent, and another as instructor; there are two of us American women, making four in all; the rest are native teachers. In this school we have children from all over the province from the fifth grade up. I have found them as a rule courteous but they require firmness in discipline as in the States. English of course is the language used, and expulsion from school is the penalty for speaking dialect (a mixture of Spanish and native words).

Now I have pictured to you the life as I find it here, and it is an interesting, pleasant life indeed, but girls in other provinces would have a far different tale. As I have said this is the best town outside Manila and the climate here is much better, as we have no continued rainy season, and usually have a cool breeze.

This being a U. S. possession the people look on us as true representatives of a democratic government and in all things aspire to be like us. Hence all Americans here should keep in mind that we are living examples to our brown brothers and sisters. I was asked recently, "Would you advise a girl friend of yours to come here to teach?" Most heartily "Yes" if to Zamboanga, and perhaps to Iloilo, Cebu and Manila, and a few other towns. "No," if to other places out in the provinces unless she be close to thirty years of age, and prepared to endure hardship, and lack of company. I have been most fortunate in being assigned to a town where there are so many Americans, and most of all in having my mother* with me.

As one paper, La Vanguardia, puts it: ". . . State clearly to those teachers who desire to come here that this country is not a paradise, that life in the provinces is quiet and monotonous, poor in comforts, and that a veritable spirit of sacrifice and resignation is necessary to remain in an emotionless environment far from home and the dearest desires of the heart."

I trust you will enjoy reading this as much as I have enjoyed writing of my experiences here.

LIFE IN PORTO RICO

BY ANNIE WHITE GILES, Illinois Z, '07

Twelve years ago we came to Porto Rico, and from the dungeon-like Spanish house in the little southern town, which was our first residence and headquarters of the construction, we Americans, about twelve in number, moved into the tents which comprised our engineering camp.

The campsite was literally blasted out of the rocks and fertile and brilliantly green as is most of this country our lawn, for the time being, was a succession of ragged boulders and broken earth which sometimes gleamed too brilliantly under the strong tropical sun. This apparently unattractive location was chosen because of its unique situation, near town and yet out of its dirt and noise. In a year's time houses followed the tents, and slowly grass covered the slopes of our breezy little hill, palm and flamboyant trees sprang up, and there we had our little American quarter, as different from a native residence section as are our lives from those of our numerous Spanish neighbors.

As tents are to homes, so in those days, were the markets, groceries, and dry goods stores in comparison to those we had left in the North—canned goods could scarcely be had. Uneda Biscuit, if found, were a damp or wormy mass, and the best that the market could afford was an offering of vegetables of two or three varieties, monotonously the same, day after day. It was a sad day for the American girl, who must take charge of the camp table for a month, seeing that there were three meals a day for the hungry engineers and a force of unintelligible blacks on hand to prepare them.

It is a far cry from the rum and codfish laden shelves of the grocery stores of those days, to the attractive places one sees now. Fresh American butter is obtainable (if there is not a stevedore strike in New York) and in the bigger places that afford cold storage, one can even occasionally luxuriate to the extent of a real United States beefsteak and celery which is the height of an American housekeeper's ambition here.

For the American girl who comes here to teach, life is much simpler and at the same time broader than it was for her venturesome sister who dared the unknown in the early days. She is most fortunate, however, who can be assigned to one of the larger towns and is sure of such a location, before leaving the mainland. The reason for this is that she is much more apt to find other Americans, than in the smaller towns or rural districts, for in the latter she may be the only American. A disappointed girl, sent to a small village, said to me last year, "There is nothing for me to do after school hours here." The natives are not inhospitable; rather they are easy going, absorbed in domestic topics, or the next ball, and find little in common with the American girl, who most likely knows very little conversational Spanish. They never make a call on a newcomer; rather they await her invitation to them, but if she takes the initiative and indicates a desire to learn Spanish with them they are delighted to help her.

From the standpoint of good health too, it is better that she be in a larger town. Food and sanitary conditions are better and she has a chance to keep house with other American teachers, who need and desire food prepared in accustomed American fashion. Five girls in Guayama very successfully kept house one year. They kept a native cook whom they taught and whose work they supplemented from time to time with favorite dishes of their own preparation. It is a strong American stomach, indeed, that can stand a year's boarding at a native table. The dishes are uniformly greasy and heavy, with almost no fresh fruits or vegetables to counterbalance.

Malaria and typhoid are a real menace here, and only by systematically sleeping under tightly tucked in mosquito nets and drinking boiled water can they be avoided.

For the girl who comes here for a year or two of experience in teaching, or to learn Spanish there are many pleasures which overbalance the disadvantage of low salary and high steamship fare to and fro which must be met with her own funds. The scenery is gorgeous, and there are splendid roads to all parts of the island; almost any point can be reached by automobile and the return home made in a week-end. Every town of any size has its American church with a scattering of Americans from the mainland and native converts. Then there is the beautiful native embroidery to be admired and collected perhaps, the splendid fruits and comfortable climate—for indoors and on porches; one never experiences the heat of a summer's day such as of the Middle West. American girls are always invited to the dances, and every town has its movies, the larger ones having all the best films.

In spite of twenty years of occupation and familiarity with Americans, however, many of the old customs of the Spanish days hold good, and an American girl will do well to remember some of the all pervading, if to her strange, notions of social etiquette here. The people as a whole have never become fully accustomed to the independence and freedom of the American girl, and if she would retain the respect and good-will of the townspeople where she lives, she must forego sometimes what in the States are innocent and ordinary pleasures. Jaunts unchaperoned, with a gentleman escort, give rise to suspicion of a girl's motives, though several young people of the two sexes or a crowd of girls may go about alone uncriticized. Unfortunately, to the Spanish mind, there is but one meaning attributed to a girl's being alone with a gentleman and out of the sight of other people. Many of our girls have not heeded warnings in the matter and before the year is out have found themselves somewhat ostracized by the natives little as they really deserve such treatment. It is by a careful attitude toward these things that an American girl can help a native community, for naturally her influence in the school room is negligible, if her pupils have not confidence in her conduct after she leaves them.

Conservative and uncomprehending of our social customs, as the Porto Ricans may be inclined to smile tolerantly at our unintentional brusqueness, Yankee hustle, and fantastic sense of honor in business, one feels sure of their sincere if unexpressed approval of developments and growth during our occupation. Somewhat deliberately they take advantage of innovations, but enthusiastically cling to them when won over, forgetting, as is human, the ridicule heaped upon the "crazy Americans" who instituted the change. We sometimes find ourselves as regards their opinion of us, in the honorable if not always spicy position of old Sal, the wash-woman who having ceased to be comely, confided to a friend, "Ah knows Ah ain't particular chahmin' to Mose no mo, but Ah reckon he'll stick by long's Ah keep dese heah wash places."

NEWS FROM LITTLE PIGEON

BY EVELYN BISHOP

Two things stand out in a most unique way as belonging definitely to the Southern Mountains and holding charm and interest for everyone who can become at all familiar with them, the mountain ballad, dating back to the old Elizabethan period, and the hand-woven coverlets, with design as old as the ballad and the beautiful pattern showing, if we only knew it, as clearly the clan to which it belonged as does the Scotch plaid.

We read so much of the mountains and their people these days that one hardly needs to remind residents of other sections of the isolation, the old, old customs still in use and the splendid people with their quaint ways and speech. Anyone who has ever been in the mountains can readily understand the romance and art that is woven into the songs, the coverlets or the people themselves for trees and streams have spoken to them much more frequently than the human voice and nature's beauties have not been marred or supplemented by anything artificial.

A love of music and an ear for it seem natural to nearly everyone. Many times it is the ballad that the child learns first, no Mother Goose melodies are as familiar and it is strange indeed to listen to a little tot singing of the courtly days of old, the knights and "ladyes" and probably the tragic death of the lover. It is still the custom to have "singings" when a family move into a new house, when the young people want some entertainment or celebrate at holiday time. Christmas or Thanksgiving do not bring the songs of the seasons but the old songs handed down from generation to generation and sometimes I almost regret that we teach in the schools so many new songs and perhaps encourage the younger ones to neglect what belongs so distinctly to them.

A few years ago Mr. Cecil Sharp, of London, visited this section of the country and in talking to the young people in one of our schools gave the history of some of the ballads. After he had sung some, one of the lads told us those were "love songs" the people at his home knew. Mr. Sharp became interested at once and made a trip of eighteen miles back to the boy's home where he found over two hundred old ballads, some that had been partly or entirely lost in England for years but had remained intact in these mountains.

To those of us who are acquainted with the country and people his introduction to the English Folk Songs of the Southern Appalachians is most interesting and true to present day conditions.

"The present inhabitants of the Laurel Country are the direct descendants of the original settlers who were emigrants from England and, I suspect, from the lowlands of Scotland—I was able to ascertain with some degree of certainty that the settlement of this particular section began about three or four generations ago, that is, in the latter part of the eighteenth century or early part of the nineteenth. How many years prior to this the original emigration had taken place I am unable to say but it is fairly safe, I think, to conclude that the present-day residents of this section of the mountains are the descendants of those who left the shores of England some time in the eighteenth century. Their speech is English, not American, and from the number of expressions they use which have long been obsolete elsewhere, and the old-fashioned way in which they pronounce many of their words, it is clear they are talking the language of a past day, though of what period I am not competent to decide. Although uneducated, in the sense in which that term is usually understood they possess that elemental wisdom, abundant knowledge and intuitive understanding which only those who live in constant touch with Nature and face to face with reality seem to be able to acquire. Physically, they are strong and of good stature, though usually spare in figure. Their features are clean cut and often handsome while their complexions testify to wholesome out-of-door habits. They carry themselves superbly, and it was a never-failing delight to note their swinging, easy gait and the sureness with which they could negotiate the footlogs over the creeks, the crossing of which caused us many anxious moments. The reason, I take it, why these mountain people, albeit unlettered, have acquired so many of the essentials of culture is partly to be attributed to the large amount of leisure they enjoy, without which, of course, no cultural development is possible, but chiefly to the fact that they have one and all entered at birth into the full enjoyment of their racial heritage.

My sole purpose in visiting this country was to collect traditional songs and ballads—I naturally expected to find conditions very similar to those which I encountered in England when engaged in the same quest. But of this I soon was to be disillusioned. Instead, for instance, of having to confine my attention to the aged as in England where no one under the age of seventy ordinarily possesses the folk-song tradition, I discovered that I could get what I wanted from pretty nearly everyone I met, young and old. In fact, I found myself, for the first time in my life in a community where singing was as common and almost as universal a practice as talking. It is no exaggeration to say that some of the hours I passed sitting on the porch of a log cabin, talking and listening to songs, were amongst the pleasantest I have ever spent.

The mountain singers sing in very much the same way as the English folk-singer, in the same direct, straight-forward manner, without any conscious effort at expression, and with the even tone and clarity of enunciation with which all folk-song collectors are familiar. They have one vocal peculiarity, however, which I have never noticed among the English, namely the habit of dwelling arbitrarily upon certain notes of the melody, generally the weaker accents. The wonderful charm, fascinating and well-nigh magical, which the folk-singer produces upon those who are fortunate enough to hear him is to be attributed very largely to his method of singing, and this, it should be understood, is quite as traditional as the song itself."

In closing his splendid appreciation of the mountain people and their ballads Mr. Sharp calls attention to a most important fact, that of holding to the best in the old while we are teaching the new. There are so many things which should be carefully held and guarded lest they entirely vanish as new people, new business and more education come in. To quote Mr. Sharp again:

"Remembering that the primary purpose of education is to place the children of the present generation in possession of the cultural achievements of the past so that they may as quickly as possible enter into their racial inheritance, what better form of music or literature can we give them than the folk-songs of the race to which they belong, or of the nation whose language they speak? To put it another way, the aim of educationist should be not to forge the first link of a new chain, but to add a fresh link to the old one."

IN MEMORIAM

ANDERSON (MRS. R. W.), CELINA C. PLANK, Iowa E, '81, of Pulaski, Iowa, died April 16, 1920 at Graham Hospital, Keokuk, Iowa, where she had been attending the sick bed of her husband. She was a member of I. C., as were also her two sisters, Mrs. Charles Milligan, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mrs. W. L. Heath of Webster Groves, Mo. Mrs. C. E. Faeth of Kansas City and Miss Elva Plank of Pi Beta Phi House, Columbia, her cousins, were also members of the same chapter. While Mrs. Anderson was ever faithful to her Lord first in all things, she had pleasure in her fraternity and was a member of Woman's Legislative League of Des Moines, Iowa, and at the time of her death was Worthy Matron of the O E S in her home town.

CONAWAY, LAURA COLE, Iowa T, ex-'16, died at Ponca City, Oklahoma, May 23, 1920, of pneumonia. She was initiated into Iowa T, December 20, 1912. After two years at Ames, Laura transferred her credits to the State Teachers College at Cedar Falls where she was graduated in June 1916. She taught Home Economics one year in the Larrabee public school at Clermont, Iowa, and two years at Upper Iowa University, Fayette.

On November 14, 1918 a message from the government to Laura stated that her fiancé, Hewitt L. Williams had died in France. Laura had made her supreme sacrifice to her country. Believing that greater opportunities for service would be hers as a hospital dietitian she entered Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, in September 1919 and while receiving her training, conducted evening classes in Chicago Community centers for the American Red Cross. She also received her commission as an American Red Cross dietitian. On March first of the present year she accepted the position of dietitian at the hospital in Ponca City, Oklahoma.

Laura was an enthusiastic $\Pi \Phi$. While residing in Mason City she and her mother were loyal members of the Mason City Panhellenic club. In college days Laura's leadership in the social life of the Y. W. C. A. was an inspiration to all who worked with her. Her beautiful Christian character radiated good cheer and sincerity.

To Laura's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman R. Conway and her brother, Richard, Iowa Γ extends its deepest sympathy.

MARY REGINA GRIFFIN died May 3, 1920, of double pneumonia at her home in Pittsburgh, Pa. She was initiated into Pennsylvania Δ , September 19, 1918, at its installation.

The saddest experience that has occurred in the history of the Pennsylvania Δ and the Pittsburgh Alumnae Club is the death of Mary Griffin, who was a charter member of the local chapter.

Her death seemed more sad to us because the date of her burial fell on her twenty-fourth birthday.

Mary was the reserved, quiet, dignified type of a girl, self-effacing and putting the chapter's interests far above her own. Only those who came in daily contact with her could penetrate the quiet of her and see the sterling woman beneath.

She came into the petitioning chapter, the Dianthian Fraternity in her sophomore year and was initiated into Pennsylvania Δ at the time of its installation, September 19, 1918, and served as corresponding secretary during her senior year in college. She was an energetic $\Pi \Phi$ worker and held the chapter's interests at heart.

Having graduated from Peabody High School, Pittsburgh, Pa., with honors she was an excellent student in college. Her final record showed that she had missed the cum laude by a small percentage. She was a real force in the chapter, and her opinion was always regarded when decisions of moment necessitated. Pi Phis in Pittsburgh feel her loss keenly.

WILKES (Mrs. W. W.) LUCY MANN, '20, Washington B, '20, died at her home in Puyallup, Wash., of pneumonia. She was initiated into Washington B at the State College of Washington, March 17, 1917. At the time of her death she was a member of the Ina Smith Soule Alumnae Club in Tacoma, Wash.

BOOK REVIEWS

Feeding Children at School

BY EDNA HATFIELD EDMONDS, Indiana B, '11, AND MABEL THACHER WELLMAN

This booklet on a method of meeting the problem of under-nourished children is published by Indiana University as Extension division bulletin, vol. 4, No. 8.

Wisconsin Citizen's Handbook

BY MAY WOOD SIMONS, Illinois E, '05

Published by the Wisconsin League of Women Voters. Price Twenty-five cents

This handy booklet is of value to voters but especially to new women voters. It is not an attempt in the field of civics but is a valuable reference book with the emphasis laid on the State of Wisconsin and local problems. Mrs. Simons has handled the subject matter admirably.

CLUB INTERESTS AND EVENTS

Items for this department, alumnae personals and changes in alumnae club directory should be sent to the alumnae editor, January 20, for the next issue of THE ARROW.

Akron, Ohio

Meetings are held the fourth Saturday of each month at 2:30 p. m. All Pi Phis living or visiting in or near Akron should call Mrs. C. D. Miller, Bell phone, Portage 1488, for further information.

Boston, Mass.

The Boston Alumnae Club gave a large Panhellenic tea in honor of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, at the College Club, the Saturday preceding election. The following account was taken from a Boston paper:

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, who is a charter member of Beta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi at the University of Vermont and who served three years as a national officer of the fraternity, was assisted in receiving by Miss Bertha Carr, president of the Boston Alumnae Club, and by three national officers of the fraternity: Mrs. David Nickerson of Malden, Mrs. Francis Rugg of Brookline and Miss Jennie B. Allyn of Arlington.

Rena Bisbee, Vermont A, and Martha Luther, Massachusetts A, who assisted at Mrs. Coolidge's initiation, were both present.

Each of the eighteen national Greek-letter fraternities associated in the National Panhellenic Congress was represented, several by national officers, and the formal programme included short addresses by each of these special guests on the social and philanthropic work of her own organization. Miss Edna Holmes of Melrose gave vocal solos and there were orchestral selections. The ushers included, Mrs. Thomas Chandler, Mrs. Philip Benjamin, Mrs.

Earl Benson, Mrs. Frederick Cronin and the Misses Mae Lawrence, Marion Legg, Helen Richardson and Charlotte Gifford. Mrs. Charles Eaton and Mrs. Alfred Avery poured and tea was served by a group of undergraduates from Massachusetts Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi at Boston University. Many different colleges and fifteen of the sixty-one chapters of the fraternity were represented by the guests.

Previous to the tea, Mrs. David Nickerson and Mrs. Francis Rugg gave a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Coolidge at the College Club. The guests were all members of the New England delegation who traveled together on a special train to the Pacific Coast in the summer of 1915 en route to the Pi Beta Phi Convention at Berkeley, California. This is the third reunion which the fellow-travelers have held since the completion of their trans-continental journey.

Maxfield; March 5, Mrs. Jerry B. Sullivan, 601 Cathedral Parkway, Chairman, Kate B. Miller. New-comers to New York or vicinity are cordially welcomed, and are asked to communicate with the secretary, Dora Nevins, 116 Hawthorne

St., Brooklyn. Helen Atkinson, 265 Henry St., New York, will give special attention to $\Pi \Phi$ students in New York. The club has recently organized a city Panhellenic Association with Mrs. B. L. Maxfield, $\Pi B \Phi$, as president. Mrs. C. G. Cleaver, president of New York alumnae club is our $\Pi B \Phi$ representative.

Oklahoma City, Okla.

Central State Alumnae Club of Oklahoma; Meetings held evenings. A definite program has been planned for each meeting, with an active member from one or both of the Oklahoma chapters present each time. We have finished paying for the complete set of china which we gave Oklahoma A last winter and have started a Settlement School fund which we hope to make a nice contribution soon.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

A package of paper designed for use in writing chapter letters has been sent to the corresponding secretary of every active chapter. In case you have not received the same, please notify George Banta Publishing Co., Menasha, Wis., at once. The quantity sent is sufficient for use this year and next. Please use it carefully, do not waste it, and pass some of it on to your successor in office at the end of the college year.

A bound volume of THE ARROW for 1919-20 has been sent to the corresponding secretary of every active chapter. In case it has not been received, please notify George Banta Publishing Co., Menasha, Wis., at once so that the volume may be traced without delay, if necessary.

The attention of all chapters is called to the article CONCERNING CONVENTION on pages 43-44 of the Information Number of THE ARROW for 1920, which gives in detail the fraternity requirements governing chapter procedure and responsibility in the matter of representation at convention.

Each chapter should at the time of the election of convention delegate elect a first and a second alternate, observing the same requirements as in the case of the regular delegate.

In addition to sending the names of convention delegates to Convention Guide, Grand Secretary, Province President concerned and THE ARROW Editor, chapters are requested to send them also to the Grand President.

Each chapter is requested to send at once to the National Panhellenic representative of the fraternity, Dean May L. Keller, Westhampton College, Richmond, Virginia, a copy of the constitution of its college Panhellenic Association for the year 1920-1921.

CONVENTION CALL

The twenty-fifth national convention of Pi Beta Phi will be held from July 1 to July 6, inclusive, at The Inn, Charlevoix, Michigan, the scene of the enjoyable convention of 1918. Undoubtedly many members of the fraternity will raise the question why does convention return to Charlevoix? The following are the points which influenced Grand Council in making the decision.

1. Increased railway rates made necessary the selection of a central location.

2. Active chapters of the fraternity and alumnae members urged that convention be held at a resort hotel where exclusive privileges would be granted to the fraternity.

3. The Inn, Charlevoix, Michigan, is the only resort hotel centrally located which would guarantee exclusive privileges for the first week in July, the only time feasible for convention.

4. Charlevoix offers the attraction of a beautiful location on Lake Michigan, in the heart of America's Middle West summer playground, with the advantages of excellent hotel accommodations, including a large auditorium. The Inn is conducted on the American plan at rates that are not prohibitive.

5. The experiences of the 1918 convention give the best of guarantees of the courtesy and consideration of the management and of the adequacy of The Inn to meet Pi Beta Phi's convention requirements.

Plans are being made for a program of exceptional strength and attractiveness. Pi Beta Phis North, South, East and West are urged to make their summer plans include convention at Charlevoix the Beautiful.

EDITORIALS

THE WORLD IS CALLING! Never before have college undergraduates shown such a deep interest in the affairs of the world as today. The overseas experiences of so many returned college men, the classroom and campus discussions of the League of Nations, resulting in such a remarkable poll of student sentiment that it aroused comment even in the United States Senate, a few months ago, and the record-breaking attendance at the last Student Volunteer Convention—all are affecting the student life of today. Many girls whose friends and older sisters served overseas during the war have a great longing to seek positions far afield and to find their life work in places remote from their previous experience and environment.

Wishing to help these girls to locate wisely, the Editor has opened the pages of THE ARROW to a series of letters collected by our Grand Vice-president from our alumnae residing in foreign lands. Each writer was asked to give a word of constructive advice to the girls who might be thinking of locating in the land in which she lives and the object behind the plan is to point out what contribution an American can best make to the society in which she expects to establish herself. Our alumnae have responded to the call so generously that it is impossible to use all the material at hand but some of these letters will appear in each issue of the magazine during the current year. In this number we read of foreign conditions under our own flag, in March we shall hear from some of our sisters who are dwelling in the Orient.

The Editor wishes to thank all those who have coöperated with her in this plan and trusts it will prove of practical help to those for whom it was especially designed.

MISS BISHOP'S GIFT of song has been a distinct asset in her dealings with our mountain people and so she is peculiarly fitted to write the article for News From Little Pigeon in this issue. In March watch for the article by Phyllis Higenbotham, our Pi Beta Phi nurse who will write of her experiences in augurating public health work in Gatlinburg.

EUROPE 1921

A Pi Beta Phi European Tour under the leadership of the "Arrow" Editor has been planned for the coming summer. The date of departure will be in July to enable all travelers who wish to attend Convention at Charlevoix, first. The itinerary which will be issued shortly includes many of the most famous scenic and historic places in four European countries. A copy of the itinerary with further information will be sent on application to Mrs. F. A. Rugg, 201 Davis Ave., Brookline, Mass.

NEW ADDRESSES

Ellen F. Boyer, 47 Linwood Ave., Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. C. Scott Campbell (Estella Klein), c/o Great Western Sugar Co., Scottsbluff, Neb.

Ohio Gamma held a most successful reunion in Wooster during commencement week. Sixteen girls were present, fifteen of whom came long distances. We had a dinner at the Country Club, Monday, June 14, at which time we were delighted to have with us Eva Welch, Florida A, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Korner. No Ohio Gamma meeting is considered a success without "Auntie and Uncle." The next morning we held a business meeting at which Mrs. Wilson Compton (Helen Harrington, '12) was elected president and Nell Boyer, '12, was chosen secretary-treasurer. It was thought best, as our club members are so scattered, to have but two officers. We decided to hold a fall meeting in Cleveland, a midwinter one in Columbus or Toledo, and a June meeting in Wooster. We plan to make this arrangement permanent.

All alumnae at commencement felt that Wooster has great hopes for the near future. Wooster spirit and loyalty ran high everywhere, but especially at the alumnae banquet, at which one of the speakers was Mrs. Alston Burgess (Anne Palmer, '11). Everything seemed to have taken on new life under the leadership of the new president, Dr. Charles F. Wishart.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Overholt (Jessie Wickwire, ex-'15) took a western trip this summer. While gone they visited in Corvallis, Ore., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arlton Heath (Pauline Coe, who was at one time an Ohio Γ pledge) and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Brand (Irene Morley, '12) in Marshfield, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Bristol (Lois Neff, '12) and children, Marion Jane, Betty and Margaret, landed in New York, July 4. Mr. Bristol was sent to the States on a business trip in the interests of the Y. M. C. A. Several Ohio Gammas were fortunate enough to see Lois and her wonderful family. Had a house-party at Lakeside not failed to materialize, more of the girls would have seen her. The Bristols sailed from New York, September 14, and will be located in Constantinople.

Our chapter is proud to note that Grand Council has asked Mrs. Wilson Compton (Helen Harrington, '12) to act as president of Epsilon Province. Helen was formerly vice-president of Gamma Province.

Nell Boyer, '12, has been made vice-principal of Avondale Junior High School, Columbus, Ohio.

Harriott Wickham, '13, is again teaching history in the high school at Wheatland, Wyo. At the same time she is homesteading a claim of 640 acres.

Margaret Gable, '15, Columbia, '20, is teaching English at the University of Minnesota.

CHAPTER LETTERS

EDITED BY AGNES R. WRIGHT, Wyoming A, '13

ALPHA PROVINCE

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

(Chartered April 28, 1912)

Pledge Day—Not fixed

How swiftly have passed the months of summer vacation! In June we had a two weeks' house-party where picnics, swims and paddles helped time to fly. But imagine the joy of our reunion in October and the excitement with which everyone is entering the membership campaign. The university has grown so rapidly that it is a very difficult task to keep the chapter from becoming cumbersome but since our chapter is quite large and strong at present we are trying to choose only the finest girls.

An added zest is given to our membership parties by the presence in Toronto of Vivien Kelly, a $\Pi \Phi$ from Galesburg and Mrs. Scott of California who has visited us before. These American sisters seem to bring us into closer touch with our American chapters who often seem so far away.

Edith Barton, one of our active members, was married in September and is now in England where she expects to spend a year. Hellen Pulling is in training in Harper Hospital, Detroit, where she has found many friends, two resident nurses and several doctors' wives being Pi Phis. Victoria Whyte was unable to return this year on account of a serious operation.

Our girls are eager, happy and confident of a successful term.

At last we are the proud wearers of the golden arrow of $\Pi B \Phi$. Soon after the arrival of that "glorious telegram" on May 14, 1920, Mrs. Nickerson, our Grand Vice-president, Mrs. Avery, Miss Wright, and Charlotte Gifford of Massachusetts A came to install our chapter. How glad we were to get our arrows for Commencement!

This year is indeed a busy one for Maine A. Three of our old girls are back—Iva Barker, '21, Ida Anderson, '21, and Bernice Rhoda, '22, making twenty-one members in our group, and all are working to make this a year among years. We regret that Olga Howe, '22, is not back this year.

Recently President Aley announced that the college had decided to offer one of the houses on the campus to $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ and to $\Pi B \Phi$ for chapter-rooms.

The recent scholarship averages show $\Pi B \Phi$ leading all other fraternities. We are hoping to keep that position.

We are now planning for a Panhellenic party for the freshman girls. A tea was recently given in honor of the freshmen at the home of Flavia Richardson, '20, Old Town, and,

"If you are wise, as I surmise,"
 You'll know they had a good time
 With the Pi Beta Phis.

Pledge Day—October 21, 1920

Three weeks ago we all came back to the "College on the Hill" and the first thing of interest was the Silent Cliff Pilgrimage.

On October 8, the faculty and students left the college halls and made their way up the mountain to Bread Loaf Inn, a large summer hotel owned by the college. For two days the time was spent hiking, dancing and enjoying the surrounding country. We returned to Middlebury late Saturday afternoon, weary but resolving to establish Mountain Day as an annual custom.

During Commencement week last June thirty Pi Phis with their friends enjoyed a party at the chapter-rooms. Directly after Commencement the annual $\Pi \Phi$ house-party was held at Lake Dunmore. Nine girls from the active chapter enjoyed ten delightful days, swimming, canoeing, dancing and hiking. The following alumnae came back to join in the good times: Margaret Chatfield, '18, Emma Feeney, '15, Marjory Leach, '17, Ruth Baldwin, ex-'20, Leah Corchran, N. Y. A, Helen Stilphen, '19, Marie Champagne, '17, Theodora Crane, ex-'08, and Mrs. Philip Crane, '03.

Ruth Ashworth, '21, Emma Schaefer, '21, and Florence Langley, '21, are members of the senior society, Banshee. Barbara Stilphen, '23, is secretary of the athletic association and Ruth Ashworth, '21, was recently elected head of volley ball. Florence Langley, '21, is a member of the student government council and Ruth Ashworth, '21, is treasurer of the association. Frances Caswell, '23, Murial Long, '23, Helen Bolton, '23, and Martha Bolton, '23, are members of the college choir. Anna Clark, '20, is acting secretary to the superintendent of schools at Roslyn, Long Island, and Gertrude Moore, '20, is teaching in Belleville, New Jersey.

Vermont A wishes all chapters success in their work for the coming year.

Pledge Day—November 20, 1920

Vermont University opened this year with the largest enrollment in her history, and we Pi Phis have been so busy assisting our "little sisters" in the freshman class that it scarcely seems as if three weeks of our year had elapsed.

Vermont B returned this year twenty-four strong, and our number was brought to a full twenty-five by the welcome addition of Catherine Beers, '22, who transferred to us from Florida A. Our girls are entering every branch of activity. Marion Horton, '21, was elected vice-president of the senior class. Hildreth Tyler, '21, is president of the women's athletic association and a member of Akraia, senior honorary society. Eula Ovitt, '21, is president of Y. W. C. A. cabinet and also a member of Akraia. Lois Bartlett, '22, is vice-president of women's student union and leader of the women's glee club. We threw our hat into the political ring when Katherine McSweeney, '22, was elected to head the women's Cox-Roosevelt club of the university.

We had the first of a series of three rushing parties, permitted by Panhellenic rules, at the home of Lois Bartlett in Shelburne. Amusing stunts were staged by the girls, "eats" were served, and to judge by the merriment which prevailed, the party was a huge success.

Louise Twohey, '21, who is chairman of the committee for new members is planning great things for the next two occasions but she refuses to divulge a word until the proper time. We are as anxious as the freshmen to know what startling stunts Louise and her committee are hiding.

We have a wonderful class of freshmen this year and expect to pledge the usual number of all-around girls.

INITIATES

(Initiated October 20, 1920)

Margery E. Miner, '21.

The opening of the college year on September 15, found thirteen Pi Phi and one pledge at Boston University. Mabel Morsch, '23, left us to attend Pratt College. We miss her enthusiasm, and are sorry we cannot have her for three more years, as we had expected. Esther Fitts, '22, has entered training at the Children's Hospital. She is missed too, but we are glad to have her near enough to visit us occasionally. Margery Miner proved herself a true $\Pi \Phi$ even before we pinned the arrow on her and her initiation at the beginning of the college year has brought back to all of us our pledge to $\Pi B \Phi$.

During the summer so many of our chapter were working that we found it impossible to have our usual house-party. We made up for it by a week-end party the first of October. We were more than fortunate to be in a cottage beside Mrs. Nickerson, and to have her for our chaperon. The renewed acquaintance with her has left us all with new spirit and enthusiasm.

We are occupying a splendid new suite this year, where two of the girls are living. To make our housekeeping equipment a little more complete, we invited the alumnae to join us in a shower for the rooms and had a fine social time with them, besides, adding considerably to our possessions.

The next event on our chapter program is a Panhellenic tea given by the alumnae in honor of Mrs. Coolidge. Delegates from other fraternities are to tell of their work. We are anticipating this as one of the big events of our chapter history.

The campaign for new members has not, thus far, occupied so much of our time as usual as there is to be second semester pledging. There will be two parties for each fraternity—one a conflict party. We find it a relief from the strenuous system of other years, although it is a little hard to adjust ourselves to the new scheme. The freshmen have a splendid class, and are unusually athletic. Thirty or forty girls have signed up for freshman basketball. They, too, find the new tennis court a source of great happiness. It is the first time we have had one adjoining the building.

The usual number of college activities have taken place: Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. joint social, Y. W. C. A. social to the freshmen, G. A. A. hike, I. C. S. A. tea. The I. C. S. A. repeated a living-pictures entertainment which was given last year. Mary Mills, '21, and Marion Clark, '21, both took part.

We are well represented in college activities and in college employment, as well: having in our number the president of the girls' athletic club, director of Nanking association, senior representative of $\Gamma \Delta$ (the college all-girls society), member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet; also three members working in the information office, and one in the library.

The year has started off with a bang, and we look for it to continue in the same spirit, with lots of work and lots of play, to make it the best all-around year we have ever had.

Pledge Day—Matriculation Day

It was with high hopes for a successful year that we returned to college on September 10 and settled in our new $\Pi \Phi$ home. Our campaign for new members began immediately with every girl ready to do her best in the interest of $\Pi \Phi$. As a result, we are proud to introduce our seventeen new pledges: Mildred McClean, '22, Faith Mengel, '22, Gladys Thompson, '23, Katherine Conrow, '24, Dorothy Coleman, '24, Marian Morris, '24, Bernice Bohlman, '24, Doris Mills, '24, Rhoda Briggs, '24, Dorothy Tower, '24, Barbara Toby, '24, Carolyn Hartman, '24, Elizabeth Chapin, '24, Helen Koehler, '24, Clara Alvord, '24, Janet Henderson, '24, and Patsy Hickling, '24.

Since four of our undergraduates were married during the summer and four others did not return to college this fall, we feel sadly handicapped because of the scarcity of upperclassmen. But we are glad to welcome back Carol Hawkins, '21, who was at Mount Union College last year.

Everyone is entering heartily into "hill" activities. In the class elections last week, Anne Hawkins, '23, was elected vice-president of the sophomore class, and Elizabeth Chapin, '24, vice-president of the freshman class. Ruth Landry, '21, as vice-president of the women's athletic association, had charge of the Middy party given in honor of the freshman women, which was voted the most successful party of its kind held in many years. Mildred Niles, '21, is teaching freshman cookery in the school of home economics. Evelyn Garlock, '23, was elected treasurer of the chemistry club, Mildred Niles, '21, vice-president of the New England club, Ruth Landry, '21, is women's cheer leader, and Dorothy Manwarren, '22, is chairman of the social committee of junior history and assistant treasurer of the classical club.

Real college spirit is evident everywhere. On October 8, a big celebration, attended by more than 4,000 persons, was held in honor of our men who took part in the Olympic and crew victories this summer. The big football game between the Universities of Pittsburgh and Syracuse which was to decide the eastern championship for this season, was played in our Stadium last Saturday.

NEW YORK GAMMA—ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY

(Chartered March 20, 1914)

Pledge Day—October 4, 1920

When college opened we centered our attention on the freshmen and now have nine new pledges: Theodora Bunce, Evelyn Churchill, Alice Mulholland, Helen Pearson, Grace Rodie, Florence Rood, Mary Smith, Violet Smith, and Alice White, all of the class of '24. The fact that they are put first in our chapter letter gives a little hint as to how we feel about them.

Affairs on the hill are very promising. The Endowment Fund is increasing rapidly, gym. dances being given to hasten its growth. Women's Forum gave a Leap Year dance last May the proceeds of which were spent on furniture for the girls' restroom in Richardson Hall. We also have new hymn books in chapel, the others having been worn out by over-religious activity between the freshmen and sophomores. Last May a sensation was created by the appearance of a new publication Cat Tales, a comic paper, the staff being composed of girls. The college is anticipating the next issue of this highly interesting paper. Tennis courts have been improved and excited cries of "love" can be heard issuing from the athletic field on any sunny afternoon. New courses in English and psychology have been established. Football is more popular than ever among the men and St. Lawrence has been fortunate this fall.

We feel that our girls are well represented in college affairs Ruth Inman, '22, showed great dramatic ability in a difficult rôle of The Witching Hour, which The Mimmers, the dramatic club, presented in June. Pauline Smith, '22, was elected vice-president of Thelomathesian, an organization of the entire student body. Evelyn Dahlstrom, '22, was elected treasurer of Women's Forum, and is also business manager of Cat Tales, and Frances Pearson, '23, was elected vice-president of her class. Edith Mileham, '22, and Ruth Jones, '22, are members of the college orchestra.

We have been kept busy by social affairs as well as by our studies since our return. One of our patronesses, Mrs. Baird, invited us to her home one evening last week. On our departure she gave provisions to us for our $\Pi \Phi$ larder. We are fortunate to have with us again this year our chaperon and patroness, Mrs. Cruikshank, who makes our chapter-house a real home. And—speaking of our house—I must add that it has been newly papered and the kitchen has been remodeled. In fact, affairs in college and in the fraternity have so far given every indication of the coming of another good and happy year.

Pledge Day—October 23, 1920

We have been back just three weeks, and such busy weeks! It is our first year in a house, so it can readily be imagined how much we had to do getting it ready for the bidding season which began the fourth of October. We are settled now and so happy to be together. It really is surprising how well we have agreed over the details of setting up housekeeping.

There are many interesting new girls and $\Pi \Phi$ intends to get her share. With pledge day only a week away, naturally, we are all very excited. We are hoping to have many of our alumnae back for pledge day, so that we can have a real reunion in the new house.

In spite of these engrossing affairs, we are not neglecting our university work. Two of our girls, Evelyn Richmond and Grace West, are on the University honor roll. A convocation in honor of scholarship will be held this week, at which Dean Phelps of Yale will speak.

We are very glad to have with us Anna Hill of Pennsylvania B, who transferred from Bucknell this fall.

All loyal Cornellians are very interested in football at present. A drive for 4,500 membership for the athletic association has just closed. We have a promising football team and are hoping to better the record of last year. The effort for a Cornell Union, which was carried on last year, has succeeded. The Coffee House was opened last week after the Cornell-St. Bonaventure game.

To start the year well, Pennsylvania A received a gift which was the reward for three years' hard work. It was a Panhellenic scholarship cup, offered by an alumna of our own chapter to that women's fraternity which should have the highest final scholarship average for three successive years. We are, naturally, very proud to have it and are anxious to maintain first place this year.

Two new juniors have joined our number this year—Robin Breuninger from George Washington University and Katherine Crosby from Leland Stanford, Jr., University. We are mighty happy to have them with us.

At Swarthmore this year, we again have no organized system of obtaining new members. We try to make "natural friendships" with the new girls and do not bid them until about Christmas time.

Our alumnae club has had one meeting. It is planning to join with the active chapter in giving a tea in Philadelphia for two of our founders, Mrs. Turnbull and Mrs. Grier, who live in that city. We are anticipating this event with a great deal of pleasure.

Π B Φ is well represented this year in the various student activities here including student government, Y. W. C. A., and the athletic association. Several of our members are on the varsity hockey squad.

In our last meeting we considered plans for earning money for the Settlement School, and decided to have a handkerchief sale before Christmas. Each girl will make and donate two handkerchiefs. We expect to invite the college girls to this sale and hope it will be a great success.

This first month has been filled with college activities, including the many receptions for the freshmen. Now all of the excitement centers around the presidential campaigns and we are having big Democratic and Republican mass meetings.

As an innovation, Panhellenic has decided on an earlier bid day, which means extra work, as a change from February to December shortens our time decidedly. Under this new régime our big annual membership and bid day parties have been abolished.

We initiates are still babbling about initiation, which was held at the home of Natalie Musser, '23. And we are so proud of our arrows!

Our social season was opened by Miss Eliza Martin, '00, who gave a charming "at home" for us in honor of Mrs. Felex Connelley (Aileen Johnston, '17).

Anne Hill, '23, who was initiated September 25, has transferred to the Cornell chapter. We are glad to welcome Effie Muir, ex-'21, now, '22, back into our ranks. Helen Swartz, ex-'19, who was graduated last year from Wellesley is now a member of our musical faculty.

We are taking part in all college activities and in Y. W. C. A. work. Marguerite Loite is president of the Y. W. C. A.

We expect great things from Bucknell this year as it has a greater enrollment than ever before and we now have the new semester system instead of three terms.

LOUISE LLEWELLYN.

PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA—DICKINSON COLLEGE

(Chartered 1905)

Pledge Day—January 14

The year 1920-21 promises to be most successful as the enrollment is the largest in the history of Dickinson College.

We have been worrying since last April about a new fraternity room, and at last found one which is very cheerful and quite near the college. As soon as our new home is in order we expect to have a Panhellenic tea, to which we will also invite the professors' wives and our alumnae.

For some time we have thought that new rules for getting new members would be good for girls' fraternities here, and we decided in the Panhellenic council that there should be a change. The mention of fraternity membership is entirely taboo here until the second semester. Until then, natural friendships are to exist among old and new girls. During the "Little Sister Week," under the Y. W. C. A., which is the first week of school, no fraternity girl wore her pin. The system is entirely one of honor, and although there were some misgivings at first, it seems so far to be working out splendidly. The inter-fraternity spirit is better than it has ever been.

There are so many attractive new girls in school, and by second semester most of them will have gravitated to the group which they will join. I am sure that each fraternity will get a number of fine girls.

We are expecting a number of our chapter, both alumnae and active to attend convention this summer.

ELIZABETH B. BRATTON.

PENNSYLVANIA DELTA—UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

(Chartered September 19, 1918)

Pledge Day—November 5, 1920

We are all back at "Pitt" once again after a most enjoyable summer and are eagerly resuming our work. "Pitt" opened this year with a registration of more than 5,000 which is our record year. Already we have started with flying colors in athletics—our football team bids fair to finish the season without defeat, and there is more interest taken in studies than ever before. Our freshman class numbers more than 1,000 and we expect to make loyal "Pittites" of them all.

We are at present in the midst of "silence week" after three weeks of membership campaigning, and we are all waiting breathlessly for the answers to our bids which have just been sent out.

Our alumnae have been most kind to us and helped wonderfully in entertaining for the new girls. They have given several informal teas and parties, and a very lovely tea at the Pittsburgh country club in honor of the active chapter and the new girls. We feel that we know the alumnae better than ever before, and appreciate so much all that they have done for us.

Among other events during the last three weeks was our one big function—a formal dance at the University Club. Under this year's Panhellenic rules each fraternity is allowed to have one function.

Since our last letter we have pledged a splendid girl, Catherine Algeo, college, '23. This semester Henrietta Palmgreen, Illinois Z, is taking work at the university, and we are very glad to have her with us. Genevieve McSwigan, a contributing editor of the Pitt Weekly, has been elected editor of a new "Pitt" publication, and Marian Kerr has been initiated into Γ E II, an honorary fraternity in the school of economics. We are also taking an active interest in Y. W. C. A. work, and are represented in several of its committees.

We are anticipating a very profitable and a very busy year.

Pledge Day—October 1, 1920

We are unusually proud of our thirteen pledges and are expecting great things of them.

Without a doubt much of our interest this year will be directed to Gatlinburg, Tennessee, as one of our graduates of last year, Helen Chew, is teaching at the Settlement School. We have had several lovely letters from Helen who is enjoying her work immensely. Her pupils, she says are very enthusiastic over their work, and always ready to show their appreciation to $\Pi \Phi$. We have received letters from eight of the children this year giving descriptions of their school, church, and other places of interest. But the best of all is that we have one of them right here with us:—Tom McCarter who is taking preparatory work in John Hancock High School. He has promised to come soon to one of our meetings to tell us all about Gatlinburg.

Constance Leete, another alumna, is in Paris this winter studying French and teaching English. All the above speaks well for our alumnae and it is now up to us to take lessons from their good examples.

The thoughts of all Ohio Staters are now occupied with our two great projects—the semi-centennial celebration of our university and the drive to be launched within a week for Ohio State's great stadium.

This past week we welcomed hundreds of graduates and former students who have helped to make the institution what it is. Reunions of every sort have filled the hours with delightful reminiscences. The glad hand is extended to everyone and it makes one feel very proud to have a part in all the celebrations. For all Pi Phis there was a cooky-shine at the home of one of the active members on fraternity reunion evening. The carnival and ox-roast was a stupendous celebration in which many of our chapter took active parts. The minstrel show staged by fraternity girls was a great success due in large measure to the efforts of some of our talented members.

The stadium drive will follow the semi-centennial celebration. Ohio State expects in the near future to be the proud possessor of the world's greatest structure of that kind. We are straining every drop of energy to this end, but our efforts will be rewarded when we see the building in its beauty and grandeur; because judging from the replica it will be a magnificent structure. Many Pi Phis are in the campaign and ready to do their "all" for this.

WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA—WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY

(Chartered September 19, 1918)

Pledge Day—October 6, 1920

Our campaign for new members with its attendant festivities is behind us. We were fortunate in pinning the tiny arrow head upon ten of the most popular new girls, who promise to maintain our social and scholastic standards. Our pledges include Arline England, Mildred Friend, Elizabeth Henson, Martha Joliffe, Tensie Mcninch, Gail Muhleman, Elizabeth Reed, Francis Sprigg, Bernetta Traubert, and Verena Wilson.

West Virginia is fast approaching the ranks of the larger universities. The enrollment this year is estimated at two thousand, with a corresponding increase in the faculty. Among the new instructors we rejoice in welcoming Miss Edith I. Hess, of Wisconsin A, who is teaching in the home economics department.

This semester our energies are bent upon furthering the state-wide campaign for the West Virginia memorial to service men who died in the war. The memorial is to be erected on the campus of the university, and will consist of an auditorium and an up-to-date gymnasium for the use of the students.

Our seventeen old members made up the happy group who opened the chapter house this fall. Stella Duncan, a junior, gave us the first surprise of the year when she announced her marriage to J. Morton Gregg, Jr., Φ K Ψ . While regretting her withdrawal, at the same time we are happy to have with us again Winifred Lynch of Clarksburg, one of our pledges of last year who was compelled to leave the university on account of illness.

We are well represented in student activities this year with four members of the student government board, one on Y. W. C. A. cabinet, one in English club, and one in Laurel, an honorary society for girls who are leaders in student activities. The secretaries of the sophomore and senior classes are both Pi Phis. With this promising beginning we are confident of a prosperous year, and extend to our sister chapters our wishes for their success.

Georgia Curran Greer, '23, Johnstown, Pa.

Evelyn Krumm, '23, Baltimore, Md.

Twenty-three enthusiastic Pi Phi's returned to college this year keenly feeling the loss of our seniors, and the others who have left to try their fortunes at other shrines of knowledge. However, we are reinforced by two transfers, Amanda Rex from Pennsylvania G, and Dorothy Campbell from Minnesota A.

The first few days were devoted to moving into our new apartment which sh—! was merely a basement but now through the ingenuity of several of our members has been turned into a most delightful and artistic cozy corner.

Our work for obtaining new wearers of the golden arrow-head began immediately after registration and from a wealth of excellent material we obtained thirteen excellent girls. Our party for the prospective members was in the form of a feminine dance and supper given at Bush Manor, the beautiful home of our alumna, Mrs. Whitacre, of Mt. Washington.

On October 9, came our triumph at the home of Evelyn Krumm, when we pledged: Mary Kerr, Robertia Entricken, Jean Gherky, Kathryn Newbaker, Ellen Weir, Margaret Armstrong, Katherine Harmon, Helen Lampton, Mary Brydon, Elizabeth Johnson, Ruth Blakslie, Jane Grupe, Frances Ellis. After the ceremony we had a dinner at Ye Belmont Inn.

Our chapter is well represented in student activities and with thirteen accomplished and eager freshmen who are already interested in college and fraternity we anticipate one of the most successful years that Maryland A has ever had.

COLUMBIA ALPHA—GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

(Chartered April 27, 1887)

Pledge Day—November 5, 1920

After a delightful summer which included a chapter house-party at Virginia Beach, we are back at school again and busy getting new members. George Washington is larger this year than ever before; our enrollment exceeds all past ones; new buildings have been acquired, and additions have been made to the faculty. Student activities too, are booming, and for the first time since 1916 football is taking an important place.

We have two new fraternities just organized this year, and both are petitioning a national. One of them is composed of girls from the law school, and the members of the other are in the academic division.

We have been doubly busy this year moving into new rooms in one of the new buildings which the university bought this year.

Π Φ is quite proud of having won the scholarship cup offered last year by local Panhellenic to the four women's fraternities. The name of the winning fraternity will be engraved on the cup each year and it will remain in the possession of that fraternity until the scholarship record is won by a rival.

Douglas Arnold, Rivermont Ave., Lynchburg, Va.
 Elizabeth Chesterman, 1636 W. Grace St., Richmond, Va.
 Laura Gwathmay, 2009 Virginia Ave., Richmond, Va.
 Mary Jimmie Pattillo, 137 Elizabeth St., Atlanta, Ga.
 Mary Mable Richardson, Walnut Ridge, Ark.
 Inez Richardson, Walnut Ridge, Ark.

Randolph-Macon opened its doors this year on September 22, and the first student body meeting was held on October 1 with Martha Latham, a member of Virginia A and president of the student body, presiding. We were particularly fortunate this year in having so many of our number return. We lost only one member, Evelyn Lovett, who would have been president of the dramatics club if she had come back. Six of our pledges returned.

On the Saturday after the formal opening of college we initiated Douglas Arnold, Elizabeth Chesterman, Laura Gwathmay, Mary Jimmie Pattillo, Mary Mable and Inez Richardson, all splendid girls. And we feel justly proud of having them. Douglas Arnold was president of last year's freshman class, and Elizabeth Chesterman is the present sophomore president. The other officers to which Virginia A can lay claim are the president of Y. W. C. A., Virginia Thomas, and the president of the athletic association, Katherine Akers. Evelyn Cox is annual member of the Y. W. C. A. and is at present attending a conference in Richmond.

This year we were delighted to have the following alumnae at initiation: Noellie Mistrot, Phronsie Campbell, Helen Smith, Phyllis Crawford, Catherine Murphy, Florence Stratton, and Mrs. King, an alumna of Indiana A. Polly Sumpter, one of our last year's pledges, who did not return to college this fall, visited us for a few days at the beginning of school.

Catherine Murphy, who was president of A. S. A. when we obtained our charter to $\Pi \Phi$, is an instructor of Latin in college this year, and we are delighted to have her with us. We are also happy to welcome to our number Mary Douglas, of Oklahoma A, who we hope will soon affiliate with our chapter.

Panhellenic had the pleasure of hearing Miss Bernice Ford, Grand Treasurer of ΦM , speak this fall on several matters of fraternity interest.

October 24 has been set as the date of advanced standing pledge day by Panhellenic. There are very few advanced standing girls this year, but the freshman class is large and seems to contain splendid material. Our system of making normal friendships is in practice again this year, and if it works as well this year as last, we will have a successful season.

Virginia B has started this year with unusually bright hopes, since nineteen of our old members have returned. With only one senior last year, Helen Hardewicke, whom we all miss greatly, we count ourselves very fortunate in having six representatives of '21, with us this year.

The inter-fraternity spirit is unusually good, and we are all making an attempt to develop real friendships with the new girls whom we hope to have in our chapter. Naturally, owing to the present size of our chapter, our pledges must be carefully chosen, but with such a promising freshman class there is an unusual amount of fraternity material.

On October 14 we pledged Louise Huger, '23, of New Orleans, La.

With Constance Echols, '22, as captain of one of the two college basketball teams, a great deal of interest is being devoted to athletics, and we hope to have others from our number on one of these teams. $\Pi \Phi$ is represented in practically every college activity, and we are hoping for great success in scholarship. We greatly enjoyed having Anne Montague, ex-'19, with us for the first week of school, and we are anticipating other visits from our old members at Thanksgiving.

Our annual banquet, held during commencement week was unusually unique and original, the Japanese motif predominating in the decorations and favors. We enjoyed having with us some sisters from Virginia A on that occasion and we are hoping that this exchange of visits may be repeated this year.

With the hope that this year may prove a record-breaker in every way, Virginia B sends greetings and best wishes to all chapters of $\Pi B \Phi$.

FLORIDA ALPHA—JOHN B. STETSON UNIVERSITY

(Chartered January 30, 1913)

Pledge Day—October 30

Our membership campaign is now on at Stetson, and we are in a whirl trying to decide upon prospective Pi Phis. Since the first week after matriculation day is always devoted to the Y. W. C. A. here, on September 23 every fraternity girl replaced her pin with the blue and white ribbons. We had a very successful week, beginning with a big Y. W. C. A. party, and ending with a Panhellenic "kid" party, where every fraternity girl, with her pin again in evidence, tried to outdo her rival.

We were allowed by local Panhellenic to have the first party, and last week gave our seventh annual progressive dinner party, which was very successful. We will have one more party before we bid. However, at this time we are not allowed to spend any money. Our local Panhellenic is working smoothly, and we have splendid inter-fraternity spirit.

We are very fortunate in having so many of our girls back this year. There are eighteen actives in our chapter, and we are glad to welcome Jean Whitehead, Indiana Γ , and Ruth Doak, Missouri Γ .

Stetson has an unusually large enrollment and student activities are receiving the coöperation of everyone. The men, of course, are interested primarily in football, but tennis matches and swimming parties are daily occurrences. The women students have entered whole-heartedly into gymnasium work, tennis, swimming and hiking. Horseback riding is also becoming a popular sport. The literary societies have been reorganized. Our girls are taking an active interest in all student activities. Juliana Collins is president of the Eusophian literary society; and Bob Kruse is senior critic, and also treasurer of the senior class.

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE COLLEGE

(Chartered 1887)

Pledge Day—September 29

Hillsdale College is once more advanced on a seemingly prosperous year. Our Quinquennial celebration last June proved to be all that could be hoped for, more alumnæ being present than at any previous reunion. At that time, all those interested in the college were disappointed to hear of the resignation of President Mauck who has been so loyal to the college for many, many years. Everyone was happy, however, when he was named President-Emeritus. As yet no one has been obtained to fill the vacancy, but President Mauck has kindly consented to hold the position until the right man can be found to succeed him. Hillsdale has been victorious in the first two football games this season, and we are anticipating more victories.

Mrs. Elma Root Van Buskirk, K K Γ , is our new Dean of Women and is succeeding wonderfully in making the girls of the institution happy, healthy and contented.

We are fortunate in having fifteen of our former members back, and we are proud of our four new pledges. The membership season this year, was shortened to two weeks, by the local Panhellenic on account of the preceding two weeks being rather strenuous.

Since our last letter, Doris Myers and Cecile Johnson were elected to the offices of secretary-treasurer and vice-president of the student council. Marian Hall, '23, is the new president of the girls' glee club and Eleanor Augur, '22, is corresponding secretary of the same organization. In the recent junior class election, Rena Worden received the office of vice-president.

MICHIGAN BETA—UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

(Chartered 1888)

Pledge Day—October 5

Michigan B was rather fearful this year of the system of bidding, which has recently been established here. Under the present system, the freshmen write their choice of fraternities before they receive the bids and they only receive their first choice. Before this, we sent our bids and the girl could choose from the ones she received.

In spite of this new bidding, we feel that our pledges are unsurpassed. They are, Elizabeth Holt, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Natalie Glover, Ypsilanti, Mich.; Mildred Dougherty, Philadelphia, Pa.; Dorothy Jefferey, New York, N. Y.; Madalyn Brown, Hastings, Mich.; Helen Delbridge, Detroit, Mich.; and Nanette Carnahan, Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

During our first two weeks, we were kept extremely busy, because we gave fifteen splendid parties. Our house is very much more attractive this year, because of the new, small tables for the dining-room that the alumnae so generously gave. We also have new sun parlor furniture which the seniors gave. With those things and a new victrola we certainly do feel "dressed up."

The spirit in the house has been unusually splendid this year, for every girl in the chapter is striving to do her best for $\Pi \Phi$ and to make Michigan B one of the best chapters.

INDIANA ALPHA—FRANKLIN COLLEGE

(Chartered 1888)

Pledge Day—September 18, 1920

The spirit at Franklin this year is plainly that of earnest, persistent endeavor in every line of activity. We believe in large measure this improvement in morale is due to our present system of getting new fraternity members. Franklin is a typical small college town of retired professors, ministers, and farmers who are watching Franklin's every breath with kindly interest. This interest tends to center the activity of Indiana A upon the girls in the town and nearby vicinity. We realize strong competition from the high standing of Z chapter of $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ and Ψ chapter of ΔZ . This summer we had positively no summer membership campaigning. With our new system each woman's fraternity had for its exclusive use, two hours on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the first week of college. Saturday we realized the fruits of our efforts, when we pledged: Frances Bassett, Irene Howell, Rose Anna Stephenson, Lillian Doty, Mildred Leakey, Reeda Holstein, Florence Hall, Lucile Reeves, Ruby Gipson (freshmen), Ellen Burns, Helen Huckleberry and Anna Beth Heckard (upperclassmen). The strain is over now, and congeniality of inter-fraternity feeling is being restored.

Indiana A has on Y. W. C. A. cabinet, three members including the vice-president. Two of the four representatives to Lake Geneva, were Π Phi. We have in "Wiggs and Queues" some strong material, with Grace MacArthur as vice-president. In the dormitory government we have our share of proctors, and Grace MacArthur is also house vice-president. This fall there are only eleven actives, including two seniors, as Helen Baily, our third junior last year, is now in Michigan University.

The engagement of Marjorie Young, '22, to Ray Adams, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, ex-'23, has been announced.

MARY PURVIANCE.

INDIANA BETA—INDIANA UNIVERSITY

(Chartered 1893)

Pledge Day—September 20, 1920

We installed the closed bid system this fall and are very pleased with the result. We think that the following are exceptionally fine pledges: Jess Alsmán, Sullivan, Ind.; Dorothy Arndt, Indianapolis, Ind.; Margaret Beckman, Kendallville, Ind.; Helen Bowell, Cleveland, Ohio; Mildred Carpenter, Cambridge City, Ind.; Catherine Cleary, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Cecile DeVors, Anderson, Ind.; Ruth Dillon, West Frankfort, Ill.; Helen Eaker, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mary Ferris, Indianapolis, Ind.; Margaret Hamilton, Indianapolis, Ind.; Hazel Miller, Indianapolis, Ind.; Elizabeth Smith, Indianapolis, Ind.; Helen Squires, Wabash, Ind.; Lois Stonebraker, Akron, Ohio; Ruth Swope, Fowler, Ind.; Helen Ward, Indianapolis, Ind.; Edna Welton, Bloomington, Ind.; Winifred Welton, Bloomington, Ind.; Kathryn Yeager, Earl Park, Ind. Dorothy Arndt won the scholarship cup at Shortridge High School in Indianapolis, Helen Ward was leading lady in the class play at the same school and Lois Stonebraker organized the first American Legion Post for women in Ohio.

We are quite proud of the fact that we won the local Panhellenic scholarship cup for making the highest average for both semesters of last year. If we win it four more successive semesters we will be able to keep the cup permanently and we have started out this year with the determination to win it.

We are well represented in campus organizations and activities. Bernice Eastwood is president of the local Panhellenic association, Rosiland Schu is secretary of the junior class, Doris Geile and Bernice Eastwood are on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, and Margaret Thornburg and Eleanor Leavell are on the varsity baseball team.

A point system has been adopted by our chapter under which each girl must earn ten points through her scholarship, work in fraternity and campus activities. We feel that such a system will help to develop and make each girl responsible for the success of her fraternity and her university.

Our house has been redecorated and we have a new overstuffed davenport which adds a great deal to the attractiveness of the living-room. We hope to have a new house all our own in the near future and are now working on plans to that end.

October 2 opened home-coming week at Indiana University and we were glad to welcome back several of our alumnae.

Indiana Γ has had the responsibility of the state dance for so long that we feel it is time for us to do our part, so we are planning to take over the management of it this year.

INITIATES

(Initiated October 8, 1920)

Laurel Cissna, Indianapolis, Ind.

Nadyne Cook, Indianapolis, Ind.

Caroline Dunn, Indianapolis, Ind.

Eloise Fosdick, Indianapolis, Ind.

Catherine Harris, Indianapolis, Ind.

Margaret Hecker, Indianapolis, Ind.

Mildred Jaquith, Indianapolis, Ind.

Hazel Newton, Shelbyville, Ind.

Katherine Quig, Indianapolis, Ind.

Butler opened this fall with a registration which surpassed any in her history. Due to the athletic zeal, the institution is fast outgrowing its accommodations. We are fortunate in the addition of eleven new faculty members. Yes! Butler is living up to the expectations which came to us with the advent of Coach Page.

For the first time since the war, the junior class is going to publish a year-book, commonly known to all Butler students as the Drift. During the war materials were so expensive and luxuries were regarded with such disdain, that the Drift failed to appear. Now in the glorious year of 1920 with a $\Pi \Phi$ for vice-president, and another for secretary, the junior class will launch successfully another yearbook.

We are well represented in the various campus activities. Ruth Craig is secretary of Y. W. C. A. and Hazel Newton succeeds Martha Hawkins this fall as chairman of the publicity committee. Myldred Teague and Martha Hawkins have earned again the positions they held last year on the Collegian, the weekly paper. Tryouts for this year's staff are being held and we are sure that several of our girls who are talented journalists, will win positions as reporters. Myldred is also freshman society editor of the Drift.

Catherine Harris represents the sophomores as secretary of her class. We have girls in many other activities, among them Laurel Cissna as representative for the dramatic club on Drift and holding an honored position as chairman of the manuscript committee. Two Pi Phis are also assistant professors.

We are attempting to make Panhellenic at Butler a more forceful organization. We had a very successful all girls' party in September and are planning a card party to be given for the benefit of the Tuberculosis Association.

One of the most beautiful initiations of Indiana Γ was held this year on October 8 at the home of Sarah Birk. After the ceremony the active chapter, the new initiates, and a few alumnae were entertained at the home of Mrs. Herbert S. King with a glorified cooky-shine. A wine and blue color scheme prevailed in flowers and candles and the erstwhile pledges received corsage bouquets of wine colored roses. A feature of the dinner was the passing of a loving cup while every girl joined in the singing of a $\Pi \Phi$ version of the $B \Theta \Pi$ loving cup song.

This year we are more proud than ever of our alumnæ club which has increased its membership to more than ninety members, all of whom have assisted us wonderfully in enabling us to pin the "baby" $\Pi \Phi$ badge on ten splendid freshmen.

EPSILON PROVINCE

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

(Chartered 1890)

Pledge Day—October 21, 1920

This promises to be a big year for Minnesota A with twenty-four enthusiastic active girls back with added interest for $\Pi \Phi$, caused in most instances by direct contact during the summer with Pi Phis from all parts of the country.

Local Panhellenic fixed October 21 as pledge day. The rules for the two weeks of membership season allowed a luncheon every day and the privilege of four teas, one of which might be given at the home of an alumna. Other functions were confined to the chapter houses. Four days of silence preceded pledge day. The season was successful for us and we are very proud of the following pledges: Leonore Andrist, Minneapolis; Phyllis Clemetson, St. Paul; Lucille Cremer, Minneapolis; Mary Howard, Chicago, Ill.; Elizabeth Holden, Seattle, Wash.; Helen Hutton, Minneapolis; Laurene Johnson, Minneapolis; Julia Patty, Minneapolis; Lillian Ramsted, Duluth, Minn.; Dorothy Shraeder, Springfield, Minn.; Cathryn Swanson, Minneapolis; Jean Wilson, Minneapolis.

Many Pi Phis are taking up campus activities this year. Marjorie Bonney and Ruth Howard have been appointed editors of departments on the Gopher, and Margaret Brown is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Ruth Howard and Leta Schreiber were recently initiated into $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, honorary journalistic fraternity. We have several girls reporting for the Minnesota Daily and others are trying out for athletic teams.

Our chapter regrets the loss of Dorothy Campbell, '21, and congratulates Maryland A on getting such a faithful worker. We consider ourselves fortunate in having Buelah Francouer, a Beloit $\Pi \Phi$, with us this year.

We are sure that all the other chapters in E province will join us in congratulating Mrs. Laurence, our Province President, on the arrival of a baby girl. (And of course, we are not forgetting to include Mr. Laurence in these congratulations!) Minnesota A has a decided advantage over the other chapters in the province in being in such close contact with Mrs. Laurence and the "new $\Pi \Phi$."

LETA M. SCHREIBER.

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

(Chartered 1894)

Pledge Day—October 28

Wisconsin A is working hard for our Alma Mater this year. Dorothy Ware is president of Yellow Tassel, the junior girls' organization and is also assistant business manager of the Badger which this year has a circulation of 5,000. Elizabeth Chandler is president of Blue Dragon, the senior girls' organization and is the women's representative on the men's senate. Alice Munro is a member of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ and does important work on the university daily newspaper. Several of our members hold responsible positions on school magazines. Margaret Thomas is on Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Through the Y. W. C. A. five Pi Phis are doing social work in connection with the Associated Charities of Madison. One of our juniors is treasurer of self government association.

During this wonderful fall weather we have enjoyed athletics very much. We enjoyed the visit which the Northwestern girls made us at the time of their football game and will welcome all others who may come to visit us.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

(Chartered 1919)

Pledge Day—October 11, 1920

INITIATES

(Initiated April 24, 1920)

Mary C. Heald, Canton, Ill.

After a busy but happy two weeks of becoming acquainted we are delighted to announce the pledging of the following eleven splendid girls: Frances Palmer, La Crosse, Wis.; Georgia Francis, Gary, Ind.; Adelaide and Elizabeth Stewart, Plainfield, Ill.; Janice Eastman, Lancaster, Wis.; Isabelle Roberts, Battle Creek, Mich.; Lucy Pettijohn and Muriel Nickerson, Blue Island, Ill.; Phyllis Arnaman and Dorothy Smith, Morgan Park, Ill.; Dorothy Kohn, Lake Geneva, Wis.

Beloit opened October 1 with about six hundred students. The problem of housing the women of the college has been met by the enlargement of Emerson Hall and the addition of Stowell Cottage as a girls' dormitory.

The Panhellenic organization and the rushing rules have been almost entirely changed since last year and have been found very satisfactory by both the national and local groups.

During the summer $K \Phi \Upsilon$ received a national charter from $K \Delta$, and the new chapter was installed on September 25. Wisconsin B is glad to welcome another national fraternity to our campus, and through the coöperation which will come with a national Panhellenic council, we hope to accomplish many good things for our "Better and Bigger Beloit."

Leila Fraser, one of our juniors, was a Beloit representative at the Y. W. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva this summer. She also holds the vice-presidency of our local association. We have three girls on the women's student council, with others in Beloit College Players, girls' glee club, and chapel choir, A Capella choir, we are well represented in activities this year. Our pledges seem to be interested in both music and dramatics.

Mrs. Tannahill, Miss Carpenter and Miss Robinson are with us again this year and we feel that they and our splendid alumnae club are ready and willing to help us at any time. Our alumnae gave a dinner party and that with our formal banquet, a "wiener" roast, and several other informal gatherings made our membership campaign a series of pleasures for the old girls as well as the new ones.

With the addition of our eleven enthusiastic pledges we hope to make our second year as Pi Phis a happy and prosperous one.

MARY H. MCCAULEY.

ILLINOIS BETA—LOMBARD COLLEGE

(Chartered 1872)

Pledge Day—October 8, 1920

College opened this year with an unusually large number of freshman girls. After three exciting weeks we selected six girls all of whom we know will be splendid Pi Phis. We lost no bids and are pleased to announce the pledging of Ruth Appleton, Berwyn, Ill.; Josephine Coates, Wausau, Wis.; Nellie Crumbaugh, Leroy, Ill.; Harriet Gregerson and Roberta Hally, Stoughton, Wis.; and Althea McConnel, Cameron, Ill.

$\Pi \Phi$ is receiving many honors on the campus this year. Ruth Stevenson is president of the house government committee and Ruth Mathews, secretary. Jean Wood is chairman of the judicial committee. Josephine Haws and Ruth Mathews are vice-presidents of the senior and sophomore classes, respectively.

During the first week of college we bought a beautiful new cabinet victrola which has added to the homelike atmosphere of the bungalow and has helped greatly in making our cooky-shines successful.

Lombard has a very promising football team this year which has already defeated Illinois College 21-7 and Monmouth College 17-0.

FERN FENNESSY.

ILLINOIS DELTA—KNOX COLLEGE

(Chartered 1884)

Pledge Day—Second Saturday after Registration

When Knox opened on September 21 there were eighteen Pi Phis ready to begin work for another year. But we were not idle during the summer, as we had a most successful party for new girls about the middle of August, out at the country club. The plans were made by Helen Cox and worked out with the help of the town Pi Phis.

After two weeks of a combination of closed and open campaigning for members, we are proud of the following fifteen girls, who were pledged October 2: Martha Bennett, Oak Park; Martha Cooke, Ruth Colvin, Chicago; Frances Crane, Cummings, North Dakota; Marjory Dyson, Rushville; Mary Griffith, Galesburg; Dorothy Kenworthy, Rock Island; Ireen Streed, Moline; Harriet Putnam, Delight Verdenius, Downers Grove; Margaret Dickson, Carrollton; Aileen Snively, Canton; Bertha Thompson, Pasadena, Cal.; Louise Sterne, Keokuk, Iowa; and Jean Zearing, Ladd; all of the class of '24.

Each fraternity was allowed one party after college opened and ours was a progressive dinner planned and served by our alumnae and patronesses to whom we are very grateful.

We are very glad to welcome the new faculty members, including Professor Hunter, head of the department of biology; Professor Neifert, head of the chemistry department; and the assistants in the various departments.

We had such a large enrollment this fall that the college authorities decided upon a house for the junior girls who had signed up for rooms in Whiting Hall, and although it is a satisfactory arrangement, we surely miss them.

We are very proud of advancing to second place on the scholarship chart. We were third last year and are hoping that by doing hard, honest work we can gain first place this year. Eleanor Merrill, '21, and Miriam Wylie, '21, attended the Y. W. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva in August. They enjoyed meeting the twenty other Pi Phi's including Miss Corbett the executive of the conference, Miss Florence Pierce Knox, '15, a secretary, Miss Benson from Champaign, and Mrs. Soper, wife of Professor Soper of Northwestern University, who had charge of one of the world fellowship classes.

Lyman K. Seymour Hall, the new men's dormitory, was not completed at the beginning of the school year but according to all reports, will be ready for occupancy by the second semester. We feel that it will be a great help to campus life.

MIRIAM WYLIE.

ILLINOIS EPSILON—NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

(Chartered 1894)

Pledge Day—December 17, 1920

INITIATES

(Initiated September 30, 1920)

Jessie Cook, Evanston, Ill.

Doris Dickey, Racine, Wis.

From June 17 to June 28, fifteen of us spent never-to-be-forgotten days at our house-party at Elkhart Lake, Wisconsin. In August, Mary Darrah, '21, and Ruth Anderson, '22, were sent as Northwestern delegates to the Y. W. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva, Wis., which lasted ten days.

With the opening of college, September 20, we found ourselves with a greatly depleted chapter, our number having fallen from thirty-three to eighteen. Subtracting five graduates, we found that ten of our members whom we expected back, had failed us, three of them intending to be married, and the rest having left for other colleges. With this small chapter, which was increased to twenty by the initiation of Jessie Cook, '23, and Doris Dickey, '23, we have started in with lots of $\Pi \Phi$ spirit.

In recent tryouts, Margaretta Fenn, '22, and Adelaide Banfield, '22, made Campus Players, the big dramatic organization of the campus. We have six or seven girls engaged in Y. W. C. A. committee work, one on the advisory board of woman's league (a very influential factor on the campus), one on the Northwestern liberal art social committee, three on the student government House of Representatives and five on the staff of the Daily Northwestern. In the class elections we captured three offices with Florence Lovèn, '23, as social chairman of the sophomore class; Langdon Phillips, '22, secretary of the junior class; and Ruth Carson, '21, secretary of the senior class.

According to the rules we do not pledge until the day before Christmas vacation and we are finding the membership season too long although each fraternity is restricted to four parties. Two of these parties are in the afternoon, and two in the evening, each fraternity drawing for the dates.

EDITH M. STOREY.

ILLINOIS ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

(Chartered 1895)

Pledge Day—September 25

We are glad to introduce twelve splendid pledges: Virginia Bentley and Dorothy Schulz, Urbana, Ill.; Marcella Graham, Dorothy Smith, Ethel Lewis, and Ruth Coverdale, Chicago, Ill.; Helen David, Wilmette, Ill.; Betty Phillips, Oskaloosa, Iowa; Hazel Fellers, Fremont, Iowa; Virginia White, Niles, Mich.; and Virginia Baker, Los Angeles, Cal.

We are more than proud, on our return to the university, to find our house brightened with new draperies and several new pieces of furniture, including a lovely new baby grand piano. It was almost like returning to a new house.

Every one is so pleased to have Elizabeth Patterson, '21, back again this year. We also wish to welcome our $\Pi \Phi$ transfers: Frances Kuny, '22, Illinois H; and Marian Herrin, who is in the library; Cora Lee Reed, '22, and Thelma Reed, '23, Arkansas A; Doris Houser, '23, Wyoming A; Margaret Palmer, '23, Iowa A; Vivian Burke, '21, and Evelyn Russell, '21, Indiana G; Enid Ireland, '21, Illinois Δ ; and Miss Anderson, Ontario A, who is teaching French at the university this year.

We are justly proud to report that Jeanne White has received preliminary honors in the commerce school and Marian Lessing has received the same honors in the college of engineering. A large number of enthusiastic Pi Phis are making good on the campus. Lucile Kile has just been elected secretary of the junior class while Laura Treadwell holds the office of sophomore Illinae treasurer. Jeanne White as chairman of the Y. W. C. A. finance committee is busy with a finance campaign. She also represents us in athletics as basketball manager while Marian Lessing is archery manager. Blanche Shirley is busy as president of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ and chairman of the woman's welfare committee. Dorothy Preble is a member of the home-coming committee and Mary Monohon has been elected historian of Mask and Bauble. Margaret Welden and Margaret Sears are corresponding secretary and chaplain, respectively, of the new Edith Marian Morgan D. A. R. chapter recently established in the university.

The presidents of the various women's fraternities and organized houses have been chosen as sponsors for the different R. O. T. C. companies. We plan to entertain our company at a "wiener roast" some evening after drill. We think that we can entertain a large number more easily in that way.

The 1920 "home-coming" looms forth at Illinois as the biggest event in the near future. At that time the senior memorial chimes, the gift of eleven senior classes, will sound for the first time their loyalty to Illinois. With the Minnesota game, Mask and Bauble's home-coming play and the co-ed carnival, we hope to entertain our alumnae very well. We are expecting more than one hundred at our cooky-shine in honor of our chapter's twenty-fifth anniversary.

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

(Chartered 1912)

Pledge Day—October 10, 1920

Illinois H has two very important messages to send to you. By all rules of English the most important should come last but both seem so very important it is almost a problem—There! I solved it. Eeenie Meenie (etc.).

Number one states itself. OUR HOUSE. Yes, we have a house and are now at home to our friends at 1024 W. Main St., just a block and a half from the campus. You say you didn't know we had not had one? You're behind the times. We gave up our house during the period of the war and haven't had one since. Of course we have had chapter-rooms but they were as near to our hearts and as near like a $\Pi \Phi$ home as a hotel suite is like that dear place back home.

With the help of the alumnae chapter, we have furnished this eight-room house and with Miss Jessie Lockett, an Illinois H and professor of French in the university, chaperoning, we have started housekeeping. It is our sincerest wish that we may continue to do so from now into the ever-more.

Our second message really is of most universal importance even if eenie, meenie hadn't proved it, we would have told you.

Our new pledges! Margaret Dewein, Decatur, Ill.; Ruth Hamman, Decatur, Ill.; Elizabeth Landon, Decatur, Ill.; Mable Nottingham, Pleasant Plains, Ill.; Aileen Omer, Herrin, Ill.; Georgianna Schaub, Decatur, Ill.; Thelma Scott, San Jose, Ill.

If you could only do more than read their names! We think they are the seven best in the university. We are glad to say that all the other fraternities feel exactly the same about their new girls and we congratulate them but we applaud ourselves.

How did you get them?

I don't exactly approve of the way that question is put but if it's our parties you are wanting to know about here they are in brief:

A party at the Curtiss cabin, a house dance at Frances Chenoweth's, a marsh-mallow toast out west of town, a style show at the new house (our dignified alumnæ made up the entire cast), a reception at the Kenny home and a drive to Faires park. Then our final party was a progressive dinner dance all planned and prepared by our alumnæ. The five-course dinner was delicious and beautifully served. We wish each chapter might have a Decatur alumnæ chapter.

After pledging at Irene Hamman's, the thirty-five of us went to the house and had our pledging banquet.

Can any chapter be happier than we are?

We are anxious to know about your good fortune.

Pledge Day—October 2, 1920

INITIATES

(Initiated September 18, 1920)

We feel that we have started the year right by pledging eight splendid girls: Elizabeth Palmer and Vera Thomas of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa; Margaret Sisson and Edith Davidson of Ottumwa, Iowa; Joyce Brown, Oskaloosa, Iowa; Madge Smith, Bonaparte, Iowa; Nelle Hadley, Marengo, Iowa; Mildred Vertrees, Aledo, Ill.

At the beginning of the term the faculty made us very happy by reconsidering their decision of last year and allowing us to initiate Blanche Thomas who had been a pledge for a long time. Blanche surely appreciates being able to wear the arrow.

During the membership season we gave two parties, one an afternoon affair at the lovely new home of Mrs. Maude Campbell (Maude Calhoun, '17), and the other, a formal dinner at the Oakland Country Clubhouse. We had a lovely time at both.

Our pledges are starting in early to show us that they are a "peppy bunch" and surprised us by inviting us to a picnic last week. On account of rain, they had to change their plans and have a party at the home of one of the pledges. However, we had true picnic eats, in true picnic style, and so we didn't mind the rain at all.

One of our alumnæ, Mrs. Darnell (Edith Bereman, '80) has been here visiting. We gave an afternoon tea for her at the home of Mrs. J. C. McCoid (Mary Hulme, '91), to which all alumnæ were invited. Mrs. McCoid gave us an interesting talk on what other chapters which she had been visiting were doing. We enjoyed her visit very much.

ISABEL MCFERRAN.

IOWA BETA—SIMPSON COLLEGE

(Chartered 1874)

Pledge Day—October 1, 1920

Our first chapter letter could not be written at a more opportune time than this—the end of our pledging season. Iowa B is again feeling triumphant since on October 1, we pledged ten most worthy girls: Ruth Meyerhoff of Corning, Vera Johnson of Bedford, Helen Sawyers of Greenfield, Christine Greer of Shenandoah, Naomi Fawcett and Isabele Peddicord of Nevada, Edith Bellman, Frances Maynard, Eloise Wright and Helen Jones of Indianola.

Our one and only function for our prospective Pi Phi was a progressive dinner dance given at the homes of several of our alumnae. We are indeed fortunate in having resident alumnae who generously offer their charming homes for the use of the active chapter.

Our large roomy house with its spacious lawn is situated conveniently near the campus. The chapter is fortunate in having Mrs. Dowell (Anna Wright, '87), as our chaperon. Mrs. Dowell is not only known locally but also nationally and we are delighted to have her as housemother. We also feel greatly indebted to her for her help in making our chapter-house comfortable and homelike.

We are represented in outside activities this year with Frances Maynard, '24, as class secretary; Vera Johnson, '23, class secretary; and Miriam Heckart, '23, and Effie Noble, '22, members of student council. Harriet Scroggs, '22, is feature editor of the Simpsonian and is on the Zenith staff. Margaret Kirkendall, '21, is president of the girls' "S" club and of Zethalethean literary society. Mary Elizabeth Edwards, '23, and Harriet Scroggs, '22, also hold offices in Zethalethean; and Dorothy Hoffman, '23, and Mary Alexander, '22, in Alpien literary society. Mary Eliz, '23, and Mildred Edwards, '21, and Margaret Kirkendall, '21, are on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Simpson's beautiful new administration building is nearing completion and the old chapel is once more taking on the appearance of youth. Along with the rejuvenation of the chapel, the old Simpson spirit has come to life again and the future is full of promise.

Pledge Day—October 16, 1920

When college opened September 29, twenty-five Pi Phi came back to live in the house. There were four who did not return: Bertha Sheafe, '22, Dorothy Johnson, '22, Katherine Tucker, '22, and Alice Blair, '23. Anna Dowell who was initiated in '17, has reentered and is planning to graduate in '22.

Last spring, the alumnae and in particular Miss Alda Wilson, '80, designed, and financed the remodeling of our living-rooms, and to them we are greatly indebted. The partitions between the living- and music-rooms were taken out—making one long room, and instead of one small fireplace in each room, one large one was built. The walls were redecorated and the hard wood floors refinished. With the money left from our last year's house expenses and a five dollar fee which every girl paid from her summer's savings, we bought a new rug and draperies for our long living-room.

Hence, our house was ready and in good condition when we started to entertain prospective members this fall. We worked hard to get the very best girls on the campus and we feel that we have succeeded. Our pledges are: Elosia Coffin, Indianola, Iowa; Elizabeth Daubenberger, McGregor, Iowa; Marcella Dewell, Missouri Valley, Iowa; Marian Duke, Monmouth, Ill.; Carol Haynes, Emporia, Kan.; Annie Jenkins, Omaha, Neb.; Marjorie Johnston, Chariton, Iowa; Clara Jordon, Boone, Iowa; Clara McAdams, Chicago, Ill.; Yolandi Proseri, Boone, Iowa; Marvel Secor, Des Moines, Iowa; Margarethe Wilson, Creston, Iowa.

Our big party was in the form of a progressive party, a trip around the world. The soup course was served in Italy, the dinner course at Paris, the salad in Ireland and the dessert in Iceland. The first three courses were served at the homes of three of our active girls who live in Ames and the last course was served at the chapter-house. In addition to the big party, we gave a picnic at Curtiss cottage in the woods south of Ames, a fireside and several small dinners at the chapter-house.

The girls are all going out for activities this year. Dorothy Harriman, '23, Ann Leichter, '23, and Anna Dowell made the college glee club. Last spring Dorothy Proctor, '22, won an "A" sweater in athletics.

Katherine Hamilton, Pasadena, Cal.

Our campaign for new members began in the hottest of weather, but nothing could dull our enthusiasm. We entertained for three days from Monday, September 20, until Thursday, September 23, having a tea, an evening party, and a luncheon on each day, respectively. By Thursday we knew the girls whom we wished to have as members, and we now boast of ten fine pledges of whom we are very proud and from whom we expect great things.

The girls are starting the year by cutting into as many activities as possible. Only eight girls were taken into glee club this year, one being a $\Pi \Phi$. Two Π Φ 's made the Seals' club, the university swimming club; only five were taken in all. A $\Pi \Phi$ is managing the teaching at the university hospital which is, of course, a very responsible position. In Y. W. C. A., we are well represented, one of our members being secretary, one on full cabinet and one on executive cabinet. We also have a member on Staff and Circle, a council acting with the Dean of Women.

We have not neglected the social aspect of our life. Last Sunday, October 17, we held open house for the fraternities on the campus. Within the next two-weeks we plan to have a tea for our chaperon, and a tea to entertain the pledges of the other women's fraternities.

INITIATES

(Initiated September 19, 1920)

Exie Gray, '23, Columbia, Mo.

Ruth Hagaman, '22, Ranger, Tex.

Dorothy Logan, '23, Columbia, Mo.

Mary Stone, '23, Kansas City, Mo.

The first week of school at Missouri was devoted to prospective members. The activities of this week were limited by the local Panhellenic to certain definite after-school hours. With the exception of one formal dinner, and the semi-formal tea with which we opened the week, our parties were quite simple, depending for their effect more on cleverness and originality of decoration and entertainment than on expense. The one that we felt to be most successful and enjoyable was a carnival, conducted on the order of a street fair. We feel amply repaid for all our efforts, since we have pledged twenty-two splendid girls, who already are following the aims and ideals of our fraternity. We have girls of every type among our pledges: studious girls, socially prominent girls, athletic girls, all capable, efficient girls, every one being fine $\Pi \Phi$ material.

Several of our members have taken part in the women's tennis tournament, and Zelle Whitmarsh, one of our pledges, has captured the junior championship, with a chance for the university championship, which is yet to be played. Henrietta Stewart, '21, holds a responsible position on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. The Y. W. C. A. here has just completed a large financial drive, and Corinne Mackey, '21, was one of the three girls who engineered the campaign to success. Several girls who are interested in the university dramatic club, are planning to try out for the club's first group of plays, to be presented in a few weeks.

The Kappa Alphas and Pi Phis are on their toes with excitement on account of a $\Pi \Phi$ -K A wedding, October 20. Frances Gray, '19, will be married on that evening to Milton Duval, and the Pi Phis are going to attend en masse. The K A chapter is honoring the engaged couple with a dance on October 15, to which all of our chapter are invited.

Although most of us feel that the university has just started, yet we are now close to our eighth week, the time for mid-semester examinations. This means some hard, concentrated effort on studies, and everybody is taking the situation seriously. We are holding study-hall regularly for our pledges, and are planning to do the same thing for any initiated girls whose mid-semester grades fall below M, the university standard.

We feel that we have made a splendid start this year, towards realizing our aims and ambitions in the university, and we extend our wishes for the same success to all sister chapters.

INITIATES

(Initiated October 18, 1920)

Ruth Martin, 5221 Murdock Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

To paraphrase Benjamin Franklin, "It is true there was much to be done, and perhaps we were weak-handed; but we stuck to it steadily, and you can see great effects, for constant work wore away our rivals; and by diligence and patience the Pi Phis ate into the hearts of the freshmen; and little wedges felled great pledges."

Missouri B did not consciously take this as a motto for the membership season, but in the heart of every $\Pi \Phi$ there was a determination that we should win out and start the year with a strong freshman group. As a result we have twelve capable freshmen of whom three are scholarship students (head start for $\Phi B K$).

Our university has had an unprecedented growth because of its central location and unusual facilities. We now have almost 4,000 students in the combined colleges. Because of the increase in the number of women students $K K \Gamma$ has formed a local with the purpose of initiating the members as soon as they have fulfilled the desired requirements of Panhellenic and the faculty. This will make the sixth national women's fraternity at Washington University. Among these we feel that $\Pi \Phi$ holds an enviable position. Six of the eight class offices are held by girls of our chapter; of the eight women chosen for Keod, the senior honorary society, two are Pi Phis; Norma Burgee was elected president of the women students; Zella Bandy was elected president of McMillan Hall, the woman's dormitory; other members hold honor positions in the various athletic, dramatic and literary organizations.

Just now most of us are eagerly planning to accompany the football team to Columbia on November 13, where we hope to meet more of the Missouri Alphas.

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

(Chartered 1914)

Pledge Day—Not fixed by Panhellenic

INITIATES

(Initiated September 27, 1920)

Katherine Ferguson, '23, Springfield, Mo.

Veva Malin, '23, St. John, Kan.

Mira McClure, '23, Lawton, Okla.
 Louise Pate, '23, Springfield, Mo.
 Pauline Potter, '23, Springfield, Mo.

With the opening of college on September 15, Drury started upon a new era in her history. Due to the untiring efforts of her president and of her many other friends, Drury succeeded last spring in raising her endowment to one million dollars. Our faculty has not only been enlarged this year, but we feel very fortunate in obtaining the able professors on it.

We have started this year with renewed determination to make the very best of our chapter and college life. We have set our goal for high aims and aspirations with a wee hope of winning the Balfour Cup. The resolution common to all of us is to work hard and to play hard.

Panhellenic has as yet given an opportunity to entertain only upperclassmen. Each year there are a few new students of advanced standing who are fraternity material. As a result, last week we pledged Grace Gambill, a junior, from Mountain Grove, Mo. We are all in love with her and she has already proved herself worthy of the arrow. We are anticipating the time when we may initiate her.

We are unusually well represented in school activities this year, having three student assistants in the English department, and one in the department of history. We are also represented on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, the glee club, woman's league, and other organizations. The junior and senior presidents are Pi Phi also.

The woman's league is a new organization and we have great hope that it may accomplish worth-while things for the benefit of Drury women.

We plan to have regular "cozys" at the homes of the different girls at which we gather informally for the strengthening of the bonds of $\Pi \Phi$. Our first one proved very successful. We sat before the open fire and sewed upon interior decorations for our rooms and enjoyed ourselves very much. We hope that our college work will not prevent the continuation of these gatherings.

NEBRASKA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

(Chartered 1895)

Pledge Day—September 18, 1920

Our term opened this year with eighteen girls back. The fall membership season was very successful and Nebraska B pledged twenty-two very wonderful girls.

Isabel Pearsall has been elected junior class president and cheer leader. Florence Wilcox was placed on the W. S. G. A. board, the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and was chosen a member of Black Masque, honorary senior society. Gertrude Patterson was elected a member of the W. S. G. A. council, Silver Serpent, junior honorary, and $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$.

We have four members in the dramatic club, two of whom were elected this year, Irene Boulter and Lucille Johnson. Mary Hendrix was elected to I Σ Φ.

There was a pleasant surprise awaiting us this fall, as our parlor was furnished this summer with beautiful new furniture, which is, of course, very becoming to our new house.

The Lincoln alumnae club gave a home-coming luncheon at the chapter-house on October 16. About fifty alumnae were present and we attended the Notre Dame football game in a body.

Now that we have our new pledges the fraternity is in good working order. We are anticipating a visit from Hazel Carson, our Province President.

KANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

(Chartered 1873)

Pledge Day—September 18

The opening of the university brought back a group of enthusiastic actives and alumnae, among whom was our Province President, Hazel Carson, to help us get new members. As the result of that week, we are pleased to announce the pledging of the following seventeen splendid girls: Dorothy Blackmar, '24, Lawrence, Kan.; Marion Brandimore, '24, Kansas City, Mo.; Aileen Crothers, '24, Kansas City, Kan.; Winifred Crouch, '24, Hutchinson, Kan.; Isabel Doer, '24, Larned, Kan.; Pauline Doer, '22, Larned, Kan.; Helen Friend, '24, Lawrence, Kan.; Mary Helen Hamilton, '23, Linton, Ind.; Elizabeth Her- yer, '24, Kansas City, Kan.; Dorothy Kirk, '24, Neosha, Mo.; Margaret Jane Levens, '23, Nevada, Mo.; Doris Martin, '24, Chicago, Ill.; Elizabeth Michel, '23, Joplin, Mo.; Esther Montieth, '24, Kansas City, Mo.; Jeannette Phillips, '23, Springfield, Mo.; Vivian Stanley, '24, Lawrence, Kan.; Marguerite Tracy, '23, Wichita, Kan.

The University of Kansas has a new chancellor this year, Earnest Hiram Lindley, formerly president of the University of Idaho. He has been received with the greatest favor all over the state. He is a forceful speaker and a man who "does things." He seems to be in hearty sympathy with all university activities, and with unflinching cooperation we expect to accomplish great things this year.

Helen Jackson, '20, was awarded a fellowship in romance languages by the university. Betty Bradbury, '23, is taking the lead in Oh, Oh Cindy, a musical comedy under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., of which Leona Baumgartner, '23, is the manager. Betty Bradbury also has an important rôle in a dramatic art club play, Mrs. Garringer's Necklace. Irene Boyer, '23, is in the other dramatic art club play: The Importance of Being Earnest. Leona Baumgartner, '23, has been elected permanent representative for all universities and agricultural colleges in the West Central field of the Y. W. C. A. and will attend the convention in Denver this month.

We are delighted to have with us three transfers, Josephine Altman of Illinois E, Helen Miller of Oklahoma A, and Lois Hanna of Kansas B.

Julia Johnson, '23, Herington, Kan.

Helen Rannells, '20, Manhattan, Kan.

Our chapter is larger this year than it has ever been. The fifteen actives succeeded in pledging twelve lovely girls: Julia Caton, Winfield, Kan.; Dorothy Churchward, Wichita, Kan.; Edith Fairchild, Denver, Colo.; Margaret Hamilton, Kansas City, Mo.; Jean Hanna, Clay Center, Kan.; Lillis Harkey, Ft. Scott, Kan.; Alvarita Heaton, Concordia, Kan.; Beulah Helstrom, McPherson, Kan.; Geraldine Hull, Manhattan, Kan.; Jean Moore, Nowata, Okla.; Genevieve Mott, Herington, Kan.; Gladys Stocker, Concordia, Kan.

The freshmen are interested in all activities and promise to be very prominent on the hill this year. One has already been appointed to a Y. W. C. A. committee and four have received honors in swimming.

FAITH MARTIN.

WYOMING ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

(Chartered 1910)

Pledge Day—November 1, 1920

The University of Wyoming opened this year with a 25% increase in attendance over last year. Everywhere one looks there is a little brown and yellow cap. The "W" shines beautifully and you all should have heard the "Powder River" yell when our boys won the first football victory over Denver University last Saturday. We all miss Mrs. Knight over at Hoyt Hall, but everyone is learning to love and admire Miss Bernice Samford, our new Dean of Women.

Wyoming A has only eight girls back, but we do have most loyal alumnae; Mrs. Nellie F. Wilson (mother of Mary Ben Wilson Fuller, '11), for our chaperon; our house again for this year; and some lovely new furniture. But the thing that every Wyoming II Φ will be sure to show you is the scholarship cup which Panhellenic offers each year to the woman's fraternity with the highest scholastic standing and which now ornaments the II Φ mantel. We are surely working hard to keep it there. We also have a new pledge, Isla Davies of Evanston, Wyo., who was pledged October 14.

Mary Clifford is chancellor of Quill club, our two seniors are both members of the senior honorary society, Jane Beck is vice-president of the sophomore class, and a number of Pi Phis are on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, on the Student staff, and in the glee club.

Susan Breisch, '22, is back again after spending a year studying music at Northwestern University.

Pledge day comes two months earlier this year than last. Much as we disliked the idea it seemed best from the standpoint of relieving the overcrowded halls. We have already had two very successful parties and we are planning two more, a $\Pi \Phi$ "cozy" and a taffy pull. Our alumnae are going to give the actives and our guests a luncheon on October 30.

COLORADO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

(Chartered 1884)

Pledge Day—September 27, 1920

INITIATES

(Initiated October 3, 1920)

Lucille Drinkwater, '24, Denver, Colo.

Dorothea Emery, '22, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Helen Talbert, '23, Denver, Colo.

Colorado A has just finished an exceptionally successful social week, with the result of nineteen splendid pledges, four of whom are sisters and one a daughter: Burleigh McKenzie, Canon City; Dell Margaret Collins, Frances Spencer, Colorado Springs; Ruth Lannon, Ruth Taylor, Pueblo; Ethel Downer, Charlotte Shontz, Nancy Crisp, Denver; Etta Taylor, Pauline Marley, Glenwood Springs; Elizabeth Kohler, Barbara Mason, Marian McAllister, Boulder; Lucille Johnston, Topeka; Virginia Wadsworth, Dorothy Glanz, Chicago; Louise Mills, Olathe; Elizabeth Moulton, Clifton; Constance Bachrach, San Francisco.

We are expecting great things of our freshmen, and they have not disappointed us so far, as already one of their number, Barbara Mason, has been elected secretary of her class. To show our appreciation of them, we are giving a pledge dance on October 22.

The University of Colorado has opened this year with a considerably enlarged student body, and everyone at present is devoting all efforts to the passing of the mill tax amendment, which will be voted upon at the November election. This amendment will increase appreciably the appropriation for the state colleges of Colorado—it will not only provide for more adequate equipment, but will also make possible the necessary increase in the salaries of faculty members.

A great deal of improvement is even now being done on the campus. The Macky Auditorium which has remained unfinished since its erection some ten years ago, is being completed. It will mean much to the university, because it will provide a place in which to have student assemblies, and theatrical and musical presentations. A new fine arts building is also in the process of construction.

All university activities are well started, and $\Pi \Phi$ is represented. Sara Chapman is president of the woman's athletic association and the women's glee club; Patricia Sherrill, president of women's league; Madeline Hardy, editor of the co-ed section of the Coloradoan; and in addition to four members of the athletic board, two on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, and two members of players' club, we have ten girls in the glee club.

Nevertheless, we are striving valiantly to uphold our record in scholarship; we last year held first rank among all women, including Independents. Therefore, the scholarship committee is putting forth particular effort to impress the girls with the importance of college work above everything else.

We are trying a new plan this year for chapter government. A system of committees has been arranged: government, grievance, social, finance, membership, activities, alumnae, and scholarship. Each committee has charge of the particular sphere indicated by its name. So far, this system has been very effective, and we are anticipating an unusually successful year.

COLORADO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

(Chartered 1885)

Pledge Day—October 4, 1920

Here we are back again! The university has started, our membership campaign is over and we have eleven fine pledges: Louise Biegle, Catherine Burgess, Genevieve Connor, Dorothy Goddard, Bernice Hibbs, Ida Mae Lendrum, Elizabeth MacSweeney, Salome Mead, Lucy Tarbell, Edith Thomas, Dorothy Turnbull.

Colorado B opened the membership season on Friday, September 24, when we assembled at the Bungalow about half past two for the "II Φ Follies"—a cabaret stunt. At four o'clock we started on a progressive dinner, for which we are greatly indebted to our alumnae. As our Panhellenic rules said that we must have all candidates home by eight o'clock we saw to it that rules were obeyed. The following week was spent in individual campaigning.

Last year we stood second in scholarship but this year we are going to be first. Dorothy Andrews made Σ Φ Α, the honorary scholastic fraternity and we are very proud of her.

Most of our chapter are back but we miss a few faces. Muriel McLagan and Esther Daubenspeck have decided to be "school marms" and are at the State Teachers' College in Greeley. Emily Heintzman, Dorothy Zabler and Jessie Reynolds were unable to return because of ill health, but we expect them back the second semester. Last but not least we miss our faithful seniors. What we will do without them we do not know! However, in spite of these few "deficiencies" we are anticipating a splendid year and are planning to make II B Φ justify its existence in D. U. As you readily appreciate that we have just "arrived" this year we can give no definite details but be assured you shall hear of Colorado B in the next issue.

When you come to the Queen City of the Plains in the Land of Perpetual Sunshine don't forget to look us up. Although we are out in the country we feel that the country air, abundance of sunshine and wonderful view of the mountains will be well worth the trip. We extend to all a most cordial invitation to try the knocker to the Bungalow.

A most successful year to every chapter and a Merry Christmas to each and every one!

OKLAHOMA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA

Pledge Day—September 18, 1920

The University of Oklahoma opened with the largest registration in its history and with a most promising freshman class. Twenty-one of our active members returned and we had a large number of our alumnae with us for the opening week. We are glad to have Irene Ambrister, who attended National Park Seminary last year, Helen Patchell, who attended Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and Kathryn Nash enrolled again in Oklahoma University. Vivian Brengle, '17, is a member of fine arts faculty.

The preferential system of bidding was used here for the first time this fall. We are proud to announce as our pledges: Lesta Berry, Pawnee; Marian Billingsley, Genevieve Douglas and Kathryn Gibson, Muskogee; Nell Burns, Lebanon, Virginia; Ina Boone, Purcell; Dorothy De Freese and Jane Hamilton, Okmulgee; Maude Foster, Perry; Lucile Griffin and Elois Sandlin, Ardmore; Vera Griffin, Mary Catherine Macquire and Mattie Muldrow, Norman; Berdine Van Camp, Oklahoma City; Mable Leahy and Treva Soderstrom, Pawhuska; Fay Overleas, Bartlesville; Anna Carol Simpson, Ada; Sue Thompson, Pauls Valley; and Juanita Wright, Hugo.

We are well started in college work now, but the student activities are just being organized for the coming year. Helen Patchell and Vera Griffin are in the university orchestra. Several Pi Phis have tried out for the girls' glee club, but as yet no announcements have been made. All of us attend two student activities each week.

We are planning to hold initiation some time this month for several of our pledges, who met the initiation standards last semester. We have started our penny boxes again this year for "Little Pigeon."

The laying of the corner stone in the new Masonic dormitory was celebrated on October 11. Oklahoma is proud to have this new residence for men, the first Masonic dormitory to be erected at a state university.

Our membership season this year lasted only ten days and was a very busy time for us. Our first affair was a slumber party at the chapter-house on September 8. Two nights later Zeta Carter entertained the active members and the "prospectives" at her home, and the following week we gave a line party. We culminated the season with a dinner dance, a five-course dinner being served at the house, after which the thirty-five couples, enjoyed dancing at Katz Hall. We are very proud indeed of our seven lovely pledges: Helen Clink of Guthrie, Oklahoma; Jess Echols of Mangum, Oklahoma; Eugenia Edwards of Stillwater, Oklahoma; Gladys Holiday of Enid, Oklahoma; Willena Owen of Aurora, Missouri; Mary Peebles of Woodward, Oklahoma; and Edna Rouse of Pleasant Valley, Oklahoma. The trial we have given the short membership season this year has convinced all the fraternities that it is more satisfactory than is the longer period we have used in previous years.

We are occupying our new house at 312 Elm Street and are very pleasantly situated. A number of articles have been added to our furnishings since last spring, the most pretentious being a new Ivors and Pond piano which the chapter purchased this fall. Many valuable gifts were presented to us by the alumnae and active members on August 12, the first anniversary of the chartering of the chapter.

We are particularly fortunate in having as our housemother, Mrs. Sundale, a $\Pi \Phi$ mother. Her daughter is Mrs. Harry Orr (Ruth Sundale, Wisconsin A, '19), the wife of one of the faculty here.

Zella Bass and Iva See are on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, Lucile Glasner is secretary of the sophomore class, and Edna Rouse is freshman secretary and a member of the Wampus Kittens, a freshman organization. Virginia Bagby, Helen Clink, Winifred Cook, Eugenia Edwards, Lucile Glasner, Ruth Goodholm, Jess Echols, Gladys Holiday, and Mary Peebles are members of the girls' glee club.

The new library and home economics buildings which are nearing completion are valuable additions to the campus group.

Arkansas A is certainly coming to the front, if our success this year is any sign of the future. We began the year with ten old girls and several visiting alumnae. Then at the end of the first week, the house was overflowing with our wonderful new pledges—fourteen in all: Ladelle Allen,

'24, Little Rock, Ark.; Minnie Atkinson, '24, Pine Bluff, Ark.; Irene Barrett, '24, Hugo, Okla.; Marcelene Campbell, '24, Fayetteville, Ark.; Kate Conley, '24, Paris, Ark.; Margaret Earle, '24, Fayetteville, Ark.; Maude Gibson, '23, Nashville, Ark.; Elizabeth Hays, '24, Rogers, Ark.; Hazel Janes, '24, Paris, Texas; Adine Jones, '24, Forrest City, Ark.; Frances McDougall, '24, Forrest City, Ark.; Marye McDougall, '23, Forrest City, Ark.; Josephine Miles, '24, Fayetteville, Ark.; Alice Milliken, '24, Little Rock, Ark. Our town alumnae relieved us of much responsibility by giving a dance for the Pi Phi and our prospective members at the university armory—the biggest stunt that ever was given on the campus. We were lucky enough to have Janice Vandervoort, Missouri A, and Mae Scroggins, Virginia A, as guests during our membership season.

It is unusual to see such enthusiasm as the pledges have shown. They surprise us with feasts, plan stunts for our amusement, and enter into all phases of freshman life, with its duties as well as humiliations, as true sports.

About a week before the opening of the university, Catherine Ellis was married to Mr. O. W. McDaniels, but hurried back to Fayetteville, so she would not miss our membership season. Then, before the week was entirely over, Janice Vandervoort was secretly married to W. W. Driver, $\Phi K \Sigma$, and they are now at home in Occola, Arkansas. Later, Nell Connor, one of our active girls who decided in favor of matrimony against college work is now Mrs. Arch Locke, of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Our members are active in college affairs, with Margaret Maxfield on the student council as representative of the junior class; Dorothy Gregson active in all phases of Y. W. C. A. work and a member of the Sapphic literary society; and Emily Russell, one of the members of the committee to plan Agri day and a reporter on the Weekly staff.

With such a beginning, we should have a wonderfully successful year.

Texas A has just had a strenuous but very successful membership season. Our rules, until this year, have been very unsatisfactory. This fall, after a hard fight in Panhellenic, we passed some restrictions which are beginning to simplify matters. Each fraternity is now allowed to invite "prospectives" to one meal a day, only; and there can be no spend-the-night dates. This gives us a little time to have fraternity meetings and to rest.

Our seventeen new pledges are already entering into the spirit of the fraternity and the university. Louise Bernard from Corpus Christi was elected cheer leader for the girls. Most of them are working for places on the swimming and the basketball teams, and will try out for dramatic clubs.

The girls in the chapter are very enthusiastic. Blossom Wooten, '21, is president of the Turtle swimming club; Martha LaPrelle, '20, is president of Anglers, a dancing club; Laura McGee, '21, is president of Ashbel literary society, and a member of the inner council of Cap and Gown, an organization for senior girls.

Everyone—our alumnae, pledges, and active chapter—has entered into all our activities so whole-heartedly that this promises to be a most successful year.

Pledge Day—October 25, 1920

Last term, after meeting several times, Panhellenic decided on second term pledging for this year, but about ten days after school opened they decided this would prove unsatisfactory so the date has been changed to October 25, which we realize is not very far off. We are having a rather quiet social season because of the strict rules of Panhellenic, but as a whole it seems satisfactory.

S. M. U. has a larger enrollment than ever this year. New buildings on the campus, many new men's fraternity houses and two women's fraternity houses (this being the first year the girls have been allowed to have houses) show that we are doing things! We wanted very much to have a house this year but it was impossible to rent one and not advisable to build. However, we surely mean to have one next year.

We are all extra proud of the S. M. U. "eleven" this year. The Pi Phi attend all the football games and brag about the S. M. U. goal line not having been crossed yet. We play the University of Arkansas Saturday at the Dallas fair grounds. (The state fair started October 10 and is to close October 24.)

Louise McLarty, is to be married on October 26 and we all wish she did not live so far away and that the wedding was not during school so we could attend. But after the wedding she is to live at Arlington, only eighteen miles from here.

Newcomb College opened on September 20, with a freshman class of three hundred girls. This was a big increase. Since pledging took place at the end of ten days, there was much excitement. We had a most successful membership season, and came out splendidly, with eleven perfectly lovely pledges.

On pledge day the chapter entertained the pledges at a luncheon at the country club. The pledging ceremony was held that night, at the home of Mrs. Stewart, Louisiana Alpha's first initiate, whose daughter is one of our present actives.

We held initiation a few days after the opening of college, at the home of Corrine Hopkins. On October 8, a second initiation was held at the home of Frances Hupman for Dorothy Felker and Edna Stewart, who returned late.

The members of the chapter were entertained last week at a tea, given by the pledges: Charlotte Adams, Ernestine Bass, Mary Louise Caffery, Perrine Dixon, Frances Ferguson, Lilah Phillips, Elise Roussel, Alice Saunders, Chastine Sprague, Anna Wooten and Ula Milner.

Many responsible offices at Newcomb are held by our actives and our pledges. Frances Evans, is house president of the Newcomb dormitory, and at a convention of the Southern student government association, held last spring, she was elected secretary for 1920-21. Wilmer Shields, sophomore vice-president, is secretary of the student body, which office was also held last year by a $\Pi \Phi$. Marjorie Hay is a student council representative. Alice DeBuys is sophomore class secretary, and vice-president of the French circle. Dorothy Felker is class poet for the sophomores. Two offices in the freshman class are held by our pledges: Perrine Dixon and Elise Roussel.

At the junior-freshman wedding, one of the most attractive parties of the year, Anna Wooten, a $\Pi \Phi$ pledge, was chosen as bride by the junior class. And by the way, did you know that Sallie Gillespie, one of our seniors of last year was chosen Queen of the May Day festival?

In spite of our success this year, the fraternity problem at Newcomb is still unsettled.

A Panhellenic meeting called by the faculty, was held recently, at which the disbanding of inter-fraternity and all local secret organizations was ordered. The opposition, at Newcomb, to any secret society is excessive, and it is with fear and trembling that we await the order abolishing fraternities themselves.

WASHINGTON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

(Chartered 1907)

Pledge Day—October 4, 1920

The University of Washington has begun a year that promises to be bigger, better, and broader than ever before. Work on the Stadium, of which we spoke last year, is progressing rapidly. We are sure that the new field will be in excellent condition for the initial game to be held there. Inquiries for seats for this game, which will be with Dartmouth are already pouring in from Oregon, Idaho, Alaska and from every part of Washington. When completed, the Stadium will seat 60,000 persons. It is a combination of the Yale Bowl and Harvard Stadium ideas.

A beautiful new building, Philosophy Hall, is also nearing completion on the campus. This is the second side of the proposed Washington Quad. The buildings of this group are all to be of Gothic architecture, similar in appearance to those at Oxford.

Washington A is seeking to keep pace with the development of the university. We are always interested in Y. W. C. A. Gwendolyn Monteagle and Hazel Jones are members of the first cabinet of this organization. Ruth Hubbell has a place on the second cabinet. Hazel Jones is also secretary of the Republican club, and vice-president of the senior class.

Several places have been gained in the recent tryouts. Emma Louise Howell is now a member of Sacajawea, women's debating society, and Eileen Howell and Ruth Hubbell both made Mask and Quill, national dramatic fraternity.

The highest honor which a girl may obtain is to become a member of Tolo club. Gwendolyn Monteagle is the president of this organization.

The lawyer system of bidding was used this year. In spite of the large list of new girls on the campus the task was successfully concluded in two and a half days. Panhellenic has gone on record as favoring this system. We pledged the following: Janice Cole, Seattle, Wash.; Antoinette Connor, Seattle, Wash.; Delia Dunbar, Yakima, Wash.; Helen Garretson, Yakima, Wash.; Gertrude Jansen, Seattle, Wash.; Ervine Liddstone, Bellingham, Wash.; Bonny McAnally, Yakima, Wash.; Sara McClintock, Spokane, Wash.; Bernice VanKuran, Seattle, Wash.

It is planned to have an organization of the freshman girls in fraternities in order that they may become better acquainted and may not develop that conceit which is a bit apt to characterize a contented freshman. Panhellenic feels—and Washington A is heartily in sympathy—that the sooner the realization comes to fraternity freshmen that because of their greater privileges their obligations to the college are also greater, the better they and the Washington of the future will be.

WASHINGTON BETA—WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE

(Chartered 1912)

Pledge Day—not fixed yet

College opened this year on September 20, with a large enrollment. At present there are 1719 students in attendance. We have two fine new women's dormitories, R. C. McCroskey Hall, and Community Hall, which have relieved the housing situation very much.

During registration week, women's league entertained through various organizations for the new girls at informal teas and mixes.

One of the largest coming events for women on this campus is the inter-collegiate conference of all-women's organizations of colleges and normal schools of the West. It has been called for November 11.

In the house we have seventeen old girls. Helen Schumaker, a $\Pi \Phi$ from Berkeley, and Mrs. Mary P. Smith from Oregon A, are both attending college here.

Pi Phis are active this fall in various organizations. Mildred Perry is secretary of the sophomore class. Dorothy Cunningham is on the Harvard club committee, and Irene Oliver is on the oratory and debate committee of the same association.

Three Pi Phis are working on the conference: Elsie Durr, as chairman of the program committee, Elizabeth Roudebush, chairman of arrangements committee, and Ruth Newland, director. Elsie Durr is also vice-president of women's league.

Recently the president of the association of collegiate alumnae awarded a scholarship to a senior girl for high scholastic standing and good personality. Elizabeth Roudebush received honorable mention.

This fall, we are trying a new experiment—semester pledging. Pledge day, we hope, is going to be early in December, but as yet it is not decided. There are a great many splendid new girls on the campus this year.

We have been glad to welcome several of our alumnae for visits, also girls who did not return this semester. Three of our members expect to return next semester.

OREGON ALPHA CHAPTER—UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

(Chartered 1915)

Pledge Day—October 2, 1920

We have just finished a very successful membership season and have ten of the finest pledges on the campus, namely: Eunice Cowgill, a sister, Virginia Pearson, Estelle Modlin, Helen Ball, Luella Hausler, and Vera Prudhomme, all of Portland; Lulu Davis, Nyssa; Emmy Lou Douglas, Marshfield; Ruth Giesler, Grants Pass; and Evangeline Foster, Eugene.

We have just moved into a "new-old" house, and while we like it, it isn't our old $\Pi \Phi$ house, but it won't be long, we hope, until we can have a home of our very own. We have our lot, and hope the home will be on it sometime within the next three years.

Several of our chapter hold important campus offices, and are members of honor societies. Bernice Altstock, who was pledged at the end of last year, is secretary of the sophomore class, and is in the glee club; Marvel Skeels, is also in the glee club, and is secretary of the junior class. Laura Rand is manager of the glee club; Nell Warwick was appointed to fill the place on student council made vacant by Kate Chatburn's absence from college this year; Elvira Thurlow is president of Panhellenic; Alice Thurston was elected to Scroll and Script, senior women's scholarship honor society and is vice-president of the senior class; Evelyn Smith was graduated with honors last year, and was a member of the local club petitioning $\Phi B K$. Ethel Gaylord was elected to $\Phi \Theta K$, and Nell Warwick to $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$. Nell Gaylord made the glee club this year.

During the last two terms of last year we held the enviable place at the top in the scholarship records for all the national fraternities on the campus, and hope to keep the good work going this year.

ΔZ is to be installed on the campus October 16. A new women's local has also formed and is petitioning $\Lambda \Xi \Delta$.

We are going to celebrate our fifth birthday October 29, when we will initiate our two pledges, and have a combined initiation banquet and birthday dinner. We hope that some of our Portland alumnae can be with us this year.

The week-end of November 13, is "home-coming" at Oregon and we are expecting many of our "alums" back to help Oregon win the game against the University of Washington. In the evening the annual "home-coming" dance will be held.

OREGON BETA—OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

(Chartered 1917)

Pledge Day—September 26, 1920

We are beginning the year with high spirits and much enthusiasm and we have every reason to be happy for we have just closed a very successful membership season and are proud to announce the pledging of the following girls: Averick Bleecker, Pasadena, California; Alice Bowman, Portland, Oregon; Dale Coshaw, Rosebury, Oregon; Ruth Dorn, Pasadena, California; Lulu Johnson, Corvallis, Oregon; Kathleen Meloy, Corvallis, Oregon; Anna McPherson, Portland, Oregon; Vina Mueller, Vale, Oregon; Helen Philbrook, Medford, Oregon; Helen Reider, Riveria, California; Virginia Woolery, Pasadena, California.

Participation in at least one college activity is required and many Pi Phis are holding important offices on the campus. The senior class vice-presidents are Pi Phis. We have three girls on the junior annual staff, three in $\Phi \Theta \kappa$, honorary commercial fraternity for women, three in $\Delta \Psi \kappa$ honorary physical education fraternity, two women's league representatives, three in Mask and Dagger, three in the women's glee club and one Y. W. C. A. cabinet member.

In order to promote good-fellowship among fraternity women our pledges are entertaining the pledges from all other houses with a Hallowe'en tea. We have also found that exchanging dinners is an excellent way of entertaining old friends and making new ones.

We are anticipating a very prosperous and enjoyable year.

Pledge Day—October 21, 1920

With summer vacation over, we have taken up the business of school and we are anticipating a highly successful year because we have started with the crowning success of pledging six splendid freshmen. May we introduce: Dorothy Sudden, San Mateo; Marion Potter and Margaret Younglove, Riverside; Sarah McKann, Los Angeles; Mildred Connard, San Diego; and Geraldine Watt, Klamath Falls, Ore.

School activities are not in full swing as yet, but of those that are already organized, $\Pi \Phi$ has its full share of representatives. Marian Clancy, '22, is head of the sponsor system for women, and is a member of the women's executive council. Carey Bailerd is one of the leaders in women's athletics, and is a member of the college honor hockey team. Beatrice Edmonds is a member of Schubert club, and has recently been elected to Masquers' honor society.

We are happy to have with us this year Catherine Williams, '19, who is taking her Master's degree. Catherine, who is a member of Cap and Gown, women's honor society, will be remembered for her participation in college activities.

We are so proud of Dorothy Elfving, '21, who received the French scholarship last year, and is now studying in France.

INITIATES

(Initiated August 9, 1920)

Gertrude Bosworth, '23, Piedmont, Cal.

Maude Masterson, '23, Belvedere, Cal.

Helen Rehorn, '23, Berkeley, Cal.

Our semester is already half over, and although we struggle with mid-term examinations, we grin at each other and think how wonderful this college year has been thus far.

California opened with an enrollment of 10,000 regular students. All old students have been so thrilled over the university's growth and prospects that it has taken us several weeks to return to normal sensations. Of course conditions are crowded in the extreme and the students suffer from all sorts of petty inconveniences resulting from the sudden increase in enrollment but we put up with everything as temporary and unavoidable evils which are pointing the way to a greater university. At present all the students are working, writing and campaigning for the passage of Amendment 12 which will assure the university a definite financial appropriation each year, sufficient to meet the greater needs. We all feel that the future of the institution is involved and we all are working in every way to get the Amendment passed by the voters in November.

Twenty Pi Phis from other chapters are here at the university this year. We held an informal meeting and cooky-shine for them October 11. We surely enjoyed meeting our sisters from other colleges and were glad of the opportunity to hear directly of their chapters. We are expecting them to visit us often.

Our pledges this year are another source of joy. We bid ten lovely girls who are entering into everything—from freshman duties to studies and campus work—with splendid spirit. They gave a clever show September 27—so clever in fact that we are considering having all of them go out on the campus for dramatics. However, from the way in which they are beginning, we are sure that they will all make wonderful Pi Phis.

In campus work too $\Pi \Phi$ is well represented. Edith Corde, '21, is a member of the executive committee for the associated students and Grace Zeigenfuss, '22, is secretary for the women students. Florence Sheldon, '23, has been initiated into ΔE , art honor society; Dorothy Dukes, '22, has been appointed chairman of the music committee for this year's Parthenia and Isabel Baylies, '22, is a junior editor on the Daily Californian. Several of our chapter are members of the students' welfare committee and the women's council.

On October 22 we will give a reception and formal dance for our pledges. We are all anticipating it and feel that " $\Pi \Phi$ will shine."

INITIATES

(Initiated October 12, 1920)

- Helen Huff, '23, Alhambra, Cal.
 Dorothe Lane, '22, Alhambra, Cal.
 Ella Moseley, '24, Los Angeles, Cal.
 Marquita Wardman, '22, Alhambra, Cal.
 Elizabeth Wheat, '24, Los Angeles, Cal.

Once again we are back at college and are anticipating a wonderfully successful year both for $\Pi B \Phi$ and our Alma Mater.

Our "Greater University" is rapidly materializing. The first building of the new group will be ready for occupation by the new year and plans for the others are well under way.

Our football team has made a good start by winning the first game of the season with a score of 47 to 7, and we feel sure that a good beginning means also a good ending. The second annual $\Pi B \Phi$ banquet in honor of the varsity football men will be held at the close of the season in November.

On October 8, we pledged three wonderful girls: Catherine Gorman, San Bernardino, Cal.; Marjorie Sparey, Los Angeles, Cal.; Margaret Wallace, Balboa, Cal. On October 12, the five splendid girls who were pledged last March were initiated. After the ceremony our alumnæ gave a cooky-shine.

This year we are aiming more than ever towards campus activities and high scholarship, and our freshmen promise to do their share, especially in the tennis and swimming fields.

Plans are progressing for our Christmas bazaar to be held at our house, December 3, for our permanent house fund. There are to be several booths, a Japanese tearoom, and dancing in the evening.

We have been very happy to greet the following Pi Phis who are attending the university this year: Blanche Miller, Illinois B, and Lucile Munn, Michigan A.

Mildred Puckett and Captola Breyley, Wisconsin A, are both wintering in Los Angeles, and we are indeed happy to have Captola living with us.

INITIATES

(Initiated September 19, 1920)

Jean Crepin, '23

Elizabeth March, '23

Frances Loftus, '23

Beatrice Wright, '23

If anyone should ask what we Arizona Pi Phis have to be proud of this year, the answer would be unanimous: "Next to our pledges, our HOUSE!" They both run "in the family," too, which is fortunate for us, but that fact itself was insufficient to eliminate all competition.

We pledged four little sisters, and one $\Pi \Phi$ daughter, with only two new ones who had not been brought up to the tune of Ring Ching. They are: Doris Crepin, Agnes Eisenmayer, Mary Franklin, Margaret Neal, Cordelia Richmond, Mabel Roby, Elizabeth Whittedge.

With our four new initiates, and twenty-four old members, we can well anticipate another great year in our chapter life.

For the fourth consecutive year, $\Pi \Phi$ has led the list in scholarship. Data was collected, and comparative charts drawn up this summer showing the scholarship standing of all fraternity and non-fraternity groups in the university.

$\Pi B \Phi$ had the largest chapter among women's fraternities, and lead the list of the twelve competing groups with an average scholarship of 2.495 based on the honor formula in use in the University of Arizona. $T \Delta \Psi$, local chapter petitioning ΣX , lead the men's fraternities with an average of 1.590 approximately one point lower.

We are planning a series of entertainments for the federal board hospital unit stationed with the vocational training department of the university. As some of the men are unable to attend an "open house" evening, committees of girls will go to the hospital once a month and give programs where all the men can appreciate them.

Each year we realize more and more how fortunate we are in having such a wonderful alumnae organization to help and advise us in our chapter affairs. Mrs. A. O. Neal, Indiana A, who was influential in helping us obtain our charter, has returned from Washington, D. C. Peggy, her daughter, is one of our precious pledges.

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

(Chartered 1915)

Pledge Day—November 23, 1920

The university is beginning to look a great deal like it did before the war. Our registration this semester totals 465 students—more than we have ever had before, and among these students we find much good fraternity material.

Since the opening of college we have pledged four girls: Vera Dallas, '21; Madelaine Dallas, '23; Marjorie Stauffer, '23; and Erma Hoskins, '23. We hope to initiate them on October 23.

Last year we tried second semester pledging, but as it proved unsatisfactory, we are going to pledge just before Thanksgiving this year. Panhellenic allows us two parties. Our first one was in the nature of a picnic, and we are going to make our second a celebration of Nevada Alpha's birthday, probably a favor dance.

We are well represented this year in all campus activities. I am not going to enumerate them all, but I must tell you that the president of the senior class, and the secretary of the student body is a $\Pi \Phi$, Gladys Dunkle, '21.

At present all other interests are pushed into the background by the football team, whose members made a name for themselves on the Pacific Coast last year, and we are quite interested in the maintenance of that name.

One of the most important events of the past summer was the first conference of The International Federation of University Women held in London July 12-14. Alpha Phi Quarterly publishes an account of the meeting taken from The London Times together with a short report of the impressions of an American member of the conference who said:

Bedford College is the women's division of London University and had been presented by the Queen on July 4, 1913, the last year before the war, so it seemed a most appropriate place, shortly after the war, for Great Britain and America to call together the first meeting of the kind ever held in the world, consisting of representatives of every nation which educates its women on a par with its men.

The federation had been formed to promote understanding and fellowship between the educated women of different nations and to unite them into a league to further their common interests and to strengthen the foundations of international sympathy, which must form a basis for a League of Nations if there ever is one. So it was a sequence of the great war, as well as of a university degree; and I think one more fully realized this after they had traversed hundreds of miles of the devastated area.

The clipping from The London Times follows:

WORLD'S UNIVERSITY WOMEN; A LEAGUE IN BEING

The International Federation of University Women has brought its first conference and social gatherings to a successful termination, and established itself for the future as a federation of many federations of university women all over the globe, which may have a considerable usefulness in international friendships.

Lord Grey, who showed his interest when in Washington with the American women's desire to have an interchange of scholarships, delivered an address at one of the meetings. In America 95 per cent. of all teachers are women, and the young college women are so numerous and so enthusiastic that, in one of their many collegiate federations alone there are 10,000 members.

It was decided that the general headquarters of the International Federation would be fixed wherever the League of Nations would have its headquarters. Professor Caroline Spurgeon (London) was chosen president, Mrs. McWilliams (Canada) vice-president, and Mrs. Edgerton Parsons (New York) treasurer. Mrs. Parsons collected $4,000,000 in a "drive" for Smith College. It was decided that a social clubhouse would be started in each country, where university women might go on arrival, and be sure of a welcome and of suitable introductions. The organization, development, and financing of interchangeable scholarships, studentships, fellowships, and professorships was one of the most important subjects of discussion. Already the American women have founded the Rose Sidgwick Memorial Fellowship, enabling a British woman graduate to study at an American university. Sir Arthur Ackland has founded a scholarship at Bedford College, and one, open to men and women, at the Imperial College of Science. The women representing French and Belgian universities were strongly against the admission of German representatives. They pleaded that it must not be yet, and the representatives of neutral countries, who had been anxious to have the German university women in the Federation, agreed to leave the matter in abeyance.

The next conference will be held in two years' time. At present the address of the Federation is the Universities Bureau of the British Empire, 50 Russell Square, and the secretary is Miss T. Bosanquet.

THE ARROW is glad to reprint entire the following editorial from The Lyre of Alpha Chi Omega which discusses so sanely a question which is vital to every woman.

THE CLEAN LIFE FOR MEN DEMANDS THE SANE LIFE FOR WOMEN

For the past ten or fifteen years we have heard more and more public discussion of the "clean life for men." We have been told in no uncertain language what the effects of laxness in the moral life of men are upon us and will be upon our children. That the results of this campaign of publicity have been good, we thoroughly believe, and that women are demanding this kind of physical perfection of the men they marry is one of the evidences. There is, of course, still much to be accomplished; probably only the very outskirts of the problem have really been touched, but they have been noticeably touched.

There are several points, however, to which we wish to call the special attention of college women. In some respects, we feel that the women of the country are not making it easy for the men to live the lives they are demanding of them. To be extremely frank, when we watch a room full of men and women, many of whom are reveling for dance after dance in the wildest kind of "jazz," we wonder if the women are realizing not only how vulgar much of it is, but how difficult they are making their own appeal to the better instincts of men. We believe that it is almost impossible for a man and a woman to dance with the cheap abandon that characterizes so much of the modern dancing without arousing feelings that one's self-respect would not wish to arouse. We maintain, therefore, that in so far as a man's partner is responsible, however unconscious she may be, she is not making it easy for him to maintain the standard she demands of the man she marries. The effect upon her own moral fibre, also, can not be anything but deleterious.

There are other phases, relating more directly to the personal health of women, in which, we are frank to say, many college women are not living up to the standards that should be expected of them. Youth is the time of enthusiasms, of fun-loving, of pleasure-seeking, and it is natural and proper that they should be indulged. Our colleges, Y. W. C. A.s, and other organizations dealing with young women are realizing their responsibility along this line as never before and are furnishing opportunity for proper physical development through gymnastics, games, etc., that cannot fail to have a most beneficial effect on the lives of women. But too many young women are wasting themselves in other ways than through neglect of opportunities for physical exercises. They give themselves time for too little, far too little sleep, they indulge in midnight spreads, they go without meals, eating overrich desserts at the soda fountain, etc. The very time when they should be laying up for themselves a rich store of reserve energy for meeting the physical demands of wifehood and motherhood is being wasted too greatly in breaking down the reserve strength they already possess.

A very splendid paper read by Dr. Alice Mann on the physical condition of women in industry recently gives some very startling figures of the poorer health of women in comparison with men in similar positions, figures that every potential mother should be ashamed of. In explanation of the causes of such alarming sub-normal conditions, Dr. Mann states: "The habits of life of young women are sufficient to account for most of their disabilities, remembering always that the habits are the outward expression to a great degree, of attitude of minds or philosophy of life." In general Dr. Mann believes that the physical condition of these women is practically the average for all women. And she goes on to state that "the lives of most women are mal-adjusted at the present time to an extent pretty exactly measurable by their bad physical condition. Good physical condition is the most obvious test of the value of our codes of morals and methods of living."

It seems to be a rather general opinion among those whose work brings them into close contact with young women that the present-day wastage of their physical health increased alarmingly during the war period and perhaps is at the highest point at this time. Such an experienced observer as Miss Margaret Slattery believes that we are already on the road toward our more normal and natural "sanity" in these matters. Everyone agrees that the young women answered nobly to the call of their country, that they gave unsparingly of themselves. It is to be regretted however, that so many of our young women have failed to recognize the difference between giving wisely and giving foolishly.

We feel, therefore, that as women are demanding a "clean life" of men, it is only fair that the men in turn and in return should ask for a "sane life" for women. The wives and mothers are as important as the husbands and fathers of the race. We women do not want to be surpassed by the men in the matter of physical and moral health and well-being. We have a grave responsibility not only in helping our men meet the standards we have asked of them but in living ourselves so that they will not leave us far behind in their search for the best.

The Rainbow of $\Delta T \Delta$ gives a list of 96 chapters, belonging to eleven national fraternities, which have undertaken to cooperate with the surgeon-general of the United States in his campaign against venereal diseases. The special service of the fraternities consists chiefly in giving sex instruction to freshmen and in supporting movements to eliminate or minimize prostitution in college communities.—The Garnet and White.

Theta Delta Chi says editorially:

Resolved, That this convention of Theta Delta Chi commit itself to the recommendations of the President that liquor in any form be debarred from all charge houses and meeting places of Theta Delta Chi and that this resolution be strictly enforced by the proper charge officials.

By action of the 73rd Convention this resolution became part of the by-laws of our fraternity.

Theta Delta Chi has stated clearly and concisely its stand on the liquor question. The United States has prohibited liquor by constitutional amendment. But the liquor problem is far from solved in most of its practical phases.

We passed this resolution that the world might know just where we stand—and now that it has been passed it must be clearly understood by charges and graduates alike that the ruling must be enforced. There can be no deviation from the letter or the spirit of the resolution save at the risk of very serious penalty should such violation be reported to the Grand Lodge.

An ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure. We need such prevention as the resolution provides because public attitude changed on the liquor question the moment the 18th amendment became part of the law of the land. There is no longer the question of personal preferences—it is a question of keeping the law or breaking the law.

We must not play with fire, and playing with liquor is playing with the most deadly sort of fire under present conditions. A single violation by a single brother may bring great discredit not only upon his charge, but on the fraternity as a whole, and even the entire Greek-letter fraternity system.

The risk is too great. We must obey the law.

Our exchanges contain numerous reviews of the Ninth Edition of Baird's Manual of American College Fraternities, the first edition issued since the death of Mr. Baird which has been compiled and edited by James T. Brown. The ex-president of B Θ Π says of it:

William Raimond Baird has been dead exactly three years on the day these lines are written. And here in this Ninth Edition of Baird's Manual, prepared by his lifelong friend and fellow-worker in the field of Beta Theta Pi and general fraternity publication, James T. Brown, we have the proof that he has not died at all, and will never die, so far as his chosen sphere of fraternity activity is concerned. It is fortunate for his fame, and fortunate for the fraternity world, that in the long period of nearly forty years during which he was working up, working out, and working over his "American College Fraternities," Baird did succeed in so far perfecting the design, winnowing the material, and standardizing the make-up of that great work of reference that other hands—not any hands to be sure, but worthy hands—can now carry on the series of its successive editions, as they are made necessary by the growth of the fraternity system, in the way that he would have done that work himself if he had lived.

It is a very satisfactory reflection that the contemplation of this latest edition of "Baird" gives rise to—namely, that "American College Fraternities" has now reached, in its field, the permanent rank attained by Burke's Pezrago and Who's Who in their very different spheres.

The Carnation of Delta Sigma Phi writing on the same subject remarks:

It seems perfectly evident, if fraternities expand and multiply during the next decade at the same rate as the past decade the editor and publisher of Baird's will find that the present scope and format of the Manual must undergo a change. Essentially, Baird's Manual is a statistical record of fraternities and only accidentally a history. It contains an historical sketch of meagre proportions and lacks that precise analysis of the growth and significance of the system, as well as a well-defined background, which the interested fraternity worker seeks painfully in divers sources but never to complete satisfaction. Baird never aimed to write a "history" of the fraternity system. What he set out to do he accomplished. But his plan now seems wholly inadequate if it stands alone. If a mere statistical record is to be published periodically we shall soon have an encyclopedia, that will interest only the particular fraternity or the fraternity worker. If the present format is to be continued a compression of the material will be necessary and then a hullabaloo will go up from all fraternities that have thus suffered.

The system is nearly one hundred years old and it seems high time that our ambitious attempt be made to treat the subject in the true historical sense. The material in Baird's Manual could be rearranged and compressed to serve as a statistical supplement to such a history. When that is done, Baird's Manual will be rescued from a fate and indignity that it does not deserve—namely, being considered only as a "rush book for rushees."

The Carnation also says:

We notice, with some surprise, that Baird, usually hyper-sensitive to accurate details, perpetuates the error indulged in by the women's societies by referring to them as "fraternities." We cannot understand how a women's society can be anything but a "sorority." Still, we have noticed that many college men don't know the difference between "alumnus" and "alumna," which leads one to the conclusion that some day gender may lose its distinctions in both grammar and dress.

The best rejoinder to this declaration is found in a recent issue of The Lyre of Alpha Chi Omega.

THAT WORD "FRATERNITY"

Every once in a while we have revived again the old question—"Fraternity or sorority, which shall it be?"

There are numerous arguments, pro and con, of course. There always are on such a question. We have not had time to look up the subject during these strenuous days, but we rather imagine that there must have been some similar arguments long ago when they ceased giving the degree of "Mistress of English Literature," for example. That was the degree on mother's diploma from ——— Female College which used to adorn the walls of father's study beside his "Master of Science" sheepskin. The time may come when "Sorority" will seem just as quaint and old-fashioned.

How inconsistent it sounds to say: "The members of the sorority were held together by fraternal bonds"—"sororial" would be worse, and "sisterly" is as inappropriate as "brotherly." Why should we not be able to sign our letters "Fraternally yours" if we wish? There are no other adverbs or adjectives that express just the same idea, but how impossible for a "sorority" to use them! If we must say "fraternities and sororities" why not, "All men and women are created equal"? (That is very feministically presupposing that all men and women are created equal.) Why is it that "the brothers" willingly include us under such a general term, but upon occasion insist that we of the opposite sex must always be definitely distinguished? "Tell it not in Gath," but we rather imagine it is because they are afraid of us. Certainly no comparison of men's and women's fraternities can be wholly to the detriment of the latter.

Femininely, we are going to tell you a secret. If you read this magazine very carefully, you will find a number of occasions when "sorority" is used; we tried to edit them all out—some we missed probably and some we admit seemed to call for no other word. We have no objections to being called alumni upon some occasion and alumnae upon others; similarly, there are times when "sorority" seems better. But we do insist that "fraternity" is the broader term and as such is all-inclusive.

CUBAN PROFESSORSHIP FOR CORNELL UNIVERSITY

A Cuban professorship will be established at Cornell University, it is announced by the Cornell Endowment Committee as a result of a movement headed by President Menocal, of Cuba, who graduated from Cornell in 1888. The eighty-six Cornell graduates living in Cuba already have obtained pledges amounting to $125,000 with which to endow the chair, according to the announcement. More than twenty sons of Cuban families are now attending the university.—Alpha Phi Quarterly.

According to a newspaper clipping:

Frederick A. Elsey, editor of the Wesleyan Argus, has computed that a student at Wesleyan dances 180 miles on an average every year of his college course. This would mean a total of 90,000 miles a year for the entire college body, or about one-third of the distance to the moon.

Writing of the new responsibilities which have come to women with the vote Alpha Xi Delta says:

Just what can Alpha Xi Delta do? We have at present twenty-eight chapters with over twenty-five hundred members scattered in every part of the United States. What an influence such a number of women should have! We can all become interested in and think seriously about the working of our government. We can learn for what offices we must choose men or women, know the duties connected with the office, and thus be able to place competent people in the positions. We can lead others to see the greatness of their new privilege and help them to become intelligent voters. In our college life we are prone to forget the outside world, to think only of college affairs. During our college course is the best time for this preparation to be active, thoughtful citizens. The idea is fast dying out that politics is the realm of man alone—a forbidden shrine where women may not enter. Our country is now passing through a very strategic time in her career. The next twenty years will continue to present trying problems. The voters of the nation must solve these problems, some of them personally and others through the officials whom they elect. We as a fraternity ought to keep abreast with conditions so that when our opportunity comes we may use it aright. We should not confine this to our own circle but should call the attention of other fraternities to the opportunity. Then, too, each girl has a group of friends outside of Alpha Xi—friends in college and at home. She can spread the interest to these. Think how our influence may in this way spread and spread as a wave until its force be felt from Maine to California and from Washington to Florida.

Anchora of Delta Gamma has an interesting article dealing with The League of Women Voters. The writer says:

Are the women going to be an alert body or are they going to be a mass of voters propelled by certain party leaders? That is something which must be decided by the individual woman. But, as an aid to her will be a good citizen and her study of how to achieve that end, the League of Women Voters has been organized, a fitting and broad successor to the Suffrage movement.

The college woman of today takes political science as a matter of course, but until recent years her interest in such subjects was a rarity. The older generation of college women and the great numbers of women who have never had the opportunity for such study have received literally no instruction along such lines. The actual forms of government, the construction of the different departments, legislative, judicial, executive, their various duties, the relations between federal, state, and local governments, the theories back of such innovations as the commission form of government—all these are as Greek to her. Nor has she ever been given plain facts, the unvarnished truth whereon to make her judgments on such matters as the struggle between capital and labor, public ownership of utilities, and other pressing problems of the age. An organization that will help her turn her own group of friends into a study club and then provide a competent instructor must, it can readily be seen, fill a big need. And that is what the League hopes to do. Its aim is to enlist every woman in its ranks, doing all possible for its members.

It also hopes to do active work along such lines as the bettering of hours of labor for women and children, improving the conditions of labor, urging on public health work, improving educational systems and so on. But for the present at least, these shall be secondary considerations. The great task of reaching and teaching every woman so that she may come to know what she actually wants and how she can profitably employ her talents, is the big thing now, the first and by all odds the most important step, for in the last analysis, a successful democracy must rest upon an enlightened, alert, aggressive, and progressive citizenry.

The following extract from the latest issue of Delta of Sigma Nu is a healthful sign of the times.

Lawrence, Karr, April 19.—The death knell of elaborate fraternity and sorority parties at the University of Kansas was sounded at a meeting of the Panhellenic council of the men's fraternities, when a ruling was passed forbidding flowers, favors and expensive decorations at social affairs. Definite minimum expense accounts for parties were also decided upon.—Clipping sent in by Inspector Grant W. Harrington.

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae, organized in Boston in 1882, now comprises graduates from eighty colleges and universities. Before it was decided to establish a national clubhouse in Washington, there were branches of the association in all parts of the country, with a constituency of many thousand members. The number of college graduates in the country is estimated at 500,000, and efforts are to be made to draw as many of these as are eligible into the A. C. A.—From The New York Times through Alpha Phi Quarterly.

Says Anchora of Delta Gamma:

The Washington Headquarters of the A. C. A. have been opened in order to extend the power and influence of the Association, and to be a benefit to college women by providing an attractive and convenient center for our own and foreign women graduates.

In addition to its sixteen bedrooms, the house contains reception and dining-rooms, a library and offices and two enclosed and heated verandas. The club is open to all A. C. A. members; the dues for non-resident members, in addition to the association dues, are five dollars a year. Each non-resident member is asked to pledge a continuance of her support for three years, in order that the club may be placed on a permanent basis. Members of the Washington Branch of the A. C. A. are eligible to resident membership. Active membership in the Washington Branch is open to women holding degrees from the colleges on the list accredited by the A. C. A. The dues for resident membership are ten dollars a year, plus the regular Association and branch dues. All members, resident and non-resident, who join before June 1, 1920, may become members without payment of the initiation fee.

Charges for accommodations are at a reasonable figure, and members and a limited number of their guests can be provided for at specific rates.

Application blanks and further information regarding membership may be obtained from the secretary of the Washington Branch, Miss Stella Clemence, The Northumberland.

The clubhouse is located at 1607 H Street N. W., on Lafayette Square in a most desirable and interesting location. For those who expect to be in Washington occasionally non-resident membership in this national club will be desirable, for those who are interested in the advancement of the work of the A. C. A. among college and university women an opportunity is offered to assist by becoming non-resident members.

The complete furnishing of the clubhouse is being cared for in various ways such as by memorial gifts, by the creation of funds to be raised by branch associations, and by donation on the part of persons interested in the project.

The exchange department of The Eleusis of Chi Omega clips these paragraphs from reports of N. P. C. delegates to Washington published in other journals:

Mrs. Collins' opinion is that opposition to fraternities is greater now than at any former time but that the fraternities are in a better position to meet such opposition. She emphasized the need of proving the value of the small organized groups, of which the fraternities were representatives of the best type. In order to effect this it was recommended that the fraternities be careful to choose as officers women who have knowledge of fundamental conditions and who would be influential in impressing upon their groups the need for accomplishments not selfishly directed toward their own ends exclusively but toward the general good as well.

Another of the round table sessions was devoted to the discussion of vocations for women. Dr. Hopkins, the national president of Zeta Tau Alpha, recently returned from France, led this discussion and emphasized the fact that the fraternity world which had responded so magnificently in the time of war should be awake to the opportunities of the present day and should prepare its women for service. Dr.

Hopkins said: "Education was originally for monks. The greater percentage of our educational institutions are educating people to be monks. When a woman finishes college she is seldom prepared for life and yet when we define education broadly we claim that it does prepare for life." She also feels that many of our colleges commit wholesale murder in that they try to make over minds, rather than allow them to create and develop according to their natural inclinations.

The University of Kentucky will give a site to every fraternity wishing to build a home, eventually establishing a permanent fraternity row.—Banta's Greek Exchange.

Boston University announces the establishment of a branch college at Havana, Cuba, where all the regular courses and degrees will be offered. This is perhaps the first time such a step has been taken by an American educational institution.

A recent pamphlet, a Directory of Foreign Students in the U. S., discloses some interesting facts. The largest number of foreign students is to be found at Columbia. Harvard has 200, Illinois 184. China outnumbers Japan, and both nations send large contingents to Columbia.

The death of Walter B. Palmer, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, has brought forth almost as much egotistic comment as did the passing of Mr. Baird, $B \Theta II$, three years previous. From many tributes to this splendid man, THE ARROW selects two:

Walter B. Palmer was a whole-souled, unselfish, splendid man. His work for $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ was a factor in making it the great college fraternity it is. He labored for it with a love unceasing and a devotion that was full of sacrifice. He put aside material gain that he might serve his brothers. His name ought to go down the years as one of the benefactors of his fraternity. There are other fraternities beside $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ that owe a tribute to Walter B. Palmer. He did good for the entire Greek cause, and $\Sigma \Lambda E$ is indebted to him as well as many other fraternities. He was generous in his attitude to all Greeks. His fraternal philanthropy spread afar. He was an anchor of wisdom and a shield of defense.—William C. Levere, Eminent Supreme Recorder, $\Sigma \Lambda E$.

In the death of this experienced, far-seeing and really big man in fraternity history, development and constructive work, every fraternity is a mourner and it is only in small part of their appreciation that they can tender to the members of his own fraternity a deep sympathy in their great loss. But $\Delta \epsilon \tau \alpha$ Tau Delta would like to offer to Phi Delta Theta its kindred sorrow and regret at the passing of such a stalwart exponent of fraternalism. His services for his own fraternity, and for all fraternities through the Interfraternity Conference, will probably be fittingly told.

But we can not refrain from recording some of our more personal impressions of a man who, during the past ten years, has been a close personal friend and co-worker for all that would benefit the fraternity system in general. He never could forget that he was a gentleman—of the old-time southern type. He might disagree or differ—but it was always as a gentleman would. Besides editing three of its catalogs, he was for many of those reconstruction years of the Seventies the editor of his own fraternity's magazine. In this capacity he had his friendly tilts with the different editors of The Rainbow. But at a time when throwing bricks at rivals (we prefer to call them brother fraternities these days) was a popular sport, Walter Palmer was the exception as a dispassionate, even if not always correct, critic. He wanted to get at the truth of things, but he neither wanted to dig dirt nor throw mud. In these days such an eulogy seems unnecessary, but if one went back over the exchange department of some of the earlier files of our own magazine he would realize how different the procedure of older days was.

The entire fraternity world has sustained a great loss in the passing on of Walter Palmer. Besides his wonderful store of fraternity information, his calm analysis and appreciation of fraternity problems and his readiness to give of either, he was, above all,

"To his friends a prince among men."

—Frank Rogers, Editor of The Rainbow of $\Delta T \Delta$.

Princeton University announces the inauguration of a plan to share its intellectual and spiritual life and growth with its alumni by distributing to them a series of lectures by members of the Princeton faculty.

The plan of the Princeton University authorities is to have stenographic reports made of these lectures delivered during the year to the undergraduates embodying new ideas or the results of recent research having direct relationship with current events and to distribute them at frequent intervals in printed form to Princeton alumni. These printed lectures will be accompanied by a short bibliography to guide the alumni in their reading and to indicate the more important recent books which could profitably be read as shedding further light on the subject matter of the lecture.—The Carnation of Delta Sigma Phi.

WISCONSIN'S CHAIR OF AMERICANIZATION

The first American University to establish a separate department of Americanization is the University of Wisconsin. The purpose of the new project is the development of a concrete and practical policy for the teaching of citizenship. The schools of the State of Wisconsin will be used in carrying this policy into effect.

A special training course has already been established for the instruction of students who are to deal with foreign-born peoples in America. Three of the specific plans already outlined are (1) naturalization of aliens in the State; (2) a training course for teachers of immigrants, and (3) instruction in the parochial and private schools, some of which have hitherto used foreign languages to a large extent. All available agencies will be used to make the scope of the work statewide. The help of the public schools, vocational schools, and the Y. M. C. A., as well as the university extension service, will be called in to reach every community, urban and rural.—Cheyenne Leader.—Through The Scroll of Phi Delta Theta.

NEW UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII

Plans for a new college of arts and sciences, which will grant the degree of bachelor of arts, and which will give a general four-year college course, are made known in the first public announcement concerning the newly-created University of Hawaii, formerly the College of Hawaii. The present college will, after the university charter becomes effective on July 1, 1920, be known as the College of Applied Science.

Plans have been announced for the establishment in the city of Panama of a Pan-American college of commerce for the training of young men of the two American continents for the foreign field of business. Under these plans the diplomatic representative in Washington of each Latin American country would be a member of the board of control. President Porras of Panama has ordered a portion of the main building of the National Institute in the city of Panama be set aside temporarily for the college. For permanent use he has set aside a tract of land.—Scroll of Phi Delta Theta.
