ANNOUNCEMENTS

ALUMNAE SECRETARIES should read the March BULLETIN carefully and should send their annual reports in on the form mailed to them with the BULLETIN.

ANY SECRETARY failing to receive THE ARROW Handbook for Corresponding Secretaries should notify THE ARROW Editor at once and a duplicate copy will be sent.

GRACE PARKER McPHERSON (Mrs. Orville S. McPherson), El Camino Apts., 805 Leavenworth St., San Francisco, Calif., a member of Arizona A, has been appointed Kappa Province President to succeed Mrs. P. M. Young, resigned.

AMY B. ONKEN, Chapin, Ill., is now Pi Beta Phi's official National Panhellenic representative.

THE EASIEST WAY to make money for the Settlement School is to subscribe for magazines through the Pi Beta Phi Magazine Agency, Blanche G. Reisinger, 6 Northfield Place, Baltimore, Maryland.

EUROPE 1926

Sarah Pomeroy Rugg, (Mrs. F. A.) former ARROW Editor, is again scheduled to lead a European party. She sails from New York on June 26 and returns to the same port on September 3, after visiting England, Holland, Germany, France, Switzerland and Italy. The price is $829. Variations of itinerary and price are provided for those sailing at a later date and joining the main party on the Continent. If the dates, price and general plan of this trip appeal to you, send for a detailed itinerary to Mrs. F. A. Rugg, 33 Fayette St., Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Rugg is also receiving bookings for "A Culinary Tour to Europe," a unique project sponsored by Miss Alice Bradley, Principal of Miss Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor of the Woman's Home Companion. This tour will appeal to teachers and students of domestic science. Write Mrs. Rugg for detailed folder.—Adv.

MENTOR TOUR TO EUROPE, 1926

Doris Oesting, Arizona A, who is on the faculty of the South Dakota School of Mines, will lead a special group Mentor Student Tour to Europe this summer sailing from New York, July 3 on the Steamer "Republic", visiting England, Holland, Belgium, The Rhine, Switzerland, Italian Lakes, Italy (including Naples), Riviera and France. The price of the tour of 58 days is $595 and for 64 days, $615.

Miss Oesting will be assisted by a professor from the University of Wisconsin who will do the lecturing on the sea.

Mentor Student Tours, inaugurated last season, making use of economical ocean passage and moderate priced hotel accommodations in Europe in connection with Mentor service proved a winning combination. Members of the Student Tours who had hesitated in enrolling for fear the low rates would necessitate using uncomfortable travel accommodations returned from the trip with enthusiastic endorsement of the new way of seeing Europe.

For information write: Doris Choate Oesting, Department of Modern Languages, South Dakota State School of Mines, Rapid City, South Dakota.—Adv.

THE PRIZE offered by the Settlement School Committee last spring for the best design for a trademark to be used on Little Pigeon products has been awarded to Alice Wright, Wyoming A pledge.

NAN BROWNING PAYNE (Mrs. Frederic W.), 22 Bridge Road, Berkeley, Calif., has been appointed Kappa Province Vice President. Mrs. Payne is a member of Columbia A and California B.

THE ARROW

VOLUME XXXXII

HONOR GRADUATES, 1925

By MARION WILDER, Chairman of Committee on Scholarship

A GAIN we introduce to the readers of THE ARROW the Pi Beta Phi seniors who have ended their college careers with girls of particular achievement. Eunice Webster of Illinois Z graduated at twenty among the superior students of one of our largest universities. Lucile Welch of the same chapter ranks in the highest three per cent of the junior class. Helen Christy and Dorothy Drake of Illinois Δ have enviable records in journalism and athletics besides their fine scholarship. Elizabeth Boyd of Oklahoma B has also been one of the campus beauties for two years. Alice Simmons of Illinois B maintained a straight A record for four years, and Catherine Carpenter was the only student at Simpson College to have a straight E record last year.

Two of Nevada Alpha's graduates are worthy of special mention: Leota Maestrette, an honor student for three years who graduated before she was seventeen and completed her college course in three years; and Alice Norcross, who won a gold medal for having the highest standing in her class for four years besides having won an English scholarship of $300 in her junior year.

Alice Williams of Columbia A, has just received a silver cup presented annually by Kappa Delta to the freshman woman of the university who attains the highest average during the college year.

In the report following besides ΦBK, ΦKΦ, and general honors, mention is made of the national professional fraternities, which indicate excellence in a particular field, of local scholarship organizations with requirements similar to those of ΦBK, and of Mortar Board, which indicates an all-around type of girl. Though this list is probably incomplete, still it is gratifying.

INTERNAL DEVELOPMENT OF CHAPTER

CONTRIBUTION TO THE CONVENTION ROUND TABLE

By EMILIE ENGELBACH, Colorado B Delegate

JUSTIFYING OUR EXISTENCE

IN this age of efficiency all persons or institutions that are not productive, that is that do not make a significant contribution to society, are quickly destroyed and discarded and no amount of sentimentality or rich tradition will suffice to preserve its existence. Therefore as Pi Beta Phi's perpetuity is uppermost in all our minds, we must examine into its right to exist as a vital and permanent institution in our colleges and universities.

Are we dependable as individuals and as a group?

Before we can be truly dependable as a group it is necessary that every individual Pi Phi be absolutely dependable. Unfortunately a chapter is likely to be judged on the basis of its weakest members. This is the case because the unusual attracts and holds the attention, and surely we may say without exaggeration that the weak members of any chapter compose a minority and therefore stand out.

It is frequently true that a few strong girls will attempt to carry the whole responsibility for the dependability of the group on their own shoulders. But this is not a firmly grounded policy, for it is unfair both to the girl who is forced to do more than her share and to the girl who is encouraged to assume a constantly decreasing amount of responsibility.

EMILIE ENGELBACH,

Dependability must first be developed and demanded in the chapter reciprocally among its members. The work of the least important committee must be executed as unfailingly as the work of the officers. No chapter can either establish or sustain itself as a dependable unit in its university and province unless its dependability within is absolutely inviolate.

If a chapter may be depended upon by its university to fulfill certain scholastic and social requirements or to execute unfailingly and to the best of its ability any function that may be asked of it, that chapter will become an invaluable institution in its college and will no longer have to struggle for existence. Its perpetuity will be assured, for it will be making a distinct contribution toward the maintaining of the integrity of the university.

The right to exist is never questioned where non-existence would impair the highest value in life.

CHAPTER'S PLACE IN COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

It is becoming increasingly evident that it is through a student's extra-curricular activities that she receives her training for the vocation of living. And as we, as Pi Beta Phi, strive to live the life abundant that we may give to others of our clearer light, we are obligated to be true to our greater opportunity by gaining and giving as much experience as is compatible with our positions as earnest college women.

In the larger sense we cannot be really true to the best interests of our university and not support activities for it is these that largely establish its reputation, and our first responsibility, we must never forget, is to our home institution.

Then, in the case of the individual girl, activities not only develop latent talents and enable one to curb undesirable tendencies, but they also bring us to a fuller appreciation of the splendid character values in our fellow students that we so frequently know only as class acquaintances. Many of the most cherished friendships grow out of a community of interests in college activities.

Also the chapter itself is made much more vital and strong in every way by the contributions its members bring from campus activities. A Pi Beta Phi chapter should be the altar upon which the best gifts of every activity should be devotedly dedicated.

PI PHI DEMOCRACY

We hear a great deal about "democracy" on all our campuses today, but I wonder if many of us do not unconsciously adopt a superficial type of democracy. The "hello-on-the-campus" type that is essentially static and never develops further. To me this is a most insidious type of democracy, it is like putting a starving man behind bars and setting a lavish table just beyond. And too, we are not only hurting others but are often depriving ourselves of the richest friendships and thus stunting personality development.

The best way to overcome this is, not only to enter wholeheartedly into activities, but to seek to have confidences reciprocally with others; never to withhold anything that we may give to help another to the higher places, and never refuse anything that another offers that may help her to feel her value to us as a true friend.

It is only as we, as individuals and chapters of Pi Beta Phi strive ever to raise the standards of our university or college and stand as dependable representatives of these that we have a right to exist and sustain.

And when we do this and so become bearers of a light whose extinction would bring darkness, we will no longer have to justify our existence, it will be neither questioned nor challenged.

NATIONAL OFFICERS

SARA EIKENBERRY SIGLER, National Historian

Sara Eikenberry Sigler, Iowa B, now in her third term as National Historian, has always been intensely interested in Pi Beta Phi and expresses her devotion not only by serving in a national capacity, but also in giving a great deal of her time and service to Iowa B at Indianola, Iowa.

SARA EIKENBERRY SIGLER
National Historian

Mrs. Sigler was born in Chariton, Iowa, and received her early education there, being graduated from the high school in 1890. In the autumn of 1891 she entered Simpson College, where she was initiated into Pi Beta Phi. While in college, in addition to participating in college literary societies she gave particular attention to the Y. W. C. A.

In 1895 she was married to Frederick Carl Sigler of Corning, Iowa, a classmate. For many years they have lived in Indianola, where Mr. Sigler is a member of the Board of Trustees of the college.

Mrs. Sigler has frequently served as chaperon for the Ladies' Glee Club, has a large Sunday School class of college girls, is an active worker in the Y. W. C. A. and an adviser for Iowa B.

In previous issues of The Arrow special attention has been called to the "Town Mother" idea originated by Mrs. Sigler. According to the plan, town women of Indianola apply to the dean of women for a "daughter," to whom is extended the hospitality of the home. The "town mother" custom is now one of the most distinctive and cherished traditions of Simpson College. Among Mrs. Sigler's "daughters" have been a Burmese girl, now in Rangoon; a German girl, now a fine and useful woman; a number of interesting American Girls; and a dainty Japanese girl.

Mrs. Sigler's own daughter, Helen Elizabeth (Mrs. G. C. Carpenter, Jr.), attended Swarthmore and is a member of Pennsylvania A.

At present Mrs. Sigler is much interested in Garden Club work and has been appointed to the State Garden committee of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Sigler became Province President of Zeta Province in 1918 and carried into her work the same enthusiasm and interest which she has since displayed in her work as National Historian. Due to her efforts original charters of chapters have been duplicated and placed on file in the historian's archives.

At national conventions, Sara Eikenberry Sigler spends spare moments in interviewing our Founders and in making permanent records of first hand information concerning the early history of Pi Beta Phi. She is ever alert to serve the fraternity and to preserve all documents, pictures and information pertaining to it.

MABEL SCOTT BROWN, Cataloguer

Surrounded by tier upon tier of card indexes, dictating innumerable letters, sending out hundreds of packages of supplies, is all in the day's work of Mabel Scott Brown, Columbia A, who was re-elected National Cataloguer at the Bigwin Inn Convention last June.

In addition to her duties as Cataloguer, Mrs. Brown agreed to direct the work of the Records and Supply Office which is being tried out for the first time this year. Such supervision demands her constant attention and requires long hours of strenuous work, but Mabel Scott Brown has the capacity for accomplishing things in the most efficient way and no better person could have been found in the fraternity to undertake this new work.

MABEL SCOTT BROWN

She was initiated into Maryland A in the spring of 1904 and in the fall of 1905 was transferred to Columbia A, graduating in 1907 from George Washington University with the degree of A. B. She also received the degree of A. M. in 1914. At George Washington University she helped organize and was the first president of the Y. W. C. A. She was active in senior dramatics and public speaking, winning the first Davis Prize in 1907, and was assistant in the college library for a year.

As president of the Washington Alumnae Club, 1916-17-18, Mrs. Brown made a wide acquaintance of Pi Phi war workers temporarily in Washington.

Innumerable Pi Phi friendships have also been formed in her attendance at four national Conventions, and during her residence in Wilkesburg, Penn., where she gave unlimited time to Pennsylvania Δ.

As Chapter Letter Editor of THE ARROW, Mrs. Brown did excellent work and was released with reluctance in order that she might assume the bigger work of Cataloguer.

Immediately after graduation Mabel Scott did clerical work in the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory and the first Immigration Commission in Washington. Later she taught English and German for three years in Parkersburg, West Virginia, and English and Journalism for five years in Washington, D. C., resigning to go abroad.

In 1918 she was sent overseas by the American Red Cross as a war worker and became director of a canteen at St. Briec, near Brest, where a million men were fed. In 1919 she was sent to Coblenz, Germany to open and become director of the A. R. C. with the American Forces in Germany and while there was one of the founders of the Coblenz Panhellenic club.

She was married on June 19, 1920 to Robson D. Brown, ΣΦΕ, George Washington University, 1907. They now make their home at 60 Woodrow St., West Hartford, Conn.

EMILIE MARGARET WHITE
Assistant to Grand Vice President

At the Bigwin Inn Convention, a new position was created by the fraternity, that of Assistant to the Grand Vice President.

Emilie Margaret White, who has served so efficiently as Gamma Province Vice President was unanimously chosen to fill that position.

"Peggy White" as she is known to the alumnae club of Washington and to many of her friends, is a native Washingtonian with strong Vermont traditions and affiliations.

After graduating from the city high school she matriculated at George Washington University and was initiated into Columbia A in the fall of 1904. She received the degree of A.B. (with distinction) in 1907, being one of few persons able to complete a four-year college course in three years. In 1910 she received the degree of A.M. Her college work has been supplemented by two trips to Europe for the purpose of study.

EMILIE MARGARET WHITE

Soon after graduation, Miss White received by competitive examination a teaching position in the Central High School of Washington, D. C. In 1922, she was promoted, after examination, to "Group B," the upper salary group, in that institution, where she teaches Latin and German.

As Miss White's mother is a teacher of singing, and since Miss White sings, they do a great deal of musical work together.

Music with Emilie Margaret White is an avocation and for fourteen years she was organist of the P. E. Church of the Incarnation, a position which she resigned in 1923.

Pi Beta Phi has no more enthusiastic and loyal supporter than Emilie Margaret White as adjudged by those who worked with her when she was president of her chapter, president of the Washington alumnae club, and alumnae delegate to the past three Conventions. Miss White gave splendid assistance during the recent Eastern Conference.

With keen interest in the affairs of the alumnae department, Miss White assumed her duties as Assistant to the Grand Vice President and has been contributing valuable advice and a great deal of time to the new work.

OFFICIAL PI PHI HANDKERCHIEFS

The Little Rock Alumnae Club announces that it is ready to receive orders for the official Pi Beta Phi handkerchief attractively designed and monogrammed in the fraternity colors. The price is 75c. Please mail orders to Kathleen Williams, 1905 Battery Street, Little Rock, Arkansas. Samples will be sent to alumnae clubs and chapters desiring to place orders.

PROVINCE OFFICERS

ALPHA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Vida Hampt Peene, elected Alpha Province President at the Bigwin Inn Convention, was born in Hamilton, Ontario, and her early education was obtained in that city followed by two years of school abroad, at Calcote Towers, Hertfordshire, England and at Freidheim, Bonn, Germany. Having completed her matriculation in October, 1915, she entered the Modern Language Course in the University of Toronto, where she was initiated into Ontario A on February 8, 1917.

While at college her executive ability and capacity for administration were recognized and appreciated. She was repeatedly elected a member of the Students' Council of Queen's Hall, the women's residence and in her senior year was acting president of the Student Government, as well as chapter president. She also held offices in the Women's Undergraduate Association and Modern Language Club; was a member of the Dramatic Club; chapter secretary, and in her junior year, president of her class.

After her graduation in June 1919, Vida joined her family in Miami, Florida, where they had removed from Hamilton, but returned in October 1921 to reenter the University of Toronto in a Household Science course. During the two years of this course she was secretary of the Toronto Alumnae Club and a member of the Advisory Board.

VIDA PEENE
Ontario A

Ever since entering college Vida has pursued, though intermittently, the study of music, especially vocal. She has appeared in recitals several times in Toronto and during the past winter was soloist in the Coral Gables Congregational Church.

The last two winters she has spent traveling or in Florida, returning to spend each summer with her many friends in Ontario. Ontario Alphas gave her a doubly warm welcome last June when she arrived just in time to take charge of the business end of Convention Administration. As "keeper of the files" and general "checker-up" she was an invaluable member of the Convention Committee and those of us who have worked with her in this and other undertakings realize that her new office of Alpha Province President will be well and capably filled.

MARIE PETERKIN WILLIAMSON

BETA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Beta Province welcomes as its new president, Marie Winsor Stebbins (Mrs. Stowell C.), Michigan B. Since Mrs. Stebbins was away on a chapter visiting trip when the request for information arrived from THE ARROW

Editor, her husband, Stowell C. Stebbins, with the true realization of Pi Phi "cooperation," sent the following:

It was October, 1902 that Mrs. Stebbins was initiated into the Michigan B chapter of Pi Beta Phi and in her junior year that she wrote the Pi Beta Phi Anthem—as she says, "By request of the seniors." That the "Anthem" is today the recognized Fraternity song of Pi Beta Phi is a tribute to the accepted practice of seniors to develop the latent talents of their underclassmen. And active, too, was this "Marie Winsor," being elected president of the senior class, a charter member of Mortar Board and other college organizations, and voted the most popular woman student at the university. For four year she starred on the champion basketball team and sang in the Glee Club. She graduated from the University of Michigan with the class of 1906 nearly four years after she had looked approvingly upon the "wine and silver blue."

MARIE WINSOR STEBBINS

Next came the schoolmarm guiding the adolescent mind in the paths of rectitude, first in Marshall, Mich., then Grand Haven, Lansing, and Kalamazoo, until her marriage in June 1913 to Stowell C. Stebbins. Lansing claimed Mrs. Stebbins until the close of the war when her "family" moved to New York City.

Quick to discern her personal charm and unusual qualities of leadership the New York clubs with which she immediately became affiliated elected her president: first, the University of Michigan alumnae club of New York City for a term of two years; and later, the Pi Beta Phi alumnae club of New York City, from which position she resigned in the fall of 1924 to enjoy a well-earned four months European trip.

Since the Spring of 1925, Mrs. Stebbins has been living in Pittsburgh, Pa., and was recently appointed Beta Province President.

Aside from her work at Ann Arbor, Mrs. Stebbins attended summer school at Harvard in 1911 and at Columbia University in 1921.

If selfishness had a monetary value, Mrs. Stebbins would be as poor as the proverbial church mouse. She gives unstintingly of her energy and time to her friends, organizations and family. She wears the arrow because it means something to her and treasures it more and more as her fraternity activities enrich its setting.

And think of it—this is written by her severest critic—her husband. If this be treason, make the most of it.

S. C. S.

GAMMA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Marian Le Grand Gilmer, Gamma Province President, was pledged in the fall of 1921 to Virginia A of Pi Beta Phi, at Randolph Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va., and was initiated the following Spring. She has always been very interested in fraternity life.

During her junior year at college Marian was secretary of her chapter and was sent as its delegate to the Estes Park Convention, where she presented the petition of Beta Alpha Phi, now North Carolina A.

In her senior year, Miss Gilmer was president of her chapter and assisted in the installation of North Carolina A at Chapel Hill.

Marian Gilmer was born in Greensboro, North Carolina and with the exception of about five years has lived there all of her life. She attended the Greensboro High School where she was editor-in-chief of the Sage, the school publication.

When sixteen years of age, she graduated from high school and entered Randolph Macon Woman's College from which she received her A.B. degree in 1924. While in college she held various offices and participated in all phases of college life. She was twice elected by popular vote to the May Day Court, an honor which is awarded only to those possessing ability, beauty and popularity.

After finishing college, Marian Gilmer taught English for a year in the Pomona High School at Greensboro to which position she was re-elected. In addition to that she received several offers of attractive teaching positions in splendid schools, but her interest was focused upon library work.

Accordingly she gave up her teaching and went to New York City to study library work. Although out of the province temporarily, she will carry on her work as Province President, taking a leave of absence in order to make chapter visits in the South this winter.

DELTA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Lois Wilkinson Christian (Mrs. Palmer), assumed the duties of Delta Province President with a viewpoint broadened by contact with chapters and alumnae in various parts of the United States.

LOIS CHRISTIAN
Maryland A and Wisconsin A

She was born in Illinois and attended Goucher College at Baltimore, Maryland, where she became a member of Maryland A in 1908. Later she attended the University of Wisconsin and affiliated with Wisconsin A.

In 1911 Lois Wilkinson married Palmer Christian and went to Chicago to live. While there she was a member of the Chicago Alumnae Club.

Later, during a short residence in the West, she enjoyed membership in the Denver Alumnae Club and then moved to Ann Arbor, Michigan.

In Ann Arbor, Mrs. Christian has been a very interested member of the alumnae club, serving as its secretary and is at present a member of the Advisory Board of Michigan B. She is also an active member of the Y. W. C. A. Advisory Board.

Her husband, Palmer Christian, is the university organist at the University of Michigan and last year was selected to represent the United States in an organ recital in New York City in which only one organist from each of many countries played.

"Being the wife of a musician," writes Mrs. Christian, "I have been able to study music for years and have also found time to attend Art School where I have made an intensive study of interior decorating. Living in Ann Arbor has given me the opportunity to come in contact with Michigan B, an experience that has been one of the most delightful in my life. It has made me desire always to be near an active chapter."

Mrs. Christian attended the convention at Bigwin Inn and was there elected Delta Province President. She has a personality that wins the confidence of the active girls and she will be able to accomplish much for Pi Beta Phi.

EPSILON PROVINCE PRESIDENT

By her splendid work with college girls as president of the Woman's Self Government Association on Northwestern University campus and as secretary to the Personnel Director at that university, Margaretta Elizabeth Fenn, new Epsilon Province President, gained a valuable viewpoint for her new work.

Margaretta Fenn graduated from Kemper Hall academy at Kenosha, Wis., and attended Smith College her freshman year. She was initiated into Illinois Epsilon in 1920 and served as president of the chapter in her senior year, receiving her A. B. degree from Northwestern in 1922.

It was largely through Margaretta's efforts that Mortar Board, honorary society, was installed at Northwestern and she became one of its most active members. While acting as president of W. S. G. A. she instituted the "no-date ruling" for girls which set aside certain nights in the week for the girls of the university to get together for their own affairs. No less active were Margaretta's first two years at Northwestern; as chairman of the University's County Fair committee, she made that affair the most successful it had ever been. She was a member of the Woman's Athletic Association and Campus Players and also served on the Student Council and local Panhellenic council for two years. Besides all of those activities Margaretta received scholarship honors and was judged the most beautiful girl at Northwestern.

Since graduation Margaretta Fenn has acted as secretary to Louis Hopkins, Personnel Director of the University, for two years. While in that work she interviewed many girls to aid them in their future careers.

MILDRED KINNEY SCHROEDER

ZETA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Gail De Wolf, Zeta Province President, brings to her work the enthusiasm of one just out of college and yet from her experience as a graduate assistant and chaperon at the Girls' Dormitory at Iowa State University, has gained a mature viewpoint.

Gail was educated in the Spencer, Iowa schools, graduating from the high school in 1919 as valedictorian of her class with an unparalleled record in that institution of an average of 98 $\frac{3}{4}$ for four years.

The following fall she entered Iowa State University where she was pledged to Pi Beta Phi and initiated into Iowa Z the following spring. After her sophomore year she held the position of principal in the Consolidated School at Greenville, Iowa as a teacher of Latin and Mathematics. She then returned to the university and completed her course with a B. A. degree in 1924, having majored in Economics.

Her college activities included Freshman Commission, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, Lake Geneva Conference, 1923, Erodelphian Literary society, Panhellenic Council, W. A. A., etc. In her senior year she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and gave the toast at the Phi Beta Kappa banquet in behalf of the new initiates, a piece of work for which she received high praise. She is also a member of P E O.

In the fraternity, Gail held various offices, culminating in her election as delegate to the Estes Park Convention and president of the chapter during her senior year at which time Iowa Z made final plans for the new home which was built the next year.

Following graduation, she received the appointment as graduate assistant in the Sociology Department of Iowa University where she taught part time and did some work towards a Master's Degree. At the same time she was assistant chaperon at the Girls' Dormitory, Currier Hall, and served on the alumnae advisory board of Iowa Z.

Her outstanding accomplishment during that year was a speech given before workers for the Iowa Memorial Union, a body of some 400 students, at a banquet at which Chief Justice Faville of Iowa, and Gordon Locke, football captain, were speakers.

During the past summer Gail De Wolf continued her work on her M. A. and this year is teaching Social Science in the Junior College at Burlington, Iowa. She also conducts classes in a night Americanization school for foreigners.

ETA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Leona Baumgartner, Eta Province President, is the daughter of a college professor and although born at Chicago, Ill., in 1902, has obtained her education in Kansas. She attended public schools at Lawrence, Kansas and received her A. B. degree in 1923 and her A.M. degree in 1925 from the University of Kansas.

She was pledged to Kansas A in January 1919 as soon as possible after enrollment in the university and from that time on has been actively interested in all phases of fraternity work. In addition to other chapter offices she was president of the chapter and Convention delegate to the Charlevoix Convention in 1921.

Leona Baumgartner's college activities were many including Y. W. C. A. cabinet, president of the House Presidents' Council, Student Government Council, Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, Sigma Xi, Phi Sigma and A. A. U. W. In college her hobby was dramatics and she had the leads in dramatic club plays and most ably managed the K. U. Follies.

For sometime she has devoted herself to research work and concentrated in the spring of 1925 upon the subject of scarlet fever susceptibility in American Indians. At present she has three papers ready to be published by the Journal of Immunology.

This year she is teaching at the Junior College, Kansas City, Missouri.

As president of Eta Province she says that she feels that "Pi Phis with sincere and earnest effort and enthusiasm can do anything."

THETA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Mattie B. Craig Francis (Mrs. D. G.), newly appointed Theta Province President, was born at Navasota, Texas and graduated in 1916 from the Navasota Public School. She attended Ward-Belmont and in June 1918 received from that institution a diploma from the academic department and from the Ward-Belmont School of Expression.

Mattie B. Craig entered the University of Texas as a junior and was initiated into Texas A. The next year she received her A. B. degree and immediately accepted a position in the Citizens National Bank of Navasota.

While at the University of Texas she was a member of Winsonian Dramatic Club, the Angler Club (social), and participated in athletics and campus activities.

On September 5, 1922, Mattie B. Craig married David Gregg Francis, Σ A E, who had served as first lieutenant in the 90th Division, Overseas Service. They make their home in San Antonio, Texas, and have a small daughter, Lillian Craig Francis.

Mrs. Francis is not only interested in social affairs, but also in more serious things, too, and is particularly eager to make Theta Province an especially fine one in Pi Beta Phi. She is a member of Junior League of San Antonio and corresponding secretary of San Antonio de Bexor chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

All of her friends know her as "Mattie B." never just "Mattie."

MATTIE CRAIG FRANCIS
Texas A

IOTA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Marvel Skeels Oberteuffer, Oregon A, enters the ranks of Province Presidents after having recently graduated from the University of Oregon. Being a member of the class of 1922 she has only a few years of alumnae life, just enough, probably to give her needed experience and yet not enough to detract from her active chapter viewpoint, so valuable in province work. Her personal charm, keen sense of judgment and gracious manner have been assets to Pi Beta Phi since here initiation as thruout her undergraduate days she was active in fraternity affairs.

—Kennell-Ellis
MARVEL SKEELS OBERTEUFFER
Oregon A

Marvey Skeels Oberteuffer was born in Coquille, Oregon, and gained her elementary and secondary school education there, entering the University of Oregon at the time of the war. During her four years at the university she accomplished much and was known as an indefatigable worker with many and varied interests. In addition to belonging to Pi Phi she was a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, national musical fraternity for women, and assumed a leading part in glee club and other musical activities. At the end of her junior year she was awarded the Gerlinger Cup, a signal honor on the Oregon campus as being the most outstanding junior woman.

After graduation Mrs. Oberteuffer taught English and Music in the secondary school of Coquille for one year and shortly after married Delbert Oberteuffer, BΘII, an instructor in the University of Oregon.

Mrs. Oberteuffer becomes President of Iota Province after the resignation of Mrs. Burton Beck, for seven years an efficient servant of the fraternity.

D. O.

KAPPA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

Grace Parker McPherson, (Mrs. Orville S. McPherson, Arizona A), El Camino Apts., 805 Leavenworth St., San Francisco, Calif., has just been appointed Kappa Province President to succeed Mrs. P. M. Young, resigned. A write-up of Mrs. McPherson will appear in the June ARROW.

THE PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENTS

ALPHA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Edith Moore Valet was born in Whitestone, Long Island, but at an early age moved to New York City where she attended Wadleigh High School and entered Barnard in 1908. At college

EDITH VALET COOK
New York B

Edith took a keen interest in everything; she was secretary of her class in her senior year and won the Earle prize in classics and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. In those days Barnard had sophomore pledging and Edith was initiated into New York B in December, 1909. That she is among the most deeply loyal girls of the chapter is well known to all of her sisters. She was president of the chapter in her senior year.

From Edith's graduation in 1913—she also received an M.A.—until her marriage in 1918 her home in New York City was the home of New York B and no account of Edith must fail to record her mother's hospitality. During this time Edith served as president of the New York alumnae club and of the A. C. A. From teaching Latin and Greek in a private school she went into charity organization work and during the war helped to organize community councils and worked for a time with the Girl Scout organization.

In June, 1918, Edith became the wife of Doctor Robert Jay Cook, who was then stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, and a year later went to live in New Haven where her husband is in charge of orthopedic surgery in the Yale Medical School. In addition to making a home for her husband, Mrs. Cook finds time to act as executive secretary of the Connecticut Child Welfare Association.

Her interest in Pi Beta Phi is as keen as ever. She was the first president of the Connecticut alumnae club and served for three years as chairman of the national extension committee until her election to the office of Vice President of Alpha Province. She was re-elected to office at the Bigwin Inn Convention and is now beginning her third term as Alpha Province Vice President.

BETA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Frances Carpenter Curtis (Mrs. A. R.), Colorado B, elected Beta Province Vice President at the Bigwin Inn Convention, has the distinction of being the only Province officer to wear an I. C. pin as she was a charter member of Colorado B in 1885.

Mrs. Curtis is well known to Pi Phis thruout the United States and Canada on account of her work as a member of the Settlement School Committee and because of the ingenious methods which she devised for raising money in the Cleveland Alumnae Club.

Frances Carpenter attended Denver University (Seminary Department) and later taught in Central City, Colo., in Denver and in Golden, Colo., where she met and married Arthur R. Curtis, a member of the faculty of the Colorado School of Mines.

Sixteen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Curtis moved to Cleveland, Ohio and almost at once Mrs. Curtis became identified with the then infant Cleveland Alumnae Club of which she was president for three years and treasurer for four years.

As a member of the Settlement School Committee for four years she interested hundreds of Pi Phis in our national project and contributed much to the committee with her keen sense of humor, her excellent judgment, and her unlimited capacity for work.

It is largely due to her enthusiasm that the Cleveland Alumnae club has made such splendid contributions to Little Pigeon. She will direct the work of the alumnae of Beta Province with a wealth of experience and loyalty to Pi Beta Phi as a background.

FRANCES CARPENTER CURTIS
Colorado B

GAMMA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Gertrude Adele Kutzleb, Gamma Province Vice President, was born in Baltimore on April 2, 1898. She graduated from the Western High School in 1914 with high honors and was one of the youngest member of her class. She entered Goucher College the following fall and was initiated into Pi Beta Phi on February 13, 1915.

GERTRUDE KUTZLEB
Maryland A

She has been an ardent Pi Phi from the start and a record "attender" of all meetings, anniversaries, celebrations, conventions and house-parties. She is distinguished by a contagious giggle which is essentially Gertrudesque and can never be mistaken in a crowd. Indeed, Maryland A considers no Pi Phi function complete without Gertrude. Her popularity among faculty and students alike is enduring and her presence is always a coveted addition.

Gertrude majored in mathematics, but possessing beauty and brawn as well as brains, was not deterred from engaging in numerous extra-curricular activities. She made every basketball, hockey and baseball team thruout her high school and college career and was interested in all types of athletics.

She has constantly held office during her fraternity life and for seven years has been the most excellent of alumnae club treasurers. Emilie Margaret White, retiring province vice president, remarked that no matter how many reports came in late, Gertrude Kutzleb's was always absolutely on time and accurate to a detail.

HELEN M. SCHNEIDEREITH

DELTA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Successfully carrying on the work of Delta Province Vice President during the past two years, Lulu Mignonne Zirpel was re-elected to fill that position at the last Convention.

Lulu Mignonne McCabe was initiated into Columbia A at George Washington University in 1910 and graduated from that institution in 1913 with the degree of A. B. "With Distinction." She was awarded the Cutter prize for general excellence in English Literature, the Thomas F. Walsh medal in history and the Chi Omega Prize for the best essay in Philosophy. During the summer of 1913 she studied at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Va.

After leaving college she devoted herself to the study of voice under Douglass Gresham Miller and for several years was a member of the Choir of the Church of the Ascension and was a member of the Rubinstein Club and the Music Study Club in Washington.

In 1915 and 1916 she taught in the high school in Topeka, Kans., her native city where she had earlier received her own high school training. During those years she was affiliated with the Topeka Alumnae Club and was present at the installation of Kansas B.

During the war, Mignonne McCabe Zirpel held the position of assistant editor and writer of press bulletins in the Statistical Division of the Food Administration in Washington, D. C., working under Dr. Raymond Pearl at the beginning of the Food Administration and continuing in the same capacity until the bureau was disbanded at the close of the war. In 1919 she was appointed as special agent in the Census Bureau where she wrote press bulletins and assisted in preparing the text to accompany the 1920 Census of Agriculture.

On May 25, 1920 she married Walter C. Zirpel, $\Sigma\Phi\Sigma$, University of Pennsylvania, and in 1921 they moved from Washington to Indianapolis where Mr. Zirpel is an architect associated with Robert Frost Daggett.

Mrs. Zirpel has for the past five years been an active member of the Indianapolis alumnae club where she has displayed as much enthusiasm for Pi Beta Phi as she did as a delegate to the Convention in Evanston, Illinois; in her chapter; and in the Washington alumnae club.

EPSILON PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Kate Freund Miller, Illinois E, appointed to the position of Epsilon Province Vice President in the fall of 1924, was elected to the position at the Bigwin Inn Convention in June.

Because of her attendance at six Pi Phi Conventions, beginning with the one held at Evanston, Kate Freund Miller has a very wide Pi Beta Phi acquaintance and is numbered among the most loyal and enthusiastic members of the fraternity.

Kate Freund was born in Chicago and has always lived there except for one year spent in Cleveland, Ohio. She attended high school in Chicago and entered Northwestern University in the fall of 1907 where she was initiated into Illinois E in October of that year.

She married G. A. Miller and they make their home in Chicago. Mrs. Miller has served on the Fraternity Examination

KATE FREUND MILLER

Committee and on the National Scholarship Committee and for five years has been treasurer of the Illinois Epsilon House Association.

She is very domestic and is intensely interested in her home and in all phases of culinary science. Kate Freund Miller has a Pi Beta Phi sister, Lillian Freund, former Cataloguer and also Convention Guide at the 1921 Charlevoix Convention.

ZETA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Margaret Jackes Ball, Missouri B, was appointed in the spring of 1925 to succeed Helen McCargo Geppert, resigned, as Zeta Province Vice President, and was elected in June to continue in office.

Upon graduation from high school in St. Louis in 1914 Margaret Jackes entered Washington University and was initiated into Missouri B of Pi Beta Phi in her freshman year. The interest which she displayed in active chapter affairs has continued and she still keeps in very close touch with Missouri B.

On October 10, 1922, Margaret Jackes married Frank C. Ball, a banker of St. Louis.

She has twice been president of the St. Louis alumnae club, once in 1922-23 and again in 1924-25. During her administration splendid sums were raised for the Settlement School.

MARGARET JACKES BALL
Missouri B

Mrs. Ball is a favorite among both the active and alumnae groups and made many friends while attending the Convention at Bigwin Inn.

ETA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Genevieve Herrick Smith, Eta Province Vice President since the spring of 1924, attended the University of Kansas, where she was initiated into Pi Beta Phi in 1912. During her college life she was keenly interested in both university and fraternity activities. She twice served Kansas A as president of the chapter, and was also president of the local Panhellenic. She was always alive to the worthwhile activities of the campus, being secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and on the Student Council two years.

During her senior year she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and to Torch, honor society for senior women, and graduated in 1915 with an A.B. degree.

After leaving college she taught French and English in the high schools at Paola and Topeka, Kansas. She attended the first Charlevoix Convention as an alumna delegate.

GENEVIEVE HERRICK SMITH
Kansas A

In the fall of 1920 she married Harry Alvin Smith, ΣX , Kansas University. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are now living at Eudora, Kansas, where Mr. Smith is cashier of the Home State Bank.

Mrs. Smith is an active member of the Lawrence Alumnae Club and keeps in close touch with the active chapter at Lawrence.

In a very efficient way she carried on her duties last year, and was elected to succeed herself at the Convention last June.

THETA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Lucile Shuttee Blair, (Mrs. James Malcolm Blair), was re-elected Vice President of Theta Province last June. Her career as a Pi Beta Phi began when she was pledged to Oklahoma A in the fall of 1914 and initiated in the spring of 1915.

Her college life was marked by many honors, among which were her election to Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity, to Owl and Triangle, senior woman's honor society, and to Phi Beta Kappa.

Her three and a half years of fraternity life were equally full and the respect and admiration which her chapter had for her capability were shown by the various offices she held, among which were chairman of the rushing committee, chairman of the scholarship committee, vice president in her junior year and president in her senior year. This last office she filled most successfully and her high ideals of fraternity spirit and college usefulness proved a great inspiration to other members of the chapter. She was one of a committee to inspect the petitioning group at Oklahoma A. and M. College in 1917 and later attended the installation of Oklahoma B.

Lucile left college at the middle of her senior year to teach history in the Medell, Okla., High School, finishing up a few remaining hours of college work by correspondence and graduating with her class in June, 1918. The next year she taught mathematics in the high school at Guthrie, Okla., and the year and a half following that, in El Reno, her home. For two years she was the Theta Province representative on the Committee on Fraternity Study and Examination.

On January 25, 1921, Lucile married James Malcolm Blair. For two years they made their home in Jacksonville, Florida but returned to Oklahoma and are now living at Enid. They have a small son, James Malcolm, Jr.

Mrs. Blair is a member of the Woman's Panhellenic Association of Enid. Her election to the Theta Province Vice Presidency is just one more step in a career of Pi Phi usefulness.

HERESA GRAHAM.

IOTA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Harriet Rutherford Johnstone, now beginning her second term of office as Iota Province Vice President, was born in Ohio but has spent the greater part of her life in Seattle, Wash., where her parents moved when she was a child. Here she attended high school, later entering the University of Washington from which she received her A. B. degree in 1907. Since that time she has been engaged in teaching English, the greater part of the time in one of the Seattle high schools.

HARRIET R. JOHNSTONE
Washington A

During her attendance at the university she became affiliated with K T T, a local organization then petitioning Pi Beta Phi. During her senior year the charter was granted to the group and on January 12, 1907, when Washington A was installed, Harriet Johnstone became a Pi Beta Phi. Though her experience as an active chapter member was of short duration, yet it was long enough to instill in her a deep and loyal devotion to the fraternity, a devotion that has found expression in much unselfish service both for the active chapter and for the Seattle Alumnae Club, and has been an inspiration to others.

Harriet Johnstone has attended the Conventions at Berkeley, Estes Park and Bigwin Inn. From 1921 to 1923 she represented Iota Province on the Committee of Fraternity Examinations but perhaps her greatest service to Pi Beta Phi has been her devoted interest in Washington A and her work in its behalf.

For several years after her graduation from the university she kept in close touch with the chapter through two younger sisters each of whom, in her turn, became a wearer of the arrow. During the past several years she has been a member of the advisory committee, having served without a break on this committee ever since its existence.

A most charming personality, a quiet dignity, a delightful sense of humor, a broad sympathy and understanding of the other person's viewpoint, together with absolute dependability win for her the admiration and confidence of each succeeding chapter generation. Thus is she able to reach the younger alumnae as well as the older ones.

KAPPA PROVINCE VICE PRESIDENT

Nan Browning Payne (Mrs. Frederic W.), newly appointed Kappa Province Vice President, was born in Prince George County, Maryland. She attended Friends School and Central High School in Washington, D. C., and then entered George Washington University where she was initiated into Columbia A in 1907. She did special work in chemistry and physics being laboratory assistant in her sophomore year.

NAN BROWNING PAYNE
Columbia A

During her junior year, Nan Browning taught mathematics in the National Cathedral School for Boys and attended college at night. At the end of the year she received the James Sterett Memorial Prize in physics.

Before graduation she transferred to the University of California from which institution she received the degree of B. S. with honorable mention in 1911. During her stay in Berkeley she thoroughly enjoyed living with the girls of California B in their chapter home. After graduation Nan Browning taught science and mathematics in Marshfield Oregon High School for one year and then married Frederic W. Payne of Minneapolis. They now have a three year old daughter, Nancy Browning Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne moved to Berkeley, Calif., in 1917 and during the past eight years Mrs. Payne has been identified with the Northern California Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi, being club president in 1920. In 1919 she did post graduate work at the University of California in mathematics. Mrs. Payne is a member of the Twentieth Century Club and head of the church school service league of St. Mark's Episcopal Church at Berkeley.

PI BETA PHI MOTHER'S CLUBS

A NUMBER of the chapters of Pi Beta Phi have very successful Mother's Clubs. The mothers are not necessarily members of the fraternity but in a number of instances do wear the arrow.

In response to a request sent out by THE ARROW Editor in the Bulletin, the following accounts have been received:

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Members of California Γ now have a Mother's Club of which they are very proud. It was first organized in 1921 under the leadership of Mrs. Wheat, but the club at this time was not very active. In September of 1923 the club was reorganized and in the fall of 1924 under the leadership of Mrs. Campbell established itself as an active body.

The organization is known as the Pi Beta Phi Mother's Club of the University of Southern California, and its members are the mothers of the pledges and active members of California Γ. This year it has a membership of twenty-nine mothers. The object of the club is to assist materially California Γ chapter and to get into closer contact with its own members and with the girls. The club meets regularly at the chapter house on the fourth Thursday of each month, except June, July, August and September. Its officers consist of: president, 1st and 2nd vice-president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and treasurer elected by the club at its annual meeting on the fourth Thursday of May. Each member pays an annual fee of $5.00.

The Club has been very active in the last two years. Last summer it helped the chapter paint the house by donating $200, and it has had charge of the food booth at the last two bazaars. Each year it is the club's plan to give California Γ something which it especially needs. The gift this year has not as yet been decided upon.

ELOISE PARKE

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Minnesota A takes great pride in the fact that our Mother's Club was one of the pioneers on the university campus. It was organized in 1921 with a membership of about twenty-five. At present the membership is listed at one hundred, with an active membership of about thirty-five.

Our Mother's Club has furnished the house with many much-needed articles such as curtains, tumblers, dishes, and many necessary household utensils. The mothers have obtained the money with which to buy these things in two ways: one year they gave benefit bridges which proved very successful, and this year they have adopted the plan of paying yearly dues.

Our mothers have expressed their enjoyment of their monthly meetings when they can talk over their mutual problems and interests. They have become vitally interested in girls as a group, and through their work together they have come to know each other better and to enjoy greatly their close fellowship.

NANNETTE CARGILL

UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT

In 1922 mothers of the active and alumnae Pi Phis in Burlington, Vt., on the initiative of one of the mothers, organized a club for the purpose of helping the girls raise money for the chapter house.

In three years the club grew in membership to approximately twenty and raised $1500 for the chapter's use.

GRACE E. KILLAM

BUTLER COLLEGE

On November 14, 1925, eighteen mothers attended a tea at the Indiana Γ chapter house upon the invitation of the active members. After the program the active girls withdrew and these eighteen mothers became the charter members of the Mother's Club of Indiana Gamma. Mrs. J. H. Larison, Mrs. E. J. Hecker and Mrs. J. P. Dunn were the first officers.

The constitution of the club states the object to be to assist in the welfare of the active chapter of Pi Beta Phi at Butler College.

The meetings are held on the second Monday of every college month at the Pi Beta Phi house at 2:30 o'clock. Every meeting is preceded by a luncheon prepared by the mothers themselves. Last year these luncheons were also attended by the active girls. Some of the meetings have been all day meetings at the homes of out of town mothers. The one held at the home of Mrs. Morris at Pendleton, Ind., forty miles from Indianapolis, was an especially enjoyable one.

The initiation fee of the club is one dollar and the dues are fifty cents per month during the college year.

The club has an auditory committee; a reception committee, which is very active in receiving the new members each year; a ways and means committee; a consulting committee, which is ready to be consulted by the members of the active chapter at any time; and a publicity committee.

The mothers have given card parties, rummage sales, and musicals. They have interpreted their object to mean to help the girls physically, mentally, and morally so they have met the needs of the chapter with everything from a gas range to a grand piano.

There are now forty members of the club including mothers of alumnae, actives, and pledges. Mrs. Snively, the chaperon, was elected an honorary member of the club. The present officers of the club are: Mrs. H. H. Brooks, president; Mrs. C. H. Brackett, vice president; Mrs. C. G. Tyner and Mrs. H. A. Henderson, secretaries; and Mrs. C. E. Flowers, treasurer.

MARJORIE OKES

HILLSDALE COLLEGE

The Hillsdale Pi Phi Mother's Club was organized on November 4, 1923 at the chapter house. Mrs. Drybread talked upon organization to the twelve mothers present. The club has thrived and today has seventeen active members. This club cooperates with the alumnae club in a great many of its activities and also provides useful and attractive things for the chapter house.

In addition to being essential to the active girls, the mother's club provides a delightful means by which the mothers may become well acquainted.

MARTHA MEIGHAN

UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

On November 10, 1924, six Pi Phi mothers met and organized Colorado Beta's Mother's Club. Since that time the membership has increased to eighteen.

In the spring of 1925, the club gave the chapter a beautiful floor lamp for the grand piano. It was decided at that time to have the last club meeting of each year a joint one with the active chapter, with a program provided by the girls.

Just before the fall entertainments, the mothers bought forty glasses for the Bungalow, and for Christmas they fitted the kitchen with new kettles, pans, aprons and linen. Now they are engrossed with plans to help with second semester rushing. They are also making a quilt to be sold and they plan to have a bridge supper in the future for the entertainment of the fathers to interest them, too, in Pi Phi.

The organization has done a great deal for the chapter, not only in a material way, but in bringing each girl closer to the ideals of Pi Beta Phi.

KATHERINE SHATTUCK

HOUSE PARTY OF MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS, ANN ARBOR, MICH., MAY 16, 1925.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

In Denver there is a Colorado Alpha Mother's Club which was founded in the fall of 1924. It has about thirty active members. This organization has become one of the chapter's staunchest and most interested backers. The mothers have had luncheons, subscription bridge parties, and rummage sales. With the money derived from these affairs, the Mother's Club has presented to the chapter at various times ivory Simmons beds, a walnut gateleg table, Windsor chairs, and a complete porch set. The club has also subscribed $300 for our prospective new chapter house.

The Mother's Club has also given teas and other pleasant functions for the active girls. This club is as active and helpful as the alumnae club.

MADGE FERGUSON

MICHIGAN BETA'S MOTHER'S HOUSE PARTY

In this group of sixteen Pi Beta Phi mothers and their daughters from Michigan B, there are two mothers who wear the arrow. Rebecca Downey White, Colorado B and Michigan B, stands on the back row, the tallest in the group, with her daughter Mary standing at her right, while Anna Carpenter Verdier, Michigan B, stands directly beneath Rebecca White's left shoulder, with her daughter Elinor kneeling in front of her. All were proud, but none were as proud as these two women.

The days of May 14-17 were precious, indeed, when we lived at the chapter house at Ann Arbor with our daughters and mingled with the girls as their guests. The girls gave us beautiful hospitality, leaving with us the very agreeable feeling that we were important people, something that mothers sometimes doubt, but they gave us something far deeper in significance than mere outward enjoyment and pleasing of our vanity. They brought us nearer to our daughters in spirit and they gave us an opportunity of knowing each other as mothers. We mothers need to know each other better, for only by understanding each other can we understand the daughters in the chapter in whose development we have a deep personal interest, and be really useful to the chapter as a whole in helping it to achieve the high standards of living and doing that we all crave for our daughters when we send them off to college. Precious in retrospect the memory of those beautiful days! But potent forever that intangible something called communion of spirit in the cause of helping young girls to develop who are still in the process of developing!

REBECCA DOWNEY WHITE

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

Washington B is the very proud possessor of two very active Mother's Clubs close by, one in Pullman and the other, in Spokane.

The Pullman Pi Phi Mother's Club, is composed of twelve mothers, and was organized in April, 1925. This group of mothers is interested in helping the chapter in anyway possible and during rushing they always furnish flowers for all the parties.

They were organized almost immediately after the building of the new chapter house was started, and from the very first, this group asked to furnish the Guest Room, so that it would be a mother's room. They furnished it in Walnut having a four poster bed, vanity dresser, rug, lamp and rocker. They have been invited by the chapter to hold their monthly meetings in the chapter house so that they will feel welcome at any time. The officers of this club are: Mrs. J. N. Emerson, president, and Mrs. Elton Fulmer, secretary and treasurer, and to them much honor is due for the organizing of this active group of Pi Phi mothers.

The Spokane Mother's Club was organized in January, 1925, by a group of mothers of Washington Beta. The first thing these mothers did for the girls, was to make ruffled dotted Swiss curtains for all the windows of the two upper floors of the chapter house.

These new curtains were ready to put up when the girls moved into their new home this fall. The Mother's Club also hemmed three dozen napkins, which were presented to the girls before college was out last spring.

A Bridge Tea was given this fall and netted about $100, with which the mothers expect to buy some needed furniture for the house.

The first officers of this organization deserve much credit. They were Mrs. T. W. Baird, president, Mrs. Mabel E. Bement, vice president, Mrs. J. L. Stone, secretary, and Mrs. C. B. Clausin, treasurer. Mrs. Clausin has been elected president for 1926.

These two clubs were organized as the result of the mothers becoming interested in the building of the new Washington B chapter house at Pullman. We feel exceptionally fortunate in having two such enthusiastic and helpful groups as these clubs back of us, and we hope that the cooperation may be mutually stimulating and bring us into closer bonds with each other.

NEW CHAPTER HOMES

Oregon A, University of Oregon

THE home of Oregon Alpha is now over two years old and some of the newness has worn off, but all of it will never wear off because it is the type of colonial architecture that does not grow old or become passé after a certain fad architecture has passed. Beside this, it is made of the most durable red brick and stands on a 100x100 corner lot just across the street from the Oregon campus. Green shutters at the windows add attractiveness to the outside appearance of the house.

The front entrance leads into a vestibule which is just two steps lower than the main reception hall. The latter leads on one side to a large living room, and on the other to an equally large dining room. Off of the living room is a sun porch with windows that extend from the ceiling to the floor. Adjoining the main room there is also a smaller library. Besides these, a house mother's apartment, consisting of a living room, dressing room and a bath; and a kitchen, breakfast nook and two pass pantries are on the second floor. French doors connect all rooms down stairs, and in the living room these lead off onto a cement terrace in the yard.

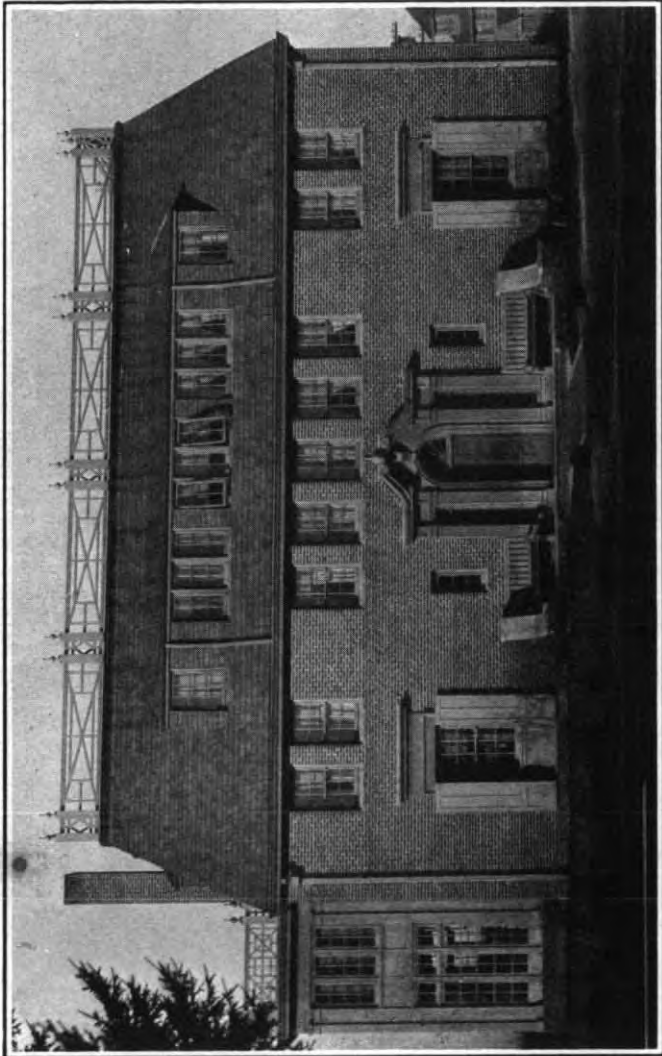

On the second floor there are eleven study rooms, a guest room, two bathrooms with several bowls and lavatories and a shower, linen closets and a sleeping porch that will accommodate 30 girls. Each of the rooms is large enough for two girls and each has two sets of built in wardrobes.

The third floor has only eight study rooms, but the chapter room is also on this floor. It is the same size as the living room and has a large fire place in it also. There is a well-equipped bath room on the third floor and a smaller sleeping porch which will accommodate twelve girls.

Forty girls can live in the house and by putting three in some of the larger rooms even more could be housed.

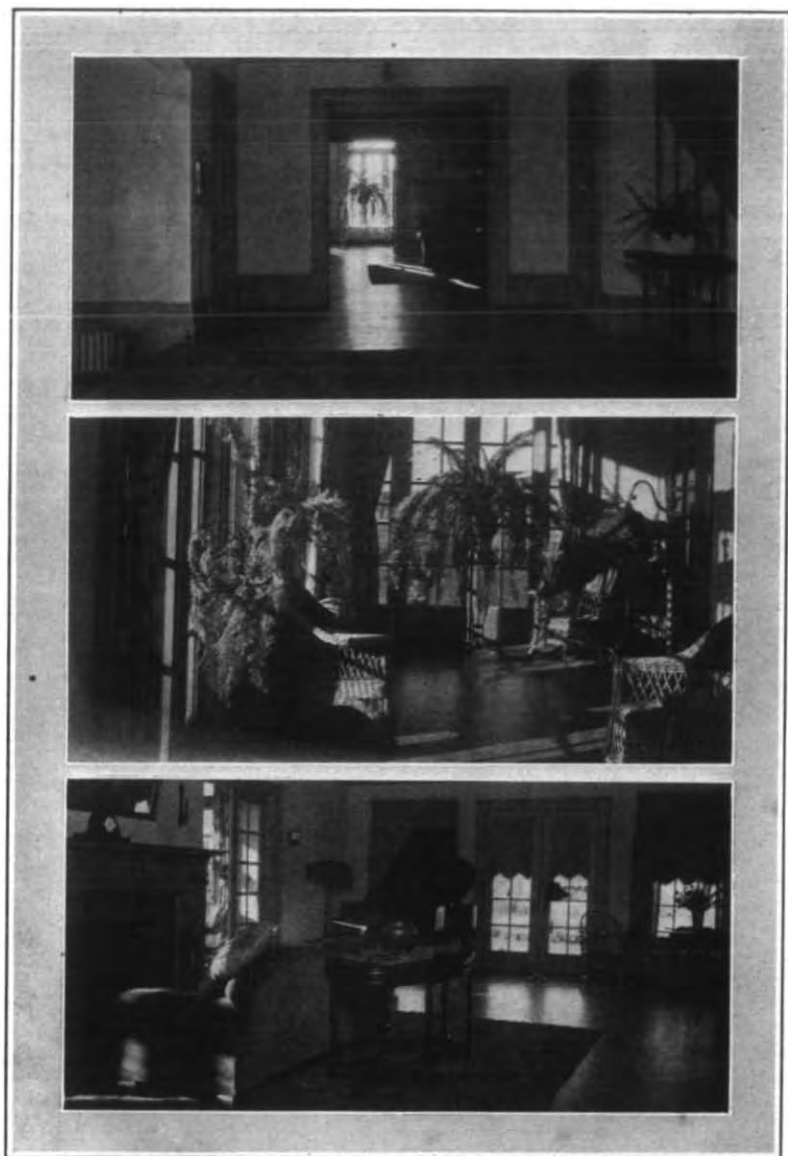

The home of Oregon A is valued at something over $40,000.

VIEWS OF IOWA ZETA'S NEW HOME
Iowa State University, Iowa City, Iowa

Iowa Z, University of Iowa

When conservative business men shake their heads despondently over a problem of financing a $45,000 chapter house and say "It can't be done," they sometimes have to be shown. It took Mrs. Nyle Jones, (Virginia Haldeman, Iowa Z '06) to do a few tricks for the doubting financiers who were so skeptical of the proposition before Iowa Z in 1923.

The first symptom of the building fever among Iowa's Greek letter Women's organizations was evidenced on the Iowa campus in 1923 when Delta Gamma erected a \$35,000 chapter house of pressed brick. Pi Beta Phi took no step to immunize herself from the malady and on April 9, 1923, fell victim to the germ. It was at a regular meeting of the Iowa City alumnae club when plans for the Founders' Day banquet were being made that Mrs. Nyle Jones was asked to give a toast on the "Possibilities of Financing a Chapter House." It was then suggested that each member give \$10 toward the fund; two alumnae responded with \$25 each. Plans were made for an alumnae bake sale and a rummage sale in charge of the actives in less than three weeks. As a result of these efforts $\Pi B \Phi$ had to its credit \$360 toward the realization of its new home.

VIRGINIA HALDEMAN JONES
Iowa Z

The proposition was then made us that if we raise $10,000 within thirty days, a loan of $30,000 for fifteen years would be available. A solicitor was sent out for two weeks asking members and friends of the fraternity to contribute $100 in the form of four house notes of $25 each, one note to be paid annually. Each active member of the chapter assumed this obligation.

NEW HOME OF IOWA Z

Although we were unable to raise \$10,000 we decided to purchase a lot with the money which we had raised, as a means of getting something tangible upon which to build our plans. On April 1, 1924 a contract was signed for the lot paying \$1,000 down on May 1 and \$2,400 on August 1. On May 30, Mrs. Jones turned the first shovel of dirt on the new lot; several talks were given by alumnae and $\Pi \Phi$ songs were sung by the chapter. On June 15, ground was broken and the foundation was laid July 1.

The intensive struggle for money then began. One Pi Phi alumnae made a loan of $500, another of $200 and four others of $100 each—without interest and for one year, thus enabling us to make one payment on August 1.

When the chapter returned in the fall, they were told that the house would be completed by the holidays. Many alumnae attended Iowa football games, returning also for Homecoming. Enthusiasm reached its zenith and responses became more liberal. The usual delay however, ensued and we were told that our new house could not be ready for occupancy until after the holidays.

Immediately after New Year's we took possession of our chapter home built in old English style with the lower portion of dark red brick, the upper of mellow brown stucco and weathered beams. We were particularly fortunate in securing old pavement brick giving the masonry the charming appearance so much sought after by leading architects. When spring came the sodding, grading and completing of our driveway necessitated the expenditure of $1000. This debt was met by the actives and alumnae who generously responded by completing their $100 per capita.

In this way Iowa Z, by the careful planning of Mrs. Jones who assumed the entire responsibility of supervising the construction and managing the finance drive and by the cooperation of the active chapter and alumnae, realized its dream of an ideal chapter home.

Washington B, Washington State College

A building association, known as the Washington Beta Building Association, whose officers were composed of both active and alumnae members of Pi Beta Phi, is responsible for the realization of Washington Beta's dream—a new chapter home.

If it had not been for the excellent work and time devoted by some of our local alumnae, this great undertaking would not have been a success. A first mortgage loan of $19,000 was taken by the Pullman Savings and Loan Association. The rest of the amount $12,300, was raised by the selling of $100.00 second mortgage bonds, with a $2,000 loan from the National treasury. Each girl in the chapter was asked to sell three or more bonds, and some have sold as many as eight or ten. The total amount of cost of the house is a little under $35,000.

The chapter house is constructed of cream colored brick, with a typical colonial atmosphere created by the green shutters on the second and third story windows. The second and third stories are devoted entirely to study rooms and dormitory. The second floor has thirteen study rooms, shower room and lavatory room, while the third floor has the dormitory and two study rooms and bath.

The first floor plan is very convenient being composed of the living room, sunroom and dining room and large hall in one half and in the other the kitchen, guest room and housemothers' room. A spiral firescape is one of our newest conveniences.

The living room is furnished with heavy draw curtains of a blue and gold material, with striped valances. A new davenport and fireplace bench were given us by the alumnae of Spokane, while the alumnae of Seattle sent us two oriental rugs.

Open house for the faculty and townspeople was held on October 11. The students were taken on a tour of the house the day before.

Illinois Z, University of Illinois

In June, 1924, the old chapter house of Illinois Z was moved to the back of the lot, and in May, 1925, work was started on the new building. The old house was remodeled and the new building was constructed in front of it, making a twenty-eight room house with two dormitories. Illinois Z is now able to accommodate thirty-six girls and Miss Fleming, the chaperon, and in addition the cook, Mrs. Witherspoon, has an apartment in the old part of the house. The architecture is English and plans have been made to landscape the lawn extensively, in the near future.

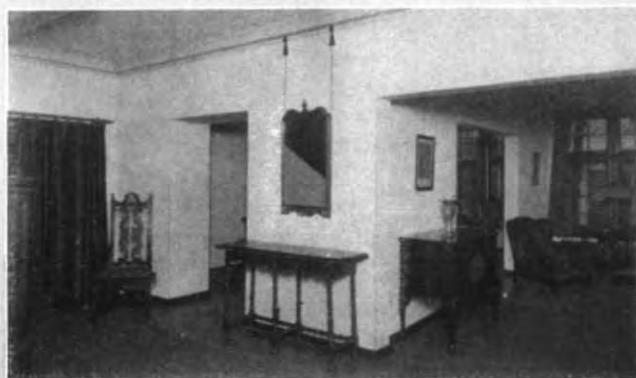

NEW HOME OF ILLINOIS ZETA, UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

WILLEY
CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

In order to build the new chapter house, the alumnae were organized into the "Illinois Zeta Corporation," and issued $100 bonds, payable in twenty years, at 5% interest. Every alumna and active member helped to sell the bonds in order to make a loan and start the work. Besides selling the bonds, each active girl gives $50 to the house at initiation, and also pays $2.50 a month on a $100 bond, which at the end of her college course is paid in full. In order to buy furniture, the alumnae gave several bazaars and rummage sales, and in addition raffled a hope chest. In this manner, Illinois Z was able to accomplish the work and realize her ambition for a new chapter house.

HOW TO AID EAGER GRADUATES

(Grace T. Lewis, Maryland A.), Dean of Mount Vernon (N. Y.) High School, has written the following article upon request telling of the success which her high school has had in establishing a fund with which aid can be given to high school graduates who desire a college education. Miss Lewis has very modestly refrained from mentioning the part she played in raising this fund of $11,000. It was she who first conceived the idea and who is the "dean" mentioned in the article.—The Editor.)

Those of us, who are thoughtfully interested in education, are becoming increasingly conscious of the prevalence of an almost fanatical belief in the service it can render the American people. Carefully compiled statistics tell us for the country at large what we already know to be true in our own localities—that boys and girls from every stratum of society are crowding our public schools, many of them so pathetically eager to advance that they will make almost any sacrifice necessary to stay in them, and, if possible, even continue in college. We cannot deny, either, that doors leading to future opportunity, advancement and success are often really almost impossibly difficult to open without evidence of extensive educational training. Many of the young people of our communities rank in the upper half of our classes scholastically, and in the lower half financially. If they are to get into college at all, they must receive at least some actual direct financial assistance and be given opportunity to earn something for themselves. If the way up the ladder is not open to them a situation is likely to develop which will be an actual menace to the Republic.

GRACE T. LEWIS

Realizing the growing problem that faces us, the Mount Vernon, N. Y. High School undertook three years ago to meet it in some really adequate and satisfactory manner that would not entail yearly minor appeals to friendly townspeople. We are so proud of the accomplishment and so gratified at the results already evident that we feel the story worth repeating in the hope that, through the telling, other schools, and their backers, may be encouraged to undertake a similar program. It is probably safe to say that every public high school needs such a scholarship fund—the amount depending, of course, on local conditions. If there is any school in which it may seem unnecessary, there is a possibility or probability—its officials do not know the home conditions of the student body really intimately or the longings and ambitions of some of their brightest pupils.

Good, and important, as our emphasis on special help for the slow and poorly endowed is, we cannot, and dare not, neglect the mentally gifted from whom should come the leaders of tomorrow.

Our understanding developed from the realization of the fact that one of our bright and attractive senior girls could not go to college unless some money was obtained for her. Two members of our faculty, particularly interested in her case, promised to meet, somehow, her first year's bills. With the assumption of this, possibly, heavy obligation, came the rather bitter admission that, after all, such a limited amount of good could be done, even at sacrifice, for other boys and girls whose cases would appeal to us, for many years to come.

To the dean of the school came the thought of raising a permanent fund, the interest only to be used each year,—a fund large enough for the interest itself to meet our needs. The result was the projection of a money raising campaign in the city for $7,000. The school principal raised the goal to what seemed to be an impossible height—$10,000. And, to give the end of the story with out further delay and then the means by which it was reached, let me hasten to add two relevant statements. Mount Vernon is a typical suburban community of about 48,000 people who were fairly overwhelmed that year with numberless drives and appeals, past and promised. The campaign opened October 26, regular school work progressing at the usual breathless rate, and unofficially closed the following May with $11,000 net actually paid in, beyond all expenses. At the opening of our drive, the following six voluntary pledges were given the public:

1. All funds would be permanently invested in securities legal for trust funds and savings banks. (5½% interest has been secured under these terms).

2. Pupils, needing help during their first year in college will always secure first consideration. In practice, we have come to feel a moral obligation to all those we help at all—an obligation which extends into the three remaining years and, in a way, binds the dean in particular, to help these young people get summer work as well as "odd jobs" when possible during the year. We seem to have definitely adopted the policy of helping those who are not too proud to work at any task provided it is honorable and of supplementing only (seldom giving total aid) the earnings of pupils and gifts of parents. Ours is NOT a pauperizing scheme, by any means.

3. Scholarship, character, promise of future usefulness and proved need are the factors considered in the discussion of each candidate.

(The "proved need" usually means a general confidential understanding of the family financial condition and an itemized estimate of the pupil's assets and liabilities for the year).

4. All funds are given rather than loaned. (The decision to insert this clause caused discussions within the committee itself and probably deprived us of some gifts from those who honestly felt it was wrong to give money. We have never been sorry the position was taken and believe that our usefulness would have been decidedly limited had we established our "Students College Fund" as merely another loan fund. At some time or other, probably all those interested in education have contributed in their city schools or clubs toward a fund from which worthy students could borrow—either at nominal interest or without interest and upon their own, unsecured, notes. Mount Vernon has several such funds for which there have not always been applicants. We would not, in any way, minimize the good such funds have done but we feel the need for a gift fund—one which would not, in reality, mortgage the future of any boy or girl. With life so uncertain, many conscientious people, of the dependable lower and middle classes, have a wholesome horror of binding themselves to pay a debt which life, time and opportunity alone can enable them to pay. So, I repeat, we wanted our money free and clear—without real or imaginary strings; and the only way in which our pupils face this question is to be told, very frankly, in the beginning, that this is a gift, not a loan; and that, of course, if they are ever in a position themselves to contribute to the fund and wish to do so, it will enable us to do for a larger number of others than we could without their gifts. We try to pick our beneficiaries with such care that we can trust them to do the right thing, whatever that may seem to them to be.

5. The administration of this fund is in the hands of a Board of five Directors. By "gentleman's agreement," the principal and the dean remain permanently upon the Board. Three others (teachers), are chosen, one each year, by the Board from a list suggested by the Faculty of the school. One member resigns each year, so the number remains constant. No teacher can serve two consecutive terms. One teacher director acts as treasurer. The interviewing of pupils and parents with resultant recommendations to the Board falls largely upon the dean. Our gifts have ranged from $50 to one boy to approximately $400 we have agreed to furnish another student next year. We have found that the mere existence of the fund has been a stimulant to some timid parents who, secure in the knowledge they could have help if they needed it, have been able to bravely carry their own load.

6. Finally, our "cases" are not publicly discussed. Any teacher or student may, at any time, call the attention of any director to any member of the school but that ends the matter as far as the general public is concerned. If those we help ever want to tell who has helped them, we are, of course, glad of it but the information is not given out to embarrass or possibly harass them.

How did we do it?

Any attempt to arrange our various money raising methods in order of merit would be unwise. Some of those that brought in the small sums created enough good feeling to make some of our larger attempts the success they were; some would work well here, not so well elsewhere and vice versa. So I think it best to record them as nearly as possible in the order of their use. Please remember, we are all "amateurs" in money raising and all of us carrying full schedules of regular work.

The principal was Honorary Chairman of a Campaign Committee composed of ten enthusiastic teachers. The dean was Executive Chairman, a teacher served as treasurer and, theoretically at least, every teacher a member of the General Committee. Of course, the general planning, and responsibility fell on the dean who personally signed practically all of the mail which went out from the office and directed the publicity. No such statement can be made, however, without the qualifying reminder that no one person could do such a feat—unqualified praise is due the many teachers who willingly sacrificed and worked, without publicity for themselves, to carry through the plan they so fully endorsed. Be it interposed here, we decided against "outside" committee members only after much thought. As I have said, we feel it necessary to keep secret the handling of our cases. We can best meet all possible situations, at times most convenient to us, when only members of our own official family are present and the personnel of our corporation is stable enough to guarantee honest administration to our citizen contributors.

We found the one daily paper of our city more than generous with space—freely printing all the "copy" we could furnish; a superintendent of schools who generously contributed himself publicly and privately commended our enterprise. He, and the director of our School of Industrial Arts, willingly agreed to having all our printing done at cost of stock merely. Several grammar school teachers and principals were also among our contributors.

Our campaign opened with the mailing of twenty-five hundred carefully worded mimeographed letters, addressed on the typewriter, and signed, to a selected group of citizens. On the day they were delivered a column article of further explanation appeared in the daily paper. Pupils helped in preparing the mailed material. We indulged in no sentimentality—telling our story simply but, apparently, effectively for the response was immediate. Two additional circular letters had to be sent later. Throughout our campaign we stressed four points:

1. The actual and growing need for assistance in sending our boys and girls—those that belonged to Mount Vernon as well as to our high school—to college, if they wanted to go and would profit by the instruction they would receive.
2. The fact that this was not a new charity scheme but an opportunity for those of us who had been blessed to share with the less fortunate; that those who couldn't give much, could do something—possibly helping to provide advantages which they themselves had not been able to enjoy.
3. We were actually doing a patriotic work: educated men and women being of more value in many ways than the discontented, disappointed and ignorant.
4. That this was not an annual appeal—the first we had made in twenty-five years of our existence. We were establishing our permanent fund from which we would take nothing. Every giver, then, had the satisfaction of knowing that his contribution would yearly help young people for years to come.

We felt we could not ask others for a cause in which we did not ourselves show confidence, so thirty-seven of the forty-three teachers in the school personally gave $665 that year to the Fund. The General Organization pledged $1,000 and three one-act plays, given on two stormy nights in March by the women of the faculty netted, with a printed program, almost another $1,000. Two ladies of the city gave $500 each and the rest of the money came in amounts varying from fifteen cents to several gifts of $100 each, and from many sources. One gentleman and his wife pledged $50 per year for an indefinite number of years in the name of an honored old resident of the city.

No advertising opportunity was consciously lost—more might have been discovered had there been more than twenty-four hours in a day. Leaflets, describing the fund and containing a pledge card, were distributed at several evening entertainments and lectures held in the high school building. A copy was wrapped in each parcel sold at a Cake Sale, in charge of two mathematics teachers, which cleared $230. It was probably the largest sale of its kind ever held in the city, opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 8 p. m., with groups of pupils helping throughout the day. Over four hundred articles, donated by mothers, were sold. On two bitter cold afternoons several other teachers directed the sale of hot dogs, peanuts, and candy to football crowds and cleared $80 more for the fund.

The director of music in the School, anxious to do his share, composed a very catchy march and two step which he dedicated to the school. This was published free of charge by a nationally known music publisher who lives in the city and had already generously contributed to the fund. More than $165 was cleared by the sale of this music in the school and through the music and department stores of the city.

Several of the school clubs sold candy in the lunch room and gave up refreshments at their meeting to aid the fund; another sold 1,000 pencils to increase its contribution. Forty picked students, called together by the dean, went out to visit friends and acquaintances. They proved good advertisers as well as collectors arousing interest throughout the city and bringing in pledges amounting to hundreds of dollars. On invitation of the Home and School Association in one elementary school, the dean spoke at an evening meeting in behalf of the fund.

A large graph was mounted in the entrance hall of the school and kept up to date by the mathematics class. In the final examinations of the term, one question was based on fund figures. We did all we could, within reason, to keep our cause favorably before the public.

As we have no real organization of alumni, prominent members of fifteen graduating classes were asked to solicit pledges from their own classes and the response was generous.

One man, interested by a student and follow-up letter which the student requested be sent him, collected $135 from his business associates; another tried to induce those with whom he dealt to contribute;

while a third suggested several people whom we might ask and followed up our appeals with his own. At the suggestion of the president of the Rotary Club, one of our senior boys spoke at the weekly luncheon and our campaign was officially endorsed in the Rotary News. Several Masonic bodies, a fraternity and a country club officially pledged. The president of the Men's University Club several times urged its members to pledge and many individually responded.

Best of all was the spirit of many unexpected friends. One offered to care for any boy for whom we could not provide the next September; another pledged to help us raise a larger fund when we felt it was needed and several offered to increase their pledges if the goal was not promptly reached. A well-known organist volunteered to give us an evening recital. The Corporation Counsel contributed money and, later, gave the legal services necessary in the incorporation of our fund. Four months before the pledges were due $8,000 actually had been invested.

We believe we have a fund large enough for present needs. If, in the days to come, we find ourselves compelled to disappoint and turn away worthy students we should be helping, we will point to our past record and ask for additional funds to do still more. On the other hand, we feel too much money almost as bad as none at all. Accumulating funds creates the temptation to spend it and we would not give to any pupil what he ought to have strength of character and grit enough to get for himself.

Five years ago a high school teacher met a boy, one of many children, the son of immigrant parents, unskilled and ignorant. They expected and planned for him to be, like his father, a day laborer; his teacher saw with a greater vision. On her personal appeal, a wealthy resident of the town sent this boy to one of the finest technical colleges in the country. The first year he won honors, the second, honors and scholarship; the third, honors and all college expenses; and the fourth year the same. That he is beyond the average, is clearly apparent; what he is yet to be, time alone will tell for he has just gone out to make his way in the world. So unusual a case is not to be found in every school or every year, but we want to be prepared for the unusual and to help those who are equal to our confidence in them. What this school needed to do, others need to do also; what we have accomplished others may equal or surpass. What is your high school doing?

It is too soon for us even to try to evaluate what we have already been able to do. We know those we are helping are all making acceptable records for themselves and that two of them at least are, of their own choice, going to become teachers.

That which makes school work, teaching and administrative duties alike, worth while, in spite of its monotony at times, long hours, nerve strain and responsibility, is the fact that we are dealing with the human element which is an unknown quantity and which varies from almost zero (tragedy) to almost infinity (genius). We know miracles are often seeming to happen before our very eyes. A fund, which has the power to open the doors of the future, is very vital and very much worth while. A reward—of the stuff that cannot be measured—is bound to come and we cannot afford to hold back those who "follow the gleam." In keeping faith,—a trust, privilege, responsibility, and opportunity,—we not only serve ourselves and our time but, perchance, start an endless chain of growing good which may help to make or mar future years.

THE SECRET

JANE O'SULLIVAN, Nevada A

I went to the hills, my desert hills,
For they always seemed a part of me,
I went alone to the silent hills
With a secret in the heart of me.

I flung myself down on the warm red earth,
Pressed close 'till I felt its pulsing heat,
And the blue bent close to me overhead,
And the breath of the sage was wild and sweet.

I said not a word to the earth or sky,
Nor murmured a word to the gray-misted brush,
But they knew, and their answering silence throbbed
With the glory that filled the holy hush.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

By LEONA C. BUCHWALD, Maryland A

(Miss Buchwald has written the following upon request telling of her interesting work as a Supervisor of Educational and Vocational Guidance.—The Editor.)

AFTER being graduated from Goucher College in 1913, I followed the course of the greater number of college graduates of that period, which led into teaching. My assignment was in English and German in the high school at Havre de Grace, Maryland. After three pleasant years, I advanced to the high school in West Chester, Pennsylvania where I was made head of the department of German. Believing I had found my place, I spent the summer of 1917 in graduate study in German at Columbia University. At the end of my year as head of the department the war took German out of the high school.

During my teaching experience I became aware of the great need of some method of helping and directing pupils, for there were all too many who were merely drifting. But now that I was out of teaching, I was anxious to render as much service as possible in connection with the war, so I took a position in the Statistical Division of the Embarkation Service of the War Department in Washington. This was a valuable experience, but since my interest lay in work with people rather than with things, I gave it up as soon as the urgent need had passed.

Conditions at this time made it necessary for me to be in Baltimore, so I was very fortunate in being able to do some pioneer work in the Y. W. C. A. The Association was interested in beginning a Business Girls' Club Department, and I was put in charge of the work. Two very happy years were spent in recruiting girls, forming clubs, making outside contacts—with business and industry—and finally forming a Federation of Clubs. At the end of the two years we had a lively department of two hundred girls. During this work it occurred to me that Baltimore should have a club of business and professional women who had arrived, as well as clubs of the younger girls. With this in mind, I made a survey of the situation in Baltimore, trying to determine the thought of leading women on this subject. Many preliminary meetings were held, but it was not until two years later, in 1922, that the Business and Professional Women's Club of which I was the first secretary, was organized. It is now a flourishing club with a strong educational program in which guidance of the young business girl forms a large part. I have the honor of serving on the educational committee of which Dr. Iva L. Peters, Vocational Adviser at Goucher College is the chairman. Dr. Peters is also chairman of the Educational Program of the National Federation of Business Women's Clubs.

It was at the beginning of my third year in Y. W. C. A. work that Dr. Peters came into my life. I went to the college to consult with her concerning a project which I was considering. After several interviews our conversations drifted from my project to the vocational guidance work which she wanted to put on a stable basis. For this work Dr. Peters told me that she was looking for a Vocational Secretary, and offered the position to me. Since the work sounded so worth while and fitted into my earlier thinking, I decided to give up my Club work for it. Once more I was a pioneer. My contact with the Y. W. C. A. work was not lost, however, for I am still a member of the Business Girls' Committee, which helps promote the work of the department which I established in Baltimore.

Work at Goucher and with Dr. Peters was illuminating and interesting. It was here that I was given the opportunity of coming in contact with the leading thought on the subject of vocational guidance, and my interest grew with my knowledge of the subject. In the two years I spent in the work at Goucher the department was established, part-time work emphasized and studies made as to placement, follow-up and adjustment of our graduates. During the time I was there, I was studying in psychology at Johns Hopkins University.

After two years' work at Goucher I began to see that the work of guidance should be extended to the public schools. Since this field offered great opportunity and was much broader in its scope than that of the college, I entered it in September 1923. Again a pioneer. During the previous summer, however, I began to study with Dr. John M. Brewer of Harvard University, and am still spending my summers in research and study there.

During the first year I was alone in the work in guidance in Baltimore, counseling in two schools—a junior and a senior high school. The remainder of my time was spent in "selling" my work to the school officials in general and working on an organization that would be adaptable to Baltimore. I made many outside contacts with civic organizations, industry and business, all of which was necessary to get the desired cooperation. In the fall of 1924, four additional counselors were appointed, and I still carried on the work of organization, supervision, publicity and occupational study. In order to give the counselors and interested teachers a background in the subject, I conducted a course in the "Principles and Practices of Vocational Guidance" in the Department of Education, Johns Hopkins University.

The fall of 1925 has seen rapid strides. The staff is now eighteen with counselors in all junior and senior high schools with the exception of two. Work has been begun in the colored schools and the night schools. My appointment as Supervisor of Educational and Vocational Guidance was just made in January 1926. The work, I hope, will soon extend to the upper grades of the elementary schools and vocational schools plus a placement bureau, which will function for all. This work, I feel, is essential for our boys and girls, to help them find themselves in their school life and finally in this complex world, and so become happy, worthwhile members of society. If any of my fraternity sisters wish to work in an interesting field—join the ranks of vocational guidance workers.

NEW STUDENT MOVEMENT TO EUROPE

age-old memories of great personages who lived and fought and died in Flanders Fields; to go by boat up the Rhine, lingering now and then amid damp old castles, thence to Switzerland with its chalets perched precariously upon the rugged Alps, dropping down into sunny Italy, and finally along the Riviera to Paris—this has long been the unrealized dream of many an American.

Travel is the by-word of this restless age, and until the last two years a luxury enjoyed by only a select few. The Student Movement, which was instigated and is being fostered by various steamship lines and tour companies, is no more than an undertaking to promote European travel at the minimum of cost and the maximum of comfort and pleasure. Those who have been fortunate enough to have enjoyed the privilege of being among the pioneers in the field, have come back full of enthusiasm and optimistic that this is an undertaking that has the most brilliant of futures. It accords the business and professional man and woman, the teacher, the student, in fact, anyone of ordinary means, a great new opportunity. The paths which it is opening up are boundless, and shall eventually encircle the globe, but at present the attention is turned to Europe.

For a sum less than six hundred dollars and a trip covering seven countries in two months, the prospective traveller wonders just what to expect. The term "Steerage," which characterized the Third Class in the days of old, is enough to horrify him. He expects to be put down in a dark hole among various nationalities and classes of humanity to suffocate and fast for a period of days, such as the passage of the sea may require.

Fortunately, when the Immigration Act was passed, excluding foreigners from this country, there were those who looked into the future and saw great ocean liners putting out to sea, the cream of America's youth and intellect aboard, and not all waving farewell from the decks of First and Second Cabin. So it is to the steamship lines, more especially to the U. S. Government Lines, that credit is due now. These have spared neither effort nor expense in remodelling and ammeliorating conditions in this part of the ship now known as Student Cabin. Baths have been added, lounges and radios have been installed, service has been increased, and well cooked meals of many courses, as well as afternoon tea and frequent entertainments, have been provided.

If anyone is in doubt as to the type of person with whom one rubs shoulders here, read for instance an extract from the Passenger List in a Student Log:

John Havhurst of New York is on board en route to Italy to study design.

Theodore Mansfield, professor of Economics at _____ University, is going to Paris to do research upon old manuscripts and editions of Victor Hugo.

Andrew Dean, of _____ University, is on his way to the Hague as a delegate to the Academy of International Law to study the mechanism of War Court.

Miss _____, of the _____ Legation at Washington, is en route to Paris for her vacation.

Add to this a group of six artists taking a sketching tour, a political economist who plans to study in Vienna, a singer en-route to Berlin, a doctor of plastic surgery and several dozen Phi Beta Kappa keys too numerous and difficult to count under a glaring summer sun.

As the ship sails into Southampton Harbor, the Magic Carpet begins to unfold—ahead is a great storehouse rich with the joys and beauties which hundreds of centuries only can amass and of which millionaire and pauper alike may enjoy and share equally. There is historic old London with its Tower, Abbey, cathedrals, public squares, bridges, monuments, parks and galleries; the Shakespeare country and rural England; the night trip across the North Sea, which finds one at dawn in sight of the Hook of Holland with its picturesque dikes and its wind-mills outlined against the horizon; the Hague with its House-in-the-Woods and Scheveningen, the famous bathing beach; Amsterdam with its galleries and age-old "carrillons" which, through the ages have sung the joys and sorrows of the people; and there is the Isle of Marken over the Zeider Zee, where quaint fisher-folk, just as figures stepped out of another age, come to meet the afternoon boat and sell their native wares. Then there is Brussels and its fine old buildings and monuments of history; and Antwerp, where the "Descent From the Cross" still hangs, saved from the devastating hands of an invading army. There is the trip up the Rhine, the stop at Strasbourg in Alsace-Lorraine, nestled as it is in the foothills of the Vosges Mountains, where a sturdy little people are helping to live the principles set forth in "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity" amid the ruins of many wars. Over the mountains Lucerne is found nestled in the heart of the Alps—Lucerne with its old walls, its bridges, and its Lion carved in solid rock. Over the Brunig Pass and across Lake Brienz, where the high mountains dip into the deep blue water, Interlaken sleeps in the temperate summer sun, and in the distance the white capped Jungfrau beckons the weary traveler to come and linger on its quiet slopes. Mounting the crest of the Alps, passing through many miles of tunnels, and dropping down into the Italian Lake District, the traveller takes shelter for the night by Lake Maggiore; then on to Milan, Venice and Florence, the art and intellectual center of Italy. Finally there is Rome with its numerous places all so familiar to the students of history; and a jaunt to Naples, the Isle of Capri, the Blue Grotto, Sorrento, Pompeii and Amalfi on the high cliffs overlooking the Mediterranean.

Passing along the Riviera from Rome to Nice and Monte Carlo, one sees the Leaning Tower of Pisa and the house in Genoa where Columbus was born and continues on to Paris—Paris, the center of the universe for those who have lingered under its spell—an enchanted city of myriad spires and domes, of parks and great buildings, of boulevards and world-famed monuments dedicated to those great men who have lived and built, made war and loved here since the conquest of the Caesars, finally, a city which symbolizes to the world all that is supreme in everything great and beautiful in art and culture and learning.

The Magic Carpet slowly begins to fold once more, and like Argonauts of old, having found the Golden Fleece of Happiness, a motley crowd sails homeward, so different in life's pursuits and yet alike in this one thing, that they have eagerly explored the new, touched the unknown, sighted strange lands which, to this time, have been as mysteries to their far-reaching minds. The New World lies ahead—the New which measures its own growth by only tens of years—and behind, the Old, where imagination calls up memories and traditions and tokens of vanished peoples—where modern man dwindles out of sight and inventions of the day become an insufficient impertinence—a land, finally, not of the sunset and recorded yesterdays alone, but of the sunrise and unlimited tomorrows, which shall witness the dream of those far-sighted ones who saw great liners putting out to sea with young America aboard, ever come true.

PI PHIS IN THE PUBLIC EYE

A PORTRAYER OF CHARACTER

BECAUSE of her unusual dramatic ability Marjorie Chiles, Indiana Γ , has won praise such as seldom comes to an amateur.

In playing the lead in "The Wren," produced by the Little Theater Society of Indiana at Indianapolis, Marjorie Chiles attracted the attention of the author of the play, Booth Tarkington.

Mr. Tarkington, after witnessing the play, called upon Miss Chiles and her mother about having her go to New York and shortly after that she had luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. Tarkington in their beautiful home in Indianapolis.

The next day after the play Booth Tarkington sent the following note to her

MARJORIE CHILES
Indiana Γ

"Dear Miss Chiles:

I have to go to New York day-after-tomorrow and I'm not just sure how long I shall be kept there, probably about a week; and I shall look forward to seeing you on my return. You did better as 'Seebie' than I told you; better indeed, than I realized when I talked to you after the play. You did so well, in fact, that you keep remaining with one. I'm sure everybody in that audience kept on seeing and hearing you afterwards—which is what makes a 'performance' (and the person who 'performs') a part of the memory permanently. That does not often happen, nor does it fall frequently to the lot of a huge theatre like the Murat, to know such a hush as you were able to produce in one of your moments with Roddy. I should like to talk to you about that among other things. I think you have indeed as you said you were 'trying' to, got something 'into your head,' and be sure and take what you did and what you are seriously, as we say:— but as an experienced old theatre worker who is pretty weary of the work though not of the theatre's people, I shall still try to be discouraging. You will think perhaps I should explain the paradox: my saying on the one hand that you can do a thing and do it beautifully, and, on the other, that you shouldn't do it. I'll try to make it clearer when we can talk at some length, though of course I know that all I'll say on the discouraging side won't count with you though it may help to forewarn you a little.

You made me glad that I wrote that play! It hadn't previously been a particularly happy memory.

Sincerely yours,

BOOTH TARKINGTON."

Marjorie Chiles is at present a senior at Butler College and president of Indiana Γ . She represented the chapter as delegate at the Bigwin Inn Convention and endeared herself to those at convention by her clever entertaining on Stunt Night.

Many honors have come to her in college as she participates in various activities being a charter member of Chimes, the honorary society for junior women, writer and director of May Day Pageant, chairman of Founders' Day, president of Panhellenic, Junior Prom Queen, vice-president of the sophomore class, had lead in Butler Dramatic Club's play, "Honor Bright," member of Scarlet Quill, honorary society for senior women petitioning Mortar Board, member of Pi Epsilon Delta, honorary dramatic fraternity, and a member of many other college organizations.

In writing of her dramatic experience Miss Chiles says:

I have had dramatic experience with the Little Theater Society of Indiana and as a pupil in Stuart Walker's "Disciple" School which he conducted when he had his New York Stock Company here at the Murat Theater for three summers. There were ten of us from all over the United States, and we had to attend all rehearsals just as the regular players did, played small parts, and absorbed real theatrical atmosphere. I have been in many Little Theatre plays, but the two plays I enjoyed most were "The Wren" by Booth Tarkington and "Mary, the Third," by Rachel Crothers. I played the lead in both of them.

The former was given in honor of Booth Tarkington who is a citizen of Indianapolis. He was very lovely to the cast and came to the final rehearsal to give us his idea of his characters. The play, was given to a packed house at the Murat, a huge place, and a reception was held in honor of Mr. Tarkington and the cast after the performance.

A SUCCESSFUL, INGENUE

The old saying "Good things come in little packages" is ably illustrated in the case of Laura Evangeline Lovett, Columbia A, '24, one of the few members of Pi Beta Phi who have chosen the stage as a profession. Laura Lovett, as her audiences know her (Evangeline to her friends) is at present the piquant little ingenue of the National Players of Cincinnati, Ohio, a stock company with an able cast which has established an enviable reputation not only in the Ohio city, but in other parts of that state and Kentucky as well.

LAURA EVANGELINE LOVETT
Columbia A

Laura Lovett is a pioneer in drama in her family. No one of her forbears, so far as is known, either acted or wrote plays. They were hardy pioneers who journeyed to the wilderness of Illinois in the early part of last century, travelling thither in covered wagons and flat-boats; and the family has been established there ever since. Laura was born in Peoria and fell in love with the stage almost before she was old enough to talk; she attended the theatre regularly as a child, and held unswervingly to her purpose to become an actress. In her early 'teens she took courses in voice culture and expression at the Peoria Musical College; then attended Bradley Polytechnic Institute where she finished at the head of her class and won a scholarship. Realizing that a general college education would "pay dividends" more than enough to compensate for the postponement of her career for another four years, she enrolled at Radcliffe College and at the same time continued to perfect her dramatic expression and dancing at the New England Conservatory of Music. Her capacity for work seems to have been unlimited, for she also studied in Prof. Baker's notable "47 Workshop," in which a number of now-successful dramatists received their training. Nor did she miss any opportunity to take an active part in college plays, and became chairman of the dramatic committee of the Idler club.

Success was inevitable after such thorough training and Laura Lovett has been continuously engaged since her graduation from Radcliffe. Thirty-five weeks in stock with Harold Holstein's Company in Toledo, and thirty-eight weeks with the Woodward Players in St. Louis have contributed to her development.

Her father, Judge Robert H. Lovett, came to Washington, D. C., as an Assistant Attorney-General during the Harding administration, and remained nearly four years. In 1923 he persuaded Laura to leave the stage for a year. She went to Europe that summer with her parents, and returned to enjoy a winter in Washington society. But an unbroken round of gayety was not sufficient to absorb all her interest, and she sought an M.A. at George Washington University, sandwiching her classes between her social activities. She was pledged to Columbia A in the spring of '24 and had a leading part in the composition and production of the original musical comedy which Columbia A freshmen are obliged to present annually to the active chapter.

Laura's acting is a joy to everyone who sees her. She is a serious artist whose ideal metier is the drama, social comedy being the branch she prefers. Her youthful appearance and type have of course limited her scope to ingenue roles, but she makes a fine distinction between her various parts. Whether she is cast as a modern flapper, a saucy French maid, someone's demure little daughter, or other role in kind, she manages to submerge her own personality completely and make her part convincing through her poise and naturalness; she never finds it necessary to caricature a role. Pi Beta Phi honored itself in honoring her with membership, for she is one from whom continual progress may be expected.

A LOVER OF MELODY

Louise Spalding Malin, Iowa B whose composition, "Dreaming" dedicated to the I. Cs., was sung at Convention, is a lover of melody and spends many hours at her piano composing melodies and words to correspond.

Louise Spalding displayed musical tendencies when a very small child and at the age of six years began the study of piano under Emil Enna and Henri Ruifrok.

LOUISE SPALDING MALIN,
Iowa B

Her early years were spent in Des Moines, Iowa and two years at Basin, Wyoming. In 1912 she moved with her family to California and in that year graduated from the Long Beach Polytechnic High School. During the next two years she studied piano, harmony and vocal in the Los Angeles Musical College under the direction of Vernon Spencer and appeared in many artist concerts.

In the fall of 1914 she went to Simpson College intending to finish piano and become a concert artist and was graduated from that institution in 1916 with the degree of Bachelor of Music. She was initiated into Iowa B of Pi Beta Phi in April 1915.

While at Simpson, Mrs. Malin studied in addition to her other work public school music and upon her return to California decided to work with boys and girls of high school age in whom she had a great deal of interest. For five years she supervised high school music in Tulare, El Monte and San Bernardino High Schools. At each place she directed a musical comedy all of which were highly successful both financially and as entertainments of note.

She was married in June, 1921, to Douglas Malin of Long Beach and taught the following semester in the Long Beach Polytechnic High School.

Mrs. Malin writes:

I am now deeply interested in my two and a half year old son, Robert Spaulding, and my home. Spend leisure time at the piano composing melodies and words. Have written many compositions but do not expect to become famous from them. They were written for the pleasure of friends and to satisfy my own imagination and heart feelings. They are mostly songs of the heart expressing love and loyalty and carrying a personal theme. Each high school where I taught claims a school song of my composition.

"Iowa Loyalty Song" seems to be a favorite and has been sung at the Iowa State picnics and other celebrations held in California. My first composition was a Pi Phi Waltz song written while in college. The next, a Hawaiian Serenade which proved popular. The best known composition is "Robert's Lullaby" written for my baby boy when he was four months old. This was first composed as a solo then harmonized in three parts for women's voices. "June Night Love Song" is another one. "A Song of Happiness," a pianologue, was given the first time at the Settlement School benefit at the Hotel Virginia last November, the composer being the entertainer. This number has been repeated at various places upon demand.

My latest composition, "Dreaming" dedicated to the I. Cs.—a simple melody—was sung at the banquet at Convention this year by Margaret Patterson, the Iowa B delegate.

I am deeply interested in the simple things in music that appeal to the great masses of common people. I believe that a simple appealing melody which touches the heart is one of the greatest powers in the world. Therefore, when one comes to me I try to develop it before it gets away.

This spring I spent a great deal of time as chairman of the Long Beach Composers' Day program sponsored by the Music Study Club. Twelve composers appeared on the program which was later broadcasted over KFON. I belong to several music organizations and other clubs but am primarily interested in Pi Beta Phi and everything connected with the fraternity. My year as president of the Long Beach alumnæ club last year was one of the happiest years of my life. I guess I am a "dyed in the wool" Pi Phi as I have six relatives who are I. Cs.: Fannie Andrew Noble, Emma Patton Noble, Louise Noble Curtis, great aunts, were charter members of Iowa B founded in 1874. My second cousin, Lilly Armstrong Spray, my aunt, Martha Da Shiell Burberry, and my dear mother, Mary Da Sheill Spaulding were I. Cs. and early members of Iowa B.

With such lineage I was Pi Phi inspired long before I reached high school age although I never dreamed then that an arrow could mean so much.

LOUISE SPAULDING MALIN (MRS. DOUGLAS),
Iowa B.

A COMPOSER

Josephine Trott, Colorado Beta, '98, violinist, who studied three years in Germany after leaving college, has made a specialty of the teaching branch of her art and has developed a number of remarkably fine players. She has also made numerous important contributions to the violin literature of the class room, her publishers being G. Schirmer, Inc., of New York.

Besides various little solos for young violinists,—viz., "Puppet Show," "At Dancing School," "The Town Clock," etc., her "Studies in Shifting," and "Daily Scale Studies," are much used all over the country.

Schirmer is now bringing out an innovation from her pen,—a "Melodious" series of violin studies, the first book, "Melodious Double-stops," having appeared in September, and the other two volumes, "Melodious Foundation Studies" and "28 Melodious Studies in the first position with accompaniment of second violin" to follow shortly.

Almost a dozen years ago, Miss Trott adopted a small orphaned Italian girl, whom she named Riccarda Forrest. The child proved to be a brilliant pupil and at the age of 14 captured the gold medal offered by the Musicians' Society of Denver. A few months later Miss Trott took her to Paris where she has been under the tutelage of the famous master, Remy, for three years. A Paris debut and a recital in Florence, Italy, at the age of fifteen, aroused much interest and musicians and critics predicted a brilliant career for Riccarda. She returned to Denver early last summer and has just made several triumphant appearances as soloist with orchestra,—in Topeka, December 20, and with the Civic Symphony Orchestra of Denver, January 15 and 17, playing the Wieniawski Concerto. She is now seventeen and has every reason to anticipate an unusually successful future.

AN AUTHORITY ON CRIMINOLOGY

Dr. Mary B. Harris, Pennsylvania B, undoubtedly knows more about women criminals than any other woman in the United States. At present she is superintendent of the New Federal Industrial Institution located at Alderson, West Virginia where she has charge of 100 white prisoners, 70 negroes and 1 yellow woman. These prisoners range in age from 18 to 61, most of them being between the ages of 25 and 39. "One of the number was committed for murder, 100 for violation of the drug act, 11 for violation of the prohibition act, 8 for robbery, 8 for conspiracy against the government, 3 for violation of the postal laws,

2 for violation of the Mann act, and the others for all sorts of offenses, from perjury to second-degree murder. It must be remembered that every offense committed in the District of Columbia is an offense against the Federal Government, which accounts for the large number of offenders who ordinarily would be sent to state institutions."

An article entitled, "Why So Many Women in Crime" which appeared in the Sunday Magazine Section of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat gave a review of Dr. Harris' experiences and viewpoint.

According to the article, in discussing her new work, Dr. Harris said: "We are going to substitute the feeling of personal responsibility for bars and bolts. I know it can be done. Twice at the State Home for Girls at Trenton, N. J., for example, the staff went off duty from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. while the girls took full charge of all the departments except the boiler house. They served luncheon to the staff and official visitors, and not one single thing happened to mar the day."

Dr. Harris is the daughter of the late Dr. John Howard Harris who was, for thirty-five years, President and President Emeritus of Bucknell University at Lewisburg, Pa. After graduation from Bucknell, Miss Harris studied at the University of Chicago receiving her Ph.D. degree in Classics. After several years of teaching and foreign travel, she became Superintendent of Women at the Workhouse on Blackwell's Island, New York City, under Dr. Katherine Bement Davis, who was then Commissioner of Correction. This position she held for three years and a half and then became Superintendent of the New Jersey State Reformatory for Women in February, 1918. While holding this position, she was granted leave of absence to serve as Assistant Director in the Section of Reformatories and Detention Houses in the Law Enforcement Division of the Camp Activities and continued in this capacity until April, 1919. Shortly after this she resigned from the Superintendency of the Women's Reformatory to assume the Superintendency of the State Home for Girls of New Jersey in which position she continued until January, 1925. The Deficiency Bill, passed by Congress March 4, 1925 provided an appropriation for a new institution for women Federal prisoners, called The Federal Industrial Institution for Women, to be located at Alderson, West Virginia. Dr. Harris was soon thereafter appointed Superintendent of this Institution by the Attorney General of the United States.

A DEAN OF WOMEN AT BATES

Because of the splendid press comments upon the work of Ruth V. Pope, Columbia A, who is now Dean of Women at Bates College, Lewistown, Maine, a special request was sent for information concerning her life and activities.

Miss Helen Whitehouse, Director of the News Bureau of Bates College writes:

DEAN RUTH V. POPE
Columbia A

Miss Pope is a woman of fine executive ability, and her charming personality has won her a host of friends at Bates. Altho she has been with us only since the beginning of the college year she is doing splendid work with young women and we feel that the President and Trustees are to be congratulated upon their choice of a Dean of Women.

Student Government here is particularly strong and well-organized and Miss Pope who has herself promoted so many of these organizations in other institutions, is peculiarly fitted to guide and advise. Our young women represent a highly selective group with which to work as there are more than twice as many applicants every year as can be admitted, thus affording an opportunity to single out those who measure up to our standards of scholarship and ideals.

In addition to Miss Pope's work as dean she conducts a special course in education which is designed to show how the changed economic conditions have altered the status of women, and it is an attempt to evaluate the educational standards effecting the vocational and professional life of the women and girls in the United States.

We are also interested to learn that Miss Pope is descended from the same line as Benjamin Bates, one of the founders of the college and for whom the college was named.

Miss Pope is the daughter of Dr. George Whitfield Pope, Assistant Chief, Field Inspection Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture.

Miss Pope graduated from San Diego, Calif., High School; received her A. B. degree from George Washington University in 1914; her A.M. from George Washington University in 1918; and an A.M. in Education from Teachers' College, Columbia University, in 1924.

She has held with success the following positions: Assistant Principal, High School, Poolesville, Md.; principal of the Grammar School, Bethesda, Md., 1916-17; Assistant Office Manager, Bureau of Imports, War Trade Board, 1917-18; Registrar, Education Service, U. S. Army, General Hospital No. 3; Supervisor, Reconstruction Aides, Surgeon General's Office; General Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Bluefield, W. Va., 1920-21; Dean of Women, Des Moines University, 1921-23; Director of Education of the Y. W. C. A., District of Columbia, 1923-25; and Dean of Women and Professor of Education at Bates College, 1925.

Particularly to be noted is her work as Supervisor of Reconstruction Aides in 1918-1919. She held this position under the personal appointment of Secretary of War Baker, and was one of the few women appointed to a position in the United States Army during the war.

A SUCCESSFUL EDITOR

Kathleen Mallory, Maryland A, is an outstanding figure in the Southern Baptist Convention and is known thruout the Southland for her splendid work as editor of "Royal Service," the official publication of the Woman's Missionary Union Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention. This magazine has a circulation of 61,000.

KATHLEEN MALLORY
Maryland A

Kathleen Mallory was initiated into Maryland A on February 11, 1899. She was active in all phases of college life, becoming president of the freshman class, president of the Agora Debating Club, and treasurer of the Southern Club. She was sent as delegate from her chapter to the Pi Beta Phi Convention held at Syracuse, and is described by one of the Pi Phis who attended that gathering as being "The life of that Convention."

Miss Mallory represented Goucher College as delegate to the Y. W. C. A. Convention in Asheville, N. C. In her senior year she was selected to give the "charge to the faculty," and received her degree in 1902.

Immediately after graduation from college, Kathleen Mallory taught in Demopolis, Ala., and while there became deeply interested in school improvement.

In 1910 she was called to work for the Baptists of Alabama as corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union of that state. Two years later she became corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention. Through years of faithfulness she has endeared herself to the thousands of Baptist women in the South.

In 1923 Miss Mallory made a trip to the Orient, visiting various mission stations. Upon her return to the United States in 1924 she made the key note address before the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention in session at Atlanta, Georgia.

A WRITER OF SHORT STORIES

Ruth Hawkins, charter member of Idaho A, is the author of "The Wheels Grind On," which was recently selected as one of the twenty-five best short stories written by college students during the past year.

Ruth Hawkins completed her freshman and sophomore years at the University of California and the last two years of her college life at the University of Idaho.

She majored in English and is now teaching English in the Emmett High School. In college she was interested in all things literary, being a member of Winged Helmet, an honorary literary society, and on the staff of the Argonaut, Idaho's newspaper. In her junior year she was chosen assistant editor of the Blue Bucket, college magazine, and as a senior was editor of it.

Ruth is a member of Mortar Board and has recently been initiated into P. E. O.

Pi Beta Phi has always been of primary importance to Ruth Hawkins, especially since her experience as president of her chapter.

AN EMINENT PI PHI BANKER

The following article written by Anne Collins, which appeared in a December issue of the New York Evening Post pays tribute to Caroline Olney, Michigan B:

CAROLINE OLNEY
Michigan B

Five years ago she resolved,—suddenly—to become a woman banker. She did. Which proves again that the business world is an oyster to be opened by man or woman with the keen cutlass of brain.

Miss Caroline Olney, manager of the women's department of the Chemical National Bank, now sits behind a mahogany desk on the officers' platform because of that decision.

The Chemical is that old, old bank that paid off in gold during the great panic of 1857. "Old Bullion" it was then christened, and the phrase has clung.

"As a rule," said Miss Olney, "women who come into banks on business are a bit timid. They seem to feel that it is the easy and natural thing to present their problems to another woman.

"Feminine psychology is a curious thing. Observe a woman on a train. If she has to choose between sharing a seat with a man or a woman, almost invariably she drops beside the woman.

"She likes to look at real estate with a woman realtor. She prefers interviewing a woman information clerk.

"Perhaps it is timidity; perhaps it is an unconscious quest for understanding; perhaps it is that, broadly speaking, business is a man's world and game and no woman feels quite welcome at a stag party, even though she be invited. So it has come to pass that we now find women parts of organizations that until recently were made up exclusively of men.

"However, I do not believe in the segregation of women's banking. That is, I do not believe in having in a bank a separate department for handling women's affairs only."

Miss Olney believes that a bank, or any business, for that matter, should include women among its executives as a matter of course. Not merely to aid woman clients or to give a more universal service to men—Miss Olney has as many men clients as women—but because it is helpful for any organization to get a woman's viewpoint.

Blond, slender and chic, Miss Olney is one of those women who are "mistresses of themselves, though china fall." One can't imagine her getting panicky or flurried.

A man comes to her with a credit problem. Her manner is sympathetic and understanding, and she concentrates on the angles of his particular question until he goes away satisfied.

A widow, confused and uncertain, talks with her about the wisdom of certain investments. Miss Olney patiently and clearly advises her what is best for her particular needs.

"Women are a bit slow in realizing the use that can be made of banks other than depositing their money," remarked Miss Olney. "They should use more freely the bond department and the foreign departments. Bank credit, too, is still an uninvestigated service as far as most women—and business women at that—are concerned."

After having been graduated from the Lapeer High School near Detroit, Mich., Miss Olney entered the University of Michigan, from which institution she later received her degree. She specialized in languages and was afterward to find her knowledge of French helpful. She spent a year traveling in Europe.

When the war was declared Caroline Olney was one of the first women to go overseas with the Red Cross, starting at her task with the French Refugee Service. Later she took over a large unit of the Canteen and Hospital Hut Service of the American Red Cross.

After the war Miss Olney became interested in welfare work in Philadelphia. She remained there a year and it was then that she decided to become a banker. She felt that women should be represented in financial circles and that for the college woman especially banking was a good field.

College training is a helpful stepping stone on the road to success for both men and women, Miss Olney believes.

"While many people attain success without higher education, I think they advance much more slowly. The Department of Education points out that one child in 150,000, uneducated, is able to accomplish anything that entitles him to honorable mention in the progress of his State.

"The department finds that children with a common school education win four times as often as the uneducated child. The high school student wins eighty-seven times oftener, while the college graduate is eight hundred times as likely to succeed.

"That," added Miss Olney, "is one reason why I believe in college.

"College is imperative for girls, especially, because both in business and the professions they must overcome a prejudice that still exists. Banking houses are not so averse to the woman employee as they were ten years ago, but I think the girl who comes to the chief clerk armed with a college degree is more apt to get the job than the untrained applicant.

"Banking offers a wide latitude for the cultured, refined woman who has courage and ability. The test of quality is paramount. The girl who can offer to a bank personality, cleverness, loyalty and resourcefulness will be employed and her future is bounded only by her own ambition."

Asked if woman executives in banks were not purely an American innovation, Miss Olney smiled and said:

"I heard the other day that a bank in China is run by a Chinese woman, and I understand that the Contessa Daisy Robilanti is a director in the Instituto Italiano di Credito Maritimo. Then there is a Chinese woman in charge of the foreign department of a large San Francisco bank.

"So it would seem that woman in banking is not bounded by country. I do think, however, that there is no place in the world quite so receptive to accepting and promoting qualified women in banking as our own country."

As a further proof of this, Miss Olney recited the fact that in the Association of Bank Women—of which she is treasurer—are six bank presidents, two directors, one treasurer, three assistant treasurers and five cashiers. She spoke of one of the largest trust companies in the country, which has a woman at the head of its cable department; of a large Chicago bank where a woman manages the savings department; of a woman who is in charge of the publicity of a big bank in the Windy City.

"While more than twenty-five thousand women are in banks in this country, there is room for that many more," said Miss Olney. "As to the 'why' of a women's department in a bank, it simply means banks are recognizing that to attract the trade of women they must enlist the services of a woman—one who understands the problems of finance, has skill in interpreting them to other women and has qualities that will bring women to her with their problems."

WINNER OF CONTEST

The Riverside Enterprise of Riverside, Calif., contains the following information in which Mrs. Edwin Avery Field, (Charlotte E. Shepard, Michigan A), is in the limelight:

In a recent contest conducted by Mrs. Alice Harriman of Hollywood, who has been giving a course of lectures at the Mission Inn on the art of literary self-expression, prizes were offered for the two best articles on the Santa Ana Valley in Springtime. F. A. Miller, master of the Inn offered $10 for the best essay, and $5 for the second best. The first, "The Greater Glory," was written by Mrs. Edwin Avery Field.

THE GREATER GLORY

When this world is so full of beautiful valleys, each with its lovely, inspiring springtime, to say that our valley of the Santa Ana is the fairest, even though it seems so to us, would be only boasting. But never is our valley more glorious than at this season of new life when happy, singing birds are nesting, and billows of clouds gleam snow-white against the bluest of skies. Where but a few years ago, all was desert, are fragrant green fields, new-leaved trees and vines, an empire of golden-fruited groves, burdening the air with the perfume of their bloom; hillsides and meadows purple with lupine, or golden with poppies, interspersed with baby-blue, cream-cups, shooting stars, and a thousand other delicate wild flowers of myriad hue, the tender thought of God. All about rise rugged mountains, purple in the distance; the Temescals to the south, Cucamonga and San Antonio to the west; to the north, the San Bernardino range, and toward the sunrise, snowy San Geronio and San Jacinto; while in the center of our valley, Rubidoux, a rugged mass of granite thrusts itself forth to overlook river and plain.

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills," was the inarticulate cry of men long ages before the Psalmist gave it utterance, for the gods dwell on the mountain tops. In Jewish and Christian Scriptures many great events had their setting on the mountains. On Sinai, Moses received the ten commandments; on the mount our Lord delivered His great sermon; a high mountain was the scene of His transfiguration; on Calvary He was crucified; from Olivet He ascended into Heaven. In other religions, also, there have been sacred mountains. From the peaks, the followers of the Persian seer greeted the rising sun; the Greeks had their Olympus, the Japanese their Fujiyama.

Ancient Athens, like Riverside, was situated in the river valley, girt about with mountains, with a climate very similar to ours. The Greek city lay at the base of the Acropolis, as Riverside clusters about Rubidoux. From the top of the Acropolis, as from Rubidoux could be seen a wonderful panorama of fertile river valley, where grew the orange, the fig, the olive and the vine, with the snowy peak of Parnassus in the distance, the beautiful buildings gleaming below. Five hundred years before the first Easter, upon the Acropolis, the Athenians constructed the world's most perfect building, the Parthenon, a temple of Athena. Upon our Acropolis stands a simple wooden cross, in memory of Padre Junipero Serra, founder of the Franciscan missions in California. What a contrast! The one, the most magnificent of buildings, erected by the most cultured of peoples, to one of the multitude of voluptuous deities; the other, a rough piece of wood, for a man of "poverty, chastity, and obedience," who preached to ignorant savages, a lowly Christ, crucified.

Across the plains of Attica, by the road now called in his honor, the Sacred Way, came the apostle Paul, to preach the risen Jesus to the Athenians on Mars Hill. Through our valley, pausing to camp at the foot of Rubidoux, toiled the dauntless Anza, as he led his company of priests, soldiers, and colonists, from Sonora to San Francisco, across the trackless, deadly desert, in order to establish an overland route between Mexico and the missions of California. Long ago this was a sacred mountain to the Indians, who came to it from as far away as San Diego or Santa Barbara, to participate in religious ceremonies.

And once again it is a sacred mountain, for, some years ago, a man from the East, Jacob Riis, had a vision, of a service on the hilltop, at sunrise on Easter morning. Who of the few who attended that first time, could have foreseen the countless eager multitudes, who now, each Easter morning, throng the mountain top to worship the risen Christ; and who would have believed that this would inspire the people of other communities, all over the land to gather upon the hills in similar services? Who can measure the cumulative spiritual uplift that has come to our nation as a result? Surely those who have perpetuated this annual observance have also been men of vision.

The gods of Olympus are dead. The glory of Athens and of Parthenon is but a name. Shall the glory of the Santa Ana also pass away? It may be. But let our glory be greater than that of Athens. Let us develop to the highest expression, as did the Athenians, our architecture, our music, our literature, and our art. Let us build our beautiful homes, schools, churches and parks, and give our children every advantage which culture can supply. Then let this plain cross on Rubidoux, erected by American Protestants, in honor of a Spanish Catholic priest, who gave his life to preach a Jewish Christ to dark-skinned, pagan Indians, be the symbol of our greater glory. Each springtime, as thousands of men and women of many races and creeds gather about this cross, in a service originated by an American of Danish birth, may their difference be forgotten, in their love for a common Lord, and may they be drawn a little nearer to one another, and to the ideal of Christ, "that they may be one." Then shall we be making a real contribution to the life of the world, and helping to bring in the era of friendship and peace, and the Kingdom of God in the hearts of men.

"Where there is no vision, the people perish."

HEAD OF PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Ella B. Osbourne Heim (Mrs. Edward F.), Pennsylvania B, has just been elected Head of the Department of Psychology at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mrs. Heim received the degree of A.B. from Bucknell University in 1921 and the following year won her Master's degree at Chicago University.

The next year she held a Fellowship at the University of Minnesota and remained there for two years.

In September, 1924 she was elected as an assistant in psychology at the University of Utah and now is at the head of that department.

RETURNS FROM ABROAD

The Denver Post of January 25 carried a splendid interview with Marie Albi, Colorado B, who has just returned to Denver after two and one-half years study in the Universities of Florence and Rome.

According to the news report Miss Albi said that "Premier Benito Mussolini is proving to be Italy's industrial and social savior, and for the first time in many years Italy's industries are booming, thousands on thousands of Americans are flooding Rome, Milan, Naples and Venice, and work has taken the place of idle talk."

JOINS TAMMANY

A recent issue of the New York Times contains the following news item pertaining to Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse (Vera Boarman, Louisiana A):

Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, former Chairman of the New York State Woman Suffrage Party, officially entered Tammany politics last night when she was elected a member of the County Committee from the Fifteenth Assembly District. Mrs. Whitehouse is the wife of a New York broker and lives at 118 East Fifty-sixth Street. She has a summer home, Sea Edge, at Newport.

As leader of the woman suffrage movement in this state, Mrs. Whitehouse succeeded Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and soon became prominently identified in national politics. During the war she was sent to Switzerland on a publicity mission, the object of which was to spread accurate information regarding American war aims. Since she carried no State Department credentials, Mrs. Whitehouse experienced great difficulties on her arrival abroad. These were described by her in a book, "A Year as a Government Agent."

Mrs. Whitehouse was Miss Vera Boarman of New Orleans. In recognition of her services to the suffrage cause the women of this State presented her a golden wreath soon after the passage of the suffrage amendment. About four years ago Mrs. Whitehouse purchased a controlling interest in the Buchan-Murphy Leather Goods Manufacturing Company, 417 Lafayette Street, and has since conducted the business as the Whitehouse Leather Products Company, Inc.

PHI BETA KAPPA OFFICER

THE ARROW of June 1923 carried an article concerning Mrs. Berton L. Maxfield (Winifred Hill, Massachusetts A), who at that time was President of the New York Alumnae Club of Phi Beta Phi, President of the Panhellenic Association of New York City and president of the Association of Phi Beta Kappa alumnae in New York City.

Last year there came to her a signal honor in being the first woman ever elected president of the New York State Association of Phi Beta Kappa. At the meeting last November, Mrs. Maxfield was re-elected president of the State Association and has under her supervision the fifteen chapters and five alumnae associations in New York State.

Mrs. Maxfield was elected the first president of the Phi Beta Kappa alumnae in New York City, serving two years according to the term of office allowed by the by-laws. During the two years the membership consisted of 500 active members.

She served as treasurer of the "Committee of 21" who entertained the Triennial in New York last September, this committee being composed of representatives from each of the four city colleges and the city associations. At this Triennial meeting Mrs. Maxfield was elected to the Senate of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa to succeed Dr. Virginia Gildersleeve, Dean of Barnard College, resigned. She has also been appointed a member of the Committee of Five to arrange for the 150th Anniver-

REPORT OF THE NINETEENTH NATIONAL PANHELLENIC CONGRESS

Held In Dallas, Texas, January 4-8, 1926

FOR the first time in its history the National Panhellenic Congress chose a point in the southwest for its biennial meeting place, and at the Baker Hotel in Dallas, Texas, the four days of its nineteenth session were busily spent. About fifty official delegates, non-voting delegates, and official visitors, representing the nineteen National Panhellenic Congress fraternities and two associate fraternities, were in attendance. Pi Beta Phi was represented by Francese Roma Evans substituting for May Lansfield Keller, by Amy Burnham Onken as first alternate, and by Ellen Claire Gillespie Kribs who as second alternate, served in the place of Agnes Wright Spring during the Editors' Conference.

FRANCESE ROMA EVANS

With the exception of two meetings which were held at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth.

the business of the Congress was conducted in the pleasant English room on the mezzanine floor of the Baker, a warm and colorful setting for sessions which, indeed, lacked in neither of these qualities.

The Executive officers, Dr. May Agness Hopkins, Z T A,

Chairman, Miss Louise Leonard, ΑΓΔ, Secretary, and Miss Irma Tapp, ΑΔΠ, Treasurer, gave interesting reports of the work which the Executive Committee had accomplished during the preceding two years. These in turn were followed by reports from the individual fraternities which, from their content, seemed to indicate a strong feeling in favor of extension and a generally aroused interest in means of becoming financially stabilized, in the awarding of scholarships and fellowships, in philanthropies, and in the recognition of alumnae.

The reports from standing committees showed, in most instances, that constructive work had been accomplished since the last Congress. Recommendations growing out of these reports were such as to prove the great interest of the Congress members in practically all conditions existing among the present day college students. The body expressed its intention of investigating thoroughly the scholastic standings of various types of institutions and their grading systems; of making a survey of the status of chaperons and of the official recognition by college authorities of chaperons; of attempting to achieve greater uniformity in the constitutions of college Panhellenics which are now at considerable variance; of standardizing penalties in so far as may be practicable; of estimating the cost entailed by fraternity membership and the financial standards maintained in chapter houses. It further went on record as opposing protracted rushing season as being in favor of unpretentious entertainment which should, when possible, take place in the chapter rooms or houses, and as disfavoring dances at which the stag lines are so large as to be out of proportion to the number of couples in attendance. The Congress discussed the report of the health committee which suggested that the committee have as its objective the establishment of chairs, in one or more universities, for the promotion of mental, moral and physical health among the women students in attendance.

The National Panhellenic Congress fraternities were very happy to welcome into full membership in the Congress the petitioning fraternity, Alpha Delta Theta, which for some time had been an associate member. The eligibility and the nationalization of social groups were subjects which received much attention and, growing out of the resultant discussion, certain changes were made in Article IV of the Constitution. More definite provisions were made for both associate and full memberships in the National Panhellenic Congress, acceptance into either being dependent upon a unanimous affirmative vote of the delegates present.

A second constitutional revision raised the maximum amount that may be levied for annual dues upon full members in the Congress to $25.00; upon associate members, to $15.00. Section 7 of the By-Laws attached to the Model Constitution for College Panhellenics was struck out, thus eliminating the requirement that chapters shall announce any expected visiting delegate who then shall be asked to address the college Panhellenic.

A resolution which the delegates adopted, and one which will doubtless affect the future of the National Panhellenic Congress, provided that the resort to an injunction or other legal method, as a means of avoiding compliance with local or national Panhellenic rulings by any chapter of any National Panhellenic Congress fraternity should cancel that fraternity's membership in the National Panhellenic Congress and should place its chapters in every college on the basis of local fraternities in all college Panhellenic matters, two weeks being maximum time allowed national fraternity for adjustment.

Two evening meetings of the Congress were open to the public. The speaker for the first of the open sessions was Dr. Valeria Parker whose address was on the subject of Social Hygiene; the speaker on the second evening was Mr. John Perez, a representative from the Inter-Fraternity Conference.

Due to the thoughtful planning and the excellent functioning of the Dallas Panhellenic Association, the hours which were free from business were most delightfully employed. Enjoyable drives were arranged for every late afternoon, teas were given on one evening honoring those delegates whose fraternities were represented in the city, and a beautifully appointed luncheon was given in spacious and attractive Dallas Country Club. For one day the members of the Congress were guests of the Fort Worth Panhellenic Association and were entertained most pleasantly in the neighboring city. A large luncheon with a most unique program and decorations was a distinct feature of the day, as was also a reception in the afternoon with a national officer of Kappa Delta as hostess.

However, the banquet, held on the night of January 8 in the resplendent ball room of the Baker, was indeed the outstanding social event of, and a triumphant conclusion to, the nineteenth biennial meeting of the National Panhellenic Congress. It was on this occasion that the officers who will serve on the Executive Committee for 1926-1927 were introduced: Miss Louise Leonard, $\Lambda \Gamma \Delta$, was presented as the new Chairman; Miss Irma Tapp, $\Lambda \Delta \Pi$, as the new secretary; and Miss Rennie Sebring Smith, ΔZ , the new treasurer.

Pi Beta Phi may take exceptional pride in the fact that two of her past presidents of Theta Province, Edith Daniel Dyer, Virginia A, and Ellen Claire Gillespie Kribs, Texas B, both residents of Dallas, had much to do with the successful conduct of the Congress. Mrs. Dyer, as president of the Dallas Panhellenic Association, was an able director of maneuvers and radiated the spirit of that southern hospitality of which much is heard; Mrs. Kribs, chairman of the Banquet Committee, contributed, as a result of her unstinted effort and her never failing interest and enthusiasm, the most beautiful and lasting memory of the days spent in Texas.

Both Amy B. Onken, Grand President, and your Grand Secretary, wish to express their appreciation of the cordial treatment by Dallas alumnae and actives.

Appointments of national committees to serve during the coming two years were made as follows:

Eligibility and Nationalization Committee—Mrs. J. N. Wollett, Winnetka, Ill., Delta Gamma; Miss Grace Sawyer, New York City, Alpha Phi; Miss Lorah Munro, Raleigh, N. C., Sigma Kappa.

College Panhellenics Committee — Mrs. Irving Brown, East Orange, N. J., Alpha Chi Omega; Amy B. Onken, Chapin, Ill.; Pi Beta Phi, Mrs. Violet Osborne Garney, Berkeley, Calif., Beta Phi Alpha.

City Panhellenics Committee—Miss Gladys Pugh, Union Springs, Ala., Kappa Delta; Mrs. E. P. Prince, Webster City, Iowa, Phi Mu; Dr. May Agnes Hopkins, Dallas, Tex., Zeta Tau Alpha.

By-Laws Committee—Miss Lillian Thompson, Chicago, Gamma Phi Beta; Mrs. Mary Love Collins, Cincinnati, Chi Omega; Mrs. E. N. Parmalee, Evanston, Ill., Delta Delta Delta.

Survey Committee—Chaperon's recognition, Mrs. Frank Kemp,

EDITORS' CONFERENCE OF NATIONAL PANHELLENIC CONGRESS, Dallas, Texas

The Editor's Conference of National Panhellenic Congress convened at Dallas, Texas at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of January 4 and held a most interesting session, concluded by a dinner beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

Miss Emily Butterfield, editor of the Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly, was elected secretary for the session and to act as chairman during the coming two years.

The reading of the minutes of the Eighteenth Panhellenic Editors' Conference was followed by the introduction of editors and representatives present.

The program consisted of discussions on Chapter Letters; on the Bringing Out of Literary Ability; on How to Interest Real Writers; the Value of Editorials As Such; Secret Publications; the Fraternity Magazine; Mailing Lists; The Business Side of the Fraternity Magazine; How to Be Economical; Exchanges; Uniformity of Style and Uniformity of Advertising.

The discussions pertaining to the Chapter Letter seemed to hold greatest interest.

THE ARROW Editor of Pi Beta Phi was ably represented at the conference by Mrs. C. L. Kribs, Jr., (Ellen Claire Gillespie, Texas B), who read a paper on Uniformity of Style and Uniform Advertising.

PI PHI GIRLS

(Tune: Take Me Back to Your Heart)

By DOUGLAS A. ARNOLD, Virginia A.

Pi Phi girls, Pi Phi pearls, are you true
To the ideals of wine and blue?
Keep your tryst with the arrow of Pi Phi,
Which always points onward and upward.
East and West, North and South, Pi Phi Girls,
Tho' you have set our brains in a whirl,
 If you don't choose the best,
 And just leave all the rest,
We don't call you a real

THE ARROW*

Godspeed to the arrow, and may it shine
Through mile on mile of the sliver blue,
Speeding through days that are bright and fine.
With joys and hopes and work to do;
Swift to the end of the flying day
That ends in a wine-red flush of sky
And though night come down, still wing its way Forever and ever—Pi Beta Phi.

BOOK NOTES

BY

DOROTHY K. CLEAVELAND,
NEW YORK T

State Teachers College,
Tahlequah, Oklahoma.

July and October issues of the Delineator contain characteristic short stories by Shirley Seifert, Missouri B. They are entitled "Open Wider Please," and "Bulgarian Bet."

Mr. and Mrs. Theiss (Mary Bartol, Penn. B) are again writing together, this time an article "Our Trail's End" in the Garden magazine for April 1925.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Iowa T, is a regular contributor to the Woman Citizen. Recent articles include "Evolution 50 years ago" in the July 11, 1925 issue and "Talking over China" in October issue. "What women have done with the vote" appeared in The Independent for October 17, 1925.

Mrs. Florence Finch Kelley, Kansas A, who for some years has written book reviews for the New York Times, is the author of a very different type of article "Weaving for health and happiness" in Arts and Decoration for February, 1925.

Miriam Herron, Illinois H, is the compiler of a selected bibliography of recent non-technical books for the automobile owner, entitled "Everyone has a car," which appeared in the Publishers Weekly July 4, 1925.

Committees on Settlement School programs will be interested in "Glass Window," by Lucy Furman, another story of the "quare women" and their work among the mountaineers of Kentucky. Three chapters of this appeared in the Atlantic monthly during the summer.

"The Twins Travalogues," by Welthy Honsinger from the Abingdon Press consist of four very delightful booklets for young children.

Welthy Honsinger Fisher, New York A, author of "Beyond the Moon Gate," "A String of Chinese Pearls" and many delightful stories has shown in this series the everyday life of boys and girls in four different foreign countries.

Tan and Taro of Japan give glimpses of life in the land of cherry blossoms where the school children worship the pictures of the Emperor and Empress. How Taro saves the Emperor's picture in a fire is a high light of the little volume.

All of the booklets are illustrated with sketches and pages of highly colored cut-outs for children.

The visit of the Japanese school children to the country where they study the rice fields, the silk worms, the cotton fields, chickens, pigs, etc., and their experiences at a wedding and in a Buddhist Temple are filled with interest.

The travels of Kim and Chin Chu tell of the lives of the Korean twins who fly to America to visit.

Wen Chi and Wen Bao are Chinese twins whose home is a Houseboat. Po Po's birthday feast, the baby's month old celebration, fishing with cormorants, a visit to the Moon Gate are among the outstanding features of this little story.

The travels of Mona and Mani of India carry the reader through the trials of children who are the son and daughter of a wandering Brahman teacher. The sickness, sadness and darkness of India are portrayed in this pathetic account.

Among the Pi Phi husbands whose writings have been published recently are the following:

"Spanish Dollars," by Reginald Kauffman (husband of Ruth Hammitt, Pennsylvania B) is a story for boys dealing with the expedition of American colonial troops against Louisburg in 1745, during the French and Indian Wars. It is a sequel to "The Ranger of the Susquehanna." Penn Publishing Co. $2.50.

Alexander Petrunkovitch (husband of Wanda Hartshorn, Maryland A) is the author of a scientific paper on spiders, "Arachnida of Panama," published in v. 27 of the Transactions of the Connecticut Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Mr. Theiss's latest book is "The Flume in the Mountains," the story of the building of a great power plant. Wilde, $1.75.

A book of general interest is "The European Powers and the Near East," by the late Prof. Mason W. Tyler (husband of Alice Felt, Illinois Δ). Mr. Tyler died before finishing the book, and the final chapters were written by his colleague at the University of Minnesota, William Stearns Davis, with the cooperation of Mrs. Alice Felt Tyler, from the collected notes of Prof. Tyler. Though this book is the work of a scholar, it is so simple in both statement and fact that it will be of equal interest to the layman.

ENTRANTS AT THE PET SHOW AND THEIR PETS

THE PET SHOW

Sometimes we fear that because of the splendid new things that are happening in Gatlinburg, such as the Better Homes Campaign, development of the weaving and other departments, and the improvement in athletics, etc., that the three "Rs" will be entirely overlooked. But nevertheless we are doling them out daily to 140 or more members of our student body.

and his "poke" of cats.

In the primary room are collected 40 or so young mountaineers, the number varying with the weather. As is the case anywhere, you will find among these small people that gather in from the hills and hollers each morning some who do not like to go to school. More than once two little knee-high primer pupils have had to be severely reprimanded for spending a school day rabbit hunting with their tiny hound puppies!

Furthermore the cooperation with the parents is not all that in some cases one would desire. One morning at 11:30 an eight-year old appeared at the door and said: "I'm late because my mother wanted me to mind the baby and she told me to tell you that I was sick."

In stimulating the childrens' interest in school, so that the number of school-time rabbit hunts, etc., may be minimized, interesting projects help a great deal. The accompanying pictures and the theme written by a little second grade girl will describe to you one of our Primary Room Projects.

The Pet Show was of such interest to the whole school, especially when Bruce arrived with his "poke" or sack full of cats, that affairs were very nearly disrupted for the morning.

A LETTER FROM THE SECOND GRADE

We are haveing a petshow today. Charley broght to pigeons. Ernest Brought a little dog Orvle Brought to kittens. Milton Brought a little puppy dog to the petshow. Bruce Brought a poke of cats and had his picture tick. it was so cold that we had to Bring Miltons little puppy in and wrap it up and sit it by the radiator. it was so cold that we hadto sit the pets in the sun.

ANNALEE OWNBY

BETTER HOMES CAMPAIGN

The Better Homes in America Campaign in Gatlinburg, Tennessee community was in many ways a marked success.

The work of the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School in the community for a number of years had done much to prepare the people for such a campaign and the Smith-Hughes Agricultural and Home Economics Departments were a great help.

Publicity was given through the school, at public entertainments by personal visits thruout the community, thru the Gatlin-burg News and talks by different ones at the Arbor Day program held by the school on the play grounds at the school.

It was impossible to have a Demonstration Home as no house was available and there was no money for such work, but by advice and much talk here and there many have been persuaded to improve their homes inside and out. There are no plastered walls in the mountain homes. Most of them are ceiled with rough boards covered with old newspapers, magazines and patent medicine advertisements. In the past year a number have secured a good grade of building paper and have put it on with narrow molding—home made—which is a great improvement in keeping the house clean. Cupboards, tables, chairs and other furniture have been made. Running water has been brought to the houses and several have put in kitchen sinks. Many have added porches and several have added rooms as well as porches and not a few have done splendid work with brush and paint. Many trees and native shrubbery have been planted around the premises which, in a few years, will very much add to the attractiveness of the homes in the community.

The new homes built this spring and those being built have many conveniences, unheard of a few years ago and until recently seemed an impossibility in the community. Every one of the new homes has a bath room and while the fixtures cannot be put in at present on account of the disposal of sewage, it will not be long until even that will be provided for. Nine of the homes in Gatlinburg have sanitary cesspools and all the house conveniences found in most small cities. One of the summer hotels has five cottages and a new addition to the hotel equipped with bath and hot and cold water. Both hotels have been painted and the grounds improved by planting trees and shrubs.

Most of the people own their own homes and a number have taken advantage of the Smith-Hughes workers help in planning house and grounds. Government bulletins have been most helpful.

The School has provided playground equipment for the community and every day many children use the giant-strides, swings, see-saws, turning bars, etc. They also have an athletic field and every Saturday afternoon the field is filled with spectators rooting for the contesting baseball teams. In the fall and winter the football and basketball games are just as popular and we find the morale of the community vastly improved all the year round. Every Saturday night the School motion picture machine is in use and occasionally a social is held on the athletic field. The grounds are lighted by electricity, which, until last year was furnished by the school's Delco plant. We now have a community plant which furnishes light and power to all desiring such. As these new things have been added every member of the family has been anxious to do something to fix up the home in some way and they have been astonished that the use of a small amount of paint or stain could make such an improvement.

The School took over an old cabin in the Sugarlands, six miles farther up in the mountains, last year and by laying new floors, papering the walls with building paper, putting in some windows, screening the back porch and doors, enlarging the front porch, piping water from a spring 400 feet up the river to the house, pruning the fruit trees, making flower beds, placing home spun curtains at the windows with cretonne hangings at windows, and inside doorways and spraying the house with a dark green stain, we have demonstrated to the people in the community what can be done by labor with a small outlay of money.

Splendid vegetable and flower gardens are the rule among the mountain people. Many of the house-wives have weaving looms and their homes are made very attractive by hangings, cushions, coverlets, dresser covers, towels and rugs. They love music and sing the old mountain ballads and are becoming interested in good reading, especially in the Agricultural magazines. We have been able to put many things across for the betterment of the homes through the Gatlinburg News, put out each month by the school and the result has been surprising. The people, as a rule, very slow to take up anything new, have been willing to try the suggestions offered in farming, gardening and cooking and seem anxious for more. It is a great step forward that they are even willing to try new ways of doing things and shows they are interested in making plans for further advancement.

The health of the community is improved and much credit must be given to the untiring efforts of the community nurse who for five years has worked among these people. She has given them instructions in keeping clean, in cleaning up the premises and most of all in "swatting the flies." She has used the lantern slides which give one a clearer idea of just what the fly does to the health of the community.

A recent visitor, who was connected with the School ten years ago, was astonished when she saw the improvements in the way the homes were kept, in the dress of the people, their manners and their ways of living. She thought they had come a long way in the ten years from the small unkept cabin lighted with candles to the comfortable home lighted with electricity, she visited during her visit this spring.

HOME ECONOMICS EVENING SCHOOL AT GATLINBURG

Last spring I was sent to Gatlinburg to teach home economics in the school for one month as the home economics teacher was away, then to teach a Smith Hughes home economics Evening School during the summer. The only thing I knew about an evening school was that it was for women and girls over sixteen years of age.

The schedule at Gatlinburg was different from that of the ordinary school. The foods classes prepared a dinner for five members of the faculty and the dormitory girls five days of the week in the home economics room, then on Saturday the home economics teacher and the dormitory girls got Saturday dinner, and as much as possible of the Sunday dinner. We teachers took turns helping the girls get supper. The home economics teacher helped to see to the food supplies for the dormitory. Two afternoons a week I was to go to Sugarlands. I had hardly learned what I was supposed to do and gotten started with my work till it was time to get ready to stop, so I did not get very interested in my first month's work.

The Evening School work was something new to me and I was anxious to get started at it. The first week I went to Sugarlands and stayed two days. I canvassed a part of Sugarlands and told them of my plans for the summer and asked the women to meet at the Teacher's Cottage the next Thursday.

I went to one home and found the women in the field burning briars. They had a seven months old baby lying on the ground wrapped up well and the mother's hat in front of it to keep the sun out of its face. I asked about the baby and they told me it had not been well lately for they had to feed it and its food didn't seem to agree with it. I asked what they fed it. She said "Nothing but Irish potatoes." I told her to come to my classes and we would study about feeding babies. She said "I know more now about babies than I want to."

After school closed I had one class for the women and one for the little girls at Gatlinburg, at Sugarlands and at Cartertown. Evening School work is not necessarily taught in the evening, but at the time of day most convenient for the women, so I had one now learning to read and write.

class each afternoon except Saturday and one class Friday morning. The women's classes are supposed to be from one and one-third to one and one-half hours, but I knew it would be difficult to get anyone to come very far for only that much time, so I told them to stay as late as they pleased. I always got home just at "dusky dark."

At Cartertown I taught in a combination church and school house. We would lift the blackboards, made of painted planks, and put them across the backs of the benches for a table. Miss Evelyn sent up a sewing machine so we had a very good laboratory for sewing. The only drawback was that it had to be torn up each week so the room would look well for Sunday School.

SUGARLANDS CHILDREN

The children at Sugarlands were mostly small ones so they made doll clothes. The children at Gatlinburg and Cartertown made combination suits. One woman asked me if I wanted the women to do their work in class like the children. I told her I wanted her to do whatever would be the most help to her, but to be sure she didn't run out of work. Well, she never did get out of work. She missed only twice and more than made up for that by working overtime.

I never knew what we were going to sew until the women came, then one woman would ask me to help her cut a baby dress, another wanted to cut a little boy's suit, and sometimes another would want to make a suit of underclothes for her husband. They were more interested in getting help in cutting out clothes than in anything else. The Gatlinburg women always worked well. I didn't have many at a time, but when someone would get a new dress she would come and cut it out and get it about half finished in an afternoon.

Cartertown is a small community so the attendance was necessarily low. Sometimes two women would take turns coming to class to keep me from being discouraged. Sometimes I would ride up to Cartertown and hitch my horse and go inside and read my Home Economics Journal or lie down on the bench to sleep until someone would come. If I decided no one was coming I would go to one of the homes and ask them to let me help them do something, for I was determined not to have an absence against me after making the trip. The few Cartertown children were good workers.

My largest class was the Sugarlands children. There were seventeen enrolled and most of them came well. The women at Sugarlands came because the little girls wanted a dress cut by pattern or because they wanted somewhere to go. If I got too busy cooking to talk to them they would sometimes leave me in the middle of a demonstration.

The Sugarlands women did not like to spend money for they had very little to use so the last few weeks I bought cloth and paid them one dollar to make a plain one-piece dress, then sold the dresses for them.

I told one woman I would be glad to have her come to our classes and she said: "I think that is nice for us mountain women don't know nothing but to work, work, work." When I asked one of the Sugarlands women why the women didn't come better, she said, "Well, we all know how to sew, it don't look so well, but it holds, and so far as the cooking, you could learn them how to cook sooner than you could learn them how to eat it."

Most of the mountain people had never used a commercial pattern. Many of them used no pattern at all, but cut their dresses free hand. One girl told me her father would not let her wear a dress that did not have two "brenths" in it. The same girl asked me how to make a cake frosting. When I began to talk to her about it I learned that she had always just beaten an egg white and put it on the cake without even adding sugar or browning it. They fry almost everything. It is not uncommon to see fried eggs on the table with almost enough fat to cover them.

Now these things I have told you are just some of the worst ones, so do not get the idea that some of the people have who visit Gatlinburg. Some of the visitors come expecting to find the people living in trees yet, and they are disappointed to find that the funny things they have heard are not true of all the people.

I spent my mornings visiting the homes and helping the women do their canning, sewing or anything they would let me do. One time I helped to clean an oil stove and I often helped cut dresses. I would stay until our conversation began to flag, then I would leave. That made some of my visits so short that I was able to make nearly three hundred visits during the summer. I almost always walked when visiting. My longest walk was about seven miles. Everywhere I went they told me what Miss Evelyn and the Pi Phis had done for them.

One day Mrs. Curtis came to visit the school, she asked me if I wanted anything for my department. I told her I thought it would be nice to have the home economics room ceiled and two more windows put in. Miss Evelyn soon had it remodeled. While Miss Evelyn was in Canada I got enough light grey paint from Mrs. Dowell (at a bargain) to paint the walls of the room, for part of it was brick and part wood. I thought that I, as an East Tennessean, owed that much to the Pi Phi school. I painted the walls and bought cheesecloth and wrapped the steam pipes through the room. Miss Evelyn had already bought another sewing machine. She got several books for the home economics library and gave us a screen that was not in use so the room can be screened off into a nice little dining room, sewing room and kitchen. The home economics laboratory has enough equipment now to meet the state requirements for first class high schools.

Miss White, the State Home Economics Supervisor, and Miss Evelyn decided to continue my work until Christmas. When school began I stopped my visits and taught two eighty minute home economics classes to the high school children every morning and served milk or something to the first and second grade children at noon. In the afternoon I had two classes for the Gatlinburg women and two for the Sugarlands women and one class for the Sugarlands children each week.

The Sugarlands children made a combination suit in the fall. The high school girls followed the state home economics course, as a cook had been employed for the dormitory. At Sugarlands we cooked a few lessons, then we went back to sewing. At Gatlinburg I gave demonstrations in cooking the first part of the afternoon, then had sewing the last part, or gave the whole afternoon to sewing if I thought that was what they wanted.

The Gatlinburg women decided that they would like to spend the last six weeks in cooking. They wanted to do the cooking themselves. They paid a small fee and we organized a foods class. The class was conducted like the high school work. For several lessons we prepared foods suitable for a breakfast, then we served a breakfast. The rest of the time we cooked what different ones asked for. These women went home and tried the things there that they had made in class.

During the nine months I enrolled eighty-seven women, but I had an average attendance of only 4 plus during the summer with one lesson a week and visiting and helping them in their home, and 5 plus during the fall without visiting and lessons twice a week. The three Revival meetings and the bad weather caused the attendance to be some lower in the fall than it would have been.

Miss Evelyn decided early in the fall that the classes should be continued thru the school year and when the State Supervisor came, just before the Christmas holidays, she promised State Aid for the Evening School work.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Jim Huskey has lived his thirty-two years like all other mountain boys of his generation, with practically nothing upon which to build a life of worthwhile activity. The last school which he attended was in the little log cabin four miles from his home, the last school this side of North Carolina. During those three months he tried to read from the third reader. That is the extent of his education.

The lumber camps are practically the only possibility for the illiterate here and in them Jim spent his youth. He was naturally quick with his fingers and carpentering and cabinet making became almost a trade.

"Still", he said, "there was always a dissatisfaction. I felt down deep in my heart there was something more than we people could see and feel." He was no better than the average boy of this country on the surface, until one day at a protracted meeting, as you can only find in this country, he found his religion. It formed the fertile soil in which the seeds of his war experience took root. Jim enlisted and was detailed to Camp Pike as an orderly in the Government hospital. There he spent two years among people with at least professional education if not cultural. He learned in those contacts that life held much to strive for, and just as much to fight as in the mountain country.

After the war he returned to the old life with nothing in the future but lumber camps and whiskey. But the vision which his religion had given him intensified by the fortunate contacts of his war experience, made these impossible. At least one man came out of the war with an ideal.

The Bible was almost a closed book to him, but with the light of his miserable third grade equipment, scarcely better than none, he began his struggle to discover its truths, that he might unfold them to his people. In his halting, illiterate way he has been carrying on this attempt to preach in the little school and church houses of this section, yet never ceasing to realize the need of an enlightened mind and long for an education.

Now at his very door has come the chance, in the establishing of an extension School of the Pi Phis in the Sugarlands. Almost too late many think, for at thirty-two he has a wife and four children for whom he must provide. He owns his little piece of land on which is a three room log house, but the garden and field do not raise enough food and corn for the entire year. It is necessary to buy, for which he must work. This leaves no time for study.

"How long will it take me to get an education," he asks. How little we can answer that will not discourage. "But I'll get it if it takes twenty years," he said.

An intense desire to learn, as Jim has, is rare among the adult mountain folk. Our work for twelve years has touched the intellectual life of the children. Now we have our first chance to broaden that service, to include some of those who lost that opportunity in childhood.

We cannot afford to lose the chance.

HELEN CHEW

DR. E. A. BISHOP

Many Pi Phis from all parts of the country will learn with deep sorrow and regret of the passing of Miss Evelyn's father—Dr. E. A. Bishop at the Methodist Episcopal hospital in Brooklyn on Monday, December 21—for practically every visitor to the School spent the night, or at least partook of one meal in his home in Sevierville, on completing the first lap of her journey from Knoxville to Gatlinburg, in the days when it was not so easy to make the trip, and when Dr. Bishop's home was jokingly named the Pi Phi hotel. It was invariably Dr. Bishop—who, busy as he was—always had time to welcome visitors, see that they had a way of getting to their destination or to entertain them while in Sevierville. Many a trip North in the interest of Murphy College was also in the interest of the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School, for he often included meetings with Pi Phis, or spoke at alumnae clubs of the School at Gatlinburg.

Dr. Elwell Alexander Bishop was born in Wrightstown, N. J., in 1852, receiving his early education in county schools, and teaching for several years after in order to put himself through college. He attended Wesleyan University of Connecticut graduating in 1878. He was married the same year to Clara Irene Brown of Pointville, N. J., her death occurring in 1908. In 1911 he married Carrie A. Miller of Hartford, Conn.

Mt. Union College honored him with the degree of D. D. in 1895, while he was similarly honored in 1910 by his own university.

The greater part of his life was spent in educational work for which he had unusual ability in handling people and problems, bringing to the task in hand unusual vision and understanding. He resigned the principalship of Montpelier Seminary in 1912 to take charge of Murphy Collegiate Institute. The school property which then consisted of five and one-half acres, and valued at $30,000, now covers sixty-three and one-half acres on which three new buildings erected at a cost of $400,000 stand;—the first of a total plan of seven;—A Boys' Dormitory, Administration Building, and Girls' Dormitory;—three buildings in three years, showing the indefatigable work of a man who had already spent many busy years and won for himself a name in the field of education.

But after all, the buildings are a small part of his work:—there are the boys and girls at Murphy (a large majority of them from the mountains), who owe their chance of an education to him; the men and women in the business world who owed their start in life to him, and to whom he turned often when in need of funds to carry on the present big undertaking—and above all there is the untold influence for good of "the man who has done more for Sevier County than any other man."

It was while on his annual trip North to raise money for the school that Dr. Bishop suffered a relapse, following an attack of colitis in the fall, and while at first it was hoped that his illness would not prove serious, later his son Harold who lives in New York wired for the rest of the family,—Mrs. Bishop, Ethel (Mrs. Queto of Cincinnati) and Evelyn of Gatlinburg.

We all miss him, for there was no more loyal Pi Phi in spirit, nor a man more greatly and widely beloved than Dr. Bishop.

Our Settlement School has lost a staunch friend in the death of Dr. E. O. Bishop of Sevierville, Tenn. Even before his daughter, Evelyn became head of our staff at Gatlinburg,

A Great Loss

Dr. Bishop was vitally interested in our work and its development. I know that all those who were identified with the early life of the School recall, as I do, his genuine interest, wise advice and encouragement. I shall always remember with pleasure the hours spent in his hospitable home and the eagerness with which he discussed mountain work and its problems. He went to Tennessee and assumed his duties in Sevierville after long educational experience in the North and I suppose no one will ever realize how much Murphy College and kindred interests owe to his training, experience, fine tact and genuine interest in the problems he faced. I have heard it stated that the Methodist Episcopal Church has no more promising work under its supervision than the work Dr. Bishop was doing.

He was always glad to bring visitors to Gatlinburg and the community always welcomed him and he was equally ready and willing to speak to groups of Pi Phi and their friends about our School when he was on his own lecture trips. Many of our fraternities have heard him with enthusiasm and I know all will sympathize with his splendid family in their sorrow.

SARAH POMEROY RUGG

By the will of Mr. Cassius M. Clapp, great uncle of Mrs. Berton L. Maxfield (Winifred Hill, Massachusetts A), who died suddenly on January 17, 1926, a gift of $250.00 was left for the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School.

Mr. Clapp attended the performance of "Sun Up" sponsored last year by the New York Alumnae Club and at that time made a small donation to the School. He became very interested in the work of Pi Beta Phi in the Tennessee mountains and was always asking concerning the progress being made there.

This splendid gift is a worthy tribute to the fraternity's work at Little Pigeon and is deeply appreciated by all members of Pi Beta Phi.

According to a news item in the Boston Herald, Miss Helen Keller, who has been in Washington to promote the $2,000,000 fund for the American Foundation for the Blind, visited and had a chat with Mrs. Coolidge, who was a teacher in a deaf institution previous to her marriage.

Miss Keller gave her impression of the "first lady of the land" as follows:

"Mrs. Coolidge is like the rose she gave me," she said. "She is so warm, so tender and sweet. She gives out sweet thoughts freely and is so responsive to every human need and every sorrow that she is able to serve our country in the spirit of Him who taught us to 'bear one another's burden'."

Two fellowships of $500 each are offered by Alpha Omicron Pi for graduate work for the college year 1926-1927. These fellowships are open both to members and non-members of Alpha Omicron Pi. Applications will be received from any woman graduate of the institutions quoted below: H. Sophie Newcomb Memorial College, New York University, University of Tennessee, Randolph-Macon Woman's College, University of Nebraska, University of California, DePauw University, Tufts College (Jackson), University of Maine, Cornell University, Northwestern University, Leland Stanford University, University of Illinois, University of Minnesota, Syracuse University, University of Washington, Southern Methodist University, University of Indiana, University of Wisconsin, Montana State College, Vanderbilt University, University of Pennsylvania, University of Kansas, Miami University, University of Michigan, University of Oregon, University of Oklahoma, University of Maryland, Birmingham Southern College, University of California Southern Branch and Southwestern.

Application blanks may be obtained from the office of the Dean of Women of the above institutions or by writing direct to Elizabeth Heywood Wyman, Chairman, 456 Broad St., Bloomfield, New Jersey. An application must reach the Chairman of the Committee by midnight, March 15, 1926. Announcement of the successful applicant will be made not later than May 1, 1926.

Dr. May L. Keller, President Emeritus of Pi Beta Phi, who has represented the fraternity for a number of years on the National Panhellenic Congress has recently resigned because of the pressure of other duties. She will be succeeded by Amy B. Onken, Grand President, who attended the recent N. P. C. sessions at Dallas, Texas, and who has been appointed on the committee on College Panhellenics.

Pi Beta Phi is grateful to Dr. Keller for the work which she has done in the past as National Panhellenic Representative and appreciates the many pleasant relationships which she established with officers of other national organizations through her work and personal contact with them. It is with regret that the fraternity accepts her resignation.

Ama Lee Null came from Augusta, Ga., where she is teaching Spanish in high school to spend Christmas with her parents.

The initiation of Mrs. Joe Fistere (Hermione Duane), into Pi Beta Phi took place in the chapter house on November 24. Mrs. Fistere was a charter member of Alpha Sigma Phi, and her name was among those alumnae who were to be initiated at the installation of Tennessee A chapter. However, Mr. and Mrs. Fistere have been in China, where Mr. Fistere is a chemist, for the past two years. Grand Council had granted permission for Mrs. Fistere to be initiated upon her return in November 1925, and it was en route from San Francisco to her home in New York that she came to Chattanooga for initiation. She and Mr. Fistere expect to return to China in March, 1926.

Mary Sussdorff, who is a Y. W. C. A. secretary in Greensboro, S. C., spent the holidays with her parents in Chattanooga.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Smith (Marian Connelly) came from their home in St. Cloud, Fla., to spend Christmas in Chattanooga.

Mrs. Douglas Fryer (Lorine Pruette, Ph.D.) and Dr. Fryer, who is a professor of Psychology in New York University, plan to spend next summer abroad. Mrs. Fryer has had a number of articles appear in recent well known magazines. One of the recent articles, entitled "A New Point of View in Psychology" appeared in the August number of the American Review. Mrs. Fryer writes under the name of Lorine Pruette.

Two weeks before Christmas the Chattanooga Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club held a most interesting sale of imported Chinese goods. The goods were brought over by Mrs. Joe Fistere (Hermione Duane), on her return from China in November and were placed on sale in the chapter house for three afternoons. Many friends called to see the attractive display, and approximately $100 was cleared by the club.

HAWAII ALUMNAE CLUB

The Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club of Hawaii was organized in December 1925 with the following officers: President, Mrs. J. W. Bergstrom (Muriel Jones, Michigan B, California A), Honolulu, T. H.; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Thomas Everett May (Verna Weaver, Washington A), 21st Infantry, Schofield Barracks, T. H.; Recording Secretary, Mrs. H. Steiner (Margaret Langwith, Nevada A), Honolulu, T. H.; and Treasurer, Genevieve Alvord, Illinois Z, care of Country Club, Honolulu, T. H.

It was with the old enthusiastic Pi Phi spirit that eleven Pi Phi's assembled at the home of Muriel McHenry, Oregon B, in Honolulu with the idea of forming a local alumnae club. For the past few years, Pi Phis living in and near Honolulu have been entertained occasionally in some Pi Phi home, but no organization was ever perfected. Now with twenty-eight loyal Pi Phis on the list, a real Pi Phi club can exist. We want to show our national organization that the old spirit can flourish in the Mid-Pacific.

Election of officers and plans for the club were made at this first meeting. Meetings will be held monthly at the various homes. We welcome all Pi Phis who may be coming to the Islands either as visitors or permanent residents. Notify the club president upon your arrival.

VERNA WEAVER MAY

IN MEMORIAM

BAILEY, (MRS. WILLIAM J.), MARY MARGARET DUMM, was born in Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 12, 1888. She attended the public schools there until the removal of the family to Casper, Wyo. After graduation from the Casper High School, she entered Ohio Wesleyan. After two and a half years she was forced to leave because of throat trouble. While there she was a member of Kappa Gamma Delta and prominent in college, particularly in literary and artistic circles.

The next year she entered the University of Wyoming, but was only able to remain six months. There she was a member of the local group petitioning $\Pi B \Phi$ and worked tirelessly toward the charter. She was initiated as an alumna when Wyoming A was installed.

She was extremely fond of the out-of-doors, a devoted fisher and an excellent horsewoman. Her little summer home in the Casper mountains was the scene of many Pi Phi gatherings. The Casper Alumnae Club, the Woman's Club and her church were all objects of her keen interest and talented helpfulness.

While driving to Denver on Nov. 14, 1925, the car in which Mrs. Bailey was riding with her husband and son, struck a culvert in the snowy dusk and turned over, killing her instantly. The son and husband escaped with minor injuries. The many flowers received from all parts of the country on the occasion of the funeral bore beautiful testimony to a nature rich and inspiring to friendships. Those who mourn her going are her husband, two daughters, two sons, a sister and a brother.

BATES, (MRS. LAWRENCE R.), GRACE M. MCKINLEN, passed away on Christmas Day, 1925. Mrs. Bates was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ by Wisconsin A.

ESTES, (MRS. GUY D.), ELIZABETH CONNETT, passed away on Dec. 30, 1925 from injuries received in an automobile accident in Conway, Ark.

Elizabeth was born Aug. 18, 1890 at Athens, Ohio, which is the family home. She was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ by Ohio A on April 26, 1912, where she became a much loved and valuable member. She took also a very prominent part in college activities. In 1913 she graduated from Ohio University in Home Economics and afterwards taught that course in Monticello Agricultural College, Arkansas, for two years. On Dec. 28, 1915 she was married to Guy Dan Estes, Athletic Coach at Teachers College, Conway, Ark.

She leaves to mourn her going, her husband, and two little sons, her parents, three brothers and a Pi Phi sister, Mary, to whom we extend our deepest sympathy.

GARDINER, LAURA ISABELLA. Members of California A were grievously shocked upon the sudden death on January 1, 1926, of Laura, following a very short illness and an operation for appendicitis.

Laura was born on Oct. 19, 1906 in Riverside, California, and was in her third year at Stanford University when she passed away. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Louise K. Gardiner of Riverside.

This loss will be felt not only by immediate relatives and associates, but by all who knew Laura, because of her sweet and wholesome personality and character. Laura was especially enthusiastic in church work, having been at the time of her death president of the Christian Endeavor Society in the Presbyterian Church of Palo Alto. At college she was making an excellent record for herself scholastically, and she had also won the distinction of positions on the all-star tennis and basketball teams. The position she occupied at college and every place she happened to be will not be easily reconciled to her absence.

GARRETSON, (MRS. HERMAN B.), MARION BECKER, was born near Salem, Iowa, Sept. 15, 1891. She attended Iowa Wesleyan University at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, and while there was initiated into Iowa A of $\Pi B \Phi$. On April 23, 1917 Marion and Herman B. Garretson were married. For the past few years she had been in bad health and on Nov. 22, 1925 was taken to Damon Hospital at Rochester, Minn., for an operation. Before the operation was performed death relieved her on the afternoon of December 1.

She leaves her husband and three little sons, her parents, two sisters and a brother.

There are many things that endeared Mrs. Garretson to her family and friends. She was a Christian woman, one of natural refinement and good taste, reserved and unassuming in manner. She was a great lover of home and her children and it is only natural that she hold the love and esteem of those who were fortunate enough to know her. The great legacy she has left us and given to this world is her character, her influence, and her ideals. These are the immortal possessions of life.

HOARE, (MRS. ARTHUR E.), JANET SNIDER, Indiana T, was born and lived in Indianapolis until four years ago, when with her mother, Mrs. Mabelle Snider, she made her home in Glendale, Calif.

At Butler College, where she became a $\Pi B \Phi$, she distinguished herself in music and in scholarship, completing the college course in three years.

On Sept. 29, 1923, Janet married Dr. Arthur J. Hoare, who had won high honors in the medical corps of the British Army during the World War. Their charming home in Glendale was first opened to the Pi Phi club by whom Janet was much loved.

Following an appendicitis operation, an arrested case of tuberculosis developed and she passed away more than a year later, May 15, 1925—the day before her twenty-sixth birthday. Her cheery, hopeful spirit inspired and endeared her to all, and especially to the patients and attendants of the sanatorium in Banning, California, where her last months were spent. A memorial service was held in this lovely little mountain town, attended by California friends. Later, her mother and husband accompanied her remains to Indianapolis.

KUHLMAN, MIRIAM, died on October 14, 1925 at the home of her aunt in Dayton, Ohio. She had been suffering from tuberculosis for three years and was only twenty-three years old when she died.

McCARL, (MRS. ROBERT S.), FRANCES DEWAR, passed away at her home in Portland, Oregon, Jan. 18, 1926 after an illness of six months. Frances was born in Portland June 28, 1891 where she spent the greater part of her life. Entering the University of California in 1909 she was initiated into Pi Beta Phi.

On leaving the University, she taught school in Portland and on July 3, 1917, was married to Robert S. McCarl, who survives besides two children, Virginia and Robert, her father, mother, three brothers and three sisters, one of whom, Elizabeth, is also a California Beta.

Frances was one of the charter members of the Portland Alumnae Club and an untiring worker in that organization. Her willing and lovable disposition endeared her to all; her passing at such an early age touched most keenly the hearts of all who were privileged to know her; and we extend our deepest sympathy to the family in this our mutual bereavement.

McELVAINE, (MRS. CLAIRE), HAZEL HATCH, of Avon, Ill., died very suddenly on August 10, 1925. Mrs. McElvaine was an alumna of Illinois B. She was an unusually wise, devoted and understanding mother. Our sympathy goes out to her husband and two little children who are left so alone without her.

McINNIS, (MRS. EMMETT E.), HELEN KOHLER. Friends and members of the family of Helen Kohler McInnis were very much shocked at her sudden death on January 12, in Oklahoma City, Okla. Though Helen had had an operation for appendicitis early in January, she was recovering from it nicely when pneumonia set in and she passed away before her parents could reach her bedside from Boulder, Colo.

Helen was born in Boulder in 1895 and was educated in the Boulder schools. She was a very much loved member of Colorado A and through her four years in college gave all she had to her chapter. A tireless worker for Pi Phi, and a splendid student, Helen was most popular on the campus and in the town as well.

The wedding of Helen Kohler and Emmett McInnis was one of the outstanding society affairs of 1919 in Boulder. It was to the regret of her Boulder friends that Helen went to Oklahoma to live.

Besides Mr. McInnis, three small children survive, a sister and a brother, and her parents, to each of whom we extend our sincerest sympathy.

TAYLOR, (MRS. CHARLES), GRACE CRANDALL, Iowa B, passed away at Ingleside Hospital, Hastings, Nebraska, July 14, 1925, after three months' illness. Grace's girlhood was spent in Red Oak, Iowa. In 1903 she graduated with high honors from Simpson College. She, later taught in western Nebraska and was widely known and loved for her generous social service there.

After her marriage in 1914 to Charles Taylor of Imperial, Neb., she was known as a leader in the interests of young women in their home church in that place.

Shock, occasioned by the unexpected deaths of her sister, Mae Crandall Lytton, (also of Iowa B) and of her mother within a comparatively short time, hastened her illness. She is survived by her husband and their nine year old son, Charles Crandall. Funeral services and interment were at Red Oak, Iowa.

WELCH, (MRS. EDGAR), MARIAN ELLIS. The death, on March 4, 1925, of Marian Ellis Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Ellis of Kansas City, Kans., and wife of Edgar Welch of Kansas City, Mo., and member of the class of 1925 of the University of Kansas, robbed the Pi Phi Club of Kansas city of one of its most active members. We loved her for her sweetmindedness and for her glad acceptance of her share and often more than her share of our activities. She never lost touch with her active chapter and gave the Pi Phis at Lawrence her constant and friendly cooperation. We shall not soon forget her.

WHITTAM, (MRS. FRANK), RUTH BALLANTINE, Pennsylvania B, died on June 12, 1925 at her home in Langborne, Pa.

MRS. L. A. STUART.

A great sorrow befell Nebraska B when, on Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. L. A. Stuart, mother of Anne and Melinda Stuart, passed away quietly after ten days' illness.

Mrs. Stuart was known and loved by national officers and Phi Phis from many chapters who came frequently to the Stuart home in Lincoln.

During the nineteen years Anne Stuart was Grand Treasurer, Mrs. Stuart constantly maintained a deep interest in the national growth of Pi Phi and its broadened activities along scholastic and philanthropic lines. She was especially interested in the Settlement School and Melinda Stuart's earnest efforts to put the Settlement School on a firm financial basis were warmly encouraged. Ever since the founding of Nebraska Beta, the chapter has looked to the Stuart home as a center of social life. It has found there, too, wise counsel in its perplexities and concrete assistance in its financial problems.

Above all this, Nebraska B will ever remember the dignity and charm of the rarely beautiful woman who extended the hospitality of her home with such grace and sincerity.

There are many Pi Phis in various corners of the earth to whom Mrs. Stuart has always stood as the ideal woman; rare personal charm; serene in an unusually busy life; exalting the dignity of the home and capable in its every day ministrations; shedding a glory on motherhood.

Her generous sympathy went out to the unfortunate—no one in real need ever left her door uncomforted. The sick, the discouraged alike felt her kindly ministrations.

With a practical idealism she lent her support to community betterment, to the broad activities of the church, and the educational institutions under the Boards of the church.

University and community will miss the inspiration of her gracious presence.

To the four children, whose constant companion she was, Pi Beta Phi wishes not only to extend its sincere sympathy, but also to express its own sense of deep loss.

INITIATES

Marion E. Clark, '28, Midland, Ontario.

Dorothy W. Clarke, '28, Harrow, Ontario.

Gwendolyn V. Colter, '27, Cayuga, Ontario.

Margaret L. Parry, '28, Bay St. South, Hamilton, Ont.

Mildred Wilkins, '28, 30 Inglewood Dr., Toronto, Ont.

On November 26, at the home of Mary Scott, Ontario A welcomed six initiates into the chapter. Following the ceremony, the initiation banquet was held at the Prince George Hotel. Vida Peene, Alpha Province President, had just returned from her visit to the other chapters of the province and gave a most interesting account of them. Miss Peene paid her official visit to Ontario A at the following meeting and upon that occasion told further details of neighboring sisters, offering suggestions she had seen successfully carried out by them.

Panhellenic has decided once more to change the rushing system. After giving sophomore rushing a fair trial it was found that although the rushing was to all appearances restricted, the thought of it and planning for it continued all year. This year the first-year girls are being entertained at one party before Christmas and one after, following which the girls will be bid and pledged but initiation will be left to the discretion of each chapter. Ontario A presented a handsome cup to Panhellenic as a further means of raising her own scholarship by competition, as well as encouraging higher scholastic standards among fraternities.

The University of Toronto is growing rapidly; each year splendid new buildings are being erected. The faculty of forestry has a fine new home while the department of public health is moving to more up-to-date quarters.

The basketball team of University College won the inter-faculty championship. Mildred Wilkins and Evelyn Willmott represented $\Pi\Phi$ on the team.

The chapter birthday party given by the alumnae club took the form of a baby party. Little girls in short, frilly dresses and gay gingham rompers; little boys in sailor-suits and little Lord Fauntleroy suits and even babies in long clothes played Blindman's Buff and Drop the Handkerchief until over-strained buttons threatened to burst. Then everyone gathered before a cheery fire and enjoyed delicious individual suppers wrapped in gayly coloured paper serviettes. Three cheers for the alumnae and a hearty Ring-ching-ching closed a very jolly evening.

Pledge Day—December 7, 1925

Maine A returned, after a happy Christmas vacation, full of enthusiasm and vigor for the remainder of the college year.

November and December were busy months. A shorter period of time was given to rushing this fall, four weeks instead of six, and this proved fairly successful, though there is still a question as to the possibility of girls knowing each other well enough in this brief space of time to be able wisely to choose or be chosen by a fraternity. Expenses were limited to fifty dollars, and only one all-day party was allowed, each fraternity drawing for dates.

The largest party was a mock wedding in the morning, followed by a wedding breakfast, bridge in the afternoon, and a theater party in the evening.

At the end of rushing, four very desirable freshmen and three sophomores were pledged. The sophomores were Alice Muzzy, Marjorie Jones, and Marguerite Marston. Marjorie Jones was on the girls' hockey team this fall. When Maine played the Canadian team at Dal Hause, Halifax, Marjorie made the one and only goal made by either team, thereby winning the game for Maine.

The freshmen pledges are: Ruby Carlson, Hazel Sparrow, Catherine Buck, and Marguerite Plummer.

Maine A has given two very pretty informal dances lately, one of which was given with the Σ B chapter of $\chi\Omega$. It is felt that this is a step toward the building of a finer interfraternal feeling and cooperation.

Dorice Bennett has made the varsity basketball team and Ruby Carlson is on the freshman squad. Dorothy Steward is on the rifle team and Ruth Densmore is in a series of international one-act plays being given here this winter. Cecile Ham was elected to the Contributors Club, the only literary club at Maine.

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

(Chartered 1893)

The results of rushing for Vermont were particularly fortunate. The rushing party was a happy combination of a cooky-shine and an original Robin Hood entertainment, the nature of which lent itself admirably to a cooky-shine. Nineteen of the twenty-one girls rushed were pledged.

Soon after rushing, Vermont A was honored by a short visit from Vida Peene, Alpha Province President. A cooky-shine and a tea by the Middlebury $\Pi\Phi$ alumnae club were given in her honor.

On account of the inclement weather during the fall, the hockey games were not played and the tennis tournament was not completed. Several Pi Phis were prominent in each activity. Eleven are out for basketball, the games to be played during January and February.

The Middlebury Dramatic Club under the new name of the Wig and Pen, has continued to give several one-act plays a week, each directed by a member of the play-production course. Several Pi Phis have taken part in these plays and several others have produced and directed them. This year each class is giving a more ambitious production. The sophomore class gave "Charlie's Aunt" at Thanksgiving time in which Katherine Brainerd had a place in the cast of characters. Four $\Pi\Phi$ pledges are to have parts in the freshman play, "The Goose Hangs High" given the latter part of February.

The usual Y. W. C. A. Christmas bazaar was a financial and social success. Some of the receipts from it are to be sent to a Mexican mission school, which is under the supervision of a young woman graduate from Middlebury.

The $\Pi\Phi$ Christmas party was an especially enjoyable one. The patronesses presented an attractive tray to the chapter, and gave Eleanor Frost whose engagement was recently announced, several towels. The chapter gave Eleanor an electric percolator and tray.

Vermont B has recently enjoyed a most inspiring visit from Vida Peene, Alpha Province President. It was partly through Miss Peene that the chapter gained more fully a realization of one of the greatest assets of the college, the genuine inter-fraternity spirit. For a campus so small, the spirit among the seven women's Greek letter organizations is very remarkable.

The junior delegate from the University of Vermont Women's Student Union to the recent Student Government Conference at Wellesley was Belle Randall.

Campus interest in basketball runs high at this season. The men's varsity is proving unusually successful, standing thus far undefeated. Women's interclass teams, though not yet thoroughly organized, will include several Pi Phis.

The chapter has started a new system of class teas. In turn, the classes give informal teas inviting as their guests each time, the chapter patronesses. It is hoped that in this way the personal bond between the patronesses and the active girls will be materially strengthened.

Pledge Day—November 5, 1925

Massachusetts A held a gypsy party in the home of an alumna at the close of rushing. Eighteen girls were entertained, twelve of whom were pledged to $\Pi\Phi$ on November 5. The pledging ceremony was followed by a cooky-shine and a talk by Sarah Pomeroy Rugg. The following are the names of the newly-pledged members: Mercedes Baker, Hazel Bell, Priscilla Brown, Virginia Crocker, Juneta Dinsmore, Hazel Fitts, Eleanor Ham, Evelyn Ormsby, Louise Shannon, Alice Waring, Dorothy Warner and Helen Wigglesworth. Under the guidance of an active girl the pledges have carried on pledge study and planned various social functions. Shortly after pledge day they gave a tea for the pledges of the other women's fraternities.

Several of the alumnae entertained the active chapter at a Hallowe'en party and again invited the girls to be guests at their green-and-silver tea.

Massachusetts A not only enjoyed the visit of Vida Peene, Alpha Province President, but gained inspiration and encouragement from her helpful $\Pi\Phi$ spirit.

With a new chapter house as the end in view, Pi Phis have sold candy and Christmas cards, and are now working in groups to earn more money.

On December 9, the actives were royally entertained by the pledges at a party, when versified comic and musical abilities were displayed. The annual Christmas party took place three days before vacation, December 22. Cooky-shine was followed by stunts and Santa's presentation of slam-gifts from the festive tree. Instead of the exchange of gifts among themselves, the girls each gave something to the chapter house. Announcement was made of the engagement of Esther Nichols, and the customary gift of five pounds of chocolates was presented to the girls.

College activities progress as usual. The dramatic club has given several presentations, including "Pslyxena", an adaptation from a translation of the original Greek of the Hecuba of Euripides. Those Pi Phis dramatically inclined have entered whole-heartedly into the work of the dramatic club.

One of the outstanding social events of the college year was the annual $\Gamma\Delta$ banquet and song-fest given in early December.

Another annual event is the Robbins Christmas party, given under the auspices of Y. W. C. A. for the benefit of several hundred children from settlement homes. Santa Claus was the honored guest.

Although the athletic teams of Boston University, working under handicaps, have not yet won a name for their college, surely the fame of the all-glorious, all-victorious debating team has spread abroad.

INITIATES

Amy Belle Long, '26, 1403 Park Blvd., Dormant, Pa.

Annette Hord, '28, 6314 Connecticut Ave., Chevy Chase, Md.

Marion Coleman has been recently elected vice-president of the junior class, Edra Russell and LuEsther Turner have become members of $\Theta\Sigma\Phi$, honorary journalistic fraternity, and Dorothy Parker has become affiliated with $\text{H}\Pi\text{T}$, honorary senior fraternity. Annette Hord, Willien Cabell and Prudence Hawkins have made the rifle team.

The chapter health program is being carried out enthusiastically. Every two weeks some one gives a health lecture. In addition, each of the girls has a chart on which are written daily health habits. After each habit a square for each day in the week is marked off and the girls check the health duties they have carried out. At the end of the year the one who has the greatest number of checks will have her name engraved on a silver health cup.

A new fraternity office has been created, that of activity chairman, who keeps a record of the activities in which the girls are participating, so that she may know which girls are the best qualified to help the freshmen.

To make chapter meetings more interesting and to give them a cultural value, a new committee called $\Pi\text{B}\Phi$ Chronicles, has been organized. One member has charge of reading appropriate parts of the ritual and selections from literature; another, of bringing some current event to be read; and the third reports humorous personal anecdotes.

The pledges have organized and meet for fraternity study on regular chapter meeting nights. The pledges have started out well in activities, one being on the freshman basketball team and hockey team; one contributing to the freshman paper; four belonging to Woman's Congress; one, a reporter on the university daily paper; one, a member of Boar's Head, a dramatic society; and one, on the advertising staff of the college humor magazine.

Instead of the short daily Chapel the University has adopted the plan of the hour bi-weekly chapel during which no classes are to be held. This will make it more of an all-university affair. Well known speakers are to be present and although not compulsory, it is expected that most students will attend.

The Panhellenic banquet was held November 18 during the visit of Vida Peene, Alpha Province President.

INITIATE

Marguerite Geyh, '27, Brownville, N. Y.

New York Γ had the privilege of entertaining Vida Peene, Alpha Province President, in November. One of the immediate results of Miss Peene's visit was the installation of organized pledge meetings.

The alumnae held their annual sale and card party for the Settlement School fund, and the active chapter sold candy at the $\Pi\Phi$ house on November 21.

Early in the semester a tea was given for the faculty and townspeople to meet the chaperon and the pledges. The mothers were entertained later at a chapter supper.

Evelyn Rodee was chosen to fill one of two places on the debating team.

The local Panhellenic organization has revised the system of exchanging dinner guests. A monthly exchange of two guests has been customary. The number has been increased to ten in order to bring more girls of the various fraternities into closer contact with each other.

St. Lawrence is proud of her record in football this season—a season without a defeat and with only eighteen points scored against the team.

Announcement has been made on the campus of the organization of a new Greek letter fraternity for men, to be known as $\Gamma\Sigma\Pi$.

The chapter held its Christmas party on December 14. Gathered around a glowing open fire and a glittering Christmas tree the girls sang $\Pi\Phi$ songs and Christmas carols. After stunts had been presented, Santa Claus arrived with joke presents for everyone. On the tree he found also a lovely tray, a gift to the chapter from Mrs. McCort, the chaperon. Serenades by the members of two fraternities brought the party to a close. A few days later a Christmas gift from the alumnae arrived—a floor lamp for the chaperon's room.

On December 15, New York Γ gave its traditional Christmas serenade. At each fraternity house the $\Pi\Phi$ called and two or three Christmas carols were sung.

Pledge Day—October 17, 1925

As a result of a successful rushing season which occupied the first three weeks of the semester, the following ten splendid girls were pledged: Marjory Barber, Margaret Gould, Alice Klaepfer, Portia Mary Lee, Florence Nicholls, Elfrieda Pope, Sarah Reid, Jean Warren, Marion Watson, and Virginia Sheasley. The pledges are already entering campus activities. Portia Mary Lee has had parts in several Cornell dramatic plays; Margaret Gould is a member of the mandolin club, and Elfrieda Pope was elected to Deutscher Verein, the German literary society.

The annual tea dance for the pledges was held October 24, and was a great success. On December 3, 4 and 5 the chapter held a rummage sale. The alumnae helped with it and the results were very gratifying; part of the proceeds will go to the Settlement School and part to the house furniture fund. The Christmas party was given December 13. There was a Christmas tree, a stunt by the freshmen, impromptu stunts by the juniors and seniors, and refreshments served by the sophomores.

ΠΦ headed the list of the organizations which contributed to the Red Cross Drive and was among those which were 100% in the Student Relief Fund.

Annette Pye was elected captain of the sophomore basketball team. Florine Glenn was chairman of the decoration committee for Hades, the annual hazing party for the freshmen given by the sophomores, and chairman of the entertainment committee for the Women's Self Government masquerade which was held Thanksgiving eve. Frances De Lamater is doing coaching for the Cornell dramatic club. Elizabeth Lawson is treasurer of the Dixie Club. Mary Monty is a member of the committee on vocational guidance. Dorothy Kortjohn is a member of the Student Friendship Forum. Thelma Tabor is a member of the glee club. Orpha Spicer is on the All-Cornell dance committee.

Marjorie Macadam, '26.

Owing to the opening of second semester and preferential bidding, Pennsylvania A is still busy with rushing. Swarthmore is trying out this new system in an endeavor to preserve normal intercourse during rushing season.

At present the women's fraternities are raising money to build fraternity lodges. The building will start when each fraternity has raised $10,000 and when the college has raised $60,000 for a woman's student building about which the lodges will be located. ΠΦ has $9,000 pledged so far.

Pennsylvania A enjoyed a visit from the new Beta Province President, Marie Winsor Stebbins.

ΠΦs are active in college affairs this year. In Women's Student Government, Marjorie Mode is chairman of the student conduct committee, and Sarah Percy is vice president. Lydia Turner is editor of the Women's Student Government Handbook for freshmen. Lois Thompson is librarian of the girl's glee club. Lois Thompson and Sarah Percy were elected into Le Cercle Francais. Marjorie Mode has become a member of Mortar Board. Sarah Percy is captain of the hockey team for next year. Ann Meloney, Ruth Longacre, and Mary Meyer are on the staff of the college annual, The Halcyon. Ruth Longacre, Lydia Turner, and Katherine Rittenhouse are members of the staff of The Phoenix, the weekly paper.

Pledge Day—October 24, 1925

Pennsylvania B pledged ten splendid freshmen girls on October 24: Priscilla Branch, Ora Louise Cooper, Elizabeth Evans, Gertrude Gauchnaur, Rhoda Herr, Miriam Kline, Elizabeth Sale, Thelma Showalter, Doris Siner, and Helen Steinhilper. Pledging was followed by the first chapter dance of the year at the $\Phi K \Psi$ house.

Pennsylvania B derived much inspiration from the visit of Marie Winsor Stebbins, Beta Province President, who was with the chapter December 7 and 8.

The chapter has held a number of teas; one in honor of Mrs. Stebbins, one for the pledges, one for the patronesses, and one for the wives of the faculty. The active chapter was entertained by the pledges at a delightful tea held at the home of one of the patronesses, Mrs. N. H. Stewart.

Fifty dollars was sent to the Settlement School as the chapter's Christmas contribution instead of the usual box of toys.

Caryl Dutton was a delegate to the Inter-denominational Student Conference held at Evanston, Ill., December 29 to January 1.

The college girls held their annual reception for the members of the faculty December 12. The girls' glee club gave a cantata December 16. Five Pi Phis took part.

Since the last chapter letter, Elizabeth Sale, a pledge, and Cornelia Trowbridge have been elected to Frill and Frown, dramatic society; Marlon Higgins to $\Theta A \Phi$, honorary dramatic fraternity, and Marjorie Kerr to $\Pi M E$, honorary mathematical fraternity.

INITIATES

(Initiated December 19, 1925.)

Betsey Anne Cloud, '28, 701 D St., Belmar, N. J.

Mary Graham Smith, '28, 910 Parker St., Chester, Pa.

Because of the new system of preferential bidding, Pennsylvania I had no rushing stunts, but on November 4, pledged six fine girls. A cooky-shine that evening was their introduction to $\Pi \Phi$, and on the following Saturday a dance was given in their honor. Initiation was held on February 10, followed by a cooky-shine. On February 13 there was a Valentine dance, and the annual formal dance is to be April 10. The chapter hopes to have many alumnae back to enjoy it with them this year.

Marie Winsor Stebbins, new Beta Province President, visited the chapter in December and aroused much enthusiasm among the girls. They have been striving to carry out her suggestions to bring up scholarship and to make $\Pi \Phi$ first in student activities.

Before Christmas the chapter made a good start toward its Settlement School Fund. Thirty-five dollars was cleared by taking orders on the gift shop display sent by Louise Weber.

The days before Christmas vacation were very busy for Dickinson students. The girls dressed dolls for the prisoners' children in New York City, and worked hard for the annual Doll Show, the proceeds of which go to the Dickinson Endowment through the Y. W. C. A. and the Women's Student Government. The custom of packing individual Christmas boxes for children in the Tennessee mountains was carried out as usual. The first feature of the all-college Christmas stunt, preceded by the annual $\Pi\Phi$ Christmas party, was a very fine innovation this year. The combined men's and women's glee clubs and the college orchestra gave a cantata, "The World's Redeemer," which was exceptionally well rendered and greatly appreciated. Three Pi Phis took solo parts.

As a Christmas gift Pennsylvania Γ received from the Harrisburg-Lancaster alumnae club and two alumnae personally, a dozen and a half beautiful salad forks. The chapter is very grateful for this lovely gift.

This year the amount subscribed by the students to the Dickinson-in-China Fund, which sends Raymond Brewer as a professor to West China Union University, has far exceeded any other year. Missionary and student speakers brought the cause before the students.

Pennsylvania Γ social affairs this year include a tea given early in the fall to which faculty wives, town alumnae, $\Pi\Phi$ mothers, patronesses, and girls of other fraternities were invited; a cooky-shine during Mrs. Stebbins' visit, and a luncheon at the Molly Pitcher hotel. In athletics, the chapter is very happy to say that Eleanor McCrone has made the varsity basketball team and that several girls are working hard on the squad.

Florence Cornforth, '29, 137 Crosby Ave., Carrick, Penn.

Gertrude Swift, '29, 1218 Esplanade St., N. S. Pittsburgh, Penn.

The university had a very successful football season this fall, winning six out of seven games. All of the games, with the exception of the Penn game were played at the new Pitt Stadium. Seven West Virginia Alphas attended the Pitt-West Virginia game, and a luncheon was given for them by the active chapter. The varsity basketball season was formally started on New Year's Eve by a game with Cornell.

Initiation was held on Armistice Day at the chapter rooms on Terrace Street, and was followed by a cooky-shine. Each initiate received a $\Pi\Phi$ History and a songbook from the chapter, a corsage from her sponsor, and a gift from the Pittsburgh alumnae club. The chapter announces the pledging of Ruth Phillips.

Two other cooky-shines were held this fall. At the one the alumnae club entertained the active chapter; the other, which took the form of a shower for the house, was given by the actives during the Christmas holidays. New dining room furniture will soon be a reality. For the past few months Pennsylvania Δ has been selling silk stockings to raise one-half the money necessary to buy it, Elvera Hamstrom, a Pennsylvania Δ alumna having given the rest.

In November a tea was given for the women's fraternities on the campus, in honor of Marie Winsor Stebbins, Beta Province President, who now lives in Pittsburgh. Since that time two representatives from the active chapter have had tea each week with Mrs. Stebbins. In this way many chapter problems are solved, and Mrs. Stebbins makes helpful suggestions for the betterment of the chapter. Mrs. Loyal E. Crawford, (Florence Hawk, Kansas A), and newly elected patroness of Pennsylvania Δ , entertained the chapter at her home during the latter part of November.

Since rushing will not take place until the first two weeks of March, Panhellenic has sponsored four parties for freshmen co-eds, this semester. A luncheon for new upper class girls was also given by Panhellenic. To create a spirit of cooperation and friendliness among all the women's fraternities on the campus the new organization of fraternity presidents has given a tea, a luncheon, a dance, and a bridge party, at which four representatives from each fraternity were present. Panhellenic formal will be held at Hotel Schenley the last Friday in April.

The activities committee of Pennsylvania Δ has prepared an honor book which contains the picture and activities record of each girl. Two hours of activities per week are also required, and are reported each Monday night. A quite noticeable interest in activities has been shown. Alice Fehr was on the activities recognition list of Mortar Board. Sarah Hannan and Sarah Fulton were on the committee for the first university open house, given by W. S. G. A. the Monday before Thanksgiving. Margaret McConahay, as chairman of the social committee of French Club, had charge of the French Club Christmas party. Bertha Schmid, a member of the glee club, sang at the party.

Alice Fehr has been appointed associate editor of the 1927 Owl, the university annual. She is the first girl in the history of the university to be on the executive board of the Owl staff. Another $\Pi \Phi$, Alice Symmonds is manager of the school of education section for the 1927 Owl.

Lysbeth Hamilton is one of the five girls to be elected to the student council. Anne Barrett made the junior hockey team, and has been elected secretary of the freshman class of the medical school. She is also on the Junior Prom committee. Elizabeth Thomson had charge of the sophomore workers and Alice Fehr, the senior workers in the Student Loan Fund drive, conducted the first three weeks of December by W. S. G. A.

Ruth Rochester, '26, Logan, Ohio.

An impressive initiation ceremony was held on November 21 in the $\Pi \Phi$ rooms at Fraternity Hall. Following the ceremony, the active chapter entertained the new initiates at a banquet at the Varsity Inn.

Ohio A was very happy to meet the new Beta Province president, Marie Winsor Stebbins, when she visited the chapter during January. A formal dinner was given by the alumnae and active chapter at the Colonial Hotel for Mrs. Stebbins. The chapter also gave a tea at Fraternity Hall in honor of Mrs. Stebbins and the patronesses.

The annual college play, "Much Ado About Nothing," was presented on December 11 and 12. Helen Peoples had the role of Hero, and her performance caused much favorable comment.

The chapter's Christmas formal was given on December 11 at Hotel Berry. The ballroom was decorated with lighted Christmas trees. Leather cigarette cases, decorated with the $\Pi\Phi$ coat-of-arms, provided attractive favors.

Mildred Stevenson has been elected vice president of the senior class; Jane Bagley, secretary of the junior class; and Pauline Swanson, secretary of the freshman class. Mildred Stevenson has been elected president of $\Pi\Sigma\Phi$, national classical fraternity, and also president of the Classical Club. Elizabeth Woodworth has been elected vice-president of $\Phi\tau\theta$, national home economics fraternity, of which organization Eleanor Lambert and Ruth Rochester are also members.

October 8 was set by the university as Pledge Day, but pledging was postponed a week by Panhellenic council. Due to individual rushing and exceeding one-hundred dollar limit, several of the national fraternities became inactive on the campus, their penalty to last for at least a quarter of the year. The ban was lifted by the board of trustees when it met in December. Panhellenic will probably vote new rushing rules before next year. After a prolonged silent period the following girls were pledged: Ruth Riley, Lulu Browne, Martha Likes, Helen Stroupe, Mary J. Amrine, Marcella Dickinson, Ethel Wheeler, Mary J. Hegelheimer, Elizabeth Bergman, Mary Beth Whaley, Hazel Cawrse and Margaret Wineland.

At the Christmas Convocation held in University Chapel 126 students, including three $\Pi\Phi$ s, were granted degrees.

A very successful benefit bridge party was given at the Neil House in November. The active chapter also gave a formal dance for the pledges at the Neil House, when representatives from Ohio A and Ohio Δ were present.

Ohio B was happy to entertain several Illinois Zetas who attended the Homecoming game.

The chapter sang "Wine and Silver Blue," "My $\Pi\Phi$ Girl" and several Ohio State songs over the radio December 16.

Betty McCord deserves mention in the numerous activities on the campus, including Y. W. C. A., Women's Student Council, Stroller dramatic club and Lantern staff. Margaret Berry, Marion Simons, Elizabeth Calkins are on Y. W. C. A. commission. Margaret Berry, Margaret Sharp and Dorothy Calkins are members of the Browning dramatic club. Several of the pledges are on freshman cabinet and members of glee club. Mary Beth Whaley is president of the freshman class.

Ohio B gave a Christmas benefit party and spread at the chapter house for the Settlement School, at which a box containing toys and wearing apparel was packed for the School.

Ohio B enjoyed a visit from Marie Winsor Stebbins, Beta Province President, on January 9 and 10.

Ohio Δ has had an unusually full year, but still the girls have kept up with their outside activities. Dorothy Briggs was elected vice president of K Δ II, national education fraternity. Christine Dailey was pledged to M Φ E, national musical fraternity. Ruth Washburn was elected women's business manager of The Mirror, a college magazine. Evelyn Lowe was elected vice president of Clionion literary society.

The pledges also have started out well. Mary Walrath made freshman debate team and Josephine Spencer and Delmun Lohmuller made all star hockey team. Eileen Spence was one of three elected into English Writer's Club. Mildred Crawford, a junior, made varsity debate team and took the leading role in a Histrionic Club play. On Thanksgiving Day the town alumnae gave a most delightful cooky-shine for the active chapter and new pledges. During Christmas vacation the pledges gave the actives a clever party. The chapter had an informal snow dance for the semester's dance.

Marie Winsor Stebbins, Beta Province President, was here for a very delightful visit. The chapter entertained with a Panhellenic tea and a cooky-shine.

The Columbus alumnae gave a lovely tea for Ohio B and Ohio Δ in Columbus.

INITIATES

Marian McQueen, '27, 404 Pennsylvania Ave., Morgantown, W. Va.
 Margaret Ransome, '28, Hampton Roads, Va.

After an intensive period of rushing West Virginia pledged Harriet Harris, Madelon Collins, Evelyn Loucher, and Mavis Leyman, who are now proudly wearing the golden arrow head.

Rushing season began at noon December 4 with a hobo luncheon. The remainder of the parties were a theater party, a Cabaret Dance, an Aunt Jemima breakfast, a Japanese luncheon, a formal dance given at the home of one of the patronesses, Mrs. Carspecken, a crystal breakfast, a rainbow dinner, and the Arrow tea.

The West Virginia University Dramatic Club presented the Pulitzer prize play of 1923, "Icebound," at the Metropolitan Theater, January 11. Ruth Deffenbaugh took the part of Ella.

The Pi Phis have been very active in many different campus activities. Lenla Thomas was recently elected junior editor of The Monticola, the university year book. Five girls are serving on the student government board. Miriam Stultz made the hockey team. Margaret Reed was assistant coach of "Icebound." Jeanette Brown is vice president of the sophomore girls and on the Y. W. C. A. social committee. Jean Haller was elected president of the Lutheran Students, and Pearl Hill head of the alumnae department of the Wesley Foundation. Mavis Lyman, a freshman pledge, made the varsity rifle team, and was chosen freshman representative on the athletic council.

Merriam Robinson is to act as cadet sponsor for Company C of the R. O. T. C. Each sponsor is given a special uniform which she wears when she marches with her company on days of special drill or inspection.

West Virginia A was happy to have for its guest the week of December 12, the Grand President, Amy B. Onken. Miss Onken's visit was very much appreciated, not only for the help and inspiration she gave to the chapter but for the opportunity offered every girl in the chapter to really know and love her. A formal tea was given at the chapter house on Monday, December 14, in honor of Miss Onken. More than one hundred guests were received during the afternoon.

Shortly after the dedication of the new Morgan Hotel the active chapter of $\Pi\Phi$ gave a formal dinner there in Miss Onken's honor. Several members of the alumnae club were present. Pearl Hill acted as toast mistress; Mrs. P. I. Reed, instructor of English in the University, gave the response for the alumnae and Harriet Harris for the pledges. Following the toasts Miss Onken gave a wonderfully inspiring talk on the aims and ideals of $\Pi\Phi$.

GAMMA PROVINCE

Pledge Day—October 29, 1925.

Maryland A opened the year with a very successful and enjoyable rushing season and announces with reasonable pride the pledging of fifteen new girls, fourteen freshmen and one sophomore. The pledges are Jane Cockill, Dorothy DeBerry, Mary Louise Greer, Mildred Hall, Margaret Hitchins, Dorothy Johnson, Helen Kunkle, Helen Penick, Jane Poindexter, Mary Elizabeth Scott, Mary Lily Smoot, Gertrude Walton, Dorothy Wilson, Lillian Yates, Marion Yoder. The chapter is also fortunate in having three most attractive and congenial transfers: Katherine Rockefeller and Elizabeth Valentine from Virginia A, and Frances Lamont from Illinois A.

This fall has been a busy season for Maryland A. Hockey followed on the heels of rushing and the chapter was represented on the senior, junior and freshman teams. Interest ran high in the Army-Navy hockey game, an annual contest between teams chosen from the best players of all four classes, which was held before the Thanksgiving recess and closed the hockey season. This year $\Pi\Phi$ interest was divided since Martha Julia Thomas had charge of the navy contingent, while Kathryn Barry and Gertrude Tufel played on the army team and Mildred Hall, a pledge, led the army cheering section.

Just before the Thanksgiving holiday, Maryland A was honored by a short visit from Frances Evans. Miss Evans proved a delightful guest and her advice has been an inspiration to the chapter.

On November 21, the entire college met at its annual Thanksgiving dinner, and, thanks to the efforts of Kathryn Barry who was in charge, the affair has never been so thoroughly enjoyed nor so efficiently managed. Kitty declares that she thought in terms of hundreds of turkeys and gallons of cranberry sauce for weeks before the function.

The junior class is at work on the production of "The Scarecrow" by Percy MacKaye and $\Pi\Phi$ is represented by Jeannette Baer, who has the lead as Lord Ravensbane, and four others of the chapter who have roles of lesser importance. The cast of senior dramatics has not yet been selected. However the seniors are very much interested in the try-outs and Gertrude Tufel has entire charge of the costuming.

Along with extra-curricular work, Maryland A is putting renewed emphasis on scholarship this year. Study hour has been organized for the pledges and is held each night in the college library under the supervision of an upper-classman, who is in turn directly responsible to Eleanor Gherky, the chairman of pledge study.

Eleanor Yates Haddox, '28, Silver Spring, Md.

Columbia A actively participated in the fall elections of class officers on the campus. Grace Harris was elected vice president of the senior class, Columbian College; Anne Jones was elected secretary of the sophomore class; and Frances Walker was elected treasurer of the junior class of Teacher's College; Ruth Williams and Sophia Waldman are presidents of the Sphinx and Hour Glass Honor societies, respectively.

Columbia A held first place in scholarship among fraternity women for the second semester of 1924-25.

A very outstanding event of the college year is the "Roll Call" which was held this year on the campus, October 12. It was a very successful rally of all classes of the university and was followed by an exciting snake dance down the main streets of the city.

Alice Williams, in recognition of her distinguished scholarship record, was presented with a silver cup by $\kappa\Delta$. This award is made annually to the freshman woman of the university who attains the highest average of general excellence during the college year.

Repeating their performance of two years ago, the George Washington University debating team again scored a victory over that of Oxford University on the Russian question. The members of the Oxford team were guests of the British Embassy while in Washington.

More than thirty presidents, deans and representatives of member institutions attended the convention of the Association of Universities which was held at George Washington University on November 12.

$\Pi B\Phi$ gave a very successful and enjoyable card party for the benefit of the Settlement School. Girls from many of the other women's fraternities on the campus were present at the function.

Three days in November held unusual interest and happy times for Columbia A, in the visit of Francese Evans. Those three days of conferences, meetings and pleasant interviews proved only too brief.

Columbia A announces the pledging of Ethel Fred on November 23.

Ruth Williams was elected to the board of editors of the Cherry Tree, the George Washington University yearbook. She was also initiated into an honorary journalistic fraternity, and she and Katherine Shoemaker were pledged to the Hour Glass, honor society. Four Pi Phis were on the senior class basketball team which participated in the class tournament.

Sophia Waldman is again captain of rifle, while Edna Kilpatrick is manager, with Alice Williams acting as senior assistant. Edna Kilpatrick is also sport editor of the Cherry Tree this year.

Panhellenic has been active in securing interesting speakers on the subject of health, education and like subjects for the women's fraternities.

Flax McAlister, '28, Greensboro, N. C.

On October 17, Virginia A pledged twelve freshmen: Nancy Keith Snyder, Flora Sutcliff, Dorothy West, Mae Hoard, Lois Leeper, Lyla Brown, Mary Cox, Louise Starke, Randolph Arnold, Margaret Hyatt, Anne Margaret Rommel and Beverly Osborne. The pledging ceremony was followed by a cooky-shine, which several of the alumnae attended.

Francese R. Evans, Grand Secretary, who visited Virginia A in November, gave the chapter many helpful suggestions and also a very interesting account of the Settlement School. Her visit was an inspiration to each girl.

The junior class gave a play and party for the freshman class on November 14. The play was "In Old Madrid," written and directed by members of the class. Several Pi Phis took part in the dances.

On November 30, Dr. John Cooper Powys, the English novelist, lectured at Randolph-Macon on "The Art of Self Culture."

The Carolina Play-Makers presented three plays, "Queer Medicine," "Fixings," and "Galus and Galus, Jr.," at Randolph-Macon on December 14.

The Sophomore class gave their annual play and party for the seniors on December 15. Dorothy Quattlebaum and Elizabeth Burrows took leading parts and Edna Brown, Dorothy Fentress, Martha Townsend, Elizabeth Dunnaway and Audrey Bolinger took part in the dances.

Virginia A held a special initiation at the chapter house on December 16 for Flax McAlister. On December 17, Audrey Bolinger was pledged.

Virginia Alphas are very proud of having the living room at the $\Pi\Phi$ house refurbished this year. The chapter had its annual Christmas party and shower for the house, at which the freshmen were present, on December 20. The sophomores presented the house with a Victrola and the freshmen gave a clock.

INITIATES

Frances Wilson McNulty, '28, 1224 Maple Ave., Roanoke, Va.

Virginia B was fortunate in having as a guest just before Thanksgiving the Grand Secretary, Francese Evans. During her brief stay a banquet was given in her honor at the Tinker Tea House and a delightful tea was given by Olivia Staples, an alumna of Virginia B, at her home. It is the practical help, encouragement and fresh inspiration from the personal acquaintance afforded by such a visit that gives new meaning to the phrase "national officers." The girls are eagerly anticipating a visit in January from Marlon Gilmer, Gamma Province President.

Bernard Shaw's "Candida" was presented in the fall in the Hollins Little Theater. Lucy Poulnot, the president of Virginia B, took the leading part.

Thanksgiving was celebrated fittingly with a cooky-shine in the chapter room. On the menu was a large and delectable "turkey with fixin's." The plan of having every fourth meeting of a social nature has been followed most successfully by the chapter this year.

Rather than have a fixed method of supervised study, the chapter has adopted a system of using study blanks, especially adapted to include a weekly account of the number of hours spent in studying and those spent in outside activities. Each girl is pledged to follow a minimum schedule and the blanks provide an excellent means for a personal check. This method is working successfully toward scholastic improvement.

An outstanding event in the annals of Hollins took place just before the Christmas vacation when the college played hostess to the fifth annual conference of the Intercollegiate Dramatic Association. Thirty delegates, representing fifteen colleges throughout the United States were present. Virginia B is justly proud of the parts played in the conference by her two members, Lucy Poulnot and Dorothy Griffiths, respectively secretary and president of the Hollins College Dramatic Association. Dorothy Griffiths presided over the meetings with competence and poise and did much to make the conference a success. Jane Goodloe of Goucher College, formerly of Hollins, addressed the conference. The Carolina Playmakers presented three one-act plays in the Hollins Little Theater on Saturday night, December 12. Dr. Frederick Koch and Professor George V. Denny accompanied the Playmakers and gave unusually interesting lectures during the conference.

The Christmas pageant was adapted and directed by Marjorie Fort. The cast included three Pi Phis, Emily Wedge, Sara Phillips and Frances Long.

The chapter dropped for a while the strain of last moment papers and writings and had an informal Christmas party in the senior parlor on the last Sunday night before the holidays. There was a real tree, and near it a jovial Santa waited with a bagful of presents.

Marguerite Young, '27, A. B., Pennington Gap, Va.

Virginia Γ is striving hard to make this first year in $\Pi\beta\Phi$ a very successful one. Each girl is putting forth every effort to uphold the high ideals and standards of $\Pi\Phi$ and to be worthy of wearing the golden arrow. The wonderfully impressive ceremonies of installation were an inspiration and incentive to each initiate. Further enthusiasm was aroused by the very enjoyable visit of the Grand Secretary, Frances R. Evans. Miss Evans pledged Christine Henderson, the daughter of the mayor of Williamsburg, on November 15.

According to the local Panhellenic ruling no promise can be pledged until she has made more than 80 in every subject she is taking. Pledges cannot be initiated until the end of the semester and then only with an average of 83 in all subjects.

On December 6, R. Elizabeth Smith, of Portsmouth, Va., and Pauline Hines, of Washington, D. C., were pledged. Pauline, although only a freshman, has made the varsity hockey team, and was elected by the student body as freshman representative to the Student Council.

Edna Laudenslager, of Allentown, Penn., and Lucille Parker of Roanoke, Va., were pledged on January 8. This year is Edna's first at this college, but she won the J. Lesslie Hall essay prize for the best essay for the year 1925-26. She received an autographed copy of a book written by Dr. J. Lesslie Hall, a William and Mary College professor who is the only man in America to belong to the Royal Literary Society of England.

The promises of Virginia Γ who are working to meet the requirements to be pledged are, J. Elizabeth Smith, of Suffolk, Va.; Irene Schoner, Newark, N. J.; and Mae Laudenslager, Allentown, Penn.

Virginia Γ is very fortunate and happy in having Grace Miller, formerly of Oklahoma B, at the college this year.

Many delightful informal parties, teas and picnics have been given this term as well as two formal banquets. A dinner party and tea were given in honor of Miss Evans during her stay. Every Thursday afternoon is chapter get-together day. Two girls are in charge each time, and they try to make their party just a little better than the last. A Christmas tree, presents, and stockings featured the program of the Christmas party.

The chapter is happy to announce that Mrs. W. A. R. Goodwin has accepted the invitation to become one of the Virginia Γ patronesses.

$\Pi\Phi$ is represented in all the campus activities. Louise Sale is president of the Y. W. C. A. and Gertrude Adkins is vice-president. Mae Muir is president of Jefferson Hall Dormitory with Virginia Ayers as vice president. Mae Muir, Louise Sale and Pauline Hines are on the Student Council. Fearn Cabell is associate editor of the annual, while Virginia Ayers is activities editor and Clyde Graham is on the staff. Fearn Cabell and Gertrude Adkins are on the debate council, and Fearn Cabell and Elizabeth Mercer are members of the TKA, honorary debating fraternity. Louise Sale is vice-president of the senior class. Louise Sale and Mae Muir were recently invited to join the Alpha Club, an honorary senior club, of which Alice Person and Elizabeth Mercer are already members.

Virginia Ayers took one of the leading parts in "The Amazons" which was presented by the Dramatic Club, and is also a member of the honorary dramatic fraternity, $\Theta\Lambda\Phi$.

In the past two years this chapter has held the highest scholastic average of the nationals on campus. Promises are required to study every night from 7:30 to 10 under supervision. Pledges and members are pledged to study at least two hours on any subject on which they have received a grade less than 80. The chapter offers as an incentive for higher scholarship "The $\Pi\beta\Phi$ Symphony" to the girl making the most improvement in one month, a recognition pin for the most improvement for the term, and a $\Pi\beta\Phi$ ring for the whole year.

Panhellenic held its annual banquet on November 25. Virginia Ayers, Gertrude Adkins, and Mae Muir represented $\Pi\beta\Phi$. Panhellenic held a community Christmas tree and sang Christmas carols on December 21.

Louise Sale was chosen by the entire student body to be the Madonna in the Christmas pageant, in which six other Pi Phis also took part.

Christmas holidays are over, and the university has opened the second quarter, so Chapel Hill is alive once more.

North Carolina A had a most enjoyable and successful rushing season, and The Little House was renovated and redecorated in preparation for the initiation on January 16.

Frances Evans visited the chapter for two days during the first week of November and left behind an increased amount of enthusiasm and ambition, and an even greater love and appreciation of $\Pi\beta\Phi$.

The Carolina Playmakers' new theater was formally dedicated with the presentation of three plays November 23-25. Ellen Melick and Margaret Ellis had leading parts in the plays, and four other Pi Phis served as ushers.

The alumnae club and patronesses of North Carolina A are showing great interest in the chapter. They have taken over the afternoon tea on the first Friday of each month, making it a most enjoyable affair. The chapter and pledges give the teas on other Friday afternoons. Several patronesses have made lovely gifts to The Little House, and others have promised the chapter a dance this spring at the Country Club.

Florida A announces the pledging of Gertrude Contois, Peoria, Ill., Evelyn Hodges, Martinsburg, W. Va., and Frances Hopkins, Miami, Fla.

With the work of the first term completed in December, the chapter reports an increase in the scholarship average over that of last year. $\Pi\beta\Phi$ hopes to win the scholarship cup presented annually by the Jacksonville Panhellenic Association to the women's fraternity having the highest average on the campus. As an incentive to better scholarship among the pledges the chapter is offering a small loving cup mounted with the $\Pi\beta\Phi$ crest to the pledge obtaining the highest average.

The annual Christmas bazaar was given by the active girls with the help of interested alumnae in the parlors of Chaudoin Hall. The sale of many attractive gifts and pieces of art work netted the fraternity a substantial sum which will be used this spring in refurnishing the chapter room. The alumnae club of De Land is assisting the chapter financially by money raised from a series of benefit bridge parties. It is hoped that soon the chapter room will be entirely redecorated.

Laurie Buck and Margaret Hunt of Florida B are attending Stetson this term. The chapter also welcomes Marian George, Ohio Δ.

The Stetson Symphony Orchestra, of which several Pi Phis are members, has already given several notable recitals in De Land, and its engagements this winter include Miami, Tampa and St. Petersburg.

After the closing of a successful football season in the fall, basketball engages the attention of the collegians.

Florida A continues to be most prominent in college activities. Charlotte Farrington was elected editor-in-chief of the Stetson year book, and Marjorie Lamphere is the art editor. In the popularity contests recently held, outstanding honors were given to Pi Phis. Frances Hopkins has been pledged to Φ B, honorary musical fraternity, and Evelyn Hodges was elected co-ed cheer leader. Π Φ has been represented in the musical and dramatic activities given this winter.

It is with pleasure that Florida A anticipates the visit of Marian Gilmer, the new Gamma Province President.

Russell McCord made the varsity basketball team and made her "F" also. Elizabeth Gates won a place on the freshman volley-ball team. Myra Burr, president of the Athletic Association, made her "F" and was a member of the senior basketball team. At Thanksgiving time, the Evens won the volley-ball game and the Odds were victorious in the basketball games, for the first time in seven years.

The Junior-Freshman Wedding, solemnized in the open-air theater, was unusually beautiful this year. Sara Gunn was chosen as the groom.

Three Pi Phis are members of the Cotillion Club this year: Sara Gunn and Sara and Russell McCord. Florentine Holmes is a member of the V. V. Club.

Mary Burr and Elizabeth Larzellers were among the freshmen who were tapped for Y. W. C. A. freshman cabinet on December 14.

Pi Phis who took part in the Odd and Even demonstrations this year were: Mary Sanderson, Frances and Mary Gill, Mary Clayton, Kent McCord, Florentine Holmes and Lillian Hyde.

Dorothy Grumbles attended the Student's World Court in Atlanta, Ga., as one of the three representatives from Florida State College. Dorothy is also a member of the Neart Club.

Mary Clayton has charge of the Junior Minstrel, one of the outstanding events of the spring.

Mary Evelyn Eaves received a bid from A X A journalistic fraternity. Emily Sanderson was elected a member of I I O, women's historic fraternity.

In the feature section of The Flastacowa, the college annual, Myra Burr appears as the most all round girl, selected from the entire student body.

On Homecoming Day, October 31, Michigan A welcomed a large number of $\Pi\Phi$ alumnae and friends. The active girls gave a delightful supper, and afterward were hostesses at open house where strangers and friends received a cordial greeting. On the following Monday alumnae and patronesses enjoyed a tea at the chapter house.

Panhellenic has two new representatives from $\Sigma A I$, a musical fraternity which recently received a charter on this campus.

In the class elections at the beginning of the semester, $\Pi\Phi$ was well represented. Josephine Kerr was elected vice president and Gladis Clark secretary-treasurer of the senior class; Martha Meighan was elected secretary-treasurer of the junior class and Jean Charlesworth vice president of the sophomore class.

Three Pi Phis were recently initiated into the local honorary fraternity, and Michigan A again leads other fraternities in scholarship for the seventh consecutive semester.

As there was no rushing this semester, Panhellenic decided that the freshman girls should be entertained in groups at each women's fraternity house so that all of the women would have better opportunity to become acquainted. This plan has proved quite pleasing and successful.

Members of the college faculty and college organizations, desirous of promoting a more friendly spirit among the students on the campus, suggested that the various fraternities have open-house Sunday evenings. The men's and women's fraternities have alternated each time and the results have been very satisfactory.

Hillsdale College is planning to build a new gymnasium soon, so $\Pi\Phi$ had an opportunity to use her spacious house for a gym benefit dance. A large crowd attended, enjoying the homelike atmosphere and cheerful music.

The Y. W. C. A. has been conducting a series of discussion groups, which with capable leaders and enthusiastic members, have proved very interesting. Eliza Cowan has done much to interest the girls in them.

Seven Pi Phis have been initiated into W. A. A. which has been re-organized this year. It has sponsored a series of dances known as college mixers, to put more enthusiasm into athletic affairs.

On November 23, Michigan A held formal initiation for six pledges. Many alumnae were present for the initiation banquet which closed with the impressive loving cup ceremony.

$\Pi\Phi$ was delighted to welcome Lois Wilkinson Christian, Delta Province President, for a few days in December. Mrs. Christian gave many helpful suggestions and her visit was all too brief.

Just before the holidays, the initiates enjoyed their first cooky-shine and the next night a formal party was held at the chapter house. The decorations were in keeping with the holiday season and the party ended with a breakfast.

The chapter life of Michigan B has been exceptionally full this year. The last week in October the actives entertained the pledges at a formal party. Football games occupied week ends quite consistently, and the chapter was happy to have six Minnesota Alphas as guests the week-end of the Minnesota-Michigan game.

The annual bazaar given for the benefit of the Women's League was held early in December. At this time each women's fraternity and league house on the campus makes and donates certain articles. This year the Pi Phis were awarded the first prize for the donations—gingham and calico woofle dogs.

Panhellenic has been very active this year. The annual ball was held the week end of Thanksgiving with Frances Parrish as general chairman. During the first week in January Panhellenic held a banquet at which all fraternities came en masse and sang their songs. This proved very successful and worth-while, making stronger inter-fraternity spirit.

Michigan B has also taken her place in athletics. $\Pi\phi$ placed second in the all-campus swimming meet. Two Pi Phis, Helen Seabright and Gertrude Gulick, won positions on the all-star hockey teams. Four others played on the class teams.

Mae Keller was elected to Wyvern, junior honor society and Doris Gladden to Stylus, a literary society.

INDIANA ALPHA—FRANKLIN COLLEGE

Pledge Day—September 19, 1925

Indiana A again led in scholarship on the campus for the eighth consecutive semester, according to the registrar's report for the preceding term.

On the night of November 6, forty-four Pi Phis and their escorts, after enjoying a three course dinner at the Masonic Temple, motored to Indianapolis and attended the performance of the Duncan Sisters in "Topsy and Eva." A tea for Mrs. C. E. Goodell, dean of women, and Mrs. L. E. Ritchey, $\Pi\phi$ house mother, was given at the house early in the fall.

The chapter felt highly honored to have as its guests Grand President Amy B. Onken, and Lois Wilkinson Christian, Delta Province President, during the week end of November 14. A tea in honor of Mrs. Christian and a dinner for Miss Onken and Mrs. Christian marked the social functions for the week end. A kid party and a cooky-shine with the alumnae have been more recent social affairs.

Martha La Grange has been elected treasurer of the senior class and Marion Coy the secretary of the junior class, while Grace Elizabeth Kenny has been appointed pianist for the girl's glee club. Pearl Swain is secretary of the student council.

Indiana A announces the pledging of Pearl Swain of Warren, Ind., and Martha Scott, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Adelaide Lidikay, '27, Ladoga, Ind.

Indiana B has been honored this year by visits from Lois Wilkinson Christian, Delta Province President, and Amy B. Onken. Since this was Mrs. Christian's first visit, most of her time was spent in becoming acquainted with the girls. A formal dinner was given in her honor at which the deans of women and the alumnae were special guests. Although Miss Onken could be in Bloomington only a few hours, she left an inspiration that will last thruout the college year.

Indiana's Homecoming was unusual this fall because of the dedication of both the Memorial Stadium and the new women's dormitory, Memorial Hall. Many Indiana B alumnae and other guests were entertained by the chapter. Prizes for the most effectively decorated fraternity houses were awarded to $\Phi\Gamma\Delta$ and ΔX .

June Dexheimer, Frances Pond and Elizabeth Decker were appointed assistants on the staff of the 1926 Arbutus, the university year-book. Several girls have been playing hockey and soccer. The following girls made class teams at the end of the season: Anna Ruth Haworth, Louise Holland, Elizabeth Decker, Ellen Helton, and Frances Pond. Ilda Gifford and Mary Sawin were elected to ΩN , honorary home economics fraternity. Ruth Briggs is a member of the junior prom committee. Indiana B presented a "Collegiate Version of Bluebeard" at the Y. W. C. A. county fair where all campus organizations provided entertainment.

The Christmas spirit pervaded the parties given at the house before the holiday season. Eight poor children were invited to dinner and received Christmas gifts. The annual formal dinner and the freshman party took place the night before the holidays.

Plans for the building of a fraternity quadrangle have been formulated by five fraternities: $B\Theta\Omega$, $\Sigma\Delta E$, $\Delta\Gamma$, ΦM , and $K\Xi$ will start work on their chapter houses in the spring.

Indiana Γ has been busy on her scholarship record and $\Pi B\Phi$ now stands second among the ten national women's fraternities on the campus and is striving to do better.

On December 12, the Butler girls gave a Melting Pot Bazaar at the Spink Arms Hotel, followed by a dance in the evening. Each woman's fraternity had a decorated booth, and the proceeds of the sales went to Woman's Building Fund for the new campus. Billie Mae Krieder was chairman of the whole affair.

Indiana Γ enjoyed the visit of Lois Wilkinson Christian, Delta Province President, November 14, 15 and 16. Amy B. Onken, Grand President, was in Indianapolis at the same time as guest of the alumnae club. The active chapter entertained with a formal dinner on November 16 for Mrs. Christian and Miss Onken. After the dinner Miss Onken talked about Convention, and the installation of the new ΠΒΦ chapters.

At the last meeting before the Christmas holidays three pledges surprised the chapter with a Christmas spread, served at small tables. Candles lighted each table and the color scheme of green and red was carried out in the dinner. Following the meeting, the girls serenaded the men's fraternity houses with Christmas carols, and each girl carried a lighted candle.

The annual Christmas formal was held at the Spink Arms Hotel, December 19.

A new method of fraternity housing is being discussed for the new campus. An active and an alumna of each fraternity met with the board of directors and the architect on December 19 to talk about the plan which involves a community housing scheme in a series of buildings following the style of the college buildings themselves.

Pledge Day—September 12, 1925

President Elliott of Purdue University has authorized the appointment of a student committee of ten men and five women to discuss changes needed in the present system and to give suggestions as to ways of making the university more efficient and more successful. Ruth Robertson has been selected as one of the five girls.

Indiana Δ was very glad to have the chance to entertain and become acquainted with her new province president, Lois Wilkinson Christian, whose visit was an inspiration and was enjoyed thoroly. Following her usual custom, Indiana Δ has entertained the women members of the faculty at a series of buffet dinners.

An unusual honor has been awarded Mary Zimmer, chosen the only girl on the annual junior prom committee. No girl has been on this committee for several years, but a member of Indiana Δ held the honor last. This year the senior girls of the university have succeeded in renewing the custom of having a May Day Festival. Ruth Robertson was elected one of the May Queen's attendants.

Dorothy Diggins has won a place on the Varsity rifle team, making the highest score in the try-outs. Catherine Driscoll, a pledge, is on the Varsity soccer team.

To further the growth of the house fund, Indiana Δ carried on an extensive campaign for the sale of her recipe boxes just before Christmas.

With a favorable vote on the million dollar bond issue a reality, and the two million dollar endowment fund well on the road to success, the University of Louisville has settled down to enjoy its new campus life.

Kentucky A announces the pledging of Mildred Goodwin, Frances Lee Day, Pauline Bowman, Ruth Glover, Margaret Hill Nord, and Lael Tucker. Immediately after rushing season the actives busied themselves with the preparation for that glorious occasion, installation, the details of which were given in the December ARROW.

Shortly after installation the chapter was more than pleased to be visited by Lois Wilkinson Christian, Delta Province president. Her visit was greatly appreciated since she helped Kentucky A to lay a firm foundation for the first year's activities in $\Pi\beta\Phi$.

Kentucky Alphas are thoroughly enjoying the little cottage which they have rented near the campus. It was unpretentious at first but by hard work it has been converted into an attractive club-house at a minimum cost. The entire cottage was painted inside and out with the material as well as physical aid of fraternity friends. The Chancellor generously contributed a new gas stove; the dramatic director, a gate-leg table; the $\Pi\Phi$ alumnae, a piano; and the father of one of the pledges, a new kitchen cabinet. Many local Π Phis ransacked cellar and garret for antiques and materials for decoration.

On November 13 the University of Louisville Players, in which Kentucky A girls have always had a great interest, dedicated their new Playhouse with Molnar's "The Swan." Virginia Edelen took the leading role. Margaret Kirwan and Elizabeth Wilson, graduate students, were other Π Phis in the cast, and eight other Kentucky A girls assisted as property and wardrobe mistresses and ushers. On December 18 the Players gave their second production, "The Big Idea," with Ruth Wilson in the leading role.

With the coming of the second national women's fraternity on the campus, a national Panhellenic was organized admitting all of the six lo-icals. Mildred Scheirich holds the office of vice-president in this organization. Several changes in rushing rules were made, such as the adoption of the preferential bidding system, and the prohibiting of the expenditure of money except for formal parties.

On December 30 a Christmas party was given at the home of Mildred Scheirich. This proved beneficial to the house since the alumnae gave a linoleum rug, scrap book, dinner set, and nest egg on the house fund. The actives and pledges purchased a wall plaque bearing the $\Pi\Phi$ crest. Entertainment for the evening consisted of clever stunts by the pledges.

In the recent elections Peggy Chambers was appointed dramatic editor of the Satyr, monthly college publication, and Blix Eble was elected secretary of both the sophomore class and the Y. W. C. A. Eleanor Mullen is vice-president of the Y. W. C. A., and Virginia Watts is vice-president of the Players and secretary of the junior class. Frances Mann was re-elected vice-president of the Language Club. Lael Tucker is a charter member of A B chapter of $\chi\Delta\Phi$, national literary fraternity which was installed in the university on December 27. Kentucky A is fortunate in having back in college all three of her 1925 graduates. Margaret Kirwan is acting registrar; Mildred Hicks is assistant librarian while doing graduate work in English; and Thelma Knebelkamp, after a trip to Cuba is doing graduate work in zoology.

INITIATE

Hermione Duane Fistere (Mrs. Joe), Tientsin, China.

Tennessee A is in the midst of a busy college year and the members are taking an active part in all activities. The basketball season has opened and at least four Pi Phi's will take the trips for games away from home.

The university dramatic organization, Cap and Bells, has begun work on the annual play which is to be given soon. Mildred Johnson, Nan Elberfeld, Courtney Jones and Amy Loftin, a pledge, have parts in the play, "The Whole Town's Talking."

The chapter was very happy to have a visit from Francese Evans. She was entertained by Margaret Kaderly during her stay.

Lois Wilkinson Christian, Delta Province President, visited Tennessee A for a few days and gave many helpful suggestions to the members. She was entertained at the home of Elizabeth Fox.

Hermione Duane Fistere, member of the local $A\Sigma\Theta$ before it was granted a $\Pi\Phi$ charter, recently returned from China, where she has been living for several years. Hermione was married and sailed for China two weeks before the chapter was installed, and this was her first opportunity to be pledged and initiated. She presented the chapter with a beautiful Chinese linen tea cloth.

The chapter keeps open house every Sunday afternoon, and the members bring friends in to tea. The girls especially invite non-fraternity girls and members of the other women's fraternities on the campus.

The pledges gave a beautiful set of china for the new house. Several other gifts have been sent by friends of $\Pi\Phi$.

The active girls entertained the pledges with a party and Christmas tree at the house on the afternoon of Christmas day. The alumnae were invited and everyone brought Christmas gifts to put on the tree. Each member and pledge also brought a gift for a little girl who is helping to support her mother and going to school also. $\Pi\Phi$ also entertained with a New Year's dance at the chapter house.

The members of the active chapter are making money by serving luncheon to the alumnae at their monthly meetings. Jen Ruth Henry has charge of menus for the luncheons for the entire year.

Dorothy Harris and Miriam Elberfeld, a pledge, have been invited to join $\Sigma\tau\Delta$, a national literary fraternity, which has recently been established in the university. Louise Barnes was elected a member last year.

Mary Ellen Acuff, Josephine Blocker and Dorothy Harris have the leading roles in the French plays to be given soon.

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Pledge Day—October 2, 1925

Minnesota A was well represented in campus activities thruout the past quarter. Elizabeth Dixon was elected treasurer of Cap and Gown, senior women's organization, and vice president of the senior class of the College of Education. $\Pi\Phi$ officers of the sophomore class are Marie Paulson, vice president; Charlotte Winget, W. S. G. A. representative; Marion Fleck, council member. In the freshman class, Dorothy Hummel was elected treasurer of Bib and Tucker, freshman organization for women; Louise Jones is secretary, and Virginia Niess and Muriel Darrell are on the freshman commission.

Harriet Ellis and Charlotte Winget have represented the chapter in dramatics. Charlotte played the role of Portia in the prologue of Ervine's "The Lady of Belmont," the premiere production of which was given by the Minnesota Masquers, and she will have an important part in "Paolo and Francesca." Harriet played the lead in a very successful production of Lewis Beach's "The Goose Hangs High" and is to play the lead again in "Sister Beatrice" on January 14. Four pledges were successful in the Masquer try-outs.

The chapter enjoyed a visit from Margaretta Fenn, Epsilon Province President. Although her visit was short the girls came to know her quite well, and look forward to seeing her again.

Home-coming celebrations took place the week-end of the Minnesota-Iowa game. The $\Pi\Phi$ house, elaborately decorated as a Japanese temple, won honorable mention. Under the leadership of Frances Wargin, a team selling The Ski-U-Mah, Minnesota's humorous magazine, won a silver loving cup.

With the opening of the university this quarter the new administration building with the post office on the ground floor was opened for use. It is a beautiful edifice fronted by huge Doric columns. It is of the same architecture as the Chemistry Building and new Library.

Just before Christmas the girls living at the chapter house gave a party for a group of children ranging in age from three to ten. The children received gifts from a white-bearded $\Pi\Phi$ Santa Claus, and had good things to eat around a brightly-lighted tree.

Minnesota alumnae are transforming a large storeroom in the basement of the chapter house into a beautiful and comfortable chapter room. Special arrangements for heating, furnishing, and decorating the room are being made. This room will relieve the wear on the rest of the house and afford desirable privacy for fraternity matters.

GRADUATES

Vesta Torpe, B.A., Winnemac Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Many of the Wisconsin Pi Phis took an active part in a campaign to raise money for the construction of a Memorial Union building. This is the first time that the students of the University of Wisconsin have raised money and given a building to the university. The Union will be a get-together place for the students where pep meetings and student functions will be held.

Wisconsin A has been very fortunate this year in the number of honors conferred upon her. Elizabeth Milne, Jane Gaston and Claire Reinsch made sophomore honors. Dorothy Morse was initiated into AKΔ, the honorary sociological fraternity. Mary Garstman made ΘΣΦ, the women's honorary journalistic fraternity and was also initiated into ΦΚΦ. Mary E. Haven made ΦΚΦ.

Πφ received second prize for Homecoming decorations for the Wisconsin-Michigan football game. A scheme of decoration suggestive of Indian summer was carried out by the use of Indian tepees and totem poles.

Father's day was held the Saturday of the Michigan State football game. The girls entertained twenty fathers for Sunday dinner at the chapter house.

Wisconsin A enjoyed the visit of Margaretta Fenn, Epsilon Province President.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

Pledge Day—October 5, 1925

This first semester has been a very successful one for Beloit Pi Phis. Two new girls have been added to the list of early fall pledges, Dorothy Conrad, Milwaukee, Wis., and Lucille Grover, LaCrosse, Wis. All the pledges have adapted themselves admirably to Beloit life, and have shown great interest in furthering Pi Phi interests on the campus.

At intervals during the fall, cooky-shines and sings have been held, and on November 21 the fall informal was given at the chapter house. The customary winter formal will come early in March.

Shortly before Christmas Margaretta Fenn, the new Epsilon Province President, was the guest of Wisconsin B. Her suggestions to the chapter were very helpful. The Beloit friends who met Miss Fenn, as well as the Wisconsin Betas themselves, were charmed with her, and everyone was sorry to have her visit come to an end. While at Beloit she was entertained at a Panhellenic tea given at the ΔΔΔ house.

The chapter had planned a cooky-shine and shower for the house before the holidays. Many useful gifts were received, but Miss Fenn's gift, a dainty, silver sandwich tray, held high place.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the student body on the campus this year has been the creation of a student council which is to meet monthly with a faculty committee in the endeavor to keep in touch with student opinion, to study campus problems, and make proper adjustments. There are five girls on the committee, two of whom are Pi Phis, Catherine Haskell and Norma Farnsworth.

Beloit's basketball season has begun, and the college broadcasting station, WEBW is broadcasting the games for the first time.

NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA

Pledge Day—September 29, 1925)

North Dakota A announces the pledging of Alice Krick, Berthold, N. D., Elizabeth Adamson, Devil's Lake, N. D., and Doris Ray, Petersburg, N. D.

On October 12 North Dakota A tied with AXG for the second place award for the most beautiful float in the annual home coming parade. The float was a huge golden arrow set against a background of silver blue ornamented with wine carnations. The shaft of the arrow was set with electric bulbs to represent the jewelled pin.

Plans are now under way to erect a stadium on the campus. The committee in charge of the drive expects to raise $500,000 and have the stadium built for the opening of the 1927 season.

Pledges as well as actives have done well this year in campus activities. Gladys Edwin, Alice Krick, and Afton Manion were taken in as Reserve Playmakers as a result of the try-outs. Ruby Shaw, an active member of the group was elected secretary. Dorothy Upham, Ruth Wilder, Mary Sullivan, Ruby Shaw and Alice Krick were among those chosen from the group trying out for dancing class. Cosette Nelson was elected secretary of French Club and president of advanced glee club. Ruth Wilder, Rose Kelly, and Margaret Mosher received places on the interclass hockey teams; and Margaret was chosen on the all-varsity team. Margaret Tool and Frances Lynch are on junior prom committees, and Dorothy Upham and Margaret Mosher were placed on the senior and freshman song committees.

The two new fraternity houses just completed were opened for public inspection on December 12. The EAE house is a large brick building of Georgian architecture situated on Hamlin Avenue. The BΘII house, with its huge colonnades is very Colonial.

The members of North Dakota A are still enthusiastic over the visit in November of Margaretta Fenn, Epsilon Province President. Her talks and suggestions on fraternity matters were most helpful.

The chapter was sorry to lose Mary Nestor Moore, who was married December 24 and is now living in Chicago. Nestor was a member of Kansas A and she had been teaching in the physical education department of this university for the past two and one-half years.

ILLINOIS BETA—LOMBARD COLLEGE

Pledge Day—October 14, 1925

Illinois B is very proud of her five new pledges who have entered wholeheartedly into college affairs. Alice Appleton won a position on the women's debate team, and Dorothy Pulse has given a piano recital in chapel, and has broadcasted several times from WRAM. The pledges entertained the chapter October 24, with a cooky-shine, presenting a clever shadow play "A Pledge's Blue Monday" with an original song at the close.

Illinois B has raised funds for the bungalow by bridge parties, sales, and a waffle breakfast, and gave the annual IIBΦ dance for the benefit of the Settlement School on January 16.

Ruth West entertained the chapter with a delightful Hallowe'en party, Esther Allen gave a Christmas cooky-shine where gifts were given to the bungalow. The annual formal came on February 14.

Illinois B is happy to announce that Helen Williams, head of the French department, is a new patroness.

ELSPETH LOGEMAN.

ILLINOIS DELTA—KNOX COLLEGE
(Chartered 1884)

Pledge Day—September 26, 1925

The college year, 1925-26, tends to be one of the most successful ones in the life of Knox College. The newly elected president, Albert Britt, and Grace B. Smith, dean of women, have already made many friends among the students and with Dean Simonds and other professors are creating a fine spirit and a better organized Knox family. A memorial service for the late Edgar A. Bancroft was held at the Congregational Church, November 29, with President Britt in charge.

The football team did not have as successful a season as was hoped for. There has been an old college tradition that girls should not yell at the games but they did organize a song section this year with Mary Lipsey as one of its leaders.

The Homecoming events were exceptionally well attended by loyal alumnae from near and far. Mary Coggeshall wrote the comedy proper and helped compose the chorus for the "Jug O'Bliss," which proved to be an unusually unique and enjoyable Homecoming attraction. The other Pi Phis who took part in the play were Mary Lipsey, Irma Bullington, Doris Hazlett, Margaret Whitney, Rachel Olson and Phyllis Power.

Illinois Δ has been very well represented in college activities this fall, both pledges and actives making quite an effort to participate. Margaret Gillis was invited to become a member of the biology club. Virginia Leonard is assisting in the chemistry laboratory. Edith Erown was elected president of the English club. Mary Coggeshall and Eleanor Franing were among the newly chosen members of the Knox Players' Club.

Knox's weekly publication, The Knox Student, is being edited by a co-ed this year. The IΦ members of the staff are Edith Brown, Phyllis Power and Mildred Swank.

Phyllis Power was chosen assistant editor of the 1927 Gale, published annually by the junior class. Edith Brown, Mary Coggeshall, and Alice Griffith are on the Gale board.

The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. have gradually become more potent on the campus. This year they organized a C. C. C. which instigated a student vote upon the U. S. world court relations. Virginia Leonard was recently chosen religious chairman to succeed Constance Irwin on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Frances Bryant, Alice Griffith and Irma Bullington belong to freshman commission.

Eleanor Franing, Gladys Hackman, Constance Irwin, Marie Holly, Virginia Leonard, Mary Lipsey, Leontine Neiger, Irma Bullington, Carolyn Woods, and Katherine Thomas made their respective hockey teams this fall.

Margaret Whitney was elected junior member of the student council. The actives and pledges of Illinois Δ were invited to a dinner at the home of Mrs. E. C. Franing in November. On December 5 the pledges entertained the active chapter and Kathryn Brock, Wyoming Λ , at a bridge luncheon at the home of Doris Hazlett.

The annual W. S. G. A. Christmas prom was held December 12 in the Armory. Marie Holley was a member of the committee in charge. Good music and the green and white color scheme made it a most enjoyable affair for the 200 couples present.

Illinois Δ was very happy to entertain Margaretta Fenn, the new president for Epsilon Province, from December 9 to 11. She made a very great impression upon the girls thru her winsome personality and the inspiration and help which she brought. Two of the patronesses, Mrs. Keithley and Mrs. Stickney entertained the chapter and pledges at a cooky-shine in honor of Miss Fenn at the home of Mrs. Stickney on December 10. Illinois Δ is looking forward to Miss Fenn's next visit and hopes to attain the high α ms which she inspired.

ILLINOIS EPSILON—NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day—September 30, 1925

After Northwestern had celebrated Homecoming with a victory in football, Illinois E entertained at a tea for the alumnae at the home of Lois Stewart. On the afternoon following the Junior Prom the Pi Phis were hostesses at an open house held at the Evanston Country Club. Invitations were sent to all of the men's and women's fraternities on the campus and a large representation from each was present.

On the evening of January 8, Illinois E gave a dinner dance at the Chicago Yacht Club. There were a great many of the alumnae present in addition to all the members of the active chapter.

The following eight Pi Phis have made the class squads in volleyball: Doris Allen, Jane Clover, Marie Devou, Estelle Farley, Ruth Finn, Dorothy May, Miriam Walte, and Dorothy Walker.

The alumnae gave a card party for the benefit of the house fund at the Evanston Woman's Club, on Friday afternoon, January 22.

INITIATES

Ethel Lyddon, '27, 1518 Chestnut, Rockford, Ill.

The Junior Prom was, as usual, the outstanding social event of the University of Illinois this fall. Sarah Fisher led the grand march, and Alice Rawson gave a specialty dance. This year the prom was held in the men's new gymnasium for the first time, and the winter decorations were very effective.

Illinois Z won third place in the Homecoming house decorations this year, the prize being a silver loving cup.

Freshman commission is a discussion group of the thirty-two members of the representative freshmen women on the campus. Four Illinois Z freshmen were elected: Rosalind Mathis, Cecile Gilroy, Margaret Weber and Mildred Wells. Rosalind was elected president of the group, and she is also vice president of Blue Feathers, a freshman organization.

The women's welfare committee of the university produced "Robin-hood" this fall for their annual operetta. Mary Kile sang one of the leading roles, and Alice Rawson gave a specialty dance number. She also danced at Skull and Crescent formal on January 15.

Three members of Illinois Z were elected to honorary fraternities this fall: Jessie Purves, to AΣN, honorary physical education; Mary Kile, to Illiola, honorary literary, and Ethel Lydton, to ΣΔΦ, honorary public speaking fraternity and also to Illiola.

In athletics, Jessie Purves and Louise Bresee made the first junior hockey team and Dorothy Burrows the second team. Cecile Gilroy made the freshman second team.

Jessie Purves and Dorothy Gray were elected into Shi-AI.

Louise Bresee is chairman of the Inter-Illinae committee, which sponsors parties given by the women students. Mildred Yates is chairman of the Big Sister committee, an institution which was organized to aid new girls. Mildred was also chairman of the alumnae committee at the Y. W. C. A. Gladys Baxter is on the senior invitation committee.

The chapter entertained the pledges with a fall dance October 31. This was the first dance in the new chapter house.

Illinois Z was delighted to meet Margaretta Fenn, the new Epsilon Province President, who visited the chapter December 3-5.

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day—February; 1926

Rushing has been so far very successful, and the chapter is looking forward to the two formal parties which will be held the first week in February. They will be the first visits of freshman girls to the women's fraternity houses, under the new ruling. There are many new girls who should make good fraternity material, and there are a number in whom the active girls are especially interested, and whose friendship they have cultivated.

At Thanksgiving time the chapter gave a party which was rather unique on this campus. Held at the chapter house after a football game on the home field, it was an all-Millikin get-together, in the form of a football tea-dance. Every faculty member and student was invited, and a large number came and enjoyed the entertainment and general social spirit. The chapter feels that Millikin needs more democracy and college enthusiasm, and that the Greek letter societies must take the lead in arousing this spirit. The president has asked the cooperation of the various organizations, and this chapter is doing all in its power to help.

Margaretta Fenn's visit early in December was a very happy event. She made herself the personal friend of every girl, and offered many helpful suggestions for building up a stronger chapter.

On December 17 the annual Christmas vesper service, a faculty program to the students, was held in the university chapel. Faculty members and students take part in this service, assisted by some talent from the city, and the auditorium is always crowded with those who have learned to know that this traditional program is a very unusual one.

Iowa A initiated her pledges at the home of Ida Van Hon on October 15. Due to a faculty ruling that pledging must be second semester, initiation cannot be held until the following fall. Previous to the initiation, the actives entertained at a dinner at the home of Mrs. William Evans, a patroness.

IBΦ entertained at its annual Christmas tea for the mothers, alumnae, patronesses, faculty women and faculty wives. Miniature toys tied with wine and silver blue ribbon were given as favors. Regina Conner was hostess to the chapter at a Christmas dinner on December 18. The surprise of the evening came when Edna Van Syoc, president of the chapter, announced her engagement to Ralph Eland. Following Christmas vacation, Marie Shraeder announced her engagement to Willis Balderidge, ΦΔΘ. On Jan. 7, the chapter gave a cooky-shine in her honor.

Iowa A is represented in campus activities by Edna Van Syoc, Vera Shipley, and Anna Dailey as members of ΣΤΔ, honorary English fraternity; Florence Leist, Edna Van Syoc and Helen Phelps, in the college glee club; Florence Leist, member of the ladies quartet; Harriette Theis, Celia Lease, Betty Keyhoe, Helen Phelps, Florence Leist, Edna Van Syoc, Opal Callen, Maxine Schreiner and Mildred Weibley in the college chorus; Violette Greene, Anna Dailey, and Margaret Rogers as members of the orchestra; Adelia Mills, who is on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; and Violette Greene and Edna Van Syoc who have leading parts in the college play.

Iowa A is now looking forward to the return of Mrs. Gilmore Swaney, (Mary Firebaugh), a former chapter member, who has been teaching for five years in South America. Later comes the rushing season and pledging of new girls.

The scholarship cup given by Panhellenic to the woman's fraternity having the highest scholastic standing for three consecutive semesters now decorates the trophy table of Iowa B as permanent property. Fourteen Pi Phis were mentioned on the honor roll.

Iowa B has won a second cup this year, the one which was offered to the fraternity having the most artistic float in the Homecoming parade.

Viola Dewees of Glidden, Iowa, has been pledged late this semester.

The Blackfriar Dramatic Club presented "The Thirteenth Chair" for their semester play. Hester Beery had the leading girl's role and Margaret Patterson, Ella Seaburn and Viola Dewees had prominent parts.

A candy sale was held by the active chapter to raise money for the Settlement School.

Social events have been cleverly planned by the standing social committee. In November the pledges entertained the actives at a kid party. They also took charge of the social fraternity meeting for the month. During the year members of the faculty are entertained at dinner at the chapter house. Before the holidays Iowa B had the annual Christmas party, a cooky-shine and Christmas tree.

Viola Dewees and Inez Shamp have been pledged MΦE, national musical fraternity. Five Pi Phis were recently initiated into the Blackfriar Dramatic Club. Ella Seaburn and Viola Dewees have been pledged ΦMΓ, national honorary dramatic art fraternity. The Clonian and Zetaethlan Literary Societies have Pi Phis as presidents. Marguerite Robinson is president of the ΣΤΔ, national professional English fraternity. Six Pi Phis were in the W. A. A. Miniature Orpheum with Alice Judson as chairman. Two Iowa Betas were recently initiated into W. A. A. Helen Hansell, a pledge made the Madrigal Choir which is composed of sixteen selected voices. She had the solo part in the presentation of "When the Christ Child Came."

Iowa State has been conducting its last drive for the Memorial Union Building which is to be erected here. Barbara Dewell, Mabel Wyerauch and Margaret Ann Macy were chairmen of different divisions for getting pledges, and nearly every girl in the chapter did some work toward completing the drive. ΠΒΦ was one of the two women's fraternities on the campus to go 100% in signing one hundred dollar pledges.

The chapter house won the cup for the cleverest house decorations on Homecoming, November 21.

Iowa Γ has made a point of going in strongly for college activities this year. Beryl Spinney has had roles in two one act plays this year. "The Pot Boiler" and "The Very Naked Boy." She was a member of the Little Theater cast this past summer at the State Fair. This cast is chosen from Ames students especially gifted in dramatic interpretation.

At the Y. W. C. A. frolic more than half of the girls working on committees were Pi Phis. Beulah Rodgers, Vida Secor, and Virginia Alexander were committee chairmen.

In January Barbara Dewell returned to the Settlement School where she is teaching Home Economics.

Pledge Day—September 20, 1925

Following the custom which has become a tradition for Iowa Z, on the night before Christmas vacation the dining room was decorated in holiday attire and at each girl's place was an inexpensive toy. Between courses the packages were opened and pandemonium reigned. The next morning the toys were taken to the children's hospital and given to the youngsters.

The $\Pi\Phi$ house served as the setting for the reception held after the wedding ceremony of Geraldine Mars and Dr. Leonard P. Ristine. The bride, an alumna of Iowa Z, is a $\Phi\beta\kappa$, has B. A. and M. A. in music degrees, and was national alumnae editor a few years ago. Dr. Ristine is an alumnus of $\Sigma\Pi$ and $\Phi\beta\Pi$. Marjorie Mars, Iowa Z, served as the maid of honor and Gail DeWolf, Zeta Province President, as one of the bridesmaids. Mary Moss Byington was in charge of the dining room and was assisted by six other $\Pi\Phi$ s.

Virginia Ball, who is attending Northwestern University this year, made a Christmas present to the chapter of $10.

With twenty new pledges the chapter roll has been increased to fifty-two. The pledges are Jane Appleyard, Katherine Bark, Virginia Capell, Georgia Clark, Dorothea Creath, Mary Harbach, Elizabeth Haw, Helen Irwin, Mildred Ivey, Ellen Jones, Martha Mickey, Ruth Myers, Olive Morse, Rowena Grace Reid, Mary Moss Roberts, Marybel Tabor, Mildred Thompson, Percie Ellen Van Alstine and Nancy Walker.

By means of a last minute strenuous sales campaign, $\Pi\Phi$ was able to win first place in the Homecoming badge sale contest and for the second year receive the commission offered by the university officials. With this money the work of furnishing Iowa Zeta's new home will be continued in the form of new dining room chairs. The carpeting of the stairway and hall is to be paid for by the proceeds of a Christmas bazaar. A beautiful brass candelabra was the gift of the chaperon, Mrs. Jolley, to the girls.

$\Pi\beta\Phi$ has acted as hostess several times this fall. At the open house which was held for all the fraternities on the campus it was estimated that three hundred men passed down the receiving line. The alumnae were guests at a tea after the Illinois-Iowa football game on the afternoon of Homecoming. For many it was the first visit to the new chapter house and an opportunity was given of completely inspecting it. On one afternoon the women's fraternity pledges were the guests at tea, and friends of the chaperon were entertained on another day.

In carrying out the health program the committee, Helen Lisle and Cornelia Van Oosterhaut, established a gymnasium class which meets for a half hour of setting-up exercises at night. Health rules and charts are posted on the bulletin board in a prominent place.

The first unit of the Memorial Union was formally dedicated January 23 when the lounge room was opened for the Military Ball. Mary Goodykoontz, as president of Staff and Circle, was on the committee in charge of the ball.

When the question of the World Court was presented to the student body by means of a poll, 454 of the 590 votes were for its adoption. Allin Dakin, ΣN , was sent as the representative to the national student conference at Princeton.

About three hundred students and faculty members who are interested in the arts, particularly literature, have formed a new organization, the Saturday Lunch Club. Sherwood Anderson discussed modern literature before them early in December.

Since college has opened three $\Pi\Phi$ s have been elected to University Players; Marjorie Tabor, Margaret Jones, and Ruth Myers. Shirley Dakin is the Y. W. C. A. treasurer. Marjorie Green was chairman of the committee which had charge of the Wayzgoose banquet, the all-journalism students' celebration. Nancy Walker won a membership in W. A. A. in the Eel-Seal water revue Dorothy Wilson and Cornelia Van Oosterhaut had charge of the stunts. Marthanna Baker was master of the ballet in the University Player's presentation of "He Who Gets Slapped," and Doris Lampe and Margaret Jones were in the cast. Announcement was made in the fall of the election of Gertrude Finch to Φ BK. Marian Ballinger has been chosen a member of the committee for the Senior Hop, the third university formal.

A chapter of Δ T Ψ was granted to K β Ψ fraternity.

The Near-East Relief drive was under the direction of Mrs. S. A. Swisher (Nell Custer), and for one Sunday the chapter had a thrift dinner of stew, rye bread, and dried fruit. The difference between the cost of this and the regular dinner was given to the relief fund as the Π Φ contribution.

Missouri A gave a formal Christmas dinner December 16. All of the girls gathered around a Christmas tree after the dinner and received little gifts with appropriate verses which were read aloud.

The football men, the "M" letter men, were entertained at tea at the chapter house December 13. The Pi Phi's gave a program and then called on the men for speeches and songs. After the program every one gathered around the piano and sang Π Φ songs, fraternity songs and closed with Christmas carols.

The annual journalism, "CrisCrosses" was given on December 9 and 10. Helen Meredith was on the sub-commission for the play and chairman of the costume committee. Marjorie Hall gave a special pirate dance. Marjorie Lee Steele, Margaret Enloe, Martha Feeny and Carolyn Bassett were in the chorus.

Missouri A freshmen gave a party for the active chapter and had a clever program. The most outstanding part of their program was their original Π Φ song sung to the popular tune "Remembering."

Gall De Wolf, Zeta Province President, visited Missouri A and inspired every girl to work harder than ever for Π Φ . The chapter gave a bridge party in Miss De Wolf's honor.

Jennie Cox was initiated into Workshop. Martha Feeny and Jennie Cox were initiated into Σ Σ , honorary inter-fraternity for women. Helen Meredith was initiated into KTA, honorary fraternity for grades in the school of journalism. Marjorie Hall was initiated into Alpha Zeta, honorary romance language fraternity.

The ground for the Memorial Stadium was broken by C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, in the third week in December.

The University of Missouri football team won the Missouri Valley championship and ranked fourth in the United States.

During the fall term, campus activities played their usual important role for Pi Beta Phi. In women's athletics a particularly successful season was realized. Pi Beta Phi had eleven members on the first hockey teams including the junior captain, one member on the soccer team, and three members elected to the Pepper organization. But special honor goes to Elsa Englesmann, who was the only sophomore chosen for Pleiades, the honorary hockey society, and to Madeleine Closs who not only was selected for Cleats, honorary soccer society, whose membership is limited to the four best soccer players of the university, but also for Ternion, the junior honorary society which precedes Mortar Board of the fourth year.

The Pi Beta Phi act at Co-ed Vodvil, December 4 and 5, shared equal honors for first place with that of Kappa Kappa Phi. Both were repeated later at Jefferson Barracks for the entertainment of convalescing soldiers. Credit for the success of the skit goes to Carol Crowe, author, and to Helene Higgins, director.

Two Pi Beta Phi's had leading parts in the first two series of one-act plays produced by the Thrysus Dramatic Club during November and December.

The greatest interest, however, has been in the result of the try-outs for Washington's first attempt at a musical comedy. Final announcement of the members of the cast revealed the fact that thirteen Pi Beta Phi's were selected. Two of the four leading feminine parts are included in this number, the remainder being chorus parts. Great success is anticipated for this endeavor known as "Tame Oats" which is scheduled to appear at the Odeon, March 18 and 19.

Pi Beta Phi was also successful in class elections. Edith Cann was elected senior vice president while Emily Seymour was chosen for a similar position in the sophomore class. Lucille McCutchan, a pledge, was elected secretary of the organized freshmen.

Missouri Beta has been particularly attentive to scholarship this year. Besides work in the active chapter, the pledges are constantly encouraged and assisted with their studies whenever help seems necessary. So far, their reports have been very satisfactory. Three have attained the "A" section of English I, exempting them from the final examination. Alice Kendall, whose father is interested in the Settlement School and who has spent many of her summers in Gatlinburg, wrote her long theme on the subject. It was judged the best one ever presented by a student in that professor's freshman English classes. Both actives and pledges who make less than a "C" grade in any subject are limited to week-end dates. Fortunately, with the exception of a very few cases, it has not been necessary to enforce this rule.

Work has begun on fraternity examination study. Several questions are discussed at each chapter meeting. The examination will be taken after the semester finals. Missouri B hopes that a large percent of her members will be on the Honor Roll.

Lucy Bell Jones, '27, Miller, Mo.

Elizabeth Baldwin, '28, 711 E. Walnut, Springfield, Mo.

Missouri Γ rush day of the first semester, November 7, will be remembered by the chapter as one of the brightest of the college year. Fourteen girls were rushed. All fourteen are now pledges of ΠΒΦ. They are Helen Reed, Margaret Voorhels, Georgia Tucker, Margaret Lacy, Mildred Merritt, Isabel Morris, Helen Malin, Colleen Kenny, Maxine Gamble, Virginia Payne, Elizabeth Gait, Catherine Burman, Mary Lee Cargyle, and Frieda Wingo. The new girls are already at work, having written several clever ΠΦ songs. They are also planning a tea to entertain the other freshman girls of Drury College.

Missouri Γ is especially grateful and indebted to the alumnae club for its splendid aid in the payment of the debt incurred by the re-upholstering of the chapter house furniture. A very successful auction bridge was given by them, sixty-five dollars of the proceeds being donated to the active chapter for the furniture. During the Christmas holidays a large number of alumnae and active members met for an informal luncheon at a popular tea room. This event was most successful as a mixer for alumnae and actives.

The main social affairs given by the chapter have been two cooky-shines, one in honor of the little sisters and later one in honor of the pledges, and the first semester dance. The ΠΦ "Sweetheart Song" was made a special feature at the dance by the orchestra.

In the queen contest for the Sou'Wester, the Drury College annual, Lillian Reich ran a very close second in popular vote to the candidate of the freshman class, who received the highest number of votes. The chapter is hoping that Lillian will be chosen queen when the photographs are sent to be judged with regard to the beauty of the candidates.

Missouri Γ is anticipating an enjoyable visit from the Zeta Province President, Gail De Wolf, in February.

ETA PROVINCE

NEBRASKA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

Pledge Day—September 19, 1925

Nebraska B has been privileged to entertain two delightful guests within the past few months. Leona Baumgartner, Eta Province President, visited the chapter the week-end of December 12. She brought many valuable and helpful suggestions and her visit was greatly enjoyed. Martha E. Schaaf, Columbia A, who was lecturing in Lincoln under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church, was a dinner guest on November 16 and told of her work as a teacher and missionary in South America.

Homecoming Day at the University of Nebraska was October 24, at which time the alumnae were entertained at a luncheon at the chapter house, and visiting Kansas Alphas were honor guests. Everyone attended the annual Girls' Cornhusker Luncheon on October 31. Edith Mae Johnson, one of the pledges, gave an accordion solo at the luncheon.

A Christmas house dance was held on December 12. On December 17, the alumnae and their children were entertained at the annual Christmas party. The pledges presented a clever program and Santa distributed gifts to the children present.

ΠΒΦ is actively represented in practically every organization on the campus. Ruth Tidball has been elected to Mystic Fish, freshman honorary society. Fern Maddox has been chosen Silver Serpent, in place of Helen Simpson, who is attending college at Berkeley. She is also a member of the finance committee of the junior class. Mary Lou Parker and Lois Butler are members of the Valkyrie, of which organization Lois is president. Edith Mae Johnson and Agnes Birdsall are contributors to Awgwan, the comic magazine. Barbara Bell is associate editor of the Annual. Mary Lou Parker has been elected to ΠΑΘ and is secretary of the local chapter. Elsa Kerkow is junior member of the student council, secretary of the Big Sister board, Panhellenic representative, and a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Lois Stevens, Margaret Hyde and Ada Baumann are members of the Y. W. C. A. staffs. Adelaide Seabury, Mary Jane Tidball, and Margaret Gairdner were active in the Y. W. C. A. finance drive.

The buildings on the campus are undergoing some marked changes. University Hall, the oldest building has been wrecked. A flat roof is being placed over the first story for temporary use. The third floor of Nebraska Hall, another of the older buildings has been removed.

An extensive building program is now under way. A field house for athletics and social affairs is nearing completion. Excavations are being made for Morrill Hall, a new library building. Several other buildings are also being planned which will greatly enlarge and change the aspect of the campus.

According to present plans, Nebraska B will have a new chapter house by next fall. Everyone is working hard to get the house as soon as possible because of the strong competition in rushing to be encountered with five other nationals who expect to have new houses this fall.

KANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

Pledge Day—September 12, 1925

Kansas A announces the pledging of Margaret Heller of Kansas City, Mo., on January 13.

The pledges entertained the upper-classmen with an artistically arranged dance on the evening of November 14. The idea followed in the decorative scheme was that of an artists' ball and the results were very effective.

Kansas A was again one hundred per cent in the Christmas Candle sale at the university. The fund this year went to the establishment of a scholarship for some needy foreign student who would otherwise be unable to obtain a college education.

Mary Miller was recently initiated in ΑΚΔ, sociological fraternity at K. U.

The Chi Omegas moved into their beautiful new home during the early fall and the Gamma Phi Betas hope to occupy theirs within the next month.

Both houses are splendid additions to the sections surrounding the campus and greatly enhance its beauty.

Work is steadily progressing on the new Union Building and, as it begins to take visible form beneath the hands of the constructors, K. U. eagerly awaits its completion, anxious to see the fulfillment of a long felt need of the university.

ESTHER SETTLE.

KANSAS BETA—KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Pledge Day—September 19, 1925

Kansas B is trying a new plan to increase interest in activities. The chapter has an activity chart which is kept in a prominent place and which contains the name of every active and pledge together with her respective activities. Each girl is expected to have at least three and several of the girls have as many as twelve standing ones. This is a special incentive to the pledges. There are five Pi Phis in the glee club, four are members of the Life Saving Corps, and Mildred Read and Kathryn King are members of Purple Masque, the college dramatic fraternity.

Every effort is being made to increase the scholastic standing of Kansas B. Several new chapter rules have been made. Anyone having low grades or failures shall forfeit all mid-week dates. Anyone having one failure shall have no Friday night dates and anyone having two or more failures forfeits Friday and Sunday dates.

The different members of Panhellenic have been requested to consider preferential bidding for next year and it is thought that this system of bidding will be adopted. $\Pi B \Phi$ strongly endorses such a plan.

Mrs. Van Zile, dean of women, has requested that Panhellenic take some action against the serenading by women's fraternities. If such a ruling is passed, in all probability the $\Pi \Phi$ annual custom of caroling will be ruled out.

The faculty and student body of Kansas State Agricultural College felt deeply the recent death of former President Waters but the sorrow was felt especially keenly by Kansas B through Katherine Waters, his niece, who is a $\Pi B \Phi$ pledge here this year.

Nora Yoder and Caroline Sheetz had charge of the dances for "Frivol," the annual dance festival given by W. A. A. Eight other Pi Phis were also selected to participate in the program.

$\Pi B \Phi$ entered Aggie Pop with "Tuning in on Aggie Pop" for the stunt. $X \Omega$ won first place for the third time so won the cup for permanent possession.

The $\Pi \Phi$ pledges are entertaining the pledges of the other women's fraternities. One night each week is given to each fraternity until all the girls have been house guests. It is hoped that this idea of open house will promote a feeling of closer friendship among the women's fraternities. The pledges also entertained the actives with a delightful party on January 15 at the Elks' Hall.

At the close of the football season Kansas B gave her annual football banquet to twenty-five letter men, Coach Backman, Mr. Root, and Mr. Ahearn.

WYOMING ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

Pledge Day—October 17, 1925

On October 17, Wyoming A pledged Zita Miller, Gertrude Gleason, Lucy Taliferro, Bernice Griffith, Juliet Phillips, Josephine Hay, and Maurine Lane. After pledging, a cooky-shine was held and the new pledges were introduced to a true $\Pi\Phi$ party. Two of these girls are not freshmen, Juliet Phillips having attended Emerson's School of Oratory for one year and Josephine Hay, Stevens College for two years.

Π Phi have been honored with many college positions. Alice Thompson is vice president of the sophomore class with Jean Mabce, secretary of same, and also secretary of Mask and Sandal, a Junior dramatic organization. Constance Chatterton is president of Panhellenic. Juliet Phillips and Arletta Wyant took part in the production of "Romeo and Juliet." Elizabeth Johnston is secretary of the Junior class.

On October 31, the actives entertained the pledges in their "spookfest" style at a Hallowe'en party. The entire house was decorated with huge jack-o-lanterns and black cats. In the fireplace hung a big black kettle, containing nuts in which were interesting fortunes. The fortunes were all in rhyme and were great fun to write. The refreshments carried out the Hallowe'en idea, being orange ice with chocolate cake and black and orange mints.

A chapter Christmas party was held December 14. The entire chapter came to the house for a turkey dinner after which they all sat around the Christmas tree awaiting the arrival of Santa.

No one was disappointed for when he did appear he brought a remembrance for every one.

Wyoming A was delighted to have a visit from Leona Baumgartner, Eta Province president, in January.

More than 2,000 alumni attended the large U. of C. Homecoming on November 7. About seventy-five $\Pi\Phi$ alumnae with their friends and relatives were entertained after the football game at a chocolate in the chapter house. Isabelle Keating took the lead in the homecoming play given that evening in Macky Auditorium.

Frances Pattee was chosen by the faculty members to represent them in the Coloradoan, the university year book. Margaret Owen was chosen by the football team to represent it. Their picture will appear at the beginning of the sections which they represent.

Colorado A won a beautiful floor lamp for selling the largest number of Coloradoans, and Margaret Tasher received a silver loving cup for the largest number of individual sales.

Gulnevare Dennis, California I, who is attending the University of Colorado, made the Player's Club; Bella Lipscomb was pledged to the Woman's Press Club.

Marion Delzell was appointed on the junior prom committee, and Catherine Healey on the sophomore prom committee. Helen Taylor was elected to Hesperia, an honorary society for junior women. The following girls were chosen for the chorus in the annual university operetta: Betty Cattermole, Muriel Clark, Catherine Healey, Marion Delzell, Margaret Owen, Frances Owen, Frances Bible, and Julianmary Hastings.

This year the university is to have a junior prom week. The prom comes January 29, preceded by women's fraternity teas that afternoon, and followed by breakfasts the next morning, when the girls will have their prom escorts as guests.

The last week in November, Colorado A received a visit from Leona Baumgartner, Eta Province President. A formal reception was given in her honor, followed by a chapter meeting. Miss Baumgartner's visit was a very great inspiration to the chapter.

MADGE FERGUSON

COLORADO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

Pledge Day—February 8, 1926

Just before the Thanksgiving vacation, Leona Baumgartner, Eta Province President, visited Colorado B and was entertained at a cooky-shine in the Bungalow. She gave the girls new aspirations, and a wider vision of the national fraternity. The chapter has been striving for internal organization and unity and feels that Miss Baumgartner will be a great help.

Emilie Engelbach, representing $\Pi B \Phi$ at the annual Panhellenic banquet received for the second consecutive year the Panhellenic scholarship cup. If won this year, it will stay permanently with Colorado B. The girls are exerting every effort to keep the scholarship high. No girl whose average is below eighty-three may attend the formal dance unless she pays a fine of five dollars.

The chapter has been unusually fortunate in the gifts received this year. The alumnae club gave $100 to be used in rushing and at the annual Christmas party given for the alumnae, linen, glasses, and kitchen things were presented to the Bungalow, besides a basket which the active girls bought for the fireplace. The mother's club has also been very generous, and has given many things for the house, especially for the kitchen, which has been long in need of cannisters, tea towels, and linen.

Just before the Christmas holidays, Colorado B entertained the men's fraternities on the campus at tea dansants, having two fraternities each evening. These took the place of the usual fraternity suppers and proved to be much easier, as only sandwiches, cakes, candy, and chocolate were served.

On December 19, Chancellor Harper was married to Rachel Rathbun, of Rhode Island. In January the alumnae club entertained Mrs. Harper for the active chapter at the home of Emma Lou Schwalb.

The first week in February was set aside by Panhellenic for rush week. Each woman's fraternity gave one party a day. The girls planned unique ones, climaxed with the progressive dinner given at the homes of several alumnae in the city. This was one of the prettiest parties of the whole year. Bids went out on Sunday, February 7, and pledge day was February 8.

Colorado B is hoping for the success of last year, and has tried to choose girls who will understand $\Pi B \Phi$ ideals and work to uphold them.

Oklahoma University is just finishing its first semester of school. Already there are many new faces which indicates that the enrollment will be greatly increased and emphasizes the need of new class rooms. A large classroom building and a girls dormitory are being constructed and will be ready for use next fall. Dean Gerlach, dean of women, is working out a new system of all freshmen girls living in a dormitory. She has advised several changes the two years she has been here, and those accepted have met with great favor.

Oklahoma Alpha's ultimate aim this year is high scholarship, and much effort is being put forth to make this the banner year for $\Pi\Phi$.

Oklahoma A feels very fortunate in having as her new chaperon Mrs. Kirk, whose home is in Montreal, Canada and who was formerly chaperon of ΣK in Pullman, Washington. She has made many friends since her arrival in Norman and seems very pleased with her first visit in the south. She has taken an active interest in $\Pi\Phi$ and has offered many helpful suggestions in financial affairs.

Panhellenic has been discussing the methods of simplifying rushing and bidding rules for next fall.

Homecoming was celebrated on October 31. Oklahoma B entertained all of her visiting alumnae with a buffet luncheon.

Honors have come to the college through the stock judging team which won first place at the National Live Stock Exposition at Chicago.

Nannee Hamlin won the leading role in the play, "The First Year," presented November 10, and Winifred Livermore played a minor role. Mary Janet Turnbull tied with a pledge of KAG for first place in the beauty contest, which was judged by Cecile B. DeMille. Melva Dark has been chosen honorary major of the first battalion of the R. O. T. C. unit.

A visit from Mattie Craig Francis, Theta Province President, during the middle of November was enjoyed very much by the chapter. A cooky-shine was given in her honor and the pledges entertained with stunts.

In order to raise the scholarship of the chapter, the name of the girl making the highest grades each quarter is to be engraved on a silver loving cup. Groups have been chosen among the members and pledges, the side making the highest average to be given a cooky-shine by the losing side.

Oklahoma A is glad to welcome back Cressie Atkinson who has been out of college for several years.

Much disappointment was felt with the resignation of Marjorie Stevens as house treasurer when she left college at the end of the first quarter and returned to her home in Collinsville.

Several of the Oklahoma Betas visited Oklahoma A at Thanksgiving, when a football game was played between Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical College and Oklahoma University.

The annual winter formal was given December 19. Decorations were in accordance with the Christmas season.

Bess Curl, '28, Hot Springs, Ark.

Arkansas A greatly enjoyed a visit from Mattie Craig Francis, Theta Province President, in December. She was entertained with a cooky-shine at which nearly all of the resident alumnae were present. The pledges gave a clever stunt in six scenes depicting the six ways in which man has proposed to his lady from the stone age to the present day.

The chapter will have a new house mother this quarter, Mrs. McClode, succeeding Mrs. McClellan of Pine Bluff, who has been with the girls for over a year and whose going they deeply regret.

Margaret Jewell has been initiated into A T, national honorary English fraternity for women. Elizabeth Paisley is a new member of K Δ Π, national educational fraternity. Mary Beth Terry is a new member of the Black Friar dramatic club.

The IIBΦ float representing the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe took third place in the Homecoming Day parade held last November.

Julia Robbins, '28, 1900 San Gabriel, Austin, Tex.

Gray Gillette, '27, 231 West Cypress, San Antonio, Tex.

The University of Texas recently received the $650,000 gift of Mrs. M. L. Stark of Orange, Texas. The gift includes a fine arts collection valued at $500,000 and $150,000 in cash for use in constructing a museum on the campus for the collection.

The cornerstone of Garrison Hall, the new class-room building now being erected on the campus, was laid December 8, 1925. This building was dedicated to Mr. Garrison, the father of Mrs. C. S. Potts, (Ada Garrison). Anna Garrison, Mrs. B. T. Wilson, (Bessie Garrison) and Mrs. A. Harris, (Helen Garrison), all Texas Alphas.

Texas A received a visit the first of December from the Theta Province President, Mattie Craig Francis, a former active member of Texas A. Her visit was not only a great pleasure, but also a great help and encouragement to both active members and pledges. Her talks inspired each of us to try to accomplish more for Texas A and for IIBΦ.

A pleasant evening was spent on December 8, when Mrs. Lutchter Stark, (Nita Hill) brought her motion picture machine to the house and showed the chapter her most interesting pictures of Little Pigeon and of Convention at Bigwin Inn. In addition to Mrs. Stark's explanation, comments were made by Eugenia Dilworth, Convention delegate, and Harmo Taylor, who is spending this year at the Settlement School.

Marian Ball was one of the leading characters in "Outward Bound," which was presented by the Curtain Club.

On December 13, Texas A had its traditional $\Pi\Phi$ Christmas tree. Each girl received a gift bearing an appropriate rhyme written by several of the girls. After the tree everyone enjoyed a Christmas supper.

Texas B announces the pledging of Evelyn Babers and Elizabeth Kelton, Corsicana; Grace Elliott, McKinney; Anna Fields, Terrell; Elizabeth Laughlin, Tyler; Mary McLarry and Jacqueline Prescott, Dallas.

Several days after pledging Texas B held an open house at the home of Catherine Brannin in honor of the new pledges.

Texas B has been most fortunate. The National Panhellenic Congress for Women met in Dallas this year and among the delegates were Amy B. Onken and Frances Evans. A banquet was given by all of the women's fraternities at the Baker Hotel and twenty-six Pi Phis were present. Miss Onken sat at the table with the alumnae while Miss Evans sat with some of the active chapter from Southern Methodist University.

On the next day Miss Onken and Miss Evans had luncheon with the members of Texas B at the tea room located near the college and which is run by a $\Pi\Phi$ mother. Later Miss Onken gave an interesting talk to the pledges and active members.

Southern Methodist University has two new buildings almost completed and a third begun, all this in accordance with the new building campaign. McFarland Auditorium promises to be the most imposing building on the campus. The other two buildings are Hyer Hall, a science building, and the new Administration Building.

The chapter has continued this year the Sunday afternoon teas which are given for the active girls. $\Pi\Phi$ again contributed liberally to the Earl Moreland Fund, the Y. W. C. A. Christmas Tree, and Thanksgiving dinner for the poor.

Louisiana A has had an extremely busy rushing season. As mid-term pledging has just recently been passed by Panhellenic, rushing will now be more intense. The chapter gave the rushees a Spanish party on the evening of January 8. The home of one of the actives was decorated to represent a patio where the guests were entertained with stunts of Spanish character.

Louisiana A also gave a party at the King's Daughters' Nursery. Each little tot received a picture-book and a toy, besides candy and cake from the Christmas tree. Two or three active girls visit these children each week, as part of the altruistic work of the chapter.

Pi Phis have been active in athletics. Toto Simmons was the winner of a prize for French conversation, given by Le Cercle Francais. Sedley Hayward was an alternate in the final Carnot Debate, which is held annually at Tulane University. The participators in the debate this year were all from Newcomb College.

Tulane University held a drive at the end of this year's football season, to procure funds for a new stadium. The present one is not capable of holding the many spectators who come to the games.

Louisiana A this term has had the pleasure and inspiration of a visit from both the Grand Secretary, Frances Evans and the Theta Province President, Mattie Craig Francis.

Ruth Rutledge, '28, Bozeman, Mont.

After a very strenuous rushing period, Montana A pledged thirteen freshmen: Jessamine Brown, Juanita Creel, Ernestine Liggett, Permillia Maxey, Margaret Brown, Phoebe Kearns, Helen Lobdell, LaRita Moran, Helen Waldorf, Shirley Fabrick, Helene Galerneau, Eva May Carman, and Frida Hendrickson.

At the end of the fall quarter, Montana A again led the campus in scholarship. The fraternity average was 5.5% above its closest competitor. Six pledges made their grades. This is the second consecutive quarter in which $\Pi\Phi$ has been at the top scholastically.

Marvel Skeels Obertauffer, Iota Province President, was a guest for several days during the early part of the term. During her visit, $\Pi B\Phi$ entertained at an informal tea and at a very enjoyable cooky-shine.

A Christmas party for the active chapter, pledges and alumnae, held just before college closed for the holidays, and a party given by the active chapter for the alumnae who returned to Bozeman for the holidays were both very successful. Montana A is planning an informal dancing party to be held during the winter quarter. The motif of the party will be "cards"—with decorations of hearts and diamonds, leather card cases with small decks of cards enclosed for favors, and balloons painted with more hearts, clubs, spades and diamonds.

ΠΒΦ is taking an active part in all campus activities. Kathryn Andrews is a member of the senior women's honorary organization, Cap and Gown, which is petitioning Mortar Board. Lenore Sullivan was initiated into ΦΤΟ. Frances Wylie is chairman of the drive for the fireplace fund for the new woman's building, which is now well under construction. In the Athletic Association elections, out of six offices ΠΦ filled four, Jo O'Connor being elected president. Lillian Marshall was named as one of the associate editors of the Annual, and three other Pi Phis were appointed on the executive staff. Four sophomores were initiated into the honorary art, music, and literary fraternity. Every active member is in some activity, as are all the pledges.

It has become a custom of this chapter to open every pledge meeting with the Symphony, and each of these meetings is attended by one or two active members. The pledge president presides and carries on all business in a very formal manner. A combined meeting of pledges and active members is held frequently.

IDAHO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Pledge Day—September 27, 1925

Owing to the abundance of excellent fraternity material this year, a great deal of post-rush week pledging has been done. ΠΦ pledged four freshmen: Erma Schoultz, Margaret Mitchell, Ione Davis, and Frances Wendle.

The pledges surprised the actives with a Christmas party and clever Sunday luncheon December 6, and presented to the house silver in the house pattern.

Miss Lillian Froman, from Spokane, Wash., is the new house mother. Although she has been here only a short time, the girls have become greatly attached to her, and feel that she is indeed a mother to them.

On December 17, Idaho A gave the pledges their first cooky-shine at the annual Christmas party.

Although the local Panhellenic requirements for fraternity initiation have been standardized to 4.5 (equal to a high C) or better, ΠΦ has been laying special stress on scholarship. Pledge study table is maintained two hours every week-night under the supervision of an upper-classman.

The University of Idaho girls are contemplating the installation of the Big Sister plan for freshman girls which has proved so successful in other institutions. The university has now reached a size which makes such a plan feasible.

College opened after Christmas vacation with renewed enthusiasm for a new quarter. With no decrease in its numbers, Washington A looks forward to the continuation of a successful year in activities and scholarship.

The alumnae club conducted a very successful bazaar on Saturday, December 12 and cleared $500. The active chapter took charge of the candy booth instead of the hope chest, this year.

ΠΒΦ is well represented in activities on the campus. Mary Greiner is director of the Woman's Federation Players, a dramatic group, and is represented on the Woman's Federation council in this capacity. Laura McGinn, Dorothea Pratt and Margaret Carberry were pledged to Women's Federation Players this year. Margaret Carberry was pledged to FAX, national advertising honorary for women. Venetia Pugh is senior editor of the Tyee and Gladys Doty is freshman editor. The freshmen have been very enthusiastic about activities and have been most successful in them.

At a recent date, the university was presented by Mrs. Anderson with a new forestry building which was named Anderson Hall, in honor of her husband, a prominent lumberman of the state of Washington. This building follows the modified Gothic style of architecture carried out in the more recent buildings on the campus.

Pledge Day—September 22

Washington B entertained many alumnae during Homecoming, November 11 and 12. They were very much pleased with the new chapter home.

Both members and pledges have entered into activities with much enthusiasm. Jean Fulmer has been elected to MΦE, the honorary musical fraternity. She is also a member of Eurodelphian Literary society.

The Chinook, college annual, previously edited by the junior class is now being edited by the Associated Students. Lenna Baird is in charge of the class sections, while Peggy Pennington has charge of organizations.

A new plan is being tried by the Y. W. C. A. to accommodate the large number of freshman girls interested in Y. W. Freshman Commission, an organization of freshman girls of which Helen Newland is treasurer, has upper-class girls for advisors and discussion group leaders. Three Pi Phis are discussion leaders, Mildred Roberts, Wardine Jesseph, and Jean Fulmer. Esther Anderson was chosen by the first cabinet to take charge of the Y. W. C. A. Bazaar. Wardine Jesseph was elected secretary of Y. W., making four Pi Phis on first cabinet, Margaret Bement, Jean Fulmer, and Frances Emerson being the others.

In a very successful production of 'The Rivals' by the dramatics department, Grace Leonard played the lead, Lydia Languish, while Louise Clausin played Mrs. Malaprop.

Rowena Bloss has recently been chosen for the women's glee club. Ethel McKenna is on the junior prom committee, and Lenna Baird is on the senior gift committee. Frances Emerson has won her Crimson "W" sweater, and has been initiated into Crimson W, an honorary athletic association sponsored by W. A. A.

Orchesus, a dancing fraternity, gave a very pleasing program during one of the recent chapel periods. The group consists at present of five girls, three of them Pi Phis—Ethelyn Jesseph, Virginia Pollard, and Margaret Bement.

Margaret Bement, the president of Mortar Board, attended the sectional conference of that organization at Eugene, Ore. As a final reward for her high scholastic standing, Margaret has been elected to ΦΚΦ.

Pledge Day—October 5, 1925.

At the close of the winter quarter rushing season, Oregon B pledged Frances Gorman of Portland, Ore.

The freshmen are taking a very active part in campus activities this season, every one of them having one activity and some of them carrying two or three. Barbara Seale, a sophomore has been pledged to national Collegiate Players, honorary dramatic society. Kathleen Carlos, also a sophomore is a member of the varsity debate team and a pledge to ZKΨ, honorary forensic fraternity.

ΦKT, national men's fraternity was installed last quarter, and a chapter of ΑΔΠ was installed in February.

Among some of the fraternities planning to build in the spring are, ΣN, ΑΧΩ, ΑΤΩ, and ΑΞΔ.

The annual O. A. C. exposition given for the high school students thruout the state was held February 21-21. Oregon B entertained fifteen guests for the college during the exposition.

The annual benefit tea for the Settlement School will be given the latter part of April. At present members and pledges are putting forth every effort for a stunt to be given at the annual stunt show given by the womens' fraternities on the campus for which a prize is awarded.

INITIATE

Kathryn C. Lunt, '28, Los Altos, Calif.

On February 12, rushing for Winter Quarter began with a formal tea given by each of the women's fraternities. Luncheons and dinners were the only forms of entertainment for the following week. According to the rules of the three-quarter rushing system, now in its third year at Stanford University, this is the first opportunity of the present college year on which women's groups have been able to entertain the freshmen women, except for teas given early in Fall Quarter. There will be another week of rushing in Spring Quarter with pledging day.

Of special interest to $\Pi B \Phi$ was the fact that in the Football Show which took place on November 22, the evening before the California-Stanford football game, six California Alphas appeared. Velma Randall had the chief role in a vaudeville skit which the men's glee club presented January 15.

Virginia Doyle has recently been elected to the English club of the university. Elizabeth Crebs has been appointed chairman of the committee on seating for the bi-annual women's fiesta which will be given early in the spring.

California A is very much grieved to announce the sudden death of Laura Isabella Gardiner on January 11, following an operation for acute appendicitis. Laura had been active in campus activities, and her presence in the chapter and on the campus will be greatly missed.

The chapter has postponed the bridge benefit of January 18 which was planned for the $\Pi B \Phi$ Settlement School.

CALIFORNIA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
(Chartered 1900)

Pledge Day—January 29, 1925

California B ended a successful week of rushing with a formal dinner when Georgeanna Diggs and Helen Weir were pledged. Due to an unusually large membership, rushing was rather slight.

The opening of the semester was overshadowed by the death of one of the most outstanding men in the university, Coach Andy Smith. Perhaps no other man has done more to develop American football on this coast or to raise the standards of true sportsmanship than Andy Smith. He is not remembered so much for the great wonder team which he produced year after year as for the high principles and ideals of manhood and of real sportsmanship that he instilled and inspired in every member of his teams. He has left an undying spirit and standard to be lived up to in teams to come.

California B is again most fortunate in having Mrs. Alma Brook, a $\Pi \Phi$, as house mother. After a year of travel, Mrs. Brook has returned to California to remain indefinitely.

$\Pi \Phi$ is particularly well represented in campus activities. Six juniors and seniors have acted as senior advisors to freshmen women. Frances Chick gives promise of being a talented representative of the chapter in Little Theatre dramatics. Frances Johnston has been appointed chairman of the finances of the Berkeley Branch of Y. W. C. A. and also has been placed on Women's Council. Frances Johnston is making quite a name for herself in the brilliant and original book reviews which she has been doing for The Daily Californian. All freshmen are represented in some phase of Y. W. C. A. work. Constance Holmes is on the art staff of the campus magazine, The Pelican.

Pledge Day—Indefinite

The University of Southern California held its annual Homecoming week November 15-22, and had a large football rally before the Iowa game. There were 2,000 rooters at the station to welcome the Iowa team and escort them to their hotel.

California Γ entertained with a formal tea in honor of the faculty on November 21, and Dean Mary Sinclair Crawford was the honor guest.

Panhellenic has submitted the new schedule for inter-fraternity basketball games and $\Pi\phi$ hopes to surpass last year's record by competing not only in the semi-finals, but the finals as well.

The pledges entertained the active chapter with a formal dance at the home of Kathryn Palmer on November 25. $\Pi\phi$ held its annual Christmas bazaar on December 4. The bazaar this year was under the management of Elizabeth Wheat, a very active alumna. The amount cleared was \$800 of which ten per cent goes to the Settlement School fund and the remainder to the house fund.

California Gamma's annual Christmas formal was held at the Uphitters Ranch in Santa Monica Canyon on December 29. It was a dinner dance and was carried out in Christmas decorations with poinsettias. Panhellenic's formal dance of the year was held at the Surf and Sand Club on January 8.

So far this year $\Pi\phi$ has been very active on the campus. There are Pi Phis on The Desert staff, and on The Wildcat, the annual and the college daily.

Hockey is always a popular sport the first year, and Pi Phis are on freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior teams.

Two new girls were recently added to the group of eleven pledges, Margaret Ferguson of Los Angeles, Calif., and Fredericka Wilder of Globe, Ariz.

Social events for this year have consisted of two house dances: the first a fall dance, and the second a beautiful Christmas dance, given by the pledges. The Christmas party with the alumnae took the form of a cooky-shine, followed by a circus given by the pledges.

Dorothy Coffin is secretary of the junior class, and treasurer of $\Pi\Lambda\Phi$, honorary educational fraternity. Katherine Coffin is vice president of the Associated Women Students; Ruth Benzie is secretary of $\Pi\Lambda\Phi$, and three freshmen hold offices in the Y. W. C. A., Frances Bowers, Anna Machlachlan, and Lucile Jones.

During the Christmas holidays the girls from Phoenix gave a rush party in the form of a bridge-tea at the country club, which a number of Tucson girls attended.

Katherine O'Sullivan, '26, 680 Carondelet St., Los Angeles, Cal.

Ruth Dangberg, '28, Minden, Nev.

Registration for this semester has just begun, but promises to be even larger than that of last semester.

The most important campus event of last semester was Homecoming Day, October 30. Pi Phi managed or worked on many of the committees that made it so successful. The social events were the sophomore hop and the junior prom. The pledges entertained the active girls with a Christmas party, Christmas tree, Santa and all, the night before vacation. On January 8, Pi Phi Jitney Crawl was given. The proceeds from the latter will go to the Settlement School.

Helen Hibbert won the "Spirit of Nevada" contest and cup for selling the most tickets to the "Wolves Frolic," the annual university vaudeville show. Elsie Mitchell and Renee Duque made the varsity mythical hockey team, while many actives and pledges played on class hockey and volleyball teams. Rifle interests five and several others are out for basketball.

In campus organizations, Tillie Evansen is vice president of the Commercial Club, Wilma Blattner is president of Cap and Scroll women's honor fraternity, as well as secretary of the senior class and Katherine Davidson is secretary of the sophomore class.

Mrs. Mueller, a patroness, entertained Nevada A at tea before Christmas vacation and Mrs. Gray gave the use of her house for the pledge party.

The campus observed mourning January 5 for ex-Governor Emmett D. Boyle, '99, graduate and friend of the University of Nevada.

AN IF FOR PLEDGES

(With apologies to Kipling)

If you can dress to make yourself attractive
 Yet own them all—nor borrow anything
 If you can show respect to every active
 Answer 'phone and door bells when they ring
 If you can do your duties without grumbling
 Can sweep and dust and serve without a frown
 If you can always and without mumbling
 Help some friend who happens to be down
 If you can be a friend to all who need you
 To girls and boys alike, for friendship's sake
 If to all your vows and pledges you will be true
 And everything but the finest will forsake
 If you can be both quiet and unobtrusive
 Yet dependable and strong in time of need
 There's only one thing that will be conclusive
 A real sister you will be in S. D. T.

The Garnet and White of Alpha Chi Rho has reprinted from The Shield of Phi Kappa Psi this table of the largest universities:

Pittsburgh	4,184	19	8,553	14

It is interesting to compare the size of these with that of the colleges in 1825. The editor of The Garnet and White has printed this from Banta's Greek Exchange.

All of the fifty-three colleges existing in 1825 were small. Yale, which was the largest, had 354 undergraduates. Next came Harvard, Union and Norwich, each with from 200 to 250 students. Nine or ten other colleges including Dartmouth, Salem, Amherst, Hampton-Sidney, University of Georgia, Princeton, the University of North Carolina, Brown, the University of Vermont and Transylvania, had between 100 and 200 students; many, such as Columbia, Williams, Trinity, and Middlebury had less than one hundred; the University of Pennsylvania and a number of others less than fifty. Altogether there were probably not more than five thousand college students in the whole land. As there were about eleven million people in the United States in 1825, this would mean that only one in every twenty-two hundred went to college. Nowadays the rate is one in every two hundred and eighty.

Louisiana State University has an interesting history according to The College Mason.

Louisiana State University will open its doors this September on its new campus on the outskirts of Baton Rouge. Its old campus is a historical spot in that the flags of seven nations have flown over it. Used as an army post by the seven nations, the site was given to the state when the Federal army abandoned it as a garrison point. Prior to 1773, the Bourbon flag of France waved above the post. From that date to 1789, the Union Jack of England held sway. In that year, a force under the flag of Spain captured the post and the Spanish red and yellow flew in Baton Rouge to 1810. For a few months in 1810, the flag of the Republic of West Florida (a blue flag with a single star in the center) caught the breezes over the post. This was replaced by the Stars and Stripes which stayed there for fifty-one years. Then was raised the flag of the Republic of Louisiana when that state seceded from the Union. The stars and bars of the Confederacy followed the flag of Louisiana to be followed, in turn, by the American flag that has been there ever since.

Two members of Phi Beta Kappa were recently awarded prizes by the Advisory Board of the Pulitzer School of Journalism. Frederic L. Baxton received $2,000 for his work entitled A History of the American Frontier and M. A. De Wolfe Howe received $1,000 for his book Barrett Wendell and His Letters.

Mrs. Samuel Newman, Chi Omega, has been appointed an official inspector of agricultural education in Russian Armenia.

Hope Thompson, Phi Delta Delta, is a recognized expert in the field of international law.

Jessie Bonsteele, theatrical producer and actress, is said to have placed more stars on Broadway than any other producer at the present time. She is a patron of the Detroit chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon.

Eva Chang, Theta Sigma Delta, did features on the Democratic Convention last summer for the New York Herald-Tribune.

Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., Beta Theta Pi, is the youngest United States Senator ever chosen with the exception of Henry Clay.

Margaret L. Goldsmith, Kappa Kappa Gamma, is assistant trade commissioner of the United States Department of Commerce and is stationed in Berlin. There is only one other woman trade commissioner employed by the government. She is stationed in China.

CONTEMPORARY THOUGHTS ON SCHOLARSHIP

From an article "Scholarship" in The Anchora of Delta Gamma:

Kappa Alpha Theta sends out a questionnaire to her chapters and publishes in her journal a scholarship report and chart. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta do the same. Kappa Kappa Gamma has probably made the greatest progress in her efforts and possibly stands first in scholarship in more colleges than any other women's fraternity. Their leading chapters require a minimum of twenty hours per week per member for study and many members study thirty hours. Strict regulations prevail concerning class absences and elimination of week-end engagements till low grades are raised. Grades are read in chapter meeting each month and all grades are sent to their National Vice President once a year. Any chapter failing to comply with this regulation is fined from $2.00 to $10.

Pi Beta Phi permits no girl who has had a failure since her freshman year, to be sent as a delegate to the fraternity convention or to hold an office if she has had a failure or condition during the preceding term.

One Pi Beta Phi chapter fines her members $20 for a failure, incomplete or condition, not removed before the fraternity scholarship rating is made by the college. Alpha Delta Pi members forfeit pins until failures are made up and removed. They also lose their chapter vote till the grades are raised to 80 per cent.

The alumnae of Gamma Phi chapter offers a prize of $50 to the chapter making an average of 85 per cent with no member's grades below 80 per cent and an annual prize of $25 to the member with the highest scholarship record for a year. $10 is given to the highest freshman. Pi Beta Phi offers three prizes: a recognition pin to the highest freshman, a shield to the highest sophomore, and the junior's name is engraved on a cup. The senior receives a special award of a seal ring or some other piece of fraternity jewelry. A bulletin board is kept on which stars represent the grades as follows: a gold star for an A, a silver star for a B, a blue star for a C, and a black star represents a D or failure. Gold bracelets, bar pins, and seal rings are given as prizes, some of which may be kept if won two or three years. The junior girl making the highest grades is made scholarship chairman during her senior year.

Good scholarship should be the result of fraternity spirit rather than the basis of existence of the fraternity. The college is primarily responsible for scholarship but why shouldn't we co-operate to the fullest extent? We need more graduates. A degree has a definite commercial value. It brings a better place in the educational world. The senior year rounds out the student and gives a greater realization of the responsibilities to be assumed. The satisfaction of having completed something seemingly worth while is a profound one.

From scholarship comes everlasting life habits of genuine thoroughness, accuracy, balance, judgment, and a mind well stored with treasures of which one cannot be robbed.—The Crescent of Gamma Phi Beta via The Key of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

DOES THE FRATERNITY SYSTEM RAISE SCHOLARSHIP?

There is always the constant and much-disputed question as to whether fraternities maintain as good scholarship as the unorganized students, or whether social life and other interests make too great an inroad upon the educational side of a college career. The fraternity, defending itself and its existence in some places, has always maintained that it raises the scholastic standing of its groups, due to the initiation requirements and general educational policies of the fraternity.

J. A. Bursley, dean of students at the University of Michigan, has issued a scholarship record of men's and women's fraternities for the past ten years, comparing the results, too, to the record of unorganized students. It brings out some interesting facts, which may be taken as a criterion, since the University of Michigan is representative of the modern university of today.

Averages from 1914-15 to 1922-23 were based upon the following scale of grading: A-100; B-85; C-70; D-40; E-0. In 1923-24 the scale was changed to the following grades: D-50; E-20.

The following table shows the averages for the year 1914-15, in which professional fraternities and general sororities are in the lead.

1914-15	Average
General fraternities	72.3
Professional fraternities	74.7
General sororities	82.1
Professional sororities	81.4

In the ten-year period, averages slumped slightly for all sororities and were raised slightly for all fraternities. In 1919-20, the year following the war, fraternity grades went as low as a 69.8 average, due very probably to the changing conditions and to the return from life in the trenches.

Averages for the year 1923-24 follow:

	Average
Entire university	74.5
All fraternities and sororities	74.4

All independents	73.8
All men	73.3
All women	77.7
All fraternities	74.6
All independent men	72.6
General fraternities	72.9
Professional fraternities	77.6
All sororities	78.9
All independent women	78.1
General sororities	78.9
Professional sororities	79.1

The fraternity and sorority grades show a higher average than those of independent women, and higher than that of the entire university. Professional organizations lead general fraternities and sororities by a small margin. Sorority averages in every year are above those of fraternities.—Eleusis of Chi Omega from Themis of Zeta Tau Alpha.

These suggestions are quoted from The Trident of Delta Delta Delta by way of The Lamp of Delta Zeta.

The following recommendations are offered to the chapters for the betterment of scholarship:

1. That the initiation grade be raised to the highest possible point.
2. That during the coming two years all chapters shall keep a scholarship chart for each year. The chart to list members, studies and hours per week spent in study and the term grades.
3. That an activity chart be kept in addition to the scholarship chart, this chart to give the list of members and all activities both in college and in the chapter and the offices held in both.
4. That where the college does not make the comparative ratings of women's fraternities that Delta Gamma encourage Panhellenic to make the grade comparison and records.
5. That each chapter offer a prize to the highest pledge each year and also to the highest member in the chapter. A piece of novelty jewelry is suggested.
6. That each chapter appoint a scholarship chairman and that this office shall be considered one of honor.
7. That a national scholarship cup be given to the chapter making the greatest improvement by next convention.
8. That the alumnae offer a prize to the girl making the greatest improvement each year.
9. That at the next convention in 1926 a comprehensive report and chart be presented covering the coming two years, 1924-26.

NEW CHAPTERS INSTALLED

Alpha Gamma Delta announces the installation of a chapter at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pennsylvania.

New chapters have been installed by Phi Mu at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont, and at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa.

Gamma Phi Beta is the first women's fraternity to enter the University of Manitoba at Winnipeg, Canada, chartering in June a prominent local, Alpha Omega.

Delta Delta Delta recently installed Theta Pi chapter at the University of California, Southern Branch.

FRATERNITIES

The rituals of nearly all fraternities are based upon religion. No true fraternity can rest upon another conception. It is for these reasons that they are supports of the true aims of society, strong reliances of ordered government according to public law, able advocates of the cause of righteousness and religion, and effective promoters of peace and good will among nations.

Not to have faith in our fellow-men is not to have faith in ourselves. It is to deny our mutual dependence upon each other and upon divine power. We live in an ordered universe ruled by law and by the guiding power of providence. Not to hold faith appears to me to attempt to fight against the stars in their courses. Such resistance must end in destruction. Faith in God is the beginning of religion—Calvin Coolidge, in The Sigma Chi Quarterly.

THE CONTENTS OF OTHER FRATERNITY MAGAZINES

"You'd be surprised," at the variety of subjects discussed in the fraternity magazines. Just look at these imposing titles: "The Rehabilitation of Lorain," "The International Federation of University Women," "Tennyson in the Crucible," "The New Judaism," "The Greek World in the Days of Pythagoras," "French Education," "European Tours," "Jones, Forgery Detective," "The Olympic Games," "Life in the Philippines," "Dances of the Selish Indians," "A Journey in Tibet." Then of course there are numerous articles on scholarship, politics, athletics, dramatics, social service and histories of various colleges and of college fraternities as a whole.

SISTERS IN BETA THETA PI

Karl W. Fischer, of the Indiana chapter of BΘΠ, has, for a good many months, been digging into ancient records and has brought to light many interesting and often queer tales of the way they were wont to do things in an early day in that state, always much given to independent and frequently original thought and action. A recent resurrection is the story of the full and regular initiation into BΘΠ of two young ladies by the Wabash chapter. The girls were daughters of the superintendent of the female department of Waveland Collegiate Institute, located fourteen miles from Crawfordsville, and the chapter proceeded in a body to waveland and initiated their sisters in the hall of one of the literary societies of the institute. The initiation occurred in 1861.

With such ideals as these need fraternities fear the challenge of the authorities of the Leland Stanford University?

PLATFORM FOR GREEKS

Every fraternity can heartily endorse the following platform which appeared in the Phi Gamma Delta:

College—Bearing in mind the committment of Phi Gamma Delta to place college first and fraternity second, we recognize the fact that alma mater has a prior claim upon us in all our endeavors.

Scholarship—We reaffirm the tenet first enunciated by the Immortal Six that one of the fundamental qualifications for membership in our brotherhood is high intellectual attainment. We demand of our members decent scholarship.

Alumni Relations. For the rich heritage that is ours today we are indebted to those generations that have gone before us in the chapter. We pledge ourselves to renewed efforts to express by deed our appreciation of our alumni and to constant vigilance in seeking to maintain their interest in our welfare.

Finances.—We denounce the alumnus who left his chapter owing it money and who has failed to make an honest effort to meet his obligation. We pledge the chapter to insist that all active men pay their bills promptly.

Correspondence.—Realizing that an unanswered letter is a liability, we promise to reply to all communications of a fraternal nature promptly, courteously and completely.

Freshman Training.—The Fiji who knows his fraternity is a more devoted member. We favor the thorough instruction of each pledge through the medium of the freshman training manual.

Department.—Mindful of the solemn obligation we have taken, we reiterate our promise to see that none of us converts recreation or refreshment into excess.

Interfraternity—Recognizing the fact that all Greek-letter men have a community of interest, we favor and will promote harmonious relationships with other fraternities.

Fellowship.—Believing that fraternal affection is the sine qua non of our chapter, we rededicate ourselves to the lofty principles of mutual helpfulness set forth so inspiringly in those phrases that bind us together.—The Angelos of Kappa Delta.

THE IDEAL CHAPTER

What is an ideal chapter of a Greek letter college fraternity? An ideal chapter is one that is, first, a credit to the college in which it is located, secondly, a credit to the national fraternity it belongs to, and thirdly, a credit to itself. If it is a credit to the college in which it is located it is sure to be a credit to itself and the national fraternity.

To be a credit to the college in which it is located the chapter should uplift the social, moral, intellectual and religious life of the college.

1. The social life.—Each man in the chapter should be interested in athletics, politics, and the other social activities of college. He should work for clean sportsmanship and clean politics. A chapter should never have petty political alliances with other fraternities, but should work for the best man for the job.

2. The moral and religious life.—Each member should represent the highest type of manhood possible. Each immoral act reflects upon the chapter and institution as well as on the man himself, and each individual in the chapter should be made to feel the responsibility he carries on his shoulders because the chapter gets its reputation from the behavior of each individual. The chapter should support and encourage the religious institutions of the university or college.

3. The intellectual life.—The chapter should pride itself on high scholastic standing. Every member should realize that he is in college primarily for its educational value. A chapter is often judged by the faculty mainly on its scholastic standing, and individually every man is judged on his class-room attitude. The chapter should give hearty support to the faculty in all measures which look toward the improvement of individual and chapter character.

In conclusion, I would define the ideal chapter as a harmonious brotherhood of college men working for the benefit of each other, the national fraternity and institution in which it is located, in social, moral, religious and intellectual life.—Δ K E Quarterly.

THE IDEAL CHAPTER PRESIDENT

Chapter officers for next year are elected but it is not untimely to mention a few qualifications which should mark the chapter president if she is fully fitted for her responsibility. We speak, of course, of the ideal, a hard standard, perhaps, but the one to which we should ever try to attain. Briefly we believe that the chapter president should be a girl who:

1. Accepts her office as a responsibility and a privilege, and holds it as a trust not lightly given.

2. Has won the respect, admiration, and confidence of the chapter; the happy type of executive who has not sacrificed feeling of affection that should be characteristic of the attitude of a small group one toward another.

3. Has demonstrated that she is resourceful, tactful and tolerant—that insincere diplomacy does not mark her actions.

4. If possible, shall have come up from the ranks of another chapter office. By so doing she will have acquired a complete familiarity and understanding with the various phases of chapter work and she will pass easily to her higher office.

5. Understands thoroughly the fundamental principles that govern the growth and successful maintenance of a strong chapter.

6. Has sufficient courage to be just but firm and fearless in administering such rules and regulations as it has been necessary to pass for the successful and harmonious government of the chapter.

7. Knows thoroughly her fraternity, its local as well as its national government, and has some conception and appreciation of fraternities as a whole in their larger relationships.

8. Who has at heart the interest and ideals of the fraternity as set forth by our founders.—Themis of Zeta Tau Alpha.—From Kappa Alpha Theta.

The Chi Phi Chackett quotes the Shield and Diamond of Pi Kappa Alpha on

THE WORTH OF THE FRATERNITY

"The American college fraternity system is entering its 175th year, some 100,000 members have been initiated at 660 different colleges by 500 chapters of 200 national fraternities, owning property valued at $32,826,000.

"Men enter college for an education. Specific studies, book facts, and mental development are the primary objects, and any man who does not put scholastic endeavor first, who does not make the most of his scholastic opportunities, is not getting value received for his money and has no business in college.

"But education is broader than books. It teaches us how to live a complete life.

"Colleges try hard to develop this in undergraduates. Athletic teams, publications, class officers, dances, campus contacts, and the rest help materially. But it is the special province of the fraternity to take advantage of the natural desire of men to congregate in groups and by proper influence bring out of that contact this important educational result."—Shield and Diamond of Pi Kappa Alpha.

That college marriages seldom end in the divorce court because college men and women have the best opportunity of knowing each other is the belief of Agnes Husband, dean of women of the University of Kansas. Dean Husband backs this belief with the fact that of the hundreds of marriages that have been contracted between the University of Kansas students since the founding of the institution in 1866, only one has ended in the divorce court.—Alpha Phi Quarterly.—From Banta's Greek Exchange.

A SORORITY DEFINED

Sorority neighbors of our Sigma Nu Chapter at Syracuse University recently won an interesting court decision. The City of Syracuse brought action in the supreme court of Onondaga County, demanding that the Theta Delta Phi Corporation be permanently enjoined, restrained and prohibited from carrying on and conducting the business of a sorority or chapter-house or operating the same at No. 601 Comstock Avenue, which is in the block adjoining the Phi Gamma Delta house. It was argued by the plaintiff that the use of the house for sorority purposes was in conflict with the zoning rules and regulations of the city.

In dismissing the complaint the justice in the case made a pronouncement that is a striking tribute to the aims and ideals of the fraternity world. He said:

A college sorority is a family, a college family perhaps, but nevertheless its membership not only live together, and cook together, but are bound together by fraternal ties that, in many cases, are more binding and enduring than those of kinship.

It is gratifying to fraternity people to see this public recognition of the fact that bond brotherhood is accorded a position at least on the same level with blood brotherhood.—The Phi Gamma Delta.

What is the trouble with our schools?

This oft asked question has been answered by four college presidents, three of whom are heads of institutions in which Alpha Phi has chapters.

Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell, said that colleges were being turned into factories where more time was given to the study of steam engines than to the study of life.

Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University, said that the colleges of the country were leaving religion out of education and were teaching too many material things and not enough spiritual lessons.

Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University, said that colleges must find a new moral code and stop turning out people who find nothing to do but chase a golf ball.

Ernest H. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth, said that American colleges are not teaching their students to think, because they are too materialistic.—Alpha Phi Quarterly.

In some exchange we read that in a school where pledges were not initiated until they were full fledged sophomores, only about twelve percent of the students joined national fraternities. Although this quantity is small, the quality should be high. Instead of a large roster of "ex's" chapter's record should show a much higher percentage of graduated members—certainly a desirable condition. While recognizing certain disadvantages to second year initiation, we can also see another side.—The Monad, $\Sigma\Phi\Sigma$, via Banta's Greek Exchange.
